Barbara Wintrobe with Chuck Pierce

"The season of hope has now arrived."

This is not a season to look forward into the future, but to know hope has arrived. I am coming to break every assignment of hope deferred off of MY people this hour. You have longed for this time, and I have heard your prayers that have been stored up. Now, I rain upon you in a new way, and I bring hope to you in a new way, and I bring hope to what looked to be hopeless in days past. You are not in that season; you have stepped across into the new that I prepared for you. So, rise up this day! Break off every shackle and weight that has tried to hold you down! You have stepped across into the new. Your hope is not for the days ahead, but you are in the 'now' season. So, rejoice and know that this is the season of manifestation of what you have hoped and longed for. Rejoice, hope has arrived! This is a hope season! Quit rehearsing your past—you have stepped into the present! Let the dust of the past settle, and walk on new ground."

A word for those who feel alone, From: Robin Robinson Bohlin

March 24, 2025. I know you feel alone in this season, but you are not. You have a myriad of spiritual beings waiting for your command. I have commissioned angels to be ready to move as you speak My Word over your situation. When I tell you that I will never leave you or forsake you, that is the truth. Don't listen to a lie that would tell you differently! Begin to speak My Word over your situation – the angels are listening!!

Psalm 103:20 (ESV) "Bless the Lord, O you his angels, you mighty ones who do his word, obeying the voice of his word!"

And from: Jonas Bohlin

March 24, 2025. There is a very clear distinction between right and wrong. I desire earnestly that you choose right. There is a "right" way to live. There is a "right" way to worship Me. There is "right" doctrine. My Word and My Spirit will direct you to the "right" choices in every area of your life. When you choose according to My Word, you never need to apologize. Following My ways will always bring you to the "right" place! (And now the right time!) WB

BE MINDFUL OF THE SEASONS UNDER HEAVEN, SAYS THE LORD!

Don't forget, and always be mindful of this, says the Lord: "It's all about SEASONS! What looks dead right now and what looks dry is going to change accordingly with the SEASONS OF LIFE.

Be patient, and pray that I help you to endure, for I know, and I see what is coming next. I call what is not as is, for I know the end from the beginning. So, in times of confusion, uncertainty, and doubt, call on me, and I will show you what I see. I will share my vision with you so you will be assured of the prosperity I have in mind for you, you loved one, your nation, and whatever issue you are dealing with right now.

I Am your refuge, and I AM the one who calls you to STAND. Ask of me, and I will answer. Knock and the door will be opened. In the right SEASON, what looks dry now shall bloom and bring fruits to satisfy your heart and mine. Be always mindful to understand things and people according to the seasons of life they are in under heaven. You think Desert, and I am thinking Streams of Living Water. I AM ABLE, AND I WILL DO IT. Just TRUST."

I love confirmations of what our LORD is saying to those who have an ear to hear.

Many of you are aware of the back surgery I had in October of 2024. After four months of therapy, I've graduated from a walker to a cane for stability. The challenges I faced due to a spinal injury were quite serious, and I appreciate all the prayer covering I could get. The recovery from the surgery was not near as difficult as the recovery from drug detoxification. I have a totally new perspective about drug addiction. I have spent a major portion of my life as an encourager of the abused, beat-up, and addicted warriors. My job was to pick them up, dust them off, and get them back on the right path.

Like many, I called out to the LORD for divine healing, but due to the severe pain, I could not hear what my LORD was saying. I have seen many men and women of GOD suffer at the hands of the enemy that have been on the front lines battling for the Kingdom. Some denomination leaders say those who are wounded are in sin. I say until you have been on the front lines, don't judge the sons and daughters. It is vicious, and you need undergirding of prayer warriors to keep you on top.

In a meeting with Chuck Pierce this past summer about an assignment that I was called to, he said to the group, Wade will need undergirding continually for the battle he is going into. That was an understatement, and I thank Chuck and the GOZ team for keeping me before the throne of grace.

I run with some strong warriors, yet at the same time, when you see the best of the best suffer, you cry out to the LORD for HIS presence and help in times of need. We all need uplifting. That is one of the reasons for this publication. The Prophetic Word builds us up when we need it. The word says even the prophets are not recognized in their hometowns and often homes. At times, friends and family can be your worst distractors. Take Job as an example. He lost everything due to the circumstances in his life; even his wife wanted him to turn in a different direction, but GOD! We are all looking for a WORD from the LORD, a WORD of encouragement, hope for the future. That is what this publication is all about - Hope! Read again the WORD from Barbara Wentroble and Chuck Pierce. HOPE for a future and now!!!!

Nissan 5785: March 30, 2025 – April 28, 2025

It is amazing how much the Hebrew faith has influenced our world. In every area, we are influenced greatly. We may not always agree or appreciate the Hebrew people, yet without the Hebrew people we would not have much of our scientific accomplishments, modern medicine, transportation, education, art, music, entertainment, government, and even the latest signs of the times. Most importantly, HIS WORD never changes. Isaiah 61:4 (AMPC) And they shall rebuild the ancient ruins; they shall raise up the former desolations and renew the ruined cities, the devastations of many generations.

This letter, to those who are new at following the daily devotional and Calendar, I would like to share with you some of the reasoning of the publication and answer some questions that are posed to me each month. To begin with, we follow the example of "One new man," Jew and Gentile following the Messiah. Because of that, we relate the Hebrew calendar timelines, because our father did not change the seasons, man did. We need to learn about our roots. So, join us.

The war on the sons and daughters of GOD has greatly intensified. The corruption being discovered is beyond belief for most uninformed people. The discoveries so far are in the trillions. It is really bad in the U.S., and now the communist leaders of Canada are pushing for war with the United States using UN troops lead by China. Don't be deceived. The war is against the body of Christ. Canada is pushing legislation to ban all private ownership of weapons. Disarm a nation, and take it without a battle. The invasion from the North could be at the door unless the Ekklesia stands up. We are at the door to the greatest war, and at the same time, the greatest breakthroughs in history. Pay attention to 2Chron 20:20B "Believe in the Lord your God and you shall be established; believe and remain steadfast to His prophets and you shall prosper." It's more relevant now than ever before.

This month of Nissan is packed full of prophesy, sermons, art, and background material that most people will never take the time to research on their own nor have the resources of input to obtain as much of the truth as can be found. Often, it goes against the grain of conventional churches and denominations because we follow the Hebrew calendar and the prophetic. He never changed HIS timing, the church and kings did.

I would rather follow HIM and know what I was adopted into. Sometimes, authors are used multiple times because they are in what we call the “zone” of the Holy Spirit. In other words, they are hearing from the LORD!

Each month is packed with Revelation of what GOD is saying, so buckle up, hold on, and take a journey with us, a day at a time. This month is about discerning, decreeing, declaring, and COMMANDING the WORD spoken!!!! Go boldly into the Gates with thanksgiving and into Courts with PRAISE! And above all hold on to His Promises!!

Nissan: The Month of Passover

This month shall mark for you the beginning of the months; it shall be the first of the months of the year for you. Exodus 12:2

The upcoming New Year begins this Tuesday and is listed in the calendar as “The Year of Redemption, a year for Kings Shekalim, Festivals, and Vows.” This title for the date is a reference to the description of the beginning of the month of Nissan in the Mishna (oral law).

The King’s Calendar tracks all the activities that took place in the First and Second Temples and which will be performed again when the Third Temple is built. This includes the Biblical feasts that are observed today, but the calendar also has many surprises, holidays and events that are only observed when a Temple stands in Jerusalem.

In 2018, the third temple calendar began representing the building of the Third Temple. Not all the holidays are biblical in origin. The holidays pertaining to the modern state of Israel, such as Israel Independence Day and Memorial Day, appear on the calendar, as does Jerusalem Day.

In Jewish history and tradition

11. 20 Nissan the Resurrection of Yeshua
12. 21 Nissan (1456 BC) – The sea splits, allowing Israel to escape the Egyptian army.
13. 26 Nissan (1386 BC) – Death of Joshua
14. 28 Nissan (1415 BC) – Conquest of Jericho by Joshua.

The Month of Nissan

As the first month of the year, Nissan is particularly packed. The Pascal offering is supposed to be performed on the 14th of the month, along with the Fast of the First Born, which is still observed today on the day before Passover. The calendar also notes that the barley for the Omer offering is reaped on the evening of the last night of Passover.

Passover

It is in this month that we celebrate the eight-day holiday of Passover, from Nissan 14th through the 22th. It commemorates the Jewish people's miraculous redemption from slavery in Egypt, and the birth of the Jewish nation.

We observe the anniversary of the Exodus each year by removing all leaven from our possession for this week, eating matzah and telling the story of the redemption to our children. By following the rituals of Passover, we have the ability to relive and experience the true spiritual freedom that our ancestors achieved.

It is mentioned in the Talmud that according to one tradition, the three patriarchs of the Jewish people—Abraham (1948–2123 from creation, 1813–1638 BCE), Isaac (2048–2228 from creation, 1713–1533 BCE) and Jacob (2108–2255 from creation, 1653–1506 BCE)—all were born and passed away in the month of Nissan.

Awakening from Above: The Month of Nissan and Passover

Nissan is called the Month of Miracles. On Pesach, Hashem displays transcendental miracles, and descends, so to speak, to take us out of our lowliness and slavery. This is called an 'awakening from above', for it is an unearned gift of kindness flowing down to us from Heaven. During the Seder, the joy of freedom that has been suppressed and hidden deep within us is released. As we sing Hallel, we reveal our joy and gratitude openly.

The Holy Land - By Alex Levin (artlevin.com)

Sense of the Month: Speech

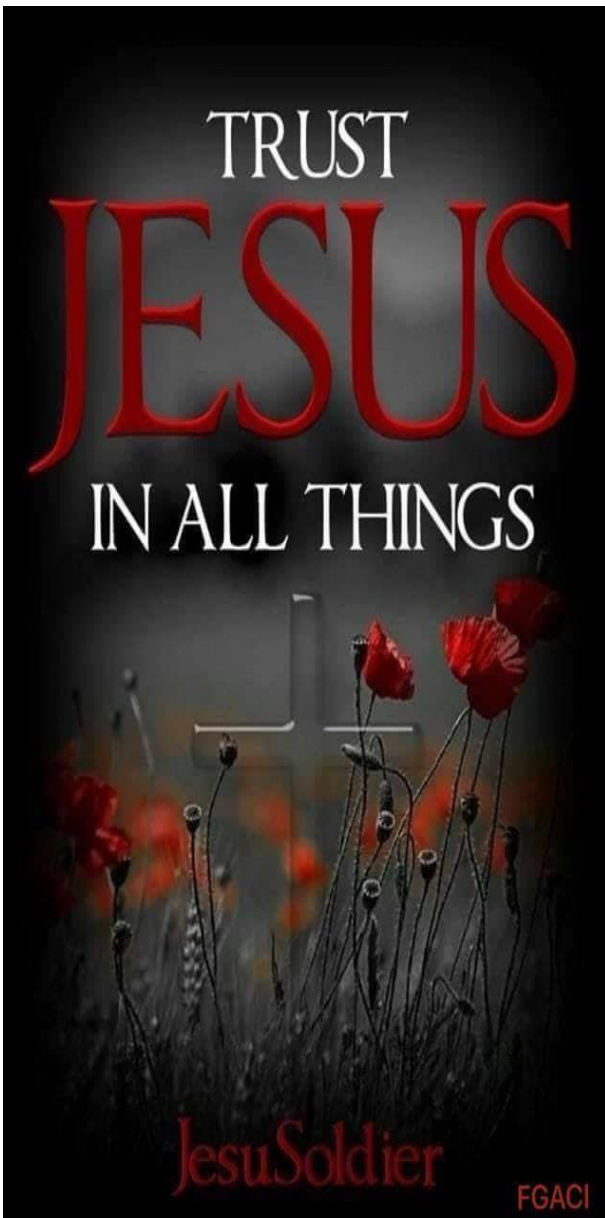

The 'sense' or faculty corresponding to Nissan is speech. Just as Hashem created the world with speech, so do we create our world, or at least our experience of the world, with speech. A slave is someone who has no voice, nor the power to create his or her reality. We can only experience freedom when we can refer to ourselves as free. The word Haggadah means 'telling.' During the Seder we speak at length about our Redemption from collective and personal 'slavery'. Thus, each year we receive the ability to proclaim our freedom on higher and higher levels.

It is called the time of "The New Year of Kings." Recognize what our KING did in HIS sacrifice on the cross as the LAMB of GOD that takes away the sins of the world.

Yeshua, "The KING OF KINGS".

The archetype of kingship, King David, is a descendant of Yehudah. Kingship also alludes to speech, for a king rules over his people through his words, which are received as commands: "for the word of the king is his rule." The Talmud says that Nissan initiated the "New Year of Kings." It is thus a new beginning for the power of leadership, for speech, and for expressing thanks. Because of the Redemption in this month, "it is our duty to thank, laud, praise, glorify, exalt, adore, bless, elevate, and honor the One who did all these miracles for our ancestors and for us."

This is the month of Passover.

It is in this month that we celebrate the eight-day holiday of Passover, from April 13th through the April 20th. It commemorates the Jewish people's miraculous redemption from slavery in Egypt, and the birth of the Jewish nation.

"It is the month of redemption, in which we were redeemed from Egypt, Jacob received the blessings, Isaac was born and was tied up on the altar; it is the month we will be redeemed in, and it is the beginning of salvation."

It is the time that the Lamb of GOD was offered as a onetime sacrifice for the sin of all man.

"For God so loved the world that he gave his one and only Son, that whoever believes in him shall not perish but have eternal life." John 3:16.

Time of the Year: Spring

Nissan is the first month of Spring. When it arrives, something about the increasing light, the warmer air, and the sprouting vegetation may enhance our feeling that life is a gift and a blessing. Deeper within this instinctual feeling is the recognition that life is given to us whether we 'deserve' it or not. This is a deep level of humility, and it brings forth a tremendous sense of gratitude. During the eight days of Pesach, as we eat matzah, the bread of humility, we should strive to internalize this idea. Life is a miraculous gift descending from above. It cannot be earned, only humbly received. According to one opinion, Nissan is when human life was created.

Tribe of the Month: Yehudah or Judah

Nissan is associated with the tribe of Judah, or Yehudah, which means "praise" or 'to give thanks. Judah would always be the first in battle, or Judah goes first. Therefore, Nissan is Judah's month, the month of praise for what the LORD has done and is doing. It is the month of "Redemption and Miracles." As children of GOD, we need to give thanks for the Redemptive work of Calvary and our FATHER'S great love for you.

This Pesach season, may we experience the newness and freshness of life! May this year be a year of creativity and generosity and new beginnings! May we become leaders, humble and kind leaders, who 'skip over' the apparent ego in others. May the LORD bless us to witness the beginning of the miracle of all miracles, the Redemption of all humanity from all levels of slavery.

Understanding the Significance of the Hebrew Month of Nissan

Nissan is a month of redemption. As we gain an understanding of God's timing, we learn to "redeem" time.

Say this: "My blessings are not going to pass me by because I do not know the timing of them."

We know what time it is! It is time for our faith to go to work and see redemption manifest. That unredeemed stuff is about to shift. Nissan is a month of deliverance, restoration, revolution. It is all appropriated into our lives BY FAITH. This is a month where we connect our faith to our speech.

BOOK OF JOHN

There's the "catch." But it can be as simple as speaking our thankfulness to God for our deliverance before we see it - saying then seeing.

- When I speak, my faith is heard.
- My words have the power to impact reality.
- The first words I speak in the morning set my day.
- My words have the capacity to bring change.

A man of God wrote a book I am reading about "Redeeming your Timeline." It falls into the category of redemptive when it has to do with our past, our destiny, our purpose or the purpose of a territory, business, ministry, etc. So, when we talk about redemptive prophesy in the month of redemption, we release faith in a cycle of redemption as in no other timeframe. Wow.

That's a realm of covenant blessing that we must become aware of and walk in. Knowing about this incredible timing issue with God puts us in position for His blessings to overtake us.

Yeshua did not die for us to live sick and tired, almost free, just getting by, and unhappy. We can break out of that with knowing and applying faith to the principles found each month in God's calendar.

Passover goes from the 22th to the 30th of the Hebrew month Nissan, and this year, that translates to sunset on April 12th until sunset on April 19th, 2025. It is a celebration designed by God. It is given to increase our faith and prepare us to enter the fullness of His blessing. When we remember God's work of redemption and declare the power of redemption in lives, something always happens. Put your faith on that, something always happens.

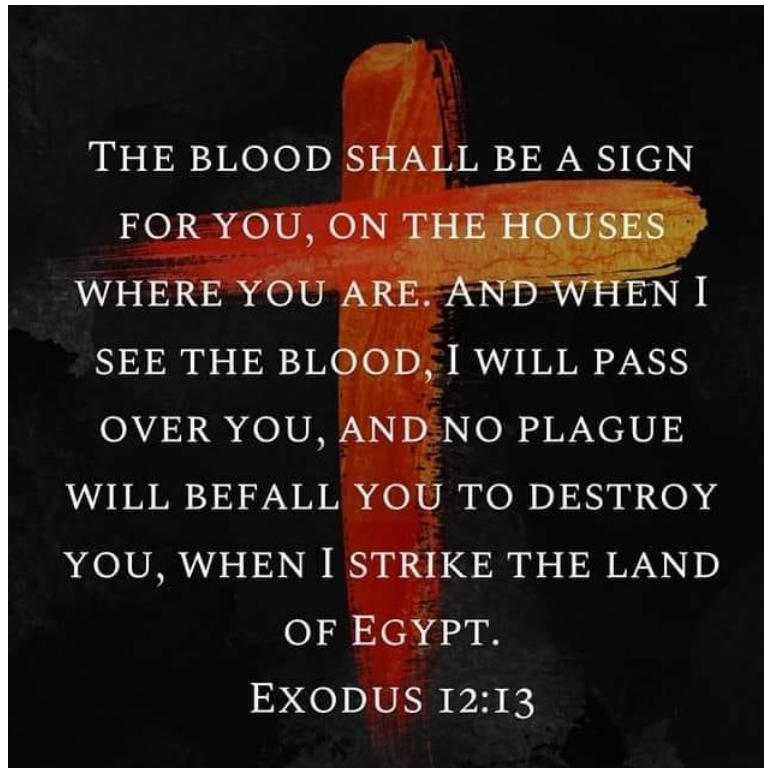

Passover or Pesach commences on the evening of the 14th of the Hebrew month of Nissan. Note that in the Jewish calendar, a holiday begins at sunset of the previous day, so observing Hebrews will celebrate Passover at sunset, Saturday, the 12th of April.

For those unfamiliar with the meaning behind the sacred holiday, Passover is a time to celebrate and honor the liberation of the Israelites from over 400 years of slavery in ancient Egypt. The Hebrew word Pesach means to jump or pass over, and the holiday's name originated from the Jewish miracle in which God passed over the house of the Israelites during the tenth plague, sparing their first born sons, according to My Jewish Learning. For the first two nights of Passover, families and friends gather to eat a special meal called a seder. As Rabbi Norman R. Patz explained to Reader's Digest, "The word 'seder' means order. The Passover meal is an ordered meal, which includes reading the Haggadah, the text that tells the story of the Israelites exodus from Egypt."

In the narrative of the Exodus, the Bible tells that God helped the Children of Israel escape from their slavery in Egypt by inflicting ten plagues upon the ancient Egyptians before the Pharaoh would release his Israelite slaves; the tenth and worst of the plagues was the death of the Egyptian first-born.

The Israelites were instructed to mark the doorposts of their homes with the blood of a slaughtered spring lamb and, upon seeing this, the spirit of the Lord knew to pass over the first-born in these homes, hence the English name of the holiday.

When the Pharaoh freed the Israelites, it is said that they left in such a hurry that they could not wait for bread dough to rise (leaven). In commemoration, for the duration of Passover no leavened bread is eaten, for which reason Passover is called the feast of unleavened bread in the Torah. Thus matzo (flat unleavened bread) is eaten during Passover and it is a tradition of the holiday.

