PRINTED BY BENJ. FRANKLIN BACHE, Nº. 112, MARKÉT-STREET.

Philadelphia, June 29th 1795.

_8IR,

I have seen in your paper of this date an abstract of the late Treaty between the United States and Great Britain, which the not perfectly correct is nearly so.

As this publication will probably excite a newfpaper difouffion, it is of importance that the People should posses a full and accurate knowledge of the subject to which their attention may be drawn, and which I think has already been improperly witheld from them. Less therefore the Treaty should be presumed more favourable, or represented to be less so than it really is, I fend you herewith a genuine copy, which you may correct your statement by, or make such other use of as you please, for the purpose of giving to the citizens of America full information respecting this momentous business.

I am, Sir, your obedient fervant,

Ste^s Thoⁿ Mason.

ARTICLE I. There shall be a firm, inviolable and universal peace, and a true and fincere friendship between his Britannick Majesty, his heirs and forcess, and the United States of America; and between their respective countries, territories, cities, sowns and people of every degree, without exception of perfons or places.

ART. II. His Majefty will withdraw all his troops and garrifons from all pofts and places within the boundary lines affigned by the treaty of peace to the United States. This evacuation shall take place on or before the first day of June one thousand feven hundred and ninety-fix, and all the proper measures shall in the interval be taken by concert between the government of the Uni ed States, and his Majefty's Governor General in America, for et ling the p evious arrangements which may be neceffary respecting the delivery of the faid posts: The United States in the mean time at their difcretion, extending their fettlements to any part within the faid boundary line, except within the precincts or jurifdiction of any of the faid pofts. All fettlers and traders, within the precincts or jurifdiction of the faid Posts, shall continue to enjoy, unmolested, all their property of every kind, and shall be protected therein. They shall be at full liberty to remain these, or to remove with all or any part of thei effects; and it shall also be free to them to fell their lands, houfes, or effects, or to retain the property thereof, at their difcretion; fuch of them as shall continue to refide within the faid boundary lines shall not be compelled to become citizens of the United States, or to take any oath of allegiance to the government thereof, but they shall be at full liberty fo to do, if they think proper, and they shall make and declare their election within one year after the evacuation aforefaid. And all perfons who shall continue there after the expiration of the laid year, without having declared their intention of re. maining subjects of his Britannick Majesty, shall be confidered as having elected to become citizens of the United States.

ART. III. It is agreed that it fhall at all times be free to his Majefty's fubjects, and to the citizens of the United States, and also to the Indians dwelling on either fide of the faid boundary line, freely to pass and repais by land or inland navigation, into the respective territories and countries of the two parties on the continent of America [the country within the limits of the Hudson's Bay Company only excepted] and to navigate all the Lakes, Rivers, and Waters thereof, and freely to carry on trade and commerce with each other. But it is understood, that this A ticle does not extend to the admission of veffels of the United States into the Sea Ports, Harbours, Bays, or Creeks of his Majesty's faid Territories; nor into such parts of the Rivers in his Majefty's faid territories as are between the mouth thereof, and the highest port of entry from the Sea, except in finall vessels trading bona fide between Montreal and Quebec, under fuch regulations as shall be established to prevent the poffibility of any frauds in this respect. Nor to the admiffion of British veffels from the Sea into the Rivers of the United States, beyond the highest Ports of entry for foreign The River Miffifippi shall, howveffels from the Sea. ever, according to the Treaty of Peace, be entirely open to both parties; and it is further agreed, that all the Ports and Places on its Eaftern fide, to which foever of the parties belonging, may freely be reforted to, and ufed by both parifies, in as ample a manner as any of the Atlantic ports or places of the United States, or any of the ports or places of his Majesty in Great Britain.