Called the "festival [of] the matzot" (Hebrew: חג המצות hag hamatzot) in the Hebrew Bible, the commandment to keep Passover is recorded in the Book of Leviticus:

In the first month, on the fourteenth day of the month (April 12, 2025 this year) at dusk is the LORD's Passover. And on the fifteenth day of the same month is the feast of unleavened bread unto the LORD; seven days ye shall eat unleavened bread. In the first day ye shall have a holy convocation; ye shall do no manner of servile work. And ye shall bring an offering made by fire unto the LORD seven days; in the seventh day is a holy convocation; ye shall do no manner of servile work. (Leviticus 23:5–8)

The biblical regulations for the observance of the festival require that all leavening be disposed of before the beginning of the 15th of Nissan. An unblemished lamb, known as the Korban Pesach or "Paschal Lamb," is to be set apart on Nissan 10 and slaughtered at dusk as Nissan 14 ends in preparation for the 15th of Nissan when it will be eaten after being roasted. The literal meaning of the Hebrew is "between the two evenings". It is then to be eaten "that night," Nissan 15, roasted, without the removal of its internal organs with unleavened bread, known as matzo, and bitter herbs known as maror. Nothing of the sacrifice on which the sun rises by the morning of the 15th of Nissan may be eaten but must be burned. The sacrifices may be performed only in a specific place prescribed by God (for Judaism, Jerusalem, and for Samaritans, Mount Gerizim).

The biblical regulations pertaining to the original Passover, at the time of the Exodus only, also include how the meal was to be eaten: "with your loins girded, your shoes on your feet, and your staff in your hand; and ye shall eat it in haste: it is the LORD's Passover" Exodus 12:11.

The biblical requirements of slaying the Paschal lamb in the individual homes of the Hebrews and smearing the blood of the lamb on their doorways were celebrated in Egypt. However, once Israel was in the wilderness and the tabernacle was in operation, a change was made in those two original requirements (Deuteronomy 16:2–6). Passover lambs were to be sacrificed at the door of the tabernacle and no longer in the homes of the Hebrews. No longer, therefore, could blood be smeared on doorways.

The biblical commandments concerning the Passover (and the Feast of Unleavened Bread) stress the importance of remembering:

- And thou shalt remember that thou wast a bondman in Egypt; and thou shalt observe and do these statutes" (Deuteronomy 16:12).
- Exodus 12:14 commands, in reference to God's sparing of the firstborn from the Tenth Plague: And this day shall be unto you for a memorial, and ye shall keep it a feast to the LORD; throughout your generations ye shall keep it a feast by an ordinance forever.
- Exodus 13:3 repeats the command to remember: Remember this day, in which you came out of Egypt, out of the house of bondage, for by strength the hand of the LORD brought you out from this place.

A Hebrew perspective: Does God really desire blood sacrifices?

Part 2b: Did God require blood sacrifices to ratify covenants?

By Reuven ben Yosef (Bob Koch); edited by Rachel ben Yosef (Remy Koch)

Nisan 5785, March 2025- April 2025

Many people assume that animal sacrifices were required to formally seal biblical covenants. They were not. Only two of the six major covenants described in the TaNaKh (TNK) report the death of animals in relation to them: 1. The covenant with Abram (Abraham), known as a "Covenant of the Parts" (Gen 15:7-12, 17-21) and; 2. The inauguration of the Mosaic "Covenant of YHVH" (Ex 24:3-8). Neither the "Edenic Covenant" or its amendment by the so-called "Adamic Covenant" required sacrifices to seal (Gen 1:28-30; 2:15-17 and Gen 3:14-19, respectively), nor did the "Noahic Covenant" established after the flood (Gen 8:20–9:17), or the "Davidic Covenant" (2Sam 7:12-16). The future inauguration of the so-called "New Covenant" at Jeremiah 31:31-34 also does not describe ceremonial blood sacrifices being required or performed to establish it.¹

Abrahamic Covenant

In a previous newsletter, we demonstrated the fact that the sacrifices performed at the inauguration of the Mosaic "Covenant of YHVH" were not something that God had originally desired or commanded. In fact, they were an aberration; an anomaly not seen before or ever again performed for any other covenant in the entire Hebrew Bible (TNK). Those sacrifices had initially been appointed only as a validation for Moses that he had successfully delivered Israel from Egypt—which also represented the fulfillment of God's promise to Abraham at Genesis 15:13-14 (Ex 3:10-12).²

At Genesis 12:1-7, YHVH called Abram and presented him with an opportunity and a promise:

¹YHVH said to Abram, "Go forth from your native land and from your father's house to the land that I will show you. ²I will make of you a great nation, And I will bless you; I will make your name great, And you shall be a blessing. ³I will bless those who bless you And curse him that curses you; And all the families of the earth Shall bless themselves by you." ⁴Abram went forth as YHVH had commanded him, and Lot went with him. Abram was seventy-five years old when he left Haran. ⁶Abram passed through the land as far as the site of Shechem, at the terebinth of Moreh. The Canaanites were then in the land. ⁷YHVH appeared to Abram and said, "I will assign this land to your offspring." And he built an altar there to YHVH who had appeared to him.

The JPS (Jewish Study Bible) commentary identifies the two themes repeated in all future "riders" and "addendums" to the Abrahamic Covenant that was initiated in the preceding passage:

The universalism that marked Gen. chapters 1-11 having now failed, the LORD begins anew singling out one Mesopotamian—no way distinguished from his peers as yet—and promising to make him a great nation not numbered in the seventy nations of ch 10. The twin themes of land and progeny inform the rest of the Torah.³

A biblical covenant is a contract. It consists of an offer and acceptance and includes terms and conditions on which both parties have agreed; "riders" and "addendums" may be added at any time contingent upon both parties' agreement. They always refer back to the original contract. Riders modify or detail existing contract terms, while addenda introduce entirely new terms or provisions within the original contract. The covenant can be in any form: a trust, a performance contract, etc.

God made Abram an offer under the following terms and conditions: If Abram, would trust YHVH and follow His instructions to move his entire household and possessions to wherever He showed him to go, the foregoing blessings would accrue to him (and his "offspring") and the curses to his enemies. Abram believed God's word: he accepted His offer "to covenant," and "he went forth," showing by his actions, not his feelings, the "good faith" that first established the Abrahamic Covenant. Let's call this oral contract a "handshake" covenant; it expressed the familiar adage, "My word is my bond."

Of course, an oral contract is binding; it relies only upon the word, integrity and continuing performance of its terms and conditions by both parties for its ongoing validity and implementation. All future references to the land and Abram's innumerable descendants in chapters 13, 15 and 17 are based on YHVH's original offer and Abram's active acceptance from Genesis 12:1-7. This was the inception of the everlasting Abrahamic Covenant later formally declared via a "rider" at Genesis 15:18 with an added "addendum" for his descendants at 17:7,13,19.

Abram arrived in Canaan with his wife and possessions along with his nephew Lot and his family. He was 75 years old and Sarah (Sarai) his wife was 65; They had no children. When Abram arrived in Canaan, God appeared to him again in another vision and reiterated to him that the land he was traversing would someday belong to his physical descendants. Abram built an altar to YHVH at Shechem as a memorial to God in appreciation of His faithfulness in delivering his family safely to the land. The altar also served as a monument—a symbol of his faith in God's future delivery on His promise (Gen 12:7). Then he moved to Bethel, built another altar there, and "invoked YHVH by name." (Gen 12:9).

A few commentators, Jewish and Christian, assert that Abram sacrificed thanksgiving offerings upon these altars. However, that is a conclusion that can only be reached by making an agenda-based assumption (eisegesis); sacrifices are not found anywhere in the related verses or elsewhere. Most commentators recognize that altars, as well as pillars, were also built to serve as memorials, express gratitude, as places of communion, or to honor God (Gen 26:24-25; 35:7, Josh 22:26-34, etc.). Genesis chapter 12 provides the two examples of such altars.

YHVH reiterated and elaborated on the verbal contract with Abram a second time at Genesis 13:14-17. God told him to look in all four directions; He promised Abram He "is giving" or "gives" all the land he could see to him and his future descendants to possess "forever" (v.15). Then He commanded Abram to walk throughout the length and breadth of the land—an ancient mystical ritual symbolizing "taking possession" of one's physical property.

From that point forward, Abram owned the land—at least in God's eyes. Abram was not quite sure, yet. After all, there were ten Canaanite kingdoms currently occupying that land. Afterwards, Abram moved his tents to Hebron and built another non-sacrificial "altar to YHVH" (v 18). Three altars—no sacrifices.

The events that took place in Genesis chapter 15:1-21 describe a ceremony in which YHVH gave Abram a sign that assured him his descendants would take possession of the land. Up until this chapter, the contract between God and Abram for the land was in force as the aforementioned verbal handshake agreement. Thus, the covenant (contract) for the land between God and Abram was already in force. Abram was faithfully and patiently fulfilling his end of the contract; YHVH had not yet fulfilled his promise re. descendants or possession of the land. On the other hand, He hadn't told Abram exactly "when" he would do it either. But YHVH had already greatly blessed him with a large increase in material wealth and victory in battle when he rescued Lot (Gen 13:2,5-6; Gen 14:13-16, respectively).

At this point, it had been approximately ten years since YHVH had made the original verbal offer and Abram had accepted. This meant he was now around 85 years old; he and Sarah (Sarai), who was about 75 years old, were still childless. Abram had such great faith in God's righteousness that he hadn't yet resorted to the ancient custom of taking other wives or using surrogate concubines to fulfill God's delayed promise of countless descendants.⁴ However, Abram was naturally concerned and decided to simply lay out the facts to God; after all, he wasn't getting any younger.

Gen 15:1 Some time later, the word of YHVH came to Abram in a vision. He said, "Fear not, Abram, I am a shield to you; Your reward shall be very great." ²But Abram said, "O Lord YHVH, what can You give me, seeing that I shall die childless, and the one in charge of my household is Dammesek Eliezer!"³Abram said further, "Since You have granted me no offspring, my steward will be my heir."⁴The word of YHVH came to him in reply, "That one shall not be your heir; none but your very own issue shall be your heir."⁵He took him outside and said, "Look toward heaven and count the stars, if you are able to count them." And He added, "So shall your offspring be."⁶And he believed in YHVH and he counted it to Him for righteousness.⁷Then He said to him, "I am YHVH who brought you out from Ur of the Chaldeans to assign this land to you as a possession."⁸And he said, "O Lord YHVH, how shall I know that I am to possess it?"⁵

YHVH understood Abram's request; He reminded him that He had brought him to "this land" specifically to "assign" it to him "as a possession." Since this situation involved "real property," God commanded him to prepare animals for the one ritual that would formalize the permanent "assignment" of the land to him and his posterity. YHVH commanded Abram to prepare for a "Covenant of the Parts (Pieces)." This rite was in the form of a well-known Ancient Near Eastern (ANE) "blood oath" and, as such, it was a ritual compact with which Abram would be quite familiar. It was a gift to Abram from YHVH, his "friend"; it was not something YHVH desired or needed, nor was it a foreshadow of any later Levitical blood ritual.

This rite cannot be categorized as a Levitical-style sacrifice, at all. Those sacrifices only refer to offerings made to God as an act of worship, atonement, purification, dedication, peace or thanksgiving. Moreover, there was no ceremonial sacrificial altar or blood usage involved in the rite.

Gen 15:9 He answered, "Bring Me a three-year-old heifer, a three-year-old she-goat, a three-year-old ram, a turtledove, and a young bird."¹⁰He brought Him all these and cut them in two, placing each half opposite the other; but he did not cut up the bird.¹¹Birds of prey came down upon the carcasses, and Abram drove them away.¹²As the sun was about to set, a deep sleep fell upon Abram, and a great dark dread descended upon him.

Abram arranged the animal parts and guarded them from the carrion birds. Then he fell into a trance-like "sleep" (i.e. "state") and became very frightened. Just imagine; he could see all that was going on but could not move. As the sun was setting, YHVH spoke to Abram regarding his fate and that of his descendants (vv. 13-16). The ritual performance took place after the sun had set.

Gen 15:17 When the sun set and it was very dark, there appeared a smoking oven, and a flaming torch which passed between those pieces.¹⁸On that day YHVH made a covenant with Abram, saying, "To your offspring I assign this land, from the river of Egypt to the great river, the river Euphrates; ..."

In the traditional ANE ritual of "cutting" this type of covenant, the covenanters walked through the pieces and swore something akin to, "If I do not uphold my oath, may I be cut into pieces as were these animals." In essence, this is what God was unilaterally doing in the form of "a smoking fire pot and a flaming torch" which passed between the parts. In other words, by "walking" through the parts alone, YHVH swore by Himself.

Why? Because Abram had already fulfilled his part of the contract. He had shown his commitment to God by his previous acts of faithful obedience and would continue to do so (Gen 22:1-18; 26:5, etc.). That is why YHVH did not ask him to give his personal performance warranty by walking through the pieces (Jer 34:18-19). This was just the kind of assurance Abram needed. He now had God's sacred "blood-oath" (figuratively) via the Covenant of the Parts which, due to its "eternal" nature, was essentially a "perpetual land patent."⁶

YHVH's actions here constituted a "rider" to the original contract designed to reassure Abram that his possession of the land for his offspring was an iron-clad unilateral guarantee, e.g. it depended only on God's righteous performance, not Abram's. "And he believed in YHVH and he counted it to Him for righteousness."

Covenant of Circumcision

The final addition to the Abrahamic Covenant is an addendum introducing a new provision and condition. It is recorded in Genesis chapter 17 and is commonly known as b'rit millah, Covenant of Circumcision.

Gen 17:8 I assign the land you sojourn in to you and your offspring to come, all the land of Canaan, as an everlasting holding. I will be their God."⁹God further said to Abraham, "As for you, you and your offspring to come throughout the ages shall keep My covenant. ¹⁰Such shall be the covenant between Me and you and your offspring to follow which you shall keep: every male among you shall be circumcised. ¹¹You shall circumcise the flesh of your foreskin, and that shall be the sign of the covenant between Me and you. ¹²And throughout the generations, every male among you shall be circumcised at the age of eight days. As for the homeborn slave and the one bought from an outsider who is not of your offspring, ¹³they must be circumcised, homeborn and purchased alike. Thus shall My covenant be marked in your flesh as an everlasting pact. ¹⁴And if any male who is uncircumcised fails to circumcise the flesh of his foreskin, that person shall be cut off from his kin; he has broken My covenant."

In this Covenant addendum, YHVH added new "terms and conditions" for Abram and all new parties to the original hand-shake contract established in Genesis chapter 12 and the rider in chapter 15. YHVH changed his name to Abraham to signify he would become "the father a multitude of nations" rather than the father of only one "great nation." He also changed his wife's name from Sarai (my princess) to Sarah (princess overall). YHVH restated His promise re. the land and added, "I will be their God" (v.8) and they "shall keep my covenant" (v.9).

Which covenant? The Covenant of Circumcision; the b'rit millah (v. 10). The new terms and conditions of the covenant required the circumcision of every male Israelite on the eighth day of his life.⁷ It was to be an outward "sign" of this addendum to the original contract. By accepting the addendum, Abraham was committing his descendants to also keep (Heb. šāmar, to guard, build a hedge around it) this contract addendum as all Israel did for future generations when they accepted the Mosaic Covenant (Ex 19:3-8, 24:7).

Circumcision was to be performed by every generation—as a reminder—to all of Abraham's descendants. It was to be a demonstration of their understanding, faith and continued belief that God would unfailingly keep His contractual promise for the land in perpetuity—even if there were some serious interruptions along the way. Abraham agreed to this addendum, and the original covenant of Genesis 12:1-7 thereafter stood amended. The majority of the remnant of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob's descendants alive today, even most so-called "secular" Jews-Israelites, have faithfully continued to do so for over 3,900 years.⁸

Conclusion

The original Abrahamic Covenant of Genesis chapters 12 and 13 had already been enacted when the ceremony of the "Covenant of the Parts" was performed per Abram's request to provide him with a more tangible assurance of YHVH's promise (v.15:8). Thus, the covenant ritual was executed by YHVH on Abram's behalf, not because God needed it.

The b'rit millah of chapter 17 was meant to be a continual reminder "throughout the generations" (v.12) of God's faithfulness that, in turn, required Israel's continuous performance for the promise of the land to be fulfilled—at the appropriate time. The miraculous existence of Israel today—populated by Israelites from every tribe—is physical evidence that each generation since Abraham has had at least a remnant who faithfully continued to play its part and obey.

Blessings to all and Chag Sameach Pesakh (Happy Feast of Passover) to those who observe it.

1. From the Hebrew perspective, the circumstances surrounding Jeremiah chapters 30 and 31 have not yet been fulfilled according to the requirements laid out by YHVH via the prophet Jeremiah in these two chapters. In the Hebrew, the two chapters are part of a single unit of thought. There are no formal chapter and verse breaks in the books of the Hebrew text just like the original Greek NT. Thus, if one reads the last verse of chapter 30 and the first verse of chapter 31 one can see the latter is a continuation of the former: Jer 30:24 The anger of YHVH shall not turn back Till it has fulfilled and completed His purposes. In the latter days You shall perceive it. Jer 31:1 At that time—declares YHVH—I will be God to all the clans of Israel, and they shall be My people.

4. At Sarai's urging Abram took Hagar and Ishmael, the son of his disobedience, was born shortly after the events described in Genesis chapter 15; He is still causing massive problems for the Jews-Israelites to this day. Perhaps that's why God delayed Sarai's pregnancy and Isaac's birth until Abraham was 100 years old. Regardless, one must always keep in mind that being "righteous" in the TNK does not mean being perfect or sinless. David is just one other example of this well-established biblical truism.
5. For an explanation of the translation of Gen 15:6, request, "Who counted whom for righteousness?" by this author.
6. A land patent is title to land establishing absolute ownership. It confirms that all evidence of title existing before its issuance date has been reviewed by the sovereign authority under which it was sealed; therefore, it is irrefutable.
7. Please note the words of the text state that circumcision is the "sign" of this covenant, not the blood of the circumcision. It is the cutting away of the foreskin that seals the covenant and is the "sign" of compliance. If the blood was important, as it was in the ratification of the Mosaic Covenant (Ex 24:8), why aren't we told so? While some blood is certainly spilled during the procedure, human blood-letting is never stated to have served as a "sign" for any type of covenant (contract) in the TNK.

8. As well as by all aliens who were called a "ger tzedek" (righteous stranger or alien) who gave up their gods and idols and permanently attached themselves to YHVH. They and were circumcised in order to observe the Pesakh and followed YHVH's instructions for life. They and their descendants were full members of the covenants.

Nissan 1, 5785: Sunday, March 30, 2025

From: Tuesday - April 9, 2024 It is as strong today as the day it was received.

Yvon Attia: "April: Signs in the Sky, Deliverance, Redemption, & New Birth"

The month of April gets its name from the Latin word aperio, meaning "to open (bud)," because plants really begin to grow during this time. This is important, because as I was in prayer for what was on the Lord's agenda for this month, I clearly heard Him say, "What is happening in the natural is only a reflection of what has taken place in the heavenlies."

A Time of Waging War, Deliverance, and Resurrection

Traditionally, the first month of the year on the biblical calendar starts around April.

"While the Israelites were still in the land of Egypt, the LORD gave the following instructions to Moses and Aaron: 'From now on, this month will be the first month of the year for you.'" (Exodus 12:1–2 NLT)

This is the month that hosts Nissan, which marks the time for kings to go out for war (2 Samuel 11:1)! It is a time for the "kings and priests" of God to wage war on the enemy and fight the Lord's battles. This April will mark some major events on both earthly and heavenly calendars.