All goods and merchandize whole importation into his Majefty's faid territories in America, fhall not be entirely prohibited, may freely, for the purpoles of Commerce, be carried into the fame in the manner aforefaid, by the citizens of the United States, and fuch goods and merchandize fhall be fubject to no higher or other duties than would be payable by his Majefty's fubjects on the importation of the fame from Europe into the faid territories. And in like manner, all goods and merchandize whole importation into the United States shall not be wholly prohibited, may freely, for the purposes of Commerce, be carried into the same, in the manner aforefaid, by his Majefty's fubjects, and fuch goods and merchandize shall be subject to no higher or other duties than would be payable by the citizens of the United States on the importation of the fame in American veffels into the Atlantic ports of the faid States. And all goods not prohibited to be exported from the faid territories, refpectively, may in like manner be carried out of the fame by the two parties respectively, paying duty as aforesaid.

No duty of entry shall ever be levied by either party on peltries brought by land, or inland navigation into the faid fide to Indians. No higher or other tolls or rates of ferriage than what are or fhall be payable by natives, fhall be demanded on either fide; and no duties fhall be payable on any goods which fhall merely be carried over any of the portages or carrying places on either fide; for the purpofe of being immediately reimbarked and carried to fome other place or places. But as by this flipulation it is only meant to fecure to each party a free pattage acrofs the portages on both fides, it is agreed, that this exemption from duty fhall extend only to fuch goods as are carried in the ufual and direct road acrofs the portage, and are not attempted to be in any manner fold or exchanged during their paffage acrofs the fame, and proper regulations may be eftablished to prevent the poffibility of any frauds in this refpect.

As this article is intended to render in a great degree the local advantages of each party common to both, and thereby to promote a difpolition favourable to friendship and good neighbourhood, it is agreed, that the respective Governments will mutually promote this amicable intercourse, by causing speedy and impartial justice to be done, and necesfary protection to be extended to all who may be concerned therein.

ART. IV. Whereas it is uncertain whether the River Miffifippi extends fo far to the Northward as to be interfected by a line to be drawn due Weft from the Lake of the Woods in the manner mentioned in the Treaty of Peace between his Majefty and the United States, it is agreed, that measures shall be taken in concert between his Majefty's government in America and the government of the United States for making a joint survey of the faid river from one degree of latitude below the Falls of St. Anthony, to the principal fource or fources of the faid river, and also of the parts adjacent thereto; and that if on the refult of fuch survey, it should appear that the faid river would not be interfected by such a line as is above-mentioned, the two parties will thereupon proceed by amicable negociation the regulate the boundary line in that quarter, as well as all other points to be adjusted between the faid parties, according to justice and mutual convenience, and in conformity to the intent of the faid Treaty.

ART. V. Whereas doubts have arifen what river was truly intended under the name of the river St. Croix, mentioned in the faid Treaty of Peace, and forming a part of the boundary therein deferibed, that queftion shall be referred to the final decifion of Commiffioners to be appointed in the following manner, viz.

One Commissioner shall be named by his Majesty, and one by the Prefident of the United States, by and with the advice and confent of the Senate thereof, and the faid two Commissioners shall agree on the choice of a third; or if they cannot fo agree, they shall each propose one person, and of the two names to proposed, one shall be drawn by lot in the prefence of the two original Commissioners. And the three Commissioners fo appointed, shall be fworn impartially to examine and decide the faid gueftion according to fuch evidence as shall respectively be laid before them on the part of the British Government and of the United States. The faid Commissioners shall meet at Halifax, and shall have power to adjourn to fuch other place They shall have power or places as they fhall think fit. to appoint a Secretary, and to employ fuch furveyors or other perfons as they fhall judge neceffary. The faid Commiffioners shall by a declaration under their hands and feals decide what river is the River St. Croix intended by the treaty. The faid declaration shall contain a description of the faid river, and fhall particularize the latitude and longitude of its mouth and of its fource. Duplicates of this declaration and of the statements of their accounts, and of the journal of their proceedings shall be delivered by themto the Agent of his Majefty and to the Agent of the United States, who may be respectively appointed and authorized to manage the bufiness on behalf of the respective Govern-And both parties agree to confider fuch decifion as ments. final and conclusive, fo as that the fame shall never thereafter be called into question, or made the subject of dispute or difference between them.