April marks the observance of the Feast of Unleavened Bread and Passover. In the Old Testament, it was during this month that the Israelites would mark their doorposts with the blood of the Passover lamb, signifying their redemption from slavery in Egypt. Likewise, there will be major earthly events that will need us to (spiritually) mark our doors with the Blood. The angel of darkness (or death) is coming, but those who have the Blood smeared over their door posts will be saved.

Are you ready for deliverance and freedom? You see, almost everyone was delivered from Egypt and Pharaoh, but many were still not free in their hearts. They still wanted Egypt! Many Believers in the month of April need to appropriate what has been done, and even more so, as they celebrate the feasts of the Lord.

This year, April came right after we celebrated the crucifixion and the resurrection of Christ, making it the time of light triumphing over darkness, the resurrection from death to life, and the promise of eternal salvation through Jesus Christ. There will be many dead things – more so in our souls (wills, minds, and emotions) – that will resurrect this April. I saw many overcoming past traumas, hurts, neglect, and abandonment. This will be a supernatural act of grace by Holy Spirit, who will hover around His beloveds, and they will receive resurrection in their souls.

Marker Events

But what events are happening, specifically, this April?

April 2024 is a pivotal month that is so important for Hebrews, Christians, and Muslims. April 8th (at sundown) – April 9th (at nightfall) of this year will mark the start of the month of Nissan, the eve of the end of Ramadan (April 9th), and the total solar eclipse (April 8th), according to the Gregorian calendar! Three different events for the three major religions around the world, ALL falling between the 8th and 9th of April 2024!

The Significance for Hebrews

As far as the Israelites are concerned, the first of Nissan signifies so much, but most importantly, this is what it marks biblically:

1. The day the tabernacle was set up (Exodus 40:17). The first day of Nissan marked the completion and setting up of the tabernacle, a portable (or "portal" – I will come back to this) sanctuary for the Israelites. This was a momentous occasion, as it symbolized the presence of God among His people and provided a central place of worship.

2. The anointing of the tabernacle and its elements (Exodus 40:1–2, 9, 17). The first day of Nissan was significant for the anointing and consecration of the tabernacle and its various elements, such as the altar, utensils, and the laver. This anointing represented the sanctification and separation of these items for sacred use.

This is a divine time assigned by God for a "portal" (as mentioned in my first point) of praise and worship. It is a time of birthing and resurrection. It also marks Yahweh being present with His people (His temple).

I hope you can see how intense this is getting! You have Hebrews celebrating a new significant month.

Why is this significant, you might ask? Well, we know this:

"Then God said, 'Let lights appear in the sky to separate the day from the night. Let them be signs to mark the seasons, days, and years'" (Genesis 1:14 NLT). God didn't do this because there wasn't any light. As you might recall, there was already light, because God had spoken and said, "Let there be light" (Genesis 1:3).

This is what Psalm 19:1–3 (NLT) says: "The heavens proclaim the glory of God. The skies display His craftsmanship. Day after day they continue to speak; night after night they make Him known. They speak without a sound or word; their voice is never heard."

We also know, from the book of Exodus, that one of the plagues was a complete darkness which fell over the slave masters and over the land of Egypt: "Then the LORD said to Moses, 'Lift your hand toward Heaven, and the land of Egypt will be covered with a darkness so thick you can feel it.' So, Moses lifted his hand to the sky, and a deep darkness covered the entire land of Egypt for three days. During all that time the people could not see each other, and no one moved. But there was light as usual where the people of Israel lived" (Exodus 10:21–23 NLT).

This marks an important time on the calendars! For God's covenant-keeping children, it is a time of rejoicing and celebration, because what the enemy intended to be a time of evil, darkness, and fear will be a time of light, provision, and resurrection. It will be either a portal of death and judgment or a portal of birthing and provision; the distinction is very clear.

"...even the darkness will not be dark to You; the night will shine like the day, for darkness is as light to You." (Psalm 139:12 NIV)

Vigorous Birthing

This is God's promise to us. Yes, people might fast for thirty days and celebrate the moon, but God has a different surprise in the month of April. The Lord clearly told me that it will be a month of VIGOROUS birthing.

Exodus 1:19 says, "The midwives answered Pharaoh, 'Hebrew women are not like Egyptian women; they are vigorous and give birth before the midwives arrive.'"

No matter what the enemy will try to do, know that he has already failed. He will not be able to kill your fruit, no matter how hard he tries. Birthing is guaranteed and certain, because your God says so!

"As Isaiah said, 'Rejoice, O childless woman, you who have never given birth! Break into a joyful shout, you who have never been in labor! For the desolate woman now has more children than the woman who lives with her husband!'" (Galatians 4:27 NLT)

Word of the Lord for April

God says, "April will be marked by signs in the heavens birthing a NEW season of deliverance and redemption. It is a very special appointed month, and carries a special appointed message. It will be a month of notable signs not only on Earth, but get ready to hear the bells of Heaven ringing, announcing a time of great deliverance.

"Although darkness will cover many places, and many will be shaken, you will see light; you will feel My light. This is your time to cross over and inherit your promise, for the Lord of hosts Himself is going before you.

"I indeed have seen your oppression and distress; I have heard your cry, and I am aware of your suffering. Therefore, get ready, for your time of deliverance has arrived. While many will see darkness, you will see light and hear My voice saying, 'Let there be light over My people!'

"While many fear being in turmoil, you will understand that no plague will touch you. Because you have engaged in a covenant of peace and protection, you will see a different display of My glory, a different canvas of light, resurrection, and revival.

"April will be a month of vigorous birthing, and a clear distinction will be made between My covenant people and My enemies. It will not only be a month of birthing, it will be a month of strength – not only to give birth, but to protect what you are birthing. And the enemy will not be able to kill, steal, or destroy what you have birthed. For what you are birthing is not the result of human effects; rather, [it is] the fulfillment of My promises. For the work of the flesh will perish, but what is birthed by My Spirit will flourish.

"I am resurrecting a powerful, vigorous generation who will birth a vigorous revival – a revival that will shake the planet. For I will not only shake the earth but the heavens also, for only the unshakable will remain.

"Get ready to see many self-made stars fall to the ground, while [I] confirm and uphold the stars I have made. Be humble and keep a leveled head... your time of elevation is breaking forth! Get ready, for this is the beginning of what you have been waiting for, the time of your deliverance. And the Egyptians you see now, you will never see again. It's a cross-over month, where you will strip the enemy and take your possessions!"

Hallelujah!

Nissan 2, 5785: Monday, March 31, 2025

Bruce & Linda Dietler – Kansas

Run to the Fire!

“I am come to send fire on the earth; and how I wish it were already kindled.” (Luke 12:49)

Out-of-control wildfires have recently plagued many parts of our nation, from New York to Oklahoma to the west coast, and the Lord has been speaking to my heart concerning the spiritual significance of fire and what He would have our response to be. May the following thoughts minister to many as you digest what He has placed upon my heart.

Prairie Grasses

The tallgrass prairie biome historically covered a vast area of America from the Missouri River to Colorado and from Texas to Saskatchewan, Canada, though it is now restricted to small, isolated patches within that region. Tallgrass Prairie National Park, in Kansas, is one such place. The entire region, which for much of its history had supported no trees, provided vast vistas stretching for many miles in every direction. This natural paradise, once teeming with buffalo in the millions, bears, wolves, coyotes and pronghorn antelope, has gradually been largely replaced by towns, cities, urbanization, industrialization, and parking lots, though thankfully less so compared to both coasts.

Of the many species of prairie grasses found throughout the region, they vary in height from the super-short buffalo grass in arid western Kansas to large bluestem and Indian grass varieties on the eastern edge of their range where rainfall is most abundant. Here they can grow to heights in excess of six feet. It was the abundance of such grasses which once allowed the buffalo to roam and the deer and the antelope to play. It was also the thick prairie grasses which made it incredibly difficult for early "sod-busters" to plow the ground prior to the development of the steel plow. It is these same grasses that also presented early settlers with one of their greatest threats.

Fire on the Prairie

From September-October and March-April each year, whether purposely set on fire by native Americans for hunting purposes and to prevent the growth of trees, by farmers to improve grazing for animals, or sparked by a campfire, passing locomotives, or even by lightning, the dry, dense, matted grass posed an extreme danger, as it does today. Wind speeds in Kansas average 10-12 mph during these months but not infrequently gust as high as 50-70 mph for extended periods. With such strong winds to propel any fire, causing flames to reach many feet into the air, a fire can race at speeds up to 10 mph, blackening many thousands of acres in short order as it sweeps and destroys literally everything in its path. Though Kansas, depicted as the "Land of OZ," is typically associated with devastating tornadoes, in truth, prairie fires present a greater danger to rural areas. Nothing can outrun a prairie fire.

In her first-person account of one such fire, Elizabeth Custer (wife of Gen. George A. Custer, who was stationed at Ft. Riley, Kansas at the time), related that "As the sky became lurid, and the blaze swept on toward us, surging to and fro in waving lines as it approached nearer and nearer, it seemed that the end of the world, when all shall be rolled together as a scroll, had really come. The whole earth appeared to be on fire. The sky was a somber canopy above us, on which flashes of brilliant light suddenly appeared as the flames rose, fanned by a fresh gust of wind. There were no screams nor cries, simply silent terror and shiverings of horror, as we women huddled together to watch the remorseless fiend advancing with what appeared to be inevitable annihilation of the only shelter we had. The river was a half a mile away, and our feet could not fly fast enough to reach the water before the enemy would be upon us. We were absolutely powerless, and could only fix our fascinated gaze upon the approaching foe."

Fire can bring terrible destruction, as we have seen with the recent California wildfires driven by fierce Santa Ana winds, yet at the same time, fire can bring cleansing and purification and great benefit. Prairie fires are essential to maintaining the vast grasslands, in that they consume the dead vegetation, releasing nutrients back into the soil and allowing new grass to grow prolifically, unhindered by thatch. If we consider fire metaphorically, in our life journey, it is necessary to periodically "burn away" that which blocks the growth of the seed of God's working within all of us.

Australian prophet Lana Vawser in 2023 related a conversation she had with the Lord in which He said, "As My fire falls upon multiple areas of your lives, you will see the landscape change. Suddenly, from barrenness, it will shift to fruitfulness. Suddenly, from chaos, it will shift to peace; suddenly, from lack of vision to clarity and insight into My vision for those areas of your life that extend further than you have ever seen.

"As My fire is falling upon your hearts and lives, I am increasing hunger within you for Me, and there is an undignified cry of worship and praise that is being released through you. There is a radical abandonment being birthed where the groan is increasing within you – 'I must have more.'

"As My fire falls upon you, and in multiple areas of your lives, Heaven is thundering, 'IGNITE, IGNITE, IGNITE!'"

Our Lord is a consuming fire

The Lord is described in both Deuteronomy 4:24 and Hebrews 12:29 as a consuming fire. Many therefore view the burning fire of the Lord as divine judgment and torment against His adversaries, as is pictured in the Book of Revelation, but God also sends forth His holy fire for a positive end goal. It was in Jerusalem, 2,000 years ago, during the Hebrew month of Sivan, that God chose to release His holy fire on the day of Pentecost. The fire of God fell, blown by the sudden wind of Holy Spirit, unleashing the presence, power, and purity of the Lord within the hearts of the 120 devoted followers of Yeshua. This empowerment caused them to "turn the world upside down" in their day. In our day, that fire still burns hot within the hearts and lives of Yeshua's true disciples; it is that holy, all-consuming fire, manifesting through their lives, which is turning the hearts of millions of unbelievers throughout the nations to His marvelous light and which shall cleanse the earth of unrighteousness and perversion, restoring God's desire and design to all the earth.

God cleanses by His fire. His Holy Spirit fire not only burns away the dead, dry debris of our fallen nature and all that which does not belong – purifying the fields of our hearts – but it gives subsistence for the new crop to thrive.

The Fire Has Already Come

Throughout the Bible, whenever a sacrifice was offered to God, He answered by sending fire and consuming it.

When Moses dedicated the tabernacle in the wilderness, fire from God consumed the sacrifice. (Lev 9:22-24)

When Solomon dedicated the temple, fire came out from the Lord and consumed the sacrifice. (2 Chron 7:1-3)

In 1 Kings 18:38, the fire consumed Elijah's sacrifice on Mt. Carmel. The entire offering, stone altar, mound of dirt, and barrels of water were burned up.

In the New Testament era, on the day of Pentecost, the 120 had come together in one accord, offering themselves to the Lord. They were the sacrifice; God sent the fire, and they were consumed. That same fire now resides within the hearts and lives of those who have submitted themselves on God's altar as living sacrifices and cried out, "Consume me, Lord, by the fire of Your Spirit. Consume me; make me more like You. Break me and mend the broken pieces of my life. I want to be used, Lord by You!" We do not need to call down the fire as Elijah did or to ask the Lord to send His fire; it has already been sent! We just need to submit ourselves to it!

Living Sacrifices

It was the pattern in the Jerusalem temple to offer daily sacrifice – fire was continually burning at the altar - and so it must be with us, offering ourselves daily, continually, upon God's holy altar as living sacrifices (Romans 12:1). As David encouraged himself in the Lord, Smith Wigglesworth did likewise with his own mantra: "Baptized with the Holy Ghost and fire, fire, fire." If we desire to be used by the Lord, as were Wigglesworth and other mighty men and women of God, to bind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound, and to walk in the fulness of victory ourselves, then we too need to submit to the fire of God in our lives.

Now, there is but one way to survive a prairie fire; there is but one way of escape; that is, to not run from it but to run through it to the other side.

Though the fire might be wildly leaping many feet into the air and be racing toward you at 10 mph, terrifying though it is, in actuality, the fire is only about one foot deep. One can easily run through a prairie fire - just do it quickly!

The Lord would encourage us to not run from the fire of God, but to welcome it and run into it! In Zechariah 2:5, referring to Jerusalem, The Lord states, "For I, saith the Lord, will be unto her a wall of fire round about, and will be the glory in the midst of her." This is the only means of escape from the evils to come upon the world – run to the fire of God and enter into His glory! As it was during the Israelites' long journey toward the Red Sea, the Lord set the pillar of fire between His people and the Egyptians; that same fire will keep our enemies far from us.

Our works will be made manifest and revealed by fire – “the fire shall try every man’s work of what sort it is” (1 Cor 3:11-15). Likewise, “our faith, though it be tried with fire, might be found unto praise and honor and glory at the appearing of Jesus Christ” (I Peter 1:7). Firey trials will likely come to everyone in this life, but it is only by entering into God’s holy fire, putting our lives purposefully upon His altar, truly becoming those living sacrifices He desires, and allowing His fire to fully consume all that does not glorify Him, that we will be that holy people, pleasing in His sight, that He will choose to use in these coming days.

The fire is raging. It is time we fully submit ourselves for the fullness of the fire of the Holy Spirit to move in and through our lives. Run to the fire! Ascend God’s holy altar. Ignite! Ignite! Ignite! I want to be used, Lord, by You!

Nissan 3, 5785: Tuesday, April 1, 2025

Nate Johston: HAS YOUR WELL DRIED UP?
HARVEST BUILDING PROVISION COMING!

I have a word for those who feel like their brook has dried up, those who feel as though their financial wells have run dry.

There has been an assignment against the people of God in this season, an attempt to deplete your resources right when you need an abundance to build what God has called you to build.

But here’s what happens when the well dries up: there is no movement. When the well runs dry, when the river ceases to flow, when financial resources dwindle, there is stagnation. The enemy knows that if he can dry up your wells, your resources and provision, he can keep you stuck.

In 1 Kings 17:7-16, Elijah encountered a similar season of drought when the brook had dried up. The Lord directed him to Zarephath, where he prayed over the oil, and as long as they continued putting out jars, the oil kept flowing, filling every empty vessel.

This is not just about personal provision; this is about Kingdom building for the greatest harvest of souls the earth has ever seen.

We are standing at the threshold of a massive influx of people coming into the Kingdom, and God is looking for those who will build storehouses, training centers, apostolic hubs, and places of discipleship to contain the harvest. Movements must be established, and foundations must be laid.

Yes, this is a season where the infrastructure for harvest must be established, and God is searching for builders and pioneers to accomplish it.

The Lord has been highlighting that we must be ready to receive the flood of souls that is about to pour in. Many of you have been given blueprints, visions for revival centers, houses of prayer, missions bases, and creative hubs to disciple and equip people. But it feels like the resources have not come.

Many have been asking, "God, I don't understand what's happening. I've been sowing faithfully. I've been giving and tithing, yet my wells seem to be drying up." There has been a targeted attack against finances, small foxes have been stealing from the vine (Song of Solomon 2:15).

These are some areas where I saw people being robbed:

- Small, hidden financial losses accumulating over time
- Unexpected emergencies and circumstances draining resources
- Bad investments, contracts, partnerships, and business deals
- Governmental and systemic financial oppression
- Religious systems and misalignments
- Delayed inheritances and financial breakthroughs

The enemy has tried to rob, delay, dry up, and block the flow of provision, but the Lord is declaring:

"Where the well has dried up, I am now releasing a flood of provision and breaking the assignment of lack. I am releasing the gold needed to build. I am releasing the provision to establish My plans in the earth. Where the enemy has been stolen, I will restore. Where the wells have dried up, I will cause a fresh outpouring. I am funding My movements. I am resourcing My builders. I am providing for My pioneers. Do not fear, for I am unlocking what has been withheld!"

Also, I want to highlight that there is a direct connection between financial drought and the Jezebel spirit.

Think of what took place when Jezebel and Ahab ruled the land - a drought came!

Jezebel's witchcraft disrupts financial flow. If you've noticed financial struggles during seasons of heavy spiritual warfare, this is part of the enemy's strategy. But right now, God is canceling that assignment! He is warring against the attacks on finances, and we are stepping into a season of great stewardship and Kingdom wealth.

I want to pray over you right now:

For your wells to be full again and for brooks to flow once more.

For dried-up jobs, finances, and provision to be restored.

For debts to be paid off.

For those whom God instructed to sow into you to be reminded and moved to obey.

For unexpected sources of provision—divine connections, supernatural opportunities, and people moved by the Spirit to bless you.

For the financial outpouring needed to build the places for harvest, disciple the flood of souls, and establish the movements God has placed in your heart.

The provision you need to step into your destiny and calling, to build what God has told you to build, is coming now in the mighty name of Jesus!

Lastly, I pray for those who have been attacked in legal battles over finances. The Lord is going to restore what the enemy has stolen, your time, your money, your health, all of it! These attacks have robbed you of the capacity to do what is in your heart to do. But now, by faith, step into what God has told you to do!

The key in the story of Zarephath is this: "Put out the jars."

What does this mean practically?

Move by faith.

Get things in order.

Start preparing as if the provision is already here.

Take steps forward as if the finances have already arrived.

And the oil will come, in Jesus name!

Veronika West: WARRIORS PRAY

This evening I heard, "WATCH AND PRAY, FOR A FALSE FLAG OPERATION IS NOW UNDER WAY, AND ALL FINGERS WILL BE POINTED AT THE GREAT BEAR NATION, BUT NAY, I SAY, THIS IS A HIGHLY COORDINATED ATTACK BY OTHER EUROPEAN AND MIDDLE EASTERN NATIONS WITH AN APPETITE FOR WAR AND GREATER BLOODSHED!"

A SOBERING PROPHETIC WARNING TO THE CHURCH: "WATCH, FOR I AM RAISING UP AN APOSTOLIC AND PROPHETIC REMNANT IN THE SPIRIT AND POWER OF ELIJAH THAT WILL BRING JUDGEMENT ON THE HOUSE AND THE SONS OF ELI!"

So, with the Lord speaking much to me today concerning the Spirit and Power of Elijah, as I was driving home, suddenly I heard the Holy Spirit say something which caused me to pull off the road and write it down; what He said was incredibly powerful.

And Friends, Even as I Write this, I feel the weight of the Spirit of the Fear of the Lord come upon me. I heard Him say, "WATCH, FOR I AM RAISING UP AN APOSTOLIC AND PROPHETIC REMNANT IN THE SPIRIT AND POWER OF ELIJAH THAT WILL BRING JUDGEMENT ON THE HOUSE AND THE SONS OF ELI!"

Wow, Wow!!!

Now, as I pulled off the road and wrote down what I was hearing the Spirit of Revelation saying, He suddenly showed me the "House of Eli and his Sons" as a Powerful Prophetic parallel of the Church in this hour.

See 1 Samuel 2,

Here, we encounter Hophni and Phinehas, the corrupt sons of Eli the priest, who did not truly "know the Lord."

They treated the sacrificial offerings made to God with disdain, and this led the people astray.

See also 1 Sam 2:12-17, 24: Their misconduct extended to vile acts of sexual immorality and perversion as they took sexual advantage of the women serving at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting.!

Eli was aware of his sons' actions and issued a rebuke, yet he failed to take decisive disciplinary action. Compromise crept in, and as a result, Hophni and Phinehas dismissed and ignored their father's admonitions and continued in their wicked and corrupt ways, showing blatant contempt for God's law and instruction.

We see God's Prophet Samuel subsequently delivering a stark message of rebuke to Eli, accusing him of honoring his sons more than God Himself.

See 1 Sam 2:29

This was a Warning of impending Judgment: where Eli's sons were destined to perish, and his lineage would face an early demise.

I submit, if we look closely at the House of Eli and his Sons, we can see clearly the intricate tapestry of Church hierarchy. There are individuals like Hophni and Phineas, figures whose very existence raises alarm bells about the moral and spiritual integrity of religious leadership as we see demonstrated in the Church.

These men, the Sons of Belial, I believe represent a grave reality within the Church that persists in this day. Those who do not truly know the Lord, yet wield significant influence, leading many of the faithful astray through their actions and strange fire teachings and prophecies!

Their behavior often reveals a deep-seated corruption or a blatant disregard for the sacredness of the Word of God, embodying the strong metaphor of wolves in sheep's clothing.

The Sons of Eli, clad in the garments of so-called righteousness, misled God's people as they prioritized personal gain and popularity over genuine spiritual maturity and God-given Anointing and Authority.

Again, I see so clearly how this dark backdrop of the House of Eli and his sons parallels prophetically with the Church of today. Many, who are like Eli, strive to uphold their faith within the religious structures of the Church. These individuals are faithful believers who grapple with their convictions in the face of widespread corruption. They are often paralyzed by a profound sense of hesitation when it comes to confronting the pervasive moral decay that surrounds them.

But, like the House of Eli and his sons, this widespread corruption is not always overt, as it can manifest through subtle yet damaging compromises with worldly values, a disturbing rejection of the Word of the Lord, and an alarming reluctance to hold accountable those who perpetrate acts of evil, whether through negligence or intentional disregard for the truth.

Just as Eli, the high priest, chose not to discipline his wayward sons, Hophni and Phinehas, allowing them to continue in their wickedness and perversion and misconduct in the temple, many Church leaders today have acted in strikingly similar ways.

They have neglected their sacred responsibility and accountability to minister FIRST UNTO GOD. They have refused to uphold purity, integrity, and righteousness, and turn a blind eye to the actions of those among them who operate in ways that betray the very essence of their faith!

By failing to confront wrongdoing, they have unwittingly enabled a toxic spiritual culture through complacency, and abuse has flourished, allowing the seeds of corruption to take root and mature within the Church.

Ha!!! But NOW, the gavel is falling, and the grave consequences of such inaction, neglect, and complacency has been severe, leading not only to a distortion of the truth of the Gospel, but also to a disillusionment of the faithful Children of God. As the moral integrity of the Church has waned, so has the spiritual vitality and power of the Church; this has left behind a wake of confusion and despair among those who seek for God's direction and guidance in this time of great trouble in the World!

Just like Eli, who sought to protect his family's status, this is exactly how the Church has tried to safeguard its reputation and popularity.

In its effort to appear inclusive, diverse, and politically correct, the Church has promoted leaders who have a total disregard of God's word and the leading of His Spirit.

I believe there is a clarion (call) to the Church in this 11th Hour to RETURN TO ITS FIRST LOVE, TO REPENT, AND TO UPHOLD TRUTH, HOLINESS, AND RIGHTEOUSNESS and to Rise up and begin to reveal the deep corruption and compromise that has brought great destruction.

Just as God prepared Samuel, God is raising a faithful remnant to fulfill His purposes.

LISTEN! God is not playing games with the Church in this Hour.

I Prophecy, "WATCH! The house and sons of Eli are about to come under the Judgment of God, and God is about to raise up a New Apostolic and Prophetic Wineskin filled with the Spirit and Power of Elijah (Eli-jah), and they will curse the house and the sons of Eli, and Great Judgement will ensue. God is Cleaning House and dealing with the Church as He dealt with the House and Sons of Eli!"

"A 'PROVING' FIRE IS NOW FALLING. The Days of ELIJAH HAVE BEGUN."

<https://www.hiskingdomprophecy.com/the-days-of-elijah.../>

In the early hours I was awoken by these words:

"Daughter, Tell My Remnant, A 'PROVING' FIRE IS NOW FALLING. The Days of ELIJAH HAVE BEGUN!"

On hearing those words, I sat up and began to pray, and I was shown by the Spirit of Revelation YET ANOTHER AND EVEN GREATER SHAKING that is coming to the Church and to the Governments of the Earth, a Great Shaking that is going to bring 'EXPOSURES LIKE NEVER SEEN BEFORE.'

And Then I heard, "WATCH! FOR THE BOOKS HAVE NOW BEEN OPENED."

I saw the Scales of Justice suddenly begin to move in the midst of a great Shaking, and I saw NOT ONLY SEVERE JUDGMENT COMING FOR THOSE WHO ARE CORRUPT AND TO THE KINGDOM OF DARKNESS, BUT I SAW GREAT VINDICATION AND GREAT REWARD COMING TO THOSE WHO HAVE BEEN ATTACKED AND UNFAIRLY ACCUSED IN THE LAST SEASON.

I SAW SUDDEN RECOMPENSE AND GREAT REWARD BEING RELEASED.

Then I was shown, The Spirit and Power of Elijah is Coming to Herald a Great Wealth Transfer; I saw a CRASHING OF THE FINANCIAL SYSTEMS AND STRUCTURES, WALL STREET, and THE STOCK EXCHANGE BEING GREATLY SHAKEN. I saw a GLOBAL ECONOMIC CRISIS COMING, AND THE LORD SAID, "Watch! For When this begins to take place, it will be a sign that the SPIRIT AND POWER OF ELIJAH IS INVADING THE NATIONS."

Now as I heard those words, I Saw a HAMMER THAT LOOKED LIKE A JUDGE'S GAVEL COME OUT OF THE HEAVENS, AND IT CAME DOWN UPON A LARGE BLACK ROCK THAT SMASHED TO PIECES.

And I heard, "WATCH! FOR WHEN THE REIGN OF MY JUSTICE AND JUDGEMENT FALLS, THAT WHICH WAS BUILT ON THE BLACK ROCK SHALL SURELY FALL TO RUIN AND NEVER RECOVER!"

I was then shown another GLOBAL RESET coming that will usher in THE RISE OF AN END TIME ARMY OF RIGHTEOUS REVOLUTIONARIES AND THE RISE OF THE SPIRIT OF THE ANTICHRIST.

Now, as I was being shown these things, I felt the Lord's hand come upon me, and again, I was shown many more things to come. I saw many that will cry out in desperation, seeking answers amidst the turmoil and great economic confusion and uncertainty. As False Foundations are fully exposed and removed, many will feel lost, disillusioned by the crumbling systems they once trusted. But I saw in the midst of this great time of chaos, a Mighty Army rising, forged in the fire of adversity and persecution, empowered by the Seven Spirits of God.

The Spirit and Power of Elijah was not just a Call to the Judgment that is coming; it was also a Clarion call to the faithful Remnant, to those who had endured and remained steadfast and immovable in their faith. I then saw Radical Reformers standing firm, their hearts fully ablaze with divine purpose and unwavering resilience. I saw Goshens Rising, Marked Places emerging fully preparing for what is to come, Marked Places and Marked People fully equipped with the Revelation, wisdom, and understanding of God, Ready and Rising to bring the Light of Christ into dark places.

I heard the Spirit say. "My Rising, Shining Remnant shall not be silenced, but they Shall ROAR. And Many Apostolic and Prophetic Voices never heard of before shall come forth, those driven into Caves of Isolation, those who have been rejected, marginalized, and oppressed will Rise carrying the Double-Troublers' Mantle, and they shall Legislate and Execute Heaven's Mandate in the Nations of the Earth in the Power and Authority of the Key of the House of David. Yes, I Tell you, they will declare My truth and advance My Kingdom with a Mighty Demonstration of Power and Authority that will cause the heavens to shake and the earth to quake."

Get Ready, for a New Movement of My Word and Spirit is Coming, a wave of Revival that will sweep across Nations, which will Awaken the Deep Sleepers and Bring to Birth Kingdom Reformation within the Church that will impact the Nations of the Earth." But I heard a warning: "Do not be deceived by the signs of the times." The enemy will attempt to sow great confusion and division among the ranks; false prophets will emerge, cloaked in deception, carrying strange fire leading many astray. Yet, those who have sought to make their dwelling place in the Secret Place of His Presence, those that have learned to Hide and Abide under the Covering of His Word will have the discernment to distinguish the truth from falsehood, the Real from the Counterfeit. Then I saw that as the Economic structures and systems fell, a Might shift took place; the great wealth transfer that is coming is not merely about material gain, but it is about wealth and resources being redirected and redistributed for the Kingdom and for the Accelerated Advancement of His Purposes in the Earth. I saw Ministries receiving unexpected funding; new businesses emerging that will thrive and expand because the foundations are built on godly principles. The very structures that once exploited the innocent and the ignorant would be completely dismantled and destroyed, and a new Kingdom Economy rooted in radical generosity, justice, and righteousness will emerge.

But God showed me the Antichrist Spirit Rising in the midst. I saw a dark figure rising out of Europe, cloaked in charm and great deceit, a figure rising amidst the ashes of the old world order, and many would be captivated by his promises of peace and prosperity, safety, and security. Ha!! but God's faithful Remnant would discern the truth and not be drawn in. They would be armed with the discernment of the Spirit, ready to counter every lie with the unshakeable truth of God!

Friends, Get Ready. STAY IN THE PLACE OF ASCENSION; DO NOT BE TEMPTED TO COME DOWN FROM THE WALL IN THIS HOUR OF GREAT UPHEAVAL AND GREAT SHAKING.

Nathan Shaw: A Cosmic Battle for the Nations -
It's Time to Contend for Miracles

The Miracles Supercharged the Message

Miracles are woven into every aspect of Christianity. In fact, the whole Christian movement started when Jesus became a man. Jesus' conception was a phenomenal miracle. The uncreated Creator became part of His own creation. It will take eternity to fully comprehend the miracle of Jesus becoming human.

After thirty years of relative silence on the earth, Jesus suddenly burst forth on the scene. His brief three-and-a-half-year ministry was marked by profound miracles of healing and deliverance and even included miracles of multiplication, authority over nature, and authority over death.

Miracles went right along with His message. The miracles supercharged the message, and the message supercharged the miracles. The impact was so profound, it got Him crucified! His crucifixion appeared to be an end. However, the end became a beginning through yet another miracle; Jesus' resurrection from the dead became the crowning miracle of the message!

The Power of Being Sent

Jesus was 'sent' to Earth to fulfill a glorious mission (John 5:37; 6:38; 8:16; 12:49). The word 'sent' is pregnant with meaning. It is a word full of movement. It includes the movement of God's heart toward humanity. His message was a part of this movement. His miracles were part of this movement. His mission to redeem and transform nations was part of this movement.

Apostles became known as "sent ones" because they, too, were sent. The same movement that surrounded Jesus surrounded them. Miracles were part of the message that apostles contended for and even died for, and what was true of apostles also became true of Believers (Acts 5:12; 6:8–7:60; 14:3; 15:12; 19:11–12; 2 Corinthians 12:12; James 5:14–15).

Miracles Displace Demonic Forces

Jesus made it clear that if the miracles He did in Chorazin, Bethsaida, and Capernaum were done in the ancient cities of Tyre, Sidon, and Sodom, the ancient cities would have repented (Matthew 11:21–23)! Tyre, Sidon, and Sodom were ruled by powerful demonic forces. Ezekiel was given detailed insight into the high-level demonic ruling over Tyre (Ezekiel 28:11–19). Tyre and Sidon were strongholds of Baal worship. During the time of Elijah, the worship of Baal had even infiltrated Israel.

God sent Elijah to confront Israel's worship of Baal (1 Kings 17–18). One of the main tools that Elijah was given to accomplish this task was miraculous signs. Here's how it played out: Baal was associated with rain; Elijah declared that there would be no dew or rain unless Elijah, and by implication God, said so. Baal was associated with fire; Elijah called down fire from Heaven, and this was after the prophets of Baal had repeatedly failed to do so. Miracles are an integral part of the cosmic battle to displace demonic forces from spiritual seats of government that influence and control cities and nations.

Paul contended fiercely for the Galatian churches because they had been ambushed by spiritual forces that separated them from the miracle of Jesus' death, burial, and resurrection. "You foolish Galatians! Who has bewitched you? Before your very eyes Jesus Christ was clearly portrayed as crucified" (Galatians 3:1).

At the center of the contention was the issue of the working of miracles: "...[D]oes God give you His Spirit and work miracles among you by the works of the law, or by your believing what you heard?" (Galatians 3:5).

Much more than a theological issue, this was an intense spiritual battle with dire consequences.

The word "bewitched" reveals the diabolical nature of the conflict. It refers to a well-understood practice in the ancient world of casting a spell through the "evil eye" (see Strong's Lexicon G940). The impact of the evil eye was considered both potent and pervasive. New Testament scholar David deSilva observes that the Galatians were "being subjected to dark forces to seduce them" (The Letter to the Galatians, NICNT). This was a spiritual conflict in which one spiritual force was pitted against another. When Paul mentions miracles in this context, it has a clear implication: miracles are a normal and natural part of Christian living. God generously gives His Spirit and generously works miracles among those who believe.

Should We Contend for Miracles?

Should we contend for miracles? Absolutely. Message, miracles, and mission go together. Imagine what it would have been like for Elijah to contend with the demonic forces controlling Israel if he wasn't equipped with the working of miracles. Miracles happen because of simple faith (Mark 6:5–6; Galatians 3:5), but miracles are more appreciated when we understand the cosmic battle over the earth. Only those who are asleep will allow the message, the miracles, and the mission to be minimized.

When it comes to miracles, the New Testament has three foundational cornerstones: (1) Jesus becoming human, (2) Jesus performing miracles, and (3) Jesus being raised from the dead. Each one of these was a declaration of war in a cosmic battle of epic proportions. Believers have been enlisted into the same glorious battle. It's time to contend for miracles. The destiny of nations is at stake!

Francis Frangipane: When Kings Go Out to Battle

Beware of a Passive Spirit

Scripture contains many examples of David's valor. As a young man, for instance, while others trembled, David was ready and eager to face Goliath. David is an example of one whom God chose, whose passions for God sustained him for most of his life.

Yet David also provides for us an example of what can happen even to good people when we surrender to a passive spirit. For there was an occasion when David did not pursue his enemies, and the consequences were grave. It happened because he allowed a passive spirit to subdue his will.

"Then it happened in the spring, at the time when kings go out to battle, that David sent Joab and his servants with him and all Israel, and they destroyed the sons of Ammon and besieged Rabbah. But David stayed at Jerusalem." (2 Sam. 11:1)

During a time of war, the king allowed a passive spirit into his soul. Soon we find this great warrior king almost helpless to resist the unfolding spiritual attack.

"Now when evening came David arose from his bed and walked around on the roof of the king's house, and from the roof he saw a woman bathing; and the woman was very beautiful in appearance." (2 Sam. 11:2)

The woman was Bathsheba, the wife of Uriah. From the moment David accepted the influence of that passive spirit, his resistance was weakened. A paralysis of conscience occurred. Scripture says that "when evening came David arose from his bed." Perhaps it was customary to rest in the afternoon, but it strikes me as inconsistent for David to nap while his men fought. It is possible that this nap was not a response to a bodily need, but an expression of the slumber that gripped his soul. He was in bed until "evening." (Photo via Pexels)

This heaviness of soul resting on David was actually part of a larger, synchronized spiritual attack... Finally, David, unable to resist and in defiance of his noble qualities, "sent messengers and took her, and when she came to him, he lay with her" (2 Sam. 11:4).

Dear friend, remember... a passive spirit introduced David to his sin! The problem was simply that, in a time when the kings went forth to war, David stayed at home.

He Is Raising a War Cry

We ourselves are in a time of war. The Spirit of God is calling us to fight for our souls as well as our families, churches and cities. Indeed, God's Word reveals that "the LORD will go forth like a warrior, He will arouse His zeal like a man of war. He will utter a shout, yes, He will raise a war cry. He will prevail against His enemies" (Isa. 42:13).

Is that holy fight in you? Is there a war cry in your spirit? If you are born again, that cry is within you, even if it has been muted by lethargy.

We will never succeed as overcomers without carrying in our spirits the war cry of God. We must stop resisting the call to prayer; we must embrace the reality of spiritual warfare; and we must fight with the weapons of warfare that God has given us, both for our own progress and also on behalf of those we love.

Conversely, the moment you surrender your will to a passive spirit, you should anticipate that a temptation appropriate to your weakness will soon follow. It may not be Bathsheba; it may be pornography on the internet. Or it may be a coworker who begins to look attractive at a time when you and your spouse are struggling. Whatever the area of weakness in your life, satan will seek to exploit that area. Remember, the enemy's first line of attack likely will not be bold and obvious. He will first work to disarm you with a passive spirit. If the enemy succeeds in his assault, you will find yourself wrapped up in something that can devastate you and your loved ones.

One may argue, "I'm walking with God. I'm a bondservant of the Lord. I'm not vulnerable." Remember what the Lord warned the church in Thyatira: "...I have this against you, that you tolerate the woman Jezebel, who calls herself a prophetess, and she teaches and leads My bondservants astray so that they commit acts of immorality..." (Rev. 2:20).

Jesus was concerned not only for the corrupting influence of Jezebel in the world, but He was also concerned that the leaders of the church had grown tolerant. More, her seductions not only targeted the wayward or new Believers, but she led God's bondservants astray.

In the book of Proverbs, King Solomon also exposes this spirit. He does not use the name Jezebel, but instead describes her as "the woman of folly" (Prov. 9:13). He says she calls out "to those who pass by who are making their paths straight: 'Whoever is naive, let him turn in here'" (vv. 15–16).

Who is this spirit after? It seeks to corrupt those who are trying to make their paths straight. Do not think that such corruption could not happen to you should you turn lukewarm. Indeed, the very man who exposed this spirit in the Bible,

King Solomon, later fell into both idolatry and immorality, two primary manifestations of the Jezebel spirit (Rev. 2:20).

Beloved, it is springtime here in the northern hemisphere. It is that time of the year when seduction begins to call out "to those who pass by." Let us not become passive in a time of war. Rather, let us fight for our nation, our cities, our families and, especially, our own souls.

It is time for kings to go to war.

The Weaponization of the Judicial System

MARCH 20, 2025

As corrupt as some on the Left have become, it should not be surprising that they have leftist judges who will do their bidding. The politicization of many in the Judicial Branch of our government is certainly being demonstrated. America is not approaching a constitutional crisis; we are already in one. The Left has amped up its use of the Judicial system to keep our Executive Branch from doing what "we the people" elected it to do. "Government by temporary restraining order," as one article describes it, is now the strategy.