ART. VI. Whereas it is alledged by divers Britifa merchants and others his Majefty's fubjects, that debts to a confiderable amount, which were bona fide contracted before the peace, fitil remain owing to them by citizens or inhabitants of the United States, and that by the operation of valious lawful impediments fince the peace, not only the full recovery of the faid debts has been delayed, but also the value and security there of have been, in several inflances, impaired and leffened, fo that by the oldinary courfe of judicial proceedings, the British credito s cannot now obtain, and actually have and receive full and adequate compensation for the loss and damages which they have thereby fuftained: It is agreed, that in all f ch cales where full compensation for fuch loffes and damages cannot for whatever reason be actually obtained, had and received by the faid creditors in the ordinary course of j flice, the United States will make full and complete compensation for the fame to the faid creditors : But it is diffinctly underftoud, hat this provision is to extend to fuch loff s only as have been occafioned by the la viul impediments a orefaid, and is not o extend to loffes occasi ned by foch infolvency of the debtors, or oth r caufes as would equally have operated to p od ce fuch lofs, if the faid impedi ents had not exifted, nor to fuch loffes or damages as have been occafioned by the manifelt delay or negligence, or wilf lomifion of the claimant.

For the purpole of alcertaining the amount of any fuch loffes and damages, five Commissioners shall be appointed, and authorized to meet and act in manner following, viz. Two of them shall be appointed by his Majesty, two of them by the Prefident of the Unit d States by and with the advice and confent of the Senate thereof, and the fifth by the unanimous voice of the other four; and if they fhould not agree in fuch choice, then the Commissioners named by the two parties shall respectively propose one person, and of the two names to proposed, one shall be drawn by lot in the prefence of the four original Commissioners. When the five Commissioners thus appointed shall first meet, they fhall, before they proceed to act respectively, take the following oath or affirmation, in the prefence of each other, which oath or affirmation being fo taken and duly attested, fhall be entered on the record of their proceedings, viz.-I, A. B. one of the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the 6th Article of the Treaty of Amity, Commerce, and Navigation between his Britannick Majefty and the United States of America do folemnly fwear, or affirm, that I will honeftly, diligently, impartially, and carefully examine, and to the beft of my judgment, according to juffice and equity, decide all fuch complaints, as under the faid article shall be preferred to the faid Commissioners; and that I will forbear to act as a Commissioner in any cafe in which I may be perforally interested.

Three of the faid Commissioners shall conftitute a board, and shall have power to do any act appertaining to the faid Commission, provided that one of the Commissioners named on each fide, and the fifth Commissioner shall be prefent, and all decisions shall be made by the majority of the voices of the Commissioners then prefent; 18 months from the day on which the faid Commissioners shall form a board, and be ready to proceed to business, are assigned for receiving complaints, and applications; but they are nevertheless authorized in any particular cases in which it shall appear to them to be reasonable and just, to extend the faid term of eighteen months for any term not exceeding fix months, after the expiration thereof. The faid Commissioners shall first meet at Philadelphia, but they shall have power to adjourn from place to place as they shall fee cause.

The faid Commissioners in examining the complaints and applications fo preferred to them, are empowered and required, in pursuance of the true intent and meaning of this article, to take into their confideration all claims, whether of principal or interest, or balances of principal and interest, and to determine the same respectively, according to the merits of the feveral cases, due regard being had to all the circumstances thereof, and as equity and justice shall appear to them to require. And the faid commissioners shall have power to examine all fuch perfons as shall come before them on oath or affirmation touching the premifes; and also to receive in evidence according as they may think most confistent with equity and justice, all written depositions, or books, or papers, or copies, or extracts thereof, every such deposition, book, or paper, or copy, or extract being duly authenticated, either according to the legal forms now respectively existing in the two countries, or in such other manner as the faid Commissioners shall see cause to require or allow.