As I said, we should not be surprised. Did we think the swamp would go down the drain peacefully? They will fight with every effort possible to maintain their control over America. Honesty, integrity, the Constitution – none of these things are deterrents. One of their problems now, however, is that the evils they are fighting to protect are so blatantly dishonest and corrupt that every honest American can see it.

We know Biden and his team betrayed our country and broke our immigration laws to bring in millions of illegals, including rapists, murderers, and vicious gangs. Now, liberal judges and liberal members of Congress are fighting to keep these vicious criminals in our country. Biden actually flew many of them in with our hard-earned tax dollars, yet they tell us Trump can't fly them out.

Some judges and members of Congress also fight the shutting down of fraudulent programs, including the waste and theft of hundreds of billions of taxpayer dollars.

These efforts, they tell us, are to save democracy. There's a head scratcher: the $36 trillion of national debt is not the problem; DOGE is the real problem. Americans may have for years been uninformed, naïve, and negligent, but the majority of them are not stupid. When politicians and judges want criminals to remain in the land and don't want taxpayers to know how their money is spent, we might just have a corruption problem. Is there any wonder why most Americans are cynical of our government officials?

I can assure you this will get uglier before it is resolved. Just as the Left won't give up, we who want to see America saved are also determined to win and are positioned to do so. There is now a bold and patriotic man, whom the Left tried to humiliate and destroy for 10 years, by the way, leading one of our three branches of government. He has put together a team of gifted patriots determined to clean up our government, and they have patriots in Congress working with them. Most importantly of all, a majority of Americans support the process. This threefold cord - Trump and his team, some in Congress, and the American people - is determined to save our nation and restore it to greatness and strength. And they are acutely aware that the process, like a radical surgery to remove a tumor, will be messy and painful. But they also know that the procedure is necessary, or the patient will die.

This trinity of reformers realizes that the Left in Congress will continue to fight, as will progressive, leftist judges. They know the propaganda and publicity arm of the swamp, the mainstream media, will also continue to fight, as will their indoctrination arm, the current education system. The Left is fighting for its political and ideological life, and will stop at nothing in attempts to maintain its power. Nothing.

We, the praying church, must stay informed and engaged. We must pray for our righteous leaders daily, releasing the spiritual force necessary to empower their natural efforts. This is a two-fold effort to save our nation and reposition it to its God-given destiny. We intercessors must war against spiritual forces, while they fight on the governmental and social fronts. The war must be waged in both realms.

As you pray, remember that we are not trying to "talk God into" doing this, but are implementing His chosen method, prayer, which releases His authority and power. I quote again the great Jack Hayford, who said: "Prayer is essentially a partnership of the redeemed child of God, working hand in hand with God, toward the realization of His redemptive purposes on the earth."

I conclude with Christ's instructions in Matthew 6:10, telling us to command His will to be done. "Be done" is the Greek word ginomai. The word means to be created, born, or come into existence; it is used when referencing Christ creating all things in John 1:3 and Hebrews 11:3. We get many of our "gen" words from this word: genus, genes, genetics, gender, genealogy, generation, etc. all having to do with reproduction. When

Christ told us to command His will to be done, He was saying, "Command My will to be generated, to come into being for Me."

Obviously, it is not our power that is released in order to accomplish this. It is, however, our voice. We are those through whom Christ works to accomplish His purposes on earth. Jesus is asking us to do for Him what He did for the Father while on earth. Christ said His works were actually those of His Father: "The Father in me, He doeth the works" (John 14:10). Though this was true, Jesus was the one doing the touching and speaking. He was the Father's conduit. In our representation of Christ, the pattern is the same: He provides the authority, power and directions; we are His hands, feet and voice.

Don't rely only on government officials to cleanse and restore our nation. Release the authority and power of Christ. According to Psalm 2, all nations are part of His inheritance, including America. Let's make it happen!

Pray with me:

Father, we are humbled and honored to represent Your Kingdom here on earth. Though Your Kingdom is spiritual, it is no less real, and You want its influence in every activity on earth, every square inch of which belongs to You. Those who think they can overrule You are deceived. You have already promised rule over the nations to Your Son; and He declared in Matthew 28:18 that all authority here on earth was now His.

Though we are not called to release Your influence by natural force, we are called to do so spiritually, dealing with spiritual powers operating behind the scenes. We bind them and their efforts to destroy America's relationship with You and the calling You gave us. We command the generating of Your will in our government and nation: be done! We ask You to release Your influence over individuals, to orchestrate events and circumstances, and to expose evil.

We ask You to bring a revival that will save and change the hearts of millions of Americans. You are clearly ripening the harvest fields through Your works and actions. We thank You for this and ask that it continue.

Please bring a solution to the rogue judges operating in our nation. Give President Trump, his Justice Department and our legislators wise ideas and strategies. Use them to clean up this mess we pray, in Jesus' name. Amen.

Our decree:

We decree that He who began a good work in America will finish it.

Donna Rigney: Make Room for Your King! Holiness Reaps a Righteous Harvest

Editor's note: Below are the prophetic words that Donna Rigney shared during her recent interview on ElijahStreams, as well as couple extra words that she didn't get around to sharing. We encourage you to pray as you read through them and watch the episode right [here.]

A Word for Donald Trump

On March 8, 2025, the Holy Spirit came upon me very powerfully and spoke to my heart to read Isaiah 42. As I read it, I knew he was speaking to me about Donald Trump:

"Look at my servant, whom I strengthen. He is my chosen one, who pleases me. I have put my Spirit upon him. He will bring justice to the nations. He will not shout or raise his voice in public. He will not crush the weakest reed or put out a flickering candle. He will bring justice to all who have been wronged. He will not falter or lose heart until justice prevails throughout the earth. Even distant lands beyond the sea will wait for his instruction."

God, the Lord, created the heavens and stretched them out. He created the earth and everything in it. He gives breath to everyone, life to everyone who walks the earth. And it is he who says, "I, the Lord, have called you to demonstrate my righteousness. I will take you by the hand and guard you, and I will give you to my people, Israel, as a symbol of my covenant with them. And you will be a light to guide the nations. You will open the eyes of the blind. You will free the captives from prison, releasing those who sit in dark dungeons.

"I am the Lord; that is my name! I will not give my glory to anyone else, nor share my praise with carved idols. Everything I prophesied has come true, and now I will prophesy again. I will tell you the future before it happens." (Isaiah 42:1–9 NLT)

After reading Isaiah 42, I knew the Lord was saying that all that he had spoken to his prophets about Donald Trump had come true, and that he is going to speak other things about him, and these too will come true.

God is going to use Donald Trump to set many free from prison who have been held captive illegally. We have already seen this with the January 6 prisoners. Israel will be blessed and get great help from God through Donald Trump's intervention.

He is going to use Donald Trump to spread righteousness and justice, not just in the United States, but all over the world. Through many of his executive orders, God is already using him in this way.

We're also seeing a greater softness about Donald Trump than we saw in his first term. He knows God's hand is upon him and realizes that he has been called by God to restore our nation back to greatness—back to righteousness!

The Harvest of the Wicked Is Being Destroyed!

On March 6, 2025, as I looked in the spirit, I saw a large wheat field that was ready to be harvested. A blazing torch came and ignited the entire wheat field so that it remained no more. I knew the Holy Spirit was showing me that the harvest of the wicked was going to be burned to nothing when the Lord releases his fire and glory on the earth. All the deeds that they have done and the fruit that their wicked deeds have brought forth are going to be destroyed, while at the same time, the harvest of the righteous and the fruit of the good deeds that they have done will remain.

Donald Trump and his team are being used by God, like that blazing torch, to burn up and destroy the wicked harvest that many have sown in our land and throughout the world. A great purging is going on through Donald Trump, Elon Musk, and the DOGE team. (Photo via Flickr)

Confirming Scripture: "On that day I will make the clans of Judah like a flame that sets a woodpile ablaze or like a burning torch among sheaves of grain. They will burn up all the neighboring nations right and left, while the people living in Jerusalem remain secure." (Zechariah 12:6 NLT)

Prayers Answered at Lightning Speed!

On New Year's Eve, lightning struck the Empire State building (the tower at Ground Zero) in New York, the Washington Monument, and the Capitol Building in Washington, D.C. I knew that Father was trying to show us something prophetically through this.

At our Sunday night Glory Gathering on January 5, 2025, I heard "lightning speed" being repeated over and over. I knew the Holy Spirit was giving me the prophetic understanding I was seeking about these lightning strikes.

With lightning speed, God was going to change many, many things. From that night on, we were led to have lightning rounds at our prayer meeting. For the last half hour of our ninety-minute prayer time, we released lightning-speed prayers. Anyone who had a prayer was given the microphone and encouraged to pray lightning-speed prayers. People who didn't ordinarily pray raised their hands and eagerly participated.

An example of one of these prayers was "In the name of Jesus, Donald Trump will expose all the corruption that has been going on in the Department of Justice with lightning speed!"

Since the night that I received the revelation about "lightning speed," we have seen God move in our nation with lightning speed!

A few days after Donald Trump was inaugurated, I was rejoicing over all the executive orders he had signed and the great work that he was accomplishing at lightning speed. Father told me that I hadn't seen anything yet.

As I listened to him, I saw a snowball at the top of a very high, snowy mountain. This snowball started rolling down the mountain, and as it rolled, it grew larger and larger and went faster and faster. Father was showing me that in the days ahead, what he was doing through Donald Trump was going to get larger and larger and pick up speed.

An Encounter with the Holy Spirit

While at a prayer meeting on February 26, 2025, I saw the Holy Spirit overshadow me. During worship, I went into the spirit and found myself in the Garden of Glory, in front of the garden swing, where Father sat watching Jesus and me dance. To my amazement, I saw the Holy Spirit overshadow Jesus and me. He was translucent and enormous. He encompassed both of us and was much taller and larger than the both of us together.

Then, I asked the Holy Spirit if he could show me what it looks like when I release the glory on people. So, led by the Holy Spirit, I said, "I release your glory," and I saw a smaller version of the Holy Spirit leave me and go rest on the person in front of me at the prayer meeting. I still had the same enormous presence of the Holy Spirit on me, and the other person was covered in his presence as well, but his presence wasn't much bigger than the person was.

Through my vision, I knew the Holy Spirit was showing me this truth: We carry the presence of God by the power of the Holy Spirit wherever we go. We are not weak, but we are strong in his power and in his might.

The following day, the Holy Spirit confirmed what had happened the night before. I went to pay a bill, and while in conversation with the woman who was receiving my payment, she told me that in the few times she had seen me, she had felt a strong presence surrounding and coming off me, and she knew that it was a gift that God had given to me. This woman was unaware of the glory, and hadn't attended our meetings, but she felt an "aura" about me. (Photo via Pexels)

A few days later, while at a meeting in town, one of the leaders of that group came over to speak to me. He told me that people could feel the presence of God pouring off me whenever I enter the room. Again, the Holy Spirit confirmed what I had seen while at the prayer meeting the week before.

I sat with the Holy Spirit in prayer when I got home, and he reminded me of the picture that was taken about a year and a half ago, after our Glory Gathering. A woman had asked me if she could have her picture taken with me. When the picture was taken, I looked at it quickly, and I thought there was something wrong with the camera. Upon looking at the picture more closely, I saw the glory of God behind us and overshadowing us.

During that same meeting, before this picture was taken, while we were in worship, a little boy drew a picture of what he saw on the platform at our Glory Gathering. His father came running over to me after worship and gave me the picture. His son saw Jesus sitting on the platform with an angel on either side of him.

On February 28, 2025, Father continued to speak to me about my dramatic encounter with the Holy Spirit: "My fresh fire will fall and will burn the chaff of wickedness, while at the same time, it will ignite great passion in the hearts of my children for us and for souls. A harvest will be brought into my kingdom by my purified vessels. Hypocrisy will never bring in a righteous harvest, but holiness will.

"My Holy Spirit is coming in power and might like he came at Pentecost two thousand years ago, and through his power, the masses will be saved!

"Streamline your lives; get the clutter out of them and make room for your King and your God! Then you will know true peace, and my glory will be all over you and all over your lives. Make room for your King, and I will revive your lives, your businesses, your families, your homes, your neighborhoods, your nation!

"Seek hard after me, and my fire will fall. I will deny no one who hungers and thirsts for righteousness."

Confirming Scriptures: Matthew 6:25–33; 2 Corinthians 3:5–10.

Masses Will Be Changed

On March 4, 2025, Father declared, "When my fire falls, the masses will be changed in the twinkling of an eye. Yes, suddenly and with lightning speed, one encounter with my glory will dramatically transform people. They will not resemble who they were before their encounter.

"Just like Saul on the road to Damascus was never the same when he was struck by my glory, the multitudes will never be the same. They will resemble my Son!

"In the past, they resembled the wicked one whom they followed. Once they encounter my fire and my glory, they will no longer speak, think, or act like him."

On February 10, 2025, I heard Father say, "Power, glory, and majesty are going to manifest for all to see. Lives will be changed overnight by the touch of my hand. Just as Donald Trump and his family were changed by the touch of my hand, as well as all of his supporters, so too will many be changed as I reach out and touch their lives.

"Heaven and earth are mine. Watch as we transform earth so that it resembles heaven more and more. The shadows of wickedness will be chased away by the light of our glory shining through our faithful children. Goodness will overtake this land and make it resemble what we created it to be like, and no longer like what the enemy has made it into.

"Goodness and truth will walk through the land and make way for my people to walk in the light of my glory. Darkness from within my people will flee, and only light will remain. Yes, the knowledge of my glory will cover the earth as the waters cover the sea. (Photo via Freerange Stock)

"'Transformed by my touch' is the hour that is coming to this world, but especially to your nation!"

Confirming Scriptures: Habakkuk 2:14; Isaiah 66.

The Benefits of Living Surrendered Lives

On March 5, 2025, Father continued to talk to me about his glory: "This world will be transformed by my glory—my great undying love pouring forth on my surrendered children. The more surrendered each one is, the more of our glory they will hold. As you hunger and thirst for us and our righteousness, we will fulfill our promise and fill you with our goodness.

"No man can stop my children who are truly mine. No matter what is thrown against them, it won't even touch them. To live 'surrendered' is the only way to be successful and safe. When I am your God, all else must submit to me.

"David lived a surrendered life and he fulfilled his calling, and he was kept safe. From a shepherd to a king, he was brought out of obscurity, because I appointed him to serve me and my people.

"Pray that your leaders live surrendered lives; then they will bear an abundant crop of good fruit for my kingdom's sake and for the sake of your nation. Their fruit will remain!

"Pray that the enemy has no place in their lives to come in to steal, to kill, and to destroy. As they live truly surrendered to us, then my host will be sent forth to guard, to assist, and to even guide them."

On March 1, 2025, Father told me what was coming: "I am going to lift the veil off many of my children's eyes. They will see clearly who I am and will know what is the truth about all that matters. Wisdom will be [imparted] to all who seek to know my will and who long to understand my ways.

"The veil of deception that the spirits of Jezebel and Ahab put on my children are being ripped off, because these spirits have been dethroned, and I am back on my seat, ruling over your land and your lives. My rule will only do you great good; their rule brought great harm and devastation.

"Those who still serve these wicked entities are not leaving quietly but, in a great display of anger, are being evicted. Don't let their antics distract or disturb you! Just noise is all that they are producing. They have no authority and can no longer bring harm to you or to your land, so do not let them rob you of your peace by giving them too much thought."

When Father said this, I thought of the antics that the Democrats displayed during Donald Trump's address to Congress. I knew the Lord was showing me that instead of focusing on their rudeness, I needed to focus on all the good things that were being accomplished by the administration, as well as all the good things that were going to be coming forth in the days ahead.

Father continued: "Distractions are tools of the enemy that he uses to disturb and to rob my children of their time and their peace. Keep your eyes fixed on the truth and on all that is good and pleasant. Let your heart and my heart be one. In this way, you will enjoy your lives and be very successful. (Photo via Pexels)

Rebuilding the Wall of Righteousness Around the United States of America

While on a ministry cruise in the Gulf of America (in November of 2024), the Lord showed me that we had been sent there to begin the work of constructing a wall of righteousness around the United States of America. During our time of worship at the conference, we were all led to fall on our knees before the Lord in deep sorrow for the sins of our land and in dedication to him.

While alone with the Lord, he showed me that we were laying a foundation of cement for this wall, and angels were being sent to assist us with building the wall. I saw angels working beside us, putting stones in the cement. After my encounter with the Lord, I knew that this was a great work which needed to be completed by God's faithful children. The work of rebuilding the wall was just beginning.

On February 11, 2025, Father spoke to me about the importance of rebuilding the wall around our nation: "When my children rise up to work for me, rebuilding what the enemy destroyed, there will be opposition. Stand firm in prayer against the onslaught of lies and intimidation like Nehemiah did."

When Father said this, I knew that he was giving me a heads up that the enemy has been attempting to hinder Donald Trump—as well as those whom God has called to build the wall of righteousness around the USA—through all the opposition he has been facing while trying to restore this nation back to its former glory.

Father continued: "I will give you wisdom and the discernment you need in order to complete your assignments. Don't listen to the lies the enemy speaks, but do meditate on my words, and you will then be able to complete the work of restoring your nation, and eventually this world, back to me.

"Stand together as one! Be in unity, and my Holy Spirit will lead you in this fight to take the land back and rebuild the wall of righteousness. Unscathed will you be in this battle, because you have the greatest weapon of all: my glory. As my ark of the covenant led my people into battle to take back the Promised Land, you too have my ark; my glory is with you!

"Undefeated will you be as you build a mighty wall of righteousness, and as you evict all the giants from your land.

"Press through the opposition like the woman with the issue of blood did to get her miracle. Press, push, believe, and reach out for my presence, and victory will be assured for you, for your loved ones, and for your land.

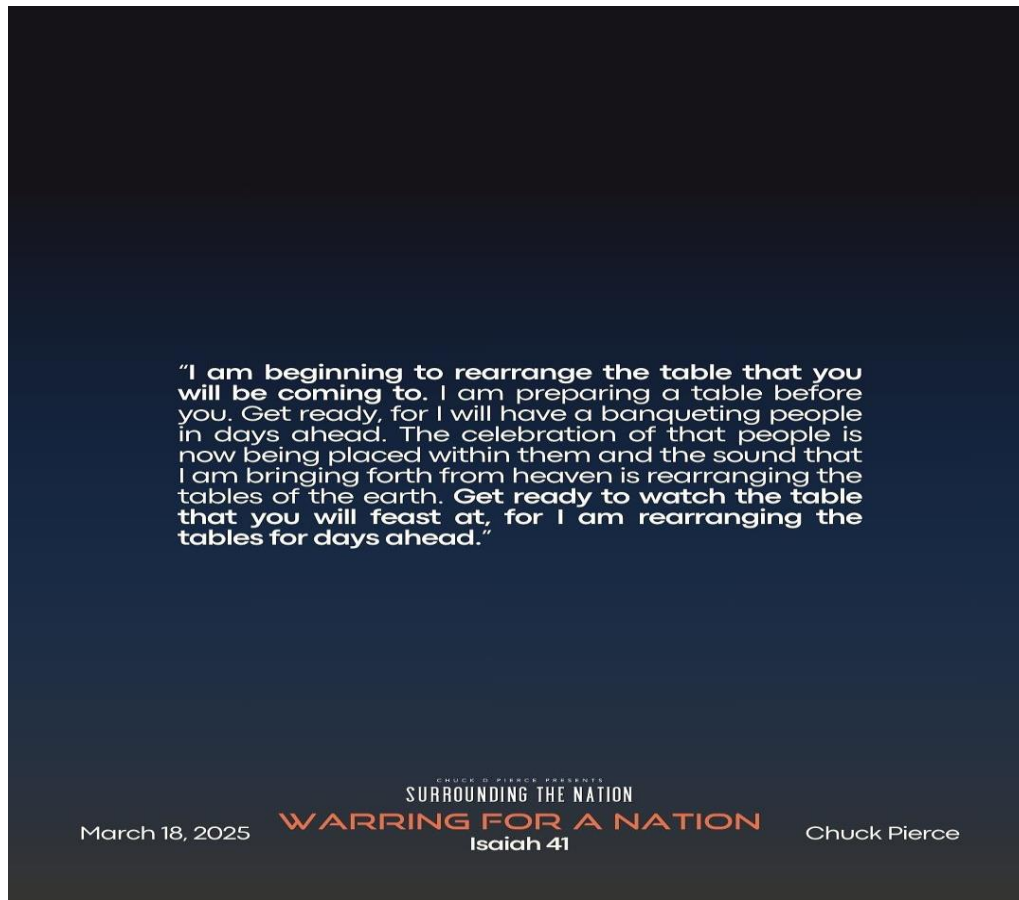

"I will lead you in exactly how to build this wall, step by step. When worship is needed, I will lead the worshipers to gather and worship. When intercession is needed, I will lead the intercessors to pray. When repentance is called for, I will lead the priest to call for a time of fasting and repentance."

Confirming Scripture: Nehemiah 4.

From "The Heart of a Seer", Chapter 6 . Wade Butler

On Tuesday March 18, 2025 Chuck Pierce had a word about, "Come to the Table. He is rearranging a place for you."

Recently, during an ascension with the LORD, our group of intercessors were brought to a place I have seen before, yet at the same time, each experience is always different. On this occasion, Frances and I stood at the edge of a waterfall enjoying the refreshing mist around us, when HE called us to come forward to join HIM on HIS back patio. We were taken by HIM and escorted out to our own handmade seats to dine at HIS table. The chairs were hand hewn and carved exquisitely by the Master Carpenter Himself. The table was a crosscut from an ancient tree whose rings wove throughout the tabletop. Each represents an age of the past, present and future.

As we sat down, our chairs hugged us with comfort beyond words. I asked, is the table living, and HE laughed and said, "of course it is." At that, the table spoke to me, "I live. I was hewn by the Master's Hands, and now I am more beautiful than ever before, plus, I am used by my LORD to entertain HIS children." It caused me to set back in amazement. When I put my hands on the table, a flash of light came from my fingers and embedded in the lines like a speck of light. The table said, "Everyone who dines here leaves their code of life in my veins."

Immediately, we all heard the sound of footsteps and beheld Angels with trays of heavenly food which were placed before each of us. Every person had their most treasured foods in the proper portions before us. Yeshua beckoned us to eat and enjoy.

My mouth watered as I took the first bite to the last. I looked at Yeshua and said, LORD, you always have multiple meanings and intent in what you present. What have we really eaten? HE looked at me and laughed again, saying, "You have dined on what you need; just as food provides what your body needs, my food provides what your spirit needs. The question is, what did you come here to ask me for?" I said "wisdom," He said, "You are correct, and you have eaten Heavenly Wisdom for what is about to take place in your life." Each of us had come inquiring of the LORD for something that we desired or needed. Some wanted revelation, others, more of HIS presence. All of us dined with great joy and fulfillment.

He is inviting all of HIS Children to dine at HIS table and delight in what has been prepared. All of us left filled and satisfied.

Soon thereafter, I was part of a group of five intercessors who had an incredible experience with the LORD, an accession into an open Heaven.

To say it was Glorious, would be an understatement. We were ushered onto a mountain above the snowline. At first, a mist surrounded our feet and obscured our vision. I spoke up and asked, "Where are we LORD?" Immediately, the mist at our feet cleared, and I could see the seven mountains below us; we were on The MOUNTAIN OF THE LORD!

The voice OF ADONI led us down a path through a pristine forest to a beautiful lake. On that lake a PILER OF FIRE danced. Again, I asked, "Where are we LORD?" He said, "You are on the Mountain where I dwell." I said, "LORD, are you not on the Throne?" "Have you not seen MY SON manifest many times? Who do you think taught HIM? He has a mansion to dwell in; I have a MOUNTAIN! This is where my SPIRT dwells."

As we looked on the lake, the mist lifted, and a COLUMN OF FIRE appeared before us. I asked, "Is this YOUR presence?" and HE said, "As with Moses, I AM." The fire evaporated the water only to have it go into the column and come up again. Each time it was as if the droplets were made of diamonds and gold. Before I could even ask, HE said "This is the bowl of tears and prayers of MY sons and daughters that come up continually before ME, I know every prayer, every tear by heart." Once again, I asked a question of HIM, "Is this the prayers of the church?" He said, "No, only MY sons and daughters. Enter into the fire." The thought of whether we could walk on water or endure the fire never crossed our minds, it was just, ENTER IN.

Art source unknown

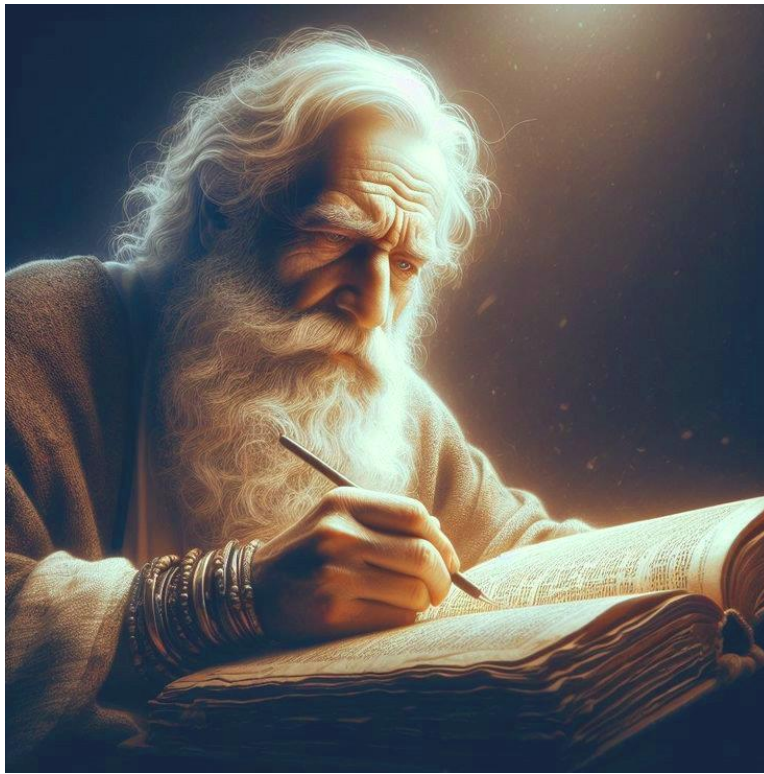

So, we did the only thing that mattered; we stepped on the water and into the FIRE OF GOD.

As we entered in the presence of our LORD, HE flowed through us, peeling off layers of hurts, unresolved curses, pain, and tears from trauma, all melting into the lake of prayers below us. We did not want to leave the fire or come down from the mountain.

HIS LOVE was overwhelming, HIS MERCY beyond understanding. Our tears and the tears of ages washed us over and over again.

Suddenly, we realized we were back on the path stepping into the mist and back to our earthly reality. The vision will forever be a part of our lives.

Fighting the Good Fight

By Steve Loopstra, Director, Your Servant in Christ Ministries

2 Timothy 3:10–11 (NKJV). But you have carefully followed my doctrine, manner of life, purpose, faith, longsuffering, love, perseverance, persecutions, afflictions, which happened to me at Antioch, at Iconium, at Lystra—what persecutions I endured. And out of them all the Lord delivered me.

Paul writes to Timothy, his student and disciple, that he, Timothy, was well-acquainted with (you have carefully followed) Paul's life and the character of his life. Then Paul gives us a summary of what he saw as the parts of that manner of life - seven characteristics for us to understand and incorporate into our lifestyles.

As I studied through these, I was deeply challenged to think about how my life measures up to what the Apostle Paul is putting before us here. I thought that it seemed to me that these characteristics don't seem to be seen often in many in our more modern leadership.

Maybe it would be good for us to go back to the Scriptures and this biblical model in the light of some of the "models" we have had recently who have turned out not to have had a "manner of life" worth copying. Consider these thoughts on the life priorities of the Apostle Paul.

1. Doctrine: Teaching – Paul's teachings, as understood through the lens of 2 Timothy 3:10 and his other writings, center on the transformative power of faith in Jesus Christ. He stressed the absolute necessity of salvation through grace, received solely as a gift from God, not earned through works or adherence to the Law. He never lost sight of the fact that he was an undeserving recipient of the gift of grace. This grace, he argued, leads to a lifestyle of repentance, faith, and sanctification – a progressive process of becoming more Christ-like, a subject we hear little of in our day.

His doctrine emphasizes the authority of Scripture, the centrality of the Gospel message (good news of Jesus' death and resurrection), and the vital importance of living a life dedicated to God's will and the spreading of the Gospel to all nations.

He consistently championed the unity of believers in Christ, regardless of their backgrounds, while also warning against false teachers and maintaining a strong focus on the imminent return of Christ.

Ultimately, it's a message of hope, redemption, and a call to live a life reflecting the love and grace received.

A question. Does my life, does your life clearly proclaim Biblical doctrine?

2. Manner of Life: This has the idea of "conduct of life, or lifestyle." Paul's life was one characterized by intense dedication to spreading the Gospel of Jesus Christ. It was a life marked by unwavering perseverance despite facing significant hardships, imprisonments, and opposition. His manner of life was one of constant travel, preaching, teaching, and establishing churches across the Roman Empire.

He lived a life of self-sacrifice, prioritizing the spiritual well-being of others above his own comfort and safety. It was a life both intellectually rigorous, reflecting deep theological thought and writing, and intensely practical, demonstrating genuine compassion and care for the communities he served. In other words, he lived out his beliefs, reflecting the very message he preached. He lived so as to be an example to others.

- 3. Purpose: Having the idea of the "The aim of his life" - Paul's ultimate aim in life was the glorification of God through the way he lived his life and the salvation and edification of others. This involved the tireless proclamation and defense of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, seeking to bring as many people as possible to faith in him.

His purpose wasn't simply spreading a belief system, but rather fostering a vibrant, growing community of believers transformed by the power of the Holy Spirit. It was not to build a group of his followers, but followers of Christ.

He aimed to equip these believers with the spiritual tools and understanding to live lives pleasing to God and to withstand persecution. In essence, his life's purpose was to participate in God's redemptive work, contributing to the fulfillment of God's plan for humanity.

It is a good practice for us, from time to time to take a look at our own lives, and honestly evaluate what is the purpose of our lives, and are we being true to that purpose.

- 4. Faith: His life was a living testament to his faith. He didn't just "believe", he "lived" it. His beliefs weren't compartmentalized (a trap that we seem to easily fall into); they were the very warp and woof of his being. His faith was the unwavering foundation upon which his entire life was built. It wasn't a passive belief, but an active, transformative force driving every decision and action. It shaped his character, fueled his perseverance through adversity, and directed his purpose. His faith was evidenced not just in words, but in a life of sacrificial service, unwavering commitment to the Gospel, and relentless pursuit of God's will, regardless of the cost. It wasn't a theoretical construct, but a lived reality that permeated every aspect of His existence. Every hardship faced was filtered through the lens of his faith in Christ. It wasn't about outward conformity, but about an inward transformation that manifested in outward acts of love, service, and unwavering devotion to the Gospel. It wasn't a theoretical construct; it was a practical, lived reality. Can you sense the firmness of that kind of faith that takes us through every season of life? Lord, help us to grow in and strengthen our faith in this way.

- 5. Longsuffering: His longsuffering wasn't passive endurance; it was active perseverance fueled by faith. The Apostle Paul faced countless trials – imprisonments, beatings, shipwrecks, plots against his life – yet in all of these he never wavered.

His steadfastness stemmed not from his own personal strength, but from an unwavering trust in God's plan and purpose.

It was a patient endurance born of understanding that suffering was a part of the journey, a means to refine faith and advance the Gospel. Paul's "longsuffering" wasn't simply bearing hardship; it was actively choosing to move forward in hope and faith in the midst the storms.

- 6. Love: Paul's love wasn't a fleeting emotion, but a relentless, sacrificial commitment.

It wasn't confined to a select few; it encompassed all – even his enemies. It was a love that compelled him to endure hardship, to tirelessly preach the Gospel, and to pour his life into others for their salvation.

It was a love that was fueled by Christ's transformative grace, a love that both motivated and sustained him through every trial.

It wasn't simply sentimental; it was a powerful, active force that shaped his every decision and action.

- 7. Perseverance: Or you could call it his endurance - His perseverance wasn't stubborn resistance, but a determined pursuit of God's will. It was a steadfast commitment to the Gospel, unwavering despite relentless opposition.

It was a refusal to give in to weariness or discouragement, a continual pressing forward in the face of adversity.

It was the grit born of knowing his purpose and trusting in God's ultimate victory, even when the path was tortuous and the future uncertain, even in those times when he feared for his own life.

It was a continuous striving, not for personal gain, but for the advancement of the Kingdom of God. Again, he was not out to build an "empire" or "ministry" for himself. I don't think he would have ever had the website:

www.thegreatapostlepaulministries.com.

So here we have it. Doctrine, manner of life, purpose, faith, long suffering, love and perseverance. I find it challenging that Paul was able to say to Timothy, "you know all about these parts of my life, now you must continue in the things which you have learned and been assured of, knowing from whom you have learned them." 2 Timothy 3: 14. And in the end of this exhortation to Timothy, Paul sends him back to the Scriptures, "which are able to make you wise for salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus that the man of God may be complete, thoroughly equipped for every good work" (verses 15 and 16).

And the question is now, what will we do with this? Let me encourage you, as I encourage myself, to take a hard look at these and see where we need to grow and improve, that we too might be able to say, as does Paul in chapter four verse 7, "I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith. Finally there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge will give me to me on that Day, and not to me only but also to all who have loved his appearing."

I pray that you and I will live in such a way that this might be our statement at the end of our time here on earth as well.

Nissan 11, 5785: Wednesday, April 9, 2025

Pastor Jim Gregory: What Yeshua is doing at Kings City, Mo.

On Monday March 17, 2025, as I was praying at about 4:30 in the morning, I noticed the moon was shining as bright as ever, so I decided to go outside Andrew's house and worship in the shadow of the construction of Kings City. As I walked toward the front of our new home, I noticed Yeshua standing in front of the home looking straight toward it and moving his hands toward it as though executing instructions. He was dressed in white attire that was flowing in the wind, and he appeared to be 25-30 feet tall. I realized that he wasn't that tall when he walked physically in the earth, so the reason for him appearing so tall was from an authority standpoint.

After some time there in worship and observing Yeshua, I walked back towards my son Andrew's home to go inside and continue in prayer and worship. On the way back, as I passed by the woods behind the home, by the Holy Spirit I began to welcome the hosts and angelic beings of heaven into the day by motioning my hand toward them. It was as though they were flowing in on an anointed river of oil. I realize they were coming in to carry out the instructions of Yeshua.

I went inside and sat down, and the Yeshua began to instruct me by the Holy Spirit regarding a conference service my wife Renee and I and the kids had been at in August of 2016. It was a missions conference, and during the Friday day service, David Shatwell from Oklahoma began to minister, and in the service, he gave out arrows. Renee and I picked up 12 arrows, one for us and one for each of our children and their spouses or future spouses. After getting the arrows, we were instructed to strike the ground multiple times, which we did out of obedience and faith expectation.

It was during the evening service that Friday that I saw the entire Federal Reserve System, as represented by the Fed in Washington DC, in flames and consumed by fire. Well, the Holy Spirit spoke to me last Monday, when I came back inside, that Renee's and my striking of the ground created a resonance and frequency in all the earth that has vibrated through all of humanity since that time to create a current crescendo whereby all of humanity will receive the Kingdom of God, truly, and will understand how to live in the abundance of infinite resources. When he said that to me, an incredible Spirit of confidence came over me, because I truly understood that what was executed by Faith in 2016 could not be undone, and that truly it will be fulfilled that none shall perish, because it is Yeshua's will that all shall live. I cannot say it enough, that great confidence filled my Spirit in this moment.

In other current matters regarding Kings City, I received a phone call from UPCI Brother, Lee Stoneking on Thursday, March 13th at around 9 P.M. As the call came in, the caller ID on my phone said it was from a caller known as Charity Call. I thought it was a scam call, but I answered the phone anyway, and on the other end after a brief moment of static. Lee Stoneking asked me if it was ok to cash the check, and then the call was dropped. I really thought I was getting pranked, but I called the number back anyway, and sure enough, Lee Stoneking answered the phone.

After a brief introduction, I told Bro. Stoneking to hold on a minute so I could catch my breath, after all, it isn't every day that one gets a call from such a man of God, who has ministered to the nations and in the United Nations, not to mention having God miraculously bring you back to life. He jokingly told me to feel free to name drop as much as I want, when I explained to him that my family was never going to believe me. He went on to explain that a Brother Gregory had given him a check in September of 2024, and he had not cashed it and was trying to find out if it was okay to cash the Check! I thought to myself, yes, brother, cash that check twice, LOL!! He said he got my name from the UPCI ministers' manual, and sure enough, my name is right there below Charles Gregory. So, Lee Stoneking called my number by mistake to ask if it was ok to cash the check!

That is amazing in and of itself, but I don't believe in coincidence! When I began to tell my daughter-in-law Heather about this, she began to tell me about a dream she had about 2 months ago regarding Lee Stoneking sitting at a table at Kings City along with Jeff Arnold, WOW! A few days later though, as she began to recall the dream again, she said that actually Lee Stoneking was sitting at the table, but Evangelist Jeff Arnold was outside running around with a bunch of other folks, still looking for clarity on who the bunch of other folks were.

In addition to Lee Stoneking sitting at the table, Heather stated that Johnny Enlow was also sitting there as well as another man with dark hair and a man with white hair. I was immediately quickened by the Holy Spirit regarding the identity of these two men as Wade Butler and Chuck Pierce.

I proceeded to show Heather a picture of Wade from Facebook, and Heather confirmed that was the dark-haired man she saw. I proceeded to close Facebook out, and in that split-second instance, as confirmation from the Holy Spirit, my friend and brother Wade Butler called me on the phone. Heather and I stared at each other in amazement as to how fast the Holy Ghost moves. After the call, I proceeded to pull up a current picture of Chuck Pierce, and Heather confirmed that was the white-haired man she saw.

So, we currently have Lee Stoneking, Johnny Enlow, Chuck Pierce and Wade Butler sitting at the table at Kings City, and Jeff Arnold is running around outside stirring up the people. There are great and amazing things happening here at Kings City, and we are continuing to pray into the Holy Spirit and seek even more insight and revelation as to what it all means. In the meantime, I am trying to catch up with Arnold while Stoneking cashes the check and Johnny, Chuck and Wade plot out our next advancing steps for the Kingdom of God and his Glory in all the earth.

Sara Whitten: No More Doom! It Will Be Fuel for the Fire

God Is Carefully Molding and Setting Us

Have you been in distress? If you have, out of the ninth chapter of Isaiah emerges a word of hope for those who have been in distress:

"Nevertheless, there will be no more gloom for those who were in distress..." (Isaiah 9:1 NIV).

Interestingly, Strong's Concordance notes the following about the Hebrew word for "distress" (mutsaq) in this verse: "The term 'mutsaq' refers to something that has been cast or poured out, typically in the context of metalwork. It is used to describe objects made by pouring molten metal into a mold, resulting in a solid, formed object..." (Strong's H4164 definition, Usage).

I think we can all recall a time when we've felt "melted" by a season or totally poured out. It's a beautiful thought, however, to imagine those same blistering seasons as the times when God is carefully molding and setting us. God wants to remind us that it's in these times that he "molds" us and "sets" us up for something good—something so good it could only be his design.

For those in distress, God gives the command here: "no more gloom." Gloom points to a spectrum of definitions which encompasses everything from mourning to despondency. Mourning is past-focused; it's grief for something that has passed or an overwhelming longing for the past. There is certainly a time to grieve (Ecclesiastes 3:4), but this verse declares a break in the seasons.