The award of the faid Commissioners or of any three of them as aforefaid, shall in all cafes be final and conclusive, both as to the justice of the claim, and to the amount of the fum to be paid to the creditor or claimant: And the United states undertakes to cause the fum fo awarded to be paid in fpecie to fuch creditor or claimant without deduction; and at fuch time or times, and at fuch place or places as fhall be awarded by the faid Commissioners; and on condition of fuch releases or assignments to be given by the creditor or claimant, as by the faid Commissioners may be directed: Provided always, that no fuch payment shall be fixed by the faid Commissioners to take place fooner than twelve months from the day of the exchange of the ratifications of this Treaty.

ART. VII. Whereas complaints have been made by divers merchants and others, citizens of the United States, that during the course of the war in which his Majesty is now engaged, they have fuftained confiderable loffes and damage, by reason of irregular or illegal captures or condemnations of their veffels and other property under colour of authority or commissions from his Majefty, and that from various circumstances belonging to the faid cafes, adequate compensation for the loss and damages to suftained cannot now be actually obtained, had and received by the ordinary course of judicial proceedings; it is agreed, that in all fuch cafes where adequate compensation cannot, for whatever reason, be now actually obtained, had and received by the faid merchants and others in the ordinary course of justice, full and complete compensation for the fame will be made by the British Government to the faid complainants. But it is diffinctly understood that this provision is not to extend to such loss or damages as have been occasioned by the manifest delay or negligence, or wiltul omission of the claimants.

That for the purpole of afcertaining the amount of any fuch loss and damages, five commissioners shall be appointed and authorized to act in London, exactly in the manner directed with respect to those mentioned in the preceding article, and after having taken the same oath or affirmation (mutatis mutandis) the same term of eighteen months is also assigned for the reception of claims, and they are in like manner authorized to extend the same in They shall receive testimony, books, particular cases. p pers and evidence in the same latitude, and exercise the like discretion and powers respecting that subject; and shall decide the claims in queltion according to the merits of the several cases, and to justice, equity, and the laws of nations. The award of the said Commissioners, or any such three of them as af presaid, shall, in all cases be final and conclusive; both as to the justice of the claim, and the amount of the sum to be paid to the claimant; and his Britannic Majefty undertakes to cause the same to be paid to such claimant in specie, without any deduction, at such place or places, and at such time or times as shall be awarded by the said Commissioners, and on condition of fuch releases or affignments to be given by the claimants, by the faid Commissioners may be directed.

And whereas certain merchants and others his Majefty's fubjects complain that in the course of the war they have fulfained loss and damageby reason of the capture of thevefels and merchandize taken within the limits and jurifdiction of the ftates and brought into the ports of the fame, or taken by veffels originally armed in ports of the faid ftates.

It is agreed that in all fuch cafes where reftitution shall not have been made agreeably to the tenor of the letter from Mr. Jefferion to Mr. Hammond, dated at Philadelphia, Sept. 5, 1793, a copy of which is annexed to this Treaty; the complaints of the parties shall be and hereby are referred to the commissioners to be appointed by virtue of this article, who are hereby authorized and required to proceed in the like manner relative to these as to the other cales committed to them; and the United states undertake to pay to the complainants or claimants in fpecie, without deduction, the amount of fuch fums as fhall be awarded to them refpectively by the faid commissioners, and at the times and. places which in fuch awards fhall be specified; and on conditions of fuch releases or assignments to be given by the claimants as in the faid awards may be directed : And it is further agreed that not only the now existing cases of both descriptions but also all such as shall exist at the time of exchanging the ratifications of this treaty shall be confidered as being within the provisions, intent and meaning of this article.