In the same Isaiah passage from above, it says in the King James Version, "Nevertheless the dimness shall not be such as was in her vexation..." In other words, there shall not be carried into this time the grief that was in the past season. God is drawing a line of separation where we will cease to long for the past in an unhealthy way. He is healing grief and changing it into gratitude—thankfulness for what was that also makes room for hopefulness for what is.

No More Gloom and Doom

Gloom also can refer to despondency. The American Heritage Dictionary defines despondency as "Depression of spirits from loss of hope, confidence, or courage; dejection." All of these (hope, confidence, and courage) pertain to how we face the future. Hope refers to what level we expect the Lord to do good things in our future. Confidence is unshakability in our beliefs, which helps us navigate the future. Courage is the ability to face an unknown future because of our assurance of God's goodness. Gloom is what "dims" these things. It doesn't falsify them, but it makes them hard to see.

The "no more gloom" declaration in Isaiah also breaks the shadows that have been cast over our future which keep us from seeing his brightness ahead.

Shadows are usually not representative of the actual size or location of their objects. (Something small can cast a big shadow; something far away can cast a shadow that stretches close enough to touch you.) They also have no substance. They aren't actually a "thing" but a disruption of light. If you reinstate the light to an area of shadow, the shadow goes away. A shadow never overcomes a light. God is calling us again to see past the shifting shadows of hopelessness, fear, and confusion in order to see the real hope he has for our futures. (Photo via Unsplash)

Isaiah 9 continues with verse 2: "The people walking in darkness have seen a great light; on those living in the land of deep darkness a light has dawned" (NIV).

Walking in darkness does many things. It slows you down. Even though you may be in your own living room, in complete darkness, your steps become timid and careful, so your shin doesn't have an unexpected encounter with your coffee table. Light brings a renewed speed and confidence.

Complete darkness also requires you to rely on memory. What did it look like? Where were the obstacles? Light allows you to see again in true detail what your mind remembers vaguely. At the darkest times in our lives we strain to remember what God has shown us. We can even begin questioning if we heard him. When the light comes again, it reinforces what we once saw but had almost forgotten in the "dark time."

Isaiah 9:5 is the spark that began this whole word. This powerful verse reads, "Every warrior's boot used in battle and every garment rolled in blood will be destined for burning, will be fuel for the fire" (NIV). The morning I read this, I felt the Holy Spirit whisper, "What the enemy is using to make you afraid is only going to be fuel for the fire."

Within the words "warrior's boot" you'll find the Hebrew word ra'ash, which means "commotion, earthquake, quaking, shaking, tumult" (Strong's H7494).

A closer look at this verse reveals that "warrior's boot" is actually better translated to read as "greaves" or "war-shoes." Greaves used to have all sorts of attachments made of clanging metal—hooks, clasps, and nails—all allowing them to be heard as they came. The jarring noise would cause confusion and panic. The warrior's boot would instill fear before they even arrived (see Bible Hub, Isaiah 9:5, Barnes' Notes on the Bible).

Often the enemy tries to use the same tactics with us. Chaos and noise attempt to bait us into panic, fear, and confusion about things that haven't even arrived yet, and may never transpire.

If It Happened to Them, It Can Happen to Me

The garments rolled in blood were a visual reminder of the enemy's past works, the times he killed or destroyed. Our modern-day equivalent is when we focus on the times when the enemy has stolen, killed, or destroyed in our communities or in our news feeds. The threat (then and now) is "if it happened to them, it can happen to me." When we give way to this fear, it takes our fear (awe) of the Lord off the throne. When we lose sight of who the Lord is and what that means for us, panic causes us to project all sorts of things on our future, like the shadow of despondency mentioned earlier.

Both the warrior's boots and blood-stained garments meet the same fate in Isaiah 9:5. All of these war tools of the enemy become utterly consumed by God. In a turnaround that only God could create, they become fuel for the fire. According to Barnes' Notes on the Bible, in ancient times, this kind of stripping of enemy soldiers and burning of gear happened when an army was vanquished—completely defeated. Their things were burned so that they would be useless. Gone. Fuel for the fire.

What "Fire" Is God Fueling?

What "fire" is God fueling? What does fire mean for the Lord? In Scripture we see fire being representative of God's presence leading the Israelites in the desert (Exodus 13). We see fire being God's empowerment like when he showed up to commission Moses in the burning bush (Exodus 3), or when God empowered Elijah at Mt. Carmel (1 Kings 18). We see God's anointing in the fire of Pentecost (Acts 2). We also see fire as a reminder of God's deliverance, as a fourth man stood in the fiery furnace (Daniel 3). (Photo via Flickr)

Where the enemy wanted to bring terror, God is using it to fuel his fire. The situations that the enemy seeks to use to bring fear and defeat become the fuel for God's presence showing up in our lives. The blows meant to crush our spirits and get us to lay down our giftings become fuel for God's calling. The heat of the temptation to take God off the throne becomes fuel for God showing his power over other idols or worldly powers. The very places where the enemy wants you to feel the chaos of abandonment become the upper rooms that fuel his Holy-Spirit anointing. The attacks of the enemy become the furnace of God's deliverance for you, and even for the salvation of others who will hear your testimony.

While the distress of this season is real, the gloom is ending. As the shadow lifts and the light shows things for what they are, we will see how all that the enemy has brought against us will only end up fueling God's fire.

Encounter Questions:

- Father, where are areas of grief that have gone past their season and kept me stuck? What hope do you want to speak to me to heal me in this place?
- Holy Spirit, in what areas of my life do I have low hope, low confidence, or low courage? What words of yours do you want to remind me of to "fill up" these areas?
- Lord, illuminate what the "warrior's boots" or "bloodied garments" have been for me in this season. As I place them in your hands, show me how they can be fuel for your fire. I trade these fears for more of your fire, Lord. Amen.

Lana Vawser

YOU ARE ABOUT TO SEE WHY THE ENEMY
HAS BEEN FIGHTING YOU SO HARD.

Many have been in an incredibly intense spiritual battle lately. There is a shifting and lifting taking place! There will be a very significant display of the winds of VICTORY, that will not only bring breakthrough and relief, but clarity is given to you as to how many KEYS have been given to you as you have been in battle. Many of you are coming out of the battle with an ABUNDANCE of keys of strategy that you are ABOUT TO SEE and use to set others free by His breaker anointing of victory!

I had a vision and saw many of you carrying BASKETS and BOUQUETS of KEYS of strategy and revelation that will also unlock all the enemy has stolen and see you released forth in sudden acceleration into the new ground and territory the Lord has for you.

The battle has caged many of you in a place of not being able to "dream big." That is shifting and lifting! He has been healing your hearts of disappointments, and He is breathing in LIFE again to HOPE and DREAM. Those chains of OLD are breaking off, and you are being given new shoes of victory to ZOOM by His Spirit further than before. There is a wave crashing in on you now, His wave of a significant fulfillment of dreams in your life. You are about to see WHY the enemy has been fighting you so hard.

God is calling you up HIGHER, to not settle for second best, but to dream BIGGER than you have ever dreamed and see MIRACLES MANIFEST within them.

Nissan 14, 5785: Saturday, April 12, 2025

Lan Vawser: Recently, I heard the Lord say,
*'Don't be surprised by the battle over the TAKE BACK.'

When the Lord spoke these words, I went into a vision, and I saw many who were going back into lands that were forfeited or lands where the enemy came and plundered.

The Lord showed me that there was a mighty shift taking place in many right now, where they had been looking at these lands that were forfeited because of circumstances, trials, discouragement, despair, burn out, weariness, and opposition. They were looking at the lands where the enemy came and stole and plundered; and where they had previously looked at these lands with such sadness, discouragement and hope deferred, there was now a FRESH FIRE that the Lord was igniting in their hands to violently go after the TAKING BACK of that which is theirs to occupy, and they had felt driven out by the enemy.

I saw this ferocity in their eyes to apprehend again that which is theirs and that which is promised to them by the Lord and that which the Lord has anointed them to partner with Him in, in part of their destiny and assignment.

I saw these ones arising in such ferocity and beginning to step back into these forfeited and stolen/plundered places. I then began to see such resistance at the threshold. There was significant demonic activity and significant push-back that was coming against these ones at the crossover. But it was then that I heard the voice of the Lord say, 'GO FORTH! NOW YOU SHALL PLUNDER AND APPREHEND ALL THAT IS YOURS, AND STEP IN WITH GREATER FAVOUR, PROVISION AND GATHER ALL THE SPOILS AND MORE.'

The sense surrounded me so strongly that there was a call from the Lord to NOT retreat: and the intensity of the resistance was an indicator of the magnitude of that which was going to be apprehended and the magnitude of the move of His Spirit they there were being invited into in the taking back of these lands and places that He had called them to move in.

As I continued to lean in and listen to the Lord's heart, I heard:

'SPEAK TO THE GIANTS! SPEAK TO THE OPPOSITION AND WATCH IT COME DOWN.

'I say unto you, My people, that many of you are facing some of the most intense opposition in this transition, but I am moving you into not only the taking back of what was forfeited and that which had been plundered, but I am also moving you into a new realm of seeing the NEW THINGS that I am birthing. BEHOLD, I say unto you, I am doing a NEW THING in your midst (Isaiah 43:19). I say unto you, that where the enemy has come with such disorientation and discouragement in these areas where you have felt chased out by the enemy, now you shall receive some of the greatest revelation and clarity by My Spirit to move with Me in the new things that I am going to do in reoccupation of these lands that you have moved out from.

'I say unto you, GO AGAIN! I say unto you, BEGIN AGAIN! I say unto you, GO FORTH again and watch the victory that shall manifest in your midst. I say unto you, that as you step back into these places of "take-back" you shall see expanse and increase in ways you have not seen. For where the enemy came to plunder in these areas, I am now bringing you forth again, in divine comeback, mobilizing you again to move forth and move into MULTIPLICATION.

'I say unto you, that where the enemy came to attempt to chase you out and bring such deep weariness and discouragement in the battle to lure you into choosing to forfeit, you will see by the power of My hand a mighty increase in your midst, and these very areas where the enemy tried to chase you out become some of the greatest areas of HARVEST for My Kingdom and to see people come to know Me. These areas where the enemy tried to take you out, watch how they will become nets to bring in the harvest.

'I say unto you, My people, watch over your mouths. Watch over what you speak over these lands that you are taking back. I say unto you, speak life, not death. Speak blessing, not curse. Be not careless with your words and speak not what you see in the natural, but speak that which you SEE IN ME. I say unto you, that there shall be such an increase of the manifestation of the miraculous in your midst as you align your faith with that which I am speaking and what I am revealing to you in the heavenly realm and through My Word.

'Speak what you see Me speaking and revealing, and SO IT SHALL BE. Do not allow the enemy to lure you into speaking death at the doorway of the take-back because of the level of opposition you are facing. Stand in your authority and speak to the giants and speak My name and that which I am speaking, and WATCH that which is attempting to stop you from taking back that which I am causing you to apprehend again come down, and the very things used against you turned by My hand for your good.

'It's time for the take-back. It's time for the come-back. It's time for you to take back that which was taken and that which was left, and begin again. It's time to move forth in victory in Me in these areas unlike that which you have experienced before; and watch the expansion and increase of that which I will cause you to build with Me in these very areas that the enemy tried to take you out of. These areas of take-back, as you follow My leading and My Spirit, will not only be taken back and reoccupied in My strength, and you will stand in great victory, but you will also find a new level of empowering grace to move into the new things I have for you in these lands and areas and to build with Me in great expanse from a place of such deep rest, joy and empowerment in Me.

'The giants of intimidation and fear tried to chase many of you out in many ways, but now you shall see how I will BAPTIZE YOU IN BOLDNESS afresh by My Spirit, to partner with Me in all I am going to do in these lands and areas you are taking back. Watch the new level of authority that you will step into in the take-back. You will be awakened to the authority you have in Me in ways that will astound you. Walking in deeper revelation of My power and My authority in you, as you live in Me and partner with Me in all I am going to do, is going to cause the enemy to tremble as MY GLORY and My name is lifted high and proclaimed in the earth.'

Nate Johnston: YOU ARE IN A COMEBACK SEASON!

Recently, I had a vision where I saw a door in front of me. This door looked locked, and I noticed that there was some kind of timepiece on it. I instantly recognized that this door had been locked for a period of time. I felt frustrated that I couldn't get in, that it had remained closed for so long. Then, I looked at my hand, and there was a key. Suddenly, I heard the words: "Try the door now. Try the door now."

As I turned the key in the lock, it opened effortlessly. Immediately, in the vision, I was taken into a scene from my own life, where it felt like I had been "kicking against the goads" (Acts 26:14) pushing up against areas of resistance, crying out, "God, why is this not working? Why is this not happening the way I thought it would?"

I realized there was a timing to it. And I think, in many of our journeys with the Lord, it feels like "God, You led me this way, why does it seem like it didn't work?" Have you ever gone through seasons where God led you to do something, but it seemed to crumble? And you were left asking, "Lord, what's happening? You took me this way, yet it ended in shipwreck."

I believe there are many right now who are feeling the weight of hope deferred (Proverbs 13:12). Some even feel abandoned, thinking, "God, I truly thought I was hearing You, but I ended in shipwreck." I know I have felt this way in many seasons of my pioneering journey with the Lord. It's as if God led you to the door, but when you tried to enter, the key didn't work.

Right now, I sense the Lord releasing layers of healing over areas of deep disappointment, where people have felt, "It didn't work." Maybe it was in business, ministry, family, perhaps you've experienced deep loss and robbery.

A COMEBACK SEASON - FOR YOU AND THE NATIONS

Over the past few weeks, the Lord has been speaking so clearly: "My people are in a comeback season." But this isn't just about individuals, it's about nations!

With all the turmoil we're witnessing globally, in America, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, the UK, the EU, and beyond, there is a war in the spirit. We see the shaking, the battle, the chaos, but God is breathing fresh life. He is raising up movers and shakers, you and me, in every sphere to bring divine order to nations and cities.

But this is also happening on a personal level. So many have walked through intense battles and wilderness seasons, feeling like "God, You led me into this, but all I see is testing."

Remember that "Jesus, full of the Holy Spirit, was led by the Spirit into the wilderness" (Luke 4:1). The wilderness wasn't a mistake, it was preparation.

What if the wilderness was actually the safest route? Because the enemy has been on your tail, trying to assassinate your destiny in one of the most powerful and potent seasons of your life.

The wilderness is often the safest road because, although it comes with testing, loss, and even moments of shipwreck, it is where God refines you. There has been much loss, much breaking, and yes, even trauma, but what if this season has actually been preparing you for something greater?

"Jesus returned to Galilee in the power of the Spirit" (Luke 4:14).

What if your wilderness season has been setting you up for a fresh infilling of the Holy Spirit?

RECOVER ALL - THIS IS YOUR COMEBACK SEASON!

The Lord is declaring: "My people are in a comeback season!" I felt so strongly that I needed to prophesy this over you: You are in a comeback season! Just like David at Ziklag, after his possessions and family were taken, the Lord told him: "Pursue, for you shall surely overtake them, and without fail recover all" (1 Samuel 30:8).

I believe this is a season of divine recovery. Not only will you come out of the wilderness rejuvenated in spirit, mission, and purpose, but everything that has been robbed and stolen is being restored. One more prophetic picture I see is from John the Baptist. He was called into the wilderness, a place of preparation. His food was locusts (Matthew 3:4), which are typically considered a devourer (Joel 2:25), yet for John, they became sustenance. I believe this is prophetic for us, the very places where the enemy has tried to devour you will become your nourishment. The giants will become your bread (Numbers 14:9). What the enemy used against you will become a weapon in your hands!

Let me prophesy this over you:

You are in your comeback season!

Everything the enemy has sought to kill, steal, and destroy (John 10:10), God is now commanding you to repossess. The Lord is releasing a fresh wind upon you. He is pouring out His Spirit in a new and powerful way.

Those places of hope deferred are coming back to life. You will experience the comeback of the Holy Spirit and a fresh infilling in Jesus' mighty name. Amen!

Terry Friesen: Bunker Busting Bombs of Grace

I see the Lord releasing bunker-busting bombs into the hearts of men and women during this hour. We remain at the center of the Father's plan to liberate the earth and all of mankind, so what happens in our hearts, and through us as kingdom vessels, remains the catalyst activities that shape the future. We are subject to Christ and His Kingdom, choosing to serve Him rather than ourselves, but He has chosen to work through us to accomplish the Father's will.

I see deep cries hidden in deep places, cries that must be answered. The Father wants to speak to the cries that are in our hearts, but many of them have remained hidden. He is sending grace-filled bunker-busting bombs into the hearts of mankind so that the deep cries within us come to the surface and can be answered.

Some have fallen asleep or experienced slumber in one area or another due to heartache and unanswered prayers. We've been subject to calamity and confusion, and many hearts have been overwhelmed, unable to process their grief, so prayers have remained hidden in hearts, and the Father seeks to hear and answer what comes from the deep.

The Father has made room before Himself to have conversation with us and to answer those things in us that cry out for answers. He is bringing us forward, by way of faith, to occupy the place of our questions. Many are being brought to a place of simplified faith whereby we will proclaim, "Jesus only." We will see through a lens that is uncluttered and lacks unfounded justifications. It is through Jesus, and Jesus alone, that we enter the Father's holy court. It is through Jesus' finished work alone that we are willing to go past our fears and pride to release our hearts' cry. It is through the finished work of Christ that the Father readies Himself to answer us.

He is taking us beyond, into the place of fruitfulness. He is establishing our foundations where in past seasons they have been attacked and subjected to erosion. Why is He doing this now? So, we can go beyond what has been in our human experience to this point.

There is a vital connection between the rooted foundations of our lives, our occupation, and the supernatural outcomes we seek.

Christ overcame the world, in the world. He drew on His relationship with His Father and Holy Spirit, but he overcame in the material reality of His life, to overcome the world, the devil, and the sin nature of mankind.

We are seated with Christ in heavenly places, and we are fully victorious in that place, but we must appropriate that victory in the earth the same way Christ did. Instead of pioneering the work as He did, we get to follow in His footsteps, pick up our cross daily, which results in death to self and life to our spirits, and His victory becomes ours.

We can travel to far off galaxies in the spirit and see all manner of unimaginable things – sign me up – but we overcome the things of the earth in the earth by occupying in this realm. Who we are in heavenly places is increasingly being revealed in our earthly bodies in this realm, and at this time.

It is the Father's will being expressed through the finished work of Christ inside of us and around us, in this place, that causes us to overcome. Yes, the spirit is the greater of both realms, but unless the victory of the spirit realm translates to this realm, it remains in the spirit realm only.

When we shift our expectations to a here and now reveal, we access the keys for this to take place.

The things of the spirit can seem unpredictable at times as the wind blows, but the liberation of the earth is rooted in the deep unchanging character of the Father. The Father sent the Son (His Will) into the earth. His Spirit rested on Jesus so that the Father's will could be accomplished through Him in His earthly vessel.

Christ was planted deep into the earthly firmament, not whimsically, but because of the depth of the Father's unchanging will and intention.

It is this same depth of the Father's will and intention that through Christ in us, seeks to express itself by the power of Holy Spirit. If we hear Holy Spirit in this season, we hear His intention for us to walk through the depths in Christ's victory.

The liberation of the earth is systemically connected to the fulness of the Kingdom of God reveal in the earth. We can't have the fulness of one in this place without the other. We can in part, but not in full.

Our spirit man, who we are in Christ, needs to be expressed in this realm, not just in heavenly places or in hidden places. This reveal will heal the earth and marshal Kingdom of God resources and shift spiritual atmospheres, resulting in lasting change.

We've seen some breakthrough in one or the other, and now we need to see breakthrough across all realms for a transformation that can remain.

In the area where I currently reside, the Lord has declared His intention that we become a region of light. I believe there will be many such places that will ultimately expand and cover large swaths of territory, even whole countries. Isaiah tells us the knowledge of the glory of the Lord will cover the earth, and we are now seeing how this will come forth.