ART. VIII. It is further agreed, that the commissioners mentioned in this and in the two preceding articles shall be respectively paid in such manner as shall be agreed between the two parties; such agreement being to be settled at the time of the exchange of the ratifications of this Treaty. And all other expences attending the said commissions shall be defrayed jointly by the two parties, the same being previously ascertained and allowed by the majority of the c mmissioners. And in the case of death, fickness or necessary absence, the place of every such commissioner respectively shall be supplied in the same manner as such commissioner was first appointed, and the new commissioners shall take the same oath or affirmation and do the same duties.

ART. IX. It is agreed that British subjects who now hold lands in the territories of the United States and American Citizens who now hold lands in the dominions of his Majesty shall continue to hold them according to the nature and tenure of their respective estates and titles therein; and may grant, sell or devise the same to whom they please, in like manner as if they were natives; and that neither they nor their heirs or assigns shall so far as may respect the said lands and the legal remedies incident thereto, be regarded as aliens.

ART. X. Neither the debts due from individuals of the one nation to individuals of the other, nor fhares nor monies which they may have in the public funds, or in the public or private banks fhall ever in any event of war or national differences be fequeftered or confifcated, it being unjuft and impolitic that debts and engagements contracted and made by individuals having confidence in each other and in their respective governments should ever be destroyed or impaired by national authority on account of national differences and discontents.

ART. XI. It is agreed between his Majefty and the United States of America that there shall be a reciprocal and entirely perfect liberty of navigation and commerce between their respective people, in the manner, under the limitations and on the conditions specified in the following articles.

ART. XII. His Majelty confents that it shall and may be lawful during the time herein after limited for the citisens of the United States to carry to any of his Majesty's islands and ports in the West-Indies from the United States, in their own vessels, not being above the burthen of 70st tons, any goods or merchandifes being of the growth, manufacture-or-produce of the faid States, which it is or may be lawful to carry to the faid Islands or Ports from the faid States in British vessels; and that the faid American vessels shall be subject there to no other or higher tonnage duties or charges than shall be pavable by British vessels in the ports of the United States; and that the cargoes of the faid American vessels shall be subject there to no other or higher duties or charges than fhall be payable on the like articles if imported there from the faid States in British veffels.

And his Majefty also confents that it fhall be lawful for the faid American citizens to purchase, load and carry away in their faid veffels to the United States from the said Islands and Ports all such articles being of the growth, manufacture or produce of the said Islands as may now by law be carried from thence to the said Islands to the same or protect on the said states in British vessels and states and states on exportation to which British vessels and their cargoes are or shall be subject in similar circumftances.

Provided always that the faid American veffels do carry and land their cargoes in the United States only, it being expressly agreed and declared that during the continuance of this article, the United States will prohibit and reftrain the carrying any molaffes, fugar, coffee, cocoa or cotton in American veffels, either from his Majefty's Islands or from the United States to any part of the world except the United States, reafonable fea ftores excepted. Provided alfo, that it shall and may be lawful, during the same period, for Britifh yeffels to import from the faid islands into the United States and to export from the United States to the faid Islands, all articles whatever being of the growth, produce or manufacture of the faid Iflands, or of the United States refrectively, which now may, by the laws of the faid States, be fo imported and exported. And that the cargoes of the faid British vessels shall be subject to no other or higher duties or charges, than shall be payable on the fame articles if fo imported or exported in American veffels.

It is agreed that this article and ev ry matter and thing therein contained fhall continue to be in force during the continuance of the war in which his Majefty is now engaged; and also for two years from and after the day of the fignature of the preliminary or other articles of peace by which the fame may be terminated.

And it is further agreed, that at the expiration of the faid term, the two contracting parties will endeavour further to regulate their commerce in this respect according to the fituation in which his Majefly may then find himself with respect to the West Indies, and with a view to fuch arrangements as may best conduce to the mutual advantage and extension of commerce. And the said parties will then also renew their discussions, and endeavour to agree, whether in any and what cases, neutral veffels shall protect enemy's property; and in that cases provisions and other articles, not generally contraband, may become such. But in the mean time their conduct towards each other in these respects, shall be regulated by the articles herein after inserted on those subjects.

ART. XIII. H's Majefly confents that the veffels belonging to the citizens of the U.S. of America fail be admitted and hofpitably received in all the fea. ports and harbours of the British territories in the Ead Indies. And that the Citizens of the faid United States may freely carry on a Trade between the faid territories and the faid Unit d States in all articles of which the Importation or Exportation respectively to or from the faid Territories, shall not be entirely prohibited. Provided only, that it shall not be lawful for them in any time of War between the British Government and any other Poweror State whatever, to Export from the faid Territories, without the special permission of the British Government there, any Military Stores or Naval Stores or Rice. The Citizens of the United States shall pay for their Veffels when admitted into the faid ports no other or higher Tonnage duty than shall be payable on British veffels when admitted into the ports of the United States. And they shall pay no other or higher duties or charges on the Importation or Exportation of the cargoes of the faid veffels, than shall be payable on the fame articleswhen Imported or Exported in British vessels. But it is exprefsly agreed, that the veffels of the United States shall not carry any of the articles Exported by them from the faid British territories to any port or place except to fome port or place in America, where the fame shall be unladen, and fuch regulations shall be adopted by both parties, as shall from time to time be found necessary to enforce the due and faithful observance of this flipulation. It is also understood that the permission granted by this article is not to extend to allow the veffels of the United States to carry on any part of the coafting trade of the faid British territories ; but vellels going with their original cargoes, or part thereof, from one port of discharge to another, are not to be confidered as carrying on the coafting trade. Neither is this article to be confirmed to allow the effizens of the faid States to fettle or refide withinthe faid Territories, or to go into the Interior parts thereof, without the permission of the British Government established there; and if any transgreffion thould be attempted against the regulations of the British government in this respect, the the Civizens of America in the fame manner as against British fubjects or others transgreffing the fame rule. And the obtizens of the United States whenever they arrive in any Port. or Harbour in the faid Territories, or if they should be permitted in manner aforefaid, to go to any other place therein, shell always be fubject to the Laws, Government and Jurifdiction of what nature effective face Harbour, Port or Place, according as the fame may be: The Citizens of the United states, may allo touch for refreshment at the island of St. Heleoa, but fubject to all refrects to fuch regulations as the British Gover, ment may from time to thus effablish there.

ART. XIV. There thall be between all the dominions of his majefly in Europe and the territories of the U. States arceipro. cal and pertect liberty of commerce and navigation. The people and inhaditants of the two countries refpectively thall have liberty freely and fecurely and without hindrance and moleftation to come with their fhips and eargoes to the lands, countries, cities, ports, places and rivers within the dominions and territories aforefaid, to enter into the fame, to refort there and to remain, and refide there, without any limitation of time : Alfo to hire and poffels houfes and warchoules to the purpofes of their commerce, and generally the merchants and traders on each fide thal, only the molef always as to what refpects this article to the laws and flatutes of the two countries refpectively.

ART. XV. It is agreed that no other or higher duties. fhall be paid by the fhips or merchandize of the one party in the ports of the other, than fuch as are paid by the like vef. fels or merchandize of all other nations. Nor fhall any other or higher duty be imposed in one country on the importation of any articles the growth, produce or manufacture of the other than are or fhall be payable on the importation of the like articles being of the growth, produce, or manufacture of any other foreign country. Nor fhall any prohibition be imposed on the exportation or importation of any articles to or. from the territories of the two parties refpectively, which shall not equally extend to all other nations.

But the British Government referves to itfelf the right of impoling on American veffels entering into, the Britilh ports in Europe a tennage duty equal to that which shall be psyable by British vessels in the ports of America : And also fuich duty as may be adequate to countervail the difference of duty new psyable on the importation of European and Assatic goods when imported into the United States in British or in American vessels. The two parties agree to treat for the more exact equalization of the duties on the respective navigation of their subjects and people in such manner as may be most beneficial to the two countries. The arrangements for this purpose shall be made at the same time with those mentioned at the conclusion of the 12th article of this treaty, and are to be confidered as a part thereof. In the interval it is agreed, that the United States will not impose any new or additional tennage duties on British versels, nor increase the now substituting difference between the duties payable on the importation of any articles in British or in American vessels.

ART. XVI. If shall be free for the two contracting parties, respectively to appoint confuls for the protection of trade, to refide in the dominions and territories aforefaid, and the faid confuls shall enjoy those liberties and rights which belong to them by reason of their function. But before any conful shall act as fuch he shall be in the usual forms approved and admitted by the party to whom he is fent, and it is hereby declared to be lawful and proper, that in cafe of illegal or improper conduct towards the laws or government a Conful may either be punished according to law, if the laws will reach the cafe nor be dismified, or even tent back, the offended government affigning to the other their reafons for the tame.

Either of the parties may except from the refidence of confuls fuch particular places as such party shall judge proper to be fo excepted.

ART. XVII. It is agreed, that in all cafes where veffels fhall be captured or detained on juft infpicion of having on board enemy's property, or of carrying to the enemy any of the articles which are contraband of war; the faid veffel thall be brought to the neareft or most convenient port; and if any property of an enemy fhould be found on board fuch veffel, that part only which belongs to the enemy fhall be made prize, and the veffel thall be at liberty to proceed with the remainder without any impediment. And it is agreed, that all proper measures thall be taken to prevent delay, in deciding the cafes of thips or cargoes fo brought in for adjudication; and in the payment or recovery of any indemnification adjudged or agreed to be paid to the mafters or owners of fuch thips.

ART. XVIII. In order to regulate what is in future to be deemed contraband of war, it is agreed, that under the faid denomination shall be comprized all arms and implements ferving for the purposes of war, by land or sea, fuch as cannon, muscles, mortars, petards, bombs, grenadoes, carcaffes, faucisses, carriages for cannon, musclet rest, bandoliers, gunpowder, match, falt-petrc, ball, pikes, fwords, head pieces, euiraffes, halberts, lances, javelins, horfe furniture, holfters, belts, and generally all o her implements of war; as alfo timber for fhip-building, tar or rzin, copper in theets, fails, hemp and cordage, and generally whatever may ferve directly to the equipment of vefiels, unwrought iron and fir planks only excepted; and all the above articles are hereby declared to be juft objects of confifcation, whenever they are attempted to be carried to an enemy.

And whereas the difficulty of agreeing on the precife cafes in which alone provisions and other ar icles not generally contraband may be regarded as fuch, renders it expedient to provide against the inconveniences and misund ritandings which might thence arise: It is further agreed, that whenever any fuch articles to becoming contraband, according to the existing laws of Nations, shall for that reason be foized, the fame shall not be confiscated, but the owners thereof shall be foredily and completely indemnified; and the captors, or in their default the government under whese authority they act, shall pay to the masters or owners of fuch veffels the full value of all articles, with a reasonable mercantile profit thereon, together with the treight, and also the demurrage incident to fuch detention.

And whereas it frequently happens that veffels fail for a port or place belonging to an enemy, without knowing that the fame is either befieged, blockaded or inveffed; it is agreed, that every veffel fo circumftanced may be turned away from fuch port or place, but fhe fhall not be detained nor her cargo, if not contraband, be confifcated, unlefs after notice fhe fhall again attempt to enter; but fhe fhall be permitted to go to any other port or place flee may think proper: Nor fhall any veffel or goods of either party, that may bave entered into fuch port or place, before the fame was befieged, blockaded or inveffed by the other, and be found therein after the reduction or furrender of fuch place, be liable to confiscation, but fhall be reftored to the owners or proprietors thereof.

ART. XIX. And that more abundant care be taken for the fecurity of the respective subjects and citizens of the contracting parties, and to prevent their suffering injuries by the men of wars or privateers of either party, all commanders of ships of war and privateers and all others the faid subjects and citizens shall forbear doing any damage to those of the other party, or committing any outrage against them, and if they act to the contrary, they shall be punished, and shall also be bound in their perfons and estates to make faitsfaction and reparation for all damages, and the interest thereof, of whatever nature the faid damages may be. And the Senate recommend to the Prefident to proceed without delay to further friendly negociations with his majefty on the fubjest of the faid trade, and of the terms and conditions in qualion.

JOOGle

Philadelphia, Sept. 5, 1793.

I am honoured with yours of August 30. Mine of the 7th of that month assured you that measures were taken for excluding from all further asylum in our ports vessels armed in them to cruize on nations with which we are at peace, and for the reftoration of the prizes the Lovely Lass, Prince William Henry, and the Jane of Dublin; and that should the measures for restitution fail in their effect, the President considered it as incumbent on the United States to make compensation for the vessel.

We are bound by our Treaties with three of the belligerent nations, by all the means in our power to protect and defend their veffets and effects in our ports, or waters, or on the feas near our thores, and to recover and reftore the fame to the right owners when taken from them. If all the means in our power are used, and fail in their effect, we are not bound by our Treaties with these nations to make compenfation.

Though we have no fimilar Treaty with Great Britain, it was the opinion of the Prefident, that we fhould afe towards that nation the fame rule, which, under this article, was to govern us with the other nations; and even to extend it to captures made on the high leas, and brought into oar ports; if done by veficls which had been armed within them.

Having, for particular reasons, forbore to use all the means in our power for the refitution of the three vessels mentioned in my letter of August 7th, the President thought it incumbent on the United States to make compensation for them: And though nothing was faid in that letter of other yessels taken under like circumstances and brought in after the 5th of June, and before the date of that letter, yet when the fame forbearance had taken place it was and is his opimion, that compensation would be equally due, t

As to prizes made under the fame circumstances, and bro't in after the date of that letter the Prefident determined, that all the means in our power should be used for their restitution. If these fail, as we should not be bound by our treaties to make compensation to the other powers in the analogous case, he did not mean to give an opinion that it ought to be done to Great Britain. But still if any cases shall arise subsequent to that date, the circumstances of which shall place them on similar ground with these before it, the President would think compensation equally incumbent on the United States.

Infinctions are given to the governors of the different fates to use all the means in their power for reftoring prizes of this laft definition found within their ports. Though they will of course take m afores to be informed of them, and the general government has given them the aid of the cuftom house officers for this purpete, yet you will be featible of the importance of multiplying the channels of their information as far as fhall depend on yourfelf, or any perfon ender your direction, in order that the governors may use the means in their power for making relitution.

Wi hout knowledge of the capture they cannot reftore it. It will always be beft to give the notice to them directly; but any information which you shall be pleafed to tend to me alfo at any time, that be forwarded to them as quickly as diffence will permit.

Hence you will perceive Sir, that the Prefident contemplates reflitution or compensation in the cases before the 7th August; and after that date, restitution if it can be effected by any means in our power. And that it will be important that you should substantiate the fact, that such prizes are in our ports or waters.

Your list of the privateers illicit'y armed in our ports is, I believe, correct.

With respect to loss by detention, waste, spolation fuftained by vessels taken as before-mentioned between the dates of June 5th, and A gust 7th, it is propoled as a provisional measure, that the Collector of the Customs of the District, and the British Contail, or any other performyou please, shall appoint performs to establish the value of the vessel, shall appoint performs to establish the value of the vessel and cargo, at the time of her capture and of her arrival in the port into which the is brought, according to their value in that port. If this shall be agreeable to you, and you will be pleased to figurity it; to me, with the names of the prizes understood to be of this deteription, unfructions will be given accordin by to the Collector of the Customs where the respective vessels are.

I have the honour to be, &c.

(Signed)