I recently had two long nights of intercession which culminated in the following encounter:

I saw, in our region, 100 hosts dispatched and released to search our lands. Their commission was to identify all witchcraft and occult bases of operation. This would be every person, group, or entity intent on partnering with the evil hierarchy of forces operating in our region.

Once identified, the hosts would assault and break up their foundations of darkness day after day, for 365 days. They would also reveal the fear of the Lord and reveal Christ, so that the workers of darkness and iniquity would have the opportunity to shift their allegiance to Christ. I was not permitted to see what would happen after the 365 days conclude.

I then saw 100 hosts dispatched and released to search our lands to identify any and all persons, family units, and entities that sought Christ as their foundation. It was important that they seek both Christ, and the ways of the Lord, so thereby being active participants in the advance of the Kingdom of God.

Rather than destroy foundations, these glory hosts would, day after day, for 365 days, release a deposit of the Father's glory in their midst. Christ-based Kingdom foundations would start to expand and become established in response to the cooperation of the Father's glory and the children of God partnering daily.

As children of God, we have been subject to the daily assault of evil forces. They have sought to wear us out and erode the kingdom foundations we've worked so hard to establish. The workers of iniquity are now reaping what they have sown, and will see their foundations subject to assault. In our Father's great mercy, He will reveal Himself so they can still choose Christ. In some cases, if they choose stiff-neck resistance, they risk their lives in this hour.

When we start to experience the Father's great mercy, the liberation of the earth, and glory atmospheres, it is not time kick back and rest. If we experience these new dimensions of freedom, we are to remain in our Father's rest, but find ourselves entering the most productive days of our lives. We are to be "active" in our rest, and at "rest" in our place of activity, and the Kingdom of God will advance to liberate the earth and many souls.

Madeline James: A Time to Bloom and Break Forth!

A Turning in March into April

As we stepped into March, I believe we entered into a prophetic window of time where God is turning things in our favor. The spring and the fall have very significant prophetic windows where much change takes place in the natural and the spiritual. During these times, significant encounters and dreams take place, major national and global events occur, and exposure unfolds.

Pay attention to this season, because God is speaking and moving loudly. Can you perceive it? March is a transitional month from winter to spring. As in the natural, so is it in the spiritual realm.

Refreshing Winds

I believe there are fresh winds blowing to refresh the people of God from the intensity of the warfare that's taken place in the past couple months. This is a season to receive the strength of God to overcome adversity, and a time to bloom and grow.

I believe the fresh winds of March are releasing new momentum that will cause doors and opportunities to open in every sphere for the people of God. It's time to rise for such a time as this. As God empowered Esther, He will empower you.

"For if you remain silent at this time, relief and deliverance for the Jews will arise from another place, but you and your father's family will perish. And who knows but that you have come to your royal position for such a time as this?" (Esther 4:14 NIV)

Break Through and Break Forth!

This is a month to move forward and mark what's yours. It's not just a time of breakthrough, but a time of breaking forth or springing up! Breakthrough is when we are able to press through the external things taking place to get to the other side. We don't want to just break through, we want to break forth.

To break forth is to be forcefully separated from the usual and to move forward in time or to a new or different place. Some words and phrases that could be used to describe breaking forth are launching, breaking loose, shooting out, and going from one state to another. I declare and decree over you in March that you are going from grace to grace, strength to strength, victory to victory, and glory to glory!

Recompense in the Season of Purim

We have entered a time of recompense in the season of Purim. Recompense means to make amends, compensate, and pay back for any damage or pain caused. Purim prophetically represents a time of deliverance for the people of God in the story of Esther and Mordecai. Many of you have been in fierce battles and warfare for the past few years. Be encouraged, the Lord is turning the attack back on the head of the enemy and what's been coming at you and your family. The Lord is retaliating against the demonic warfare because of the pain and suffering you've endured.

In Isaiah 40:10 the Lord declares, "Behold, the Lord GOD shall come with a strong hand, And His arm shall rule for Him; Behold, His reward is with Him, And His work before Him" (NKJV). Also, in Psalm 91:8, it says, "You will only look with your eyes and see the recompense of the wicked" (ESV).

What you have gone through hasn't been for nothing, and it hasn't gone unseen. The Lord is turning the battle and warfare in your favor. Watch as you begin to see the restitution and recompense of God manifest in your life. What was meant to take you out, God is using to increase you and make you stronger. Your enemy will be defeated.

Upgrade

What you overcome, you gain authority in. Not only is this a time of recompense, but this is also a season where God is rewarding those who have stood in the midst of the warfare and testing and didn't give up. He is rewarding his people with double. Isaiah 61:7 declares, "Instead of shame and dishonor, you will enjoy a double share of honor. You will possess a double portion of prosperity in your land, and everlasting joy will be yours." (NLT) (Freerange Stock)

The Lord is upgrading you. Upgrade is defined as "the act of improving something... by raising it to a higher grade (as by adding or replacing components)" (Vocabulary.com). Watch and see how the Lord will begin to upgrade your ministries, businesses, families, and what is connected to you. I believe the Lord is also assigning new angels to you as you move into the new that he has for you. What felt like loss was the Lord making room for the double to come into your life.

New Joy and Strength

In Psalm 104:15 (AMP), it shows what the Lord does for us when he delivers us. He gives us "...wine which makes the heart of man glad, so that he may make his face glisten with oil, and bread to sustain and strengthen man's heart." Wine can biblically and prophetically represent the joy of the Lord that comes through the Spirit of God. As many of you have gone through the wine press, the Spirit of God is now filling you up with fresh joy—joy that brings strength to your heart. He's marking you with fresh oil and glory for all to see. And the Lord is giving you fresh bread and revelation from heaven that will strengthen you in your new season.

The wine and the bread also represent the power of communion with God. When we commune with God, it releases what we need and empowers us to overcome just like Christ did. Psalm 84:7 says, "They go from strength to strength [increasing in victorious power]; Each of them appears before God in Zion" (AMP).

This March, I declare and decree over you that you are going from grace to grace, strength to strength, victory to victory, and glory to glory!

Nate Johnston: A Season of Rebranding -
"I Am Turning Orphans into Sons"

Get Ready for Rebranding!

At a recent gathering, I began to feel an intense burning in my chest. As it increased over the hours that we were there, I heard the Lord say, "I'm branding my people afresh in this hour with my fire!"

I looked around the room, and there was no doubt it was happening... it was taking place. It felt like this wasn't just a gathering of people meeting to worship; it was a meeting where God was branding his people. I could see it. I could see the appetites of man beginning to fall away. The debris, the seasons of "Saul-ish" toleration, the love of man's empires and delicacies were beginning to fade into the distance as people were reminded again of the main thing: Jesus.

Remembering Why We Are Alive

As we were reminded again of why we were alive, I realized that when you go through difficult seasons, it's like walking in a desert. You forget the taste of water. You forget the refreshment of the living water that comes from the source, and you begin to drink from anything that will seemingly refresh you for a moment. (Photo via Piqsels)

Many in the church have been getting temporary fixes from religion, affirmation from toxic cultures, and have been looking to counterfeits instead of the Father.

A Rebranding of the Spirit and Fire

But in this hour, the Lord is branding us afresh with his fire and his Spirit. He is reawakening our true purpose and our true calling—the one that has been hiding behind false missions and man's movements, which has never borne the fruit that a true move of his Spirit brings. But this is also what happens in a season of rebranding.

In a season of rebranding, you can feel lost. You can feel confused. You can feel like the anointing on your life has dried up, like the mantle is gone. You feel naked. You feel like you no longer know who you are or what your message is. But this is just part of the process. God is rebranding your heart with your true calling, burning away all that was masquerading as truth, when it was really a distraction. It's a time of deep surrender, repentance, and a shifting of mindsets.

Even as I write this, I hear the Lord say, "In this rebranding, I'm breaking generational contracts. I'm breaking the limitations of bloodline issues that have been affecting you. The pull of many dysfunctional systems and paradigms you have grown up in and walked through have been limiting you. But in this rebranding," says the Lord, "I am breaking all limitations. I am breaking every single ceiling and causing you to step into the fullness of who I have called you to be.

I Am Turning Orphans into Sons

"In this rebranding," says the Lord, "I am turning orphans into sons.

"In this rebranding," says the Lord, "I am going to release my "rocketeers," those who have the ability to ascend into the heavens without fear, who can navigate the realm of My Spirit and be in tune with me to release heaven on earth. (Photo via Pexels)

"In this rebranding," says the Lord, "I am releasing my surfers, those who are the bell ringers of revival, riding the wave of my Spirit, and leading others into it.

"In this rebranding," says the Lord, "I am raising up a new breed of reformers who carry my heart yet also break down systems and realign them in the new.

"Above all," says the Lord, "this rebranding will raise up lovers and decommission the worker and performance mentality that has robbed my church."

It is time to allow this rebranding of God to finish its work in you.

Do it, Lord. Do it in us, God.

Nancy Taylor Tate: Living Life in Identification with Him

What Does It Mean to Live In Identification with Him?

What does it mean to live life in identification with the Lord? How do we get there?

A place of identification with the Lord is available for those who seek it. It is a place of being, where his heart has become so formed in us that it is now Christ who is seen in us (Galatians 2:20). We become a witness, or a sample of him (Acts 1:8).

As we position ourselves to identify with his heart, his heart becomes our heart, his ways our ways. From that deeper place of experientially knowing him, we begin to move beyond the facts we know about the Lord into experiencing his life, the very life of Christ, in our life experiences. His thoughts and ways begin to find greater expression through us. Now, in identification with him, we can act, speak, or pray as the Holy Spirit leads.

As we "follow on to know the Lord," simply knowing facts about the Lord is not enough. Philippians 2:5 admonishes us to "let this mind be IN you, which was also in Christ Jesus" (KJV).

Within the body of Christ are those who have a deep, inner relationship with the Lord. Their lives are governed, not by what they can do and still make it to heaven, but by a desire to know the Lord more, and a deep, inner commitment to walk in his ways. This is the people I want to be a part of!

Knowing His Heart and His Thoughts

Quality times of fellowship apart with the Lord and practicing his presence throughout the day are central to this kind of walk. As we spend time with the Lord, we come to know his heart. As we allow his inner working in our hearts, we become a greater reflection of him and expression of his heart.

The call of God is always "Come." We never outgrow our need for time in his presence. As I cultivate an open and sensitive spirit toward the Lord, my recognition of and appreciation for his presence grows. (Photo via Unsplash)

Paul prayed that we would have "the spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of him" (Ephesians 1:17 KJV). We can pray for this too. As I learn to linger in his presence and to become receptive, there comes a Spirit-given impartation into my spirit. I receive divine enabling from the Lord to "be" or "become" a witness of him. I learn to hear and obey, living a Spirit-led life and a life of integrity.

As I spend time with him, I am being changed into his image and likeness. As I become more like him, I understand more deeply who he is, his thoughts, and his ways. From that place, I can begin to identify with him in my life experiences and in my times of prayer for others.

The Call Is to Come and Be Marked by His Presence and to Go!

From that place of identity with him, he calls us to come further. "Come, my beloved, let us go forth into the field; let us lodge in the villages. Let us get up early to the vineyards; let us see if the vine flourish, whether the tender grape appear, and the pomegranates bud forth: there will I give thee my loves" (Song of Solomon 7:11–12 KJV).

The call is always to "Come!" Then, in identification with his heart and purposes, we go with him in his power, strength, nature, character, and authority.

Spiritual authority is something we must qualify for through our own personal relationship with the Lord. When I live in right relationship and submission to his lordship, he can then entrust me with his authority.

We are to become places marked by the presence of the Lord—places where not only his presence but his power can find expression. What a glorious calling! They that know their God will do exploits - not those who have degrees, titles, positions, or money, but those who know their God! This means we can all qualify for God to use us, when and in whatever way he would so desire, as we make ourselves available to him.

The prayer my dad prayed many years ago has become a very personal prayer for me as well: "Lord, if there could be a place where you can be who you want to be and do what you want to do, I am available." (Photo via Pexels)

I like to pray this prayer corporately and have seen heads nod in agreement as I say, "Lord, if there could be a people in whom you could be who you want to be and do what you want to do, Lord, we are available."

Today, as I write this prayer, I invite you to make this commitment to the Lord as well: "Lord, if there could be a people in whom you could be who you want to be and do what you want to do, Lord, we are available."

As faithful witnesses of the Lord Jesus Christ, like Paul, may we "press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus" (Philippians 3:14 KJV).

It is not "a" voice that the Lord is raising up today, but a corporate voice, as the sound of many waters. "And I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mighty thunderings, saying, Alleluia: for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth" (Revelation 19:6 KJV).

May we be a part of that multitude. As we lift our voices to him in worship, thanksgiving, and praise, may we declare, "Alleluia, the Lord OUR God, the Almighty, he reigns" as we make ourselves available to him in whatever way or time he would use us.

FINDING THE PATH IN A WINDS OF CHANGE SEASON

We are in a 'winds of change' moment; can you feel it? It's not a moment where some things are changing or most things are changing, but all things are changing. This is a moment where the Holy Spirit is moving upon the earth, brooding, shifting, and rearranging us, the church, even nations, in preparation for the harvest.

"The wind blows where it wishes, and you hear its sound, but you do not know where it comes from or where it goes. So it is with everyone who is born of the Spirit." (John 3:8). And you might ask, "But doesn't God stay the same?" Yes and no. He doesn't change, but He moves. The Holy Spirit is always moving, forever leading us through seasons of change and growth. And in seasons when the Ark moves, only the seekers and the lovers will move with it, and that reality has never been greater than now.

Right now, many can feel Him summoning us to move with Him and leave anything that isn't HIM behind. This is a moment where the winds of the Holy Spirit are gathering up the broken from the ashes of defeat and the battle-weary, just like in Ezekiel 37, where the breath of God brought life to dry bones and caused them to stand on their feet.

"Then He said to me, 'Prophesy to the breath, prophesy, son of man, and say to it, This is what the Sovereign Lord says: Come, breath, from the four winds and breathe into these slain, that they may live.'" (Ezekiel 37:9)

It is a moment where the winds of the Holy Spirit are blowing like in Acts 2, where tongues of fire came upon those who gathered.

"Suddenly a sound like the blowing of a violent wind came from heaven and filled the whole house where they were sitting" (Acts 2:2). And just as the wind comes and rearranges, just as the Holy Spirit moves and shakes things apart, He is also the Comforter.

He is also the Healer.

In the same sentence, he shakes the earth and stills it.

In the same sentence, he blows upon the seas creating tumult, then brings the calm.

THE SEASON OF DIVINE ORDER THROUGH THE DISORDER

And He brings everything into divine order.

We have been in a season of displacement to be placed.

We have been in the tearing apart so that we can be put back together the right way.

That is the moment we are in right now. When there is a DISORDER, or disease, the Holy Spirit comes as the remedy to bring order, but at first it only looks like chaos. But it exposes the root.

It reveals the head of the snake and the demonic forces hiding in plain sight. It reveals the festering wounds and soul-sickness that has turned to rot underneath our well-worn WWJD stickers. And that's why the Holy Spirit is blowing like a strong cyclonic gale upon the westernized church right now, where the rot has been lurking and keeping the bride sick, and where you and I have been drinking from the stagnant well, getting sick with her.

The winds of change are also blowing on nations. Can you see it?

THE WINDS OF CHANGE BRINGS THE BREAKTHROUGH

I'll never forget the moment I heard the phrase, "the winds of change." It was one night in late 2008, when I was walking home late at night from our grocery store, worshipping, and in my spirit, when I heard, "The winds of change are here!" Then, out of nowhere, a strong wind came and almost blew me over!

When I got home, I told Christy, "The winds of change are here!" And she said, "What's that?" And I said, "I have no idea, but God is about to move some things around!" Three months later we moved to the United States to serve a ministry on the road. The winds of change shifted everything in a moment. What If God is doing that for you right now too?

Sara Whitten: Moved by the Whisper, Not by the Wind

Reef the Sail

"This is a time of bringing down and building up." The Lord stirred me with those words, and I had been digging into that statement when I was caught by an image.

Instantly, I saw the image of a sail, full and whipping in a stormy wind. The vessel it was tied to was helplessly being powered along with the storm. Then the sail was folded and taken down, and though the storm still raged, the power of the storm to move the vessel was greatly diminished.

(Strong's Greek Lexicon teaches, "In the Greco-Roman world, the concept of bringing something down could be associated with both physical actions, such as lowering a sail or casting down an enemy, and metaphorical actions, such as overcoming an argument or defeating a rival" [G2702, katapheró, Strong's Greek Lexicon.])

I began to read about sailing in storms in the natural, because God often shows us parables all around us in His created world.

In sailing, when it appears a storm is beginning, the first thing to do is "reef" your sails. This is a term used to describe the process of folding or rolling up a sail so that its surface area is greatly reduced, the sail is preserved, and the influence of the wind power of the storm on the boat is minimized. This protects against unexpected gusts or changes in wind that would capsize the boat.

The enemy's attacks often feel like storms. They are loud, disorienting, and full of threats to steal, kill, and destroy. We're so busy trying to look at the storm that we sometimes forget to look at the vessel—us! Are we still at full sail? Are we being blown around by everything the enemy is bringing against us? (Photo via Creative Commons)

To "reef" is to regulate the size or length of something. When we "reef our sails" spiritually, we're regulating the size and length of influence the enemy has on our response. The storm may still be going on around us, but we are less moved by it. We can take what the enemy hoped would overturn (capsize) us and overcome.

Be Moved by the Whisper, Not the Wind

As our focus becomes less on the storm, we make an important shift: we are moved by the whisper, not the wind. I am reminded of Elijah, who we find hiding in a cave in 1 Kings chapter 19. Outside the cave, there was all sorts of threatening clamor going on.

"The Lord said, 'Go out and stand on the mountain in the presence of the LORD, for the LORD is about to pass by.' Then a great and powerful wind tore the mountains apart and shattered the rocks before the LORD, but the LORD was not in the wind. After the wind, there was an earthquake, but the LORD was not in the earthquake. After the earthquake a fire came, but the LORD was not in the fire. And after the fire came a gentle whisper. When Elijah heard it, he pulled his cloak over his face and went out and stood at the mouth of the cave..." (1 Kings 19:11–13)

Elijah, who knew the Lord's voice, knew not to be moved by the powerful wind. He waited. What moved him was the "gentle whisper." This word for whisper, qol, can mean "sound" or "voice" (G6963, Strong's Lexicon), and is the same word found in Genesis 3:8: "Then the man and his wife heard the sound of the LORD God as He was walking in the garden in the cool of the day, and they hid from the LORD God among the trees of the garden" (italics mine).

These sounds of the Lord in the garden came after a different metaphorical storm of the enemy in which he baited humanity into the fall. In this instance, they were moved by the storm instead of the sound (or whisper) of the Lord.

Peter faced a similar scene. He and the disciples were amidst a storm that was no doubt loud and chaotic. Matthew 14:24 says the wind was causing waves that buffeted against them. But amidst the wind, there was a sound. As Jesus walked by, He said, "Take courage! It is I. Don't be afraid" (v. 27). Peter, when stepping out of the boat, had the choice to be moved by the wind of the storm or to be moved by the beckoning "come" of Jesus. (Photo via Picryl)

It's Safer in the Deep

It's never easy to go out into a storm. The truth that is powerfully illustrated in this story is that in the middle of the storm, it is safer to go out deeper with the Lord than to run for the shallows. In my research on sailing, I ran across an interesting tip from North Sails: "While running for cover would seem the preferred choice, the danger lies in being caught in the storm, close to shore, with no room to maneuver or run off" (North Sails, "How to Sail Safely Through a Storm").

The enemy would love us to abort our mission, to throw in the towel, to go running for land, because the waters have gotten too stormy. The truth is, we have more (not less!) chance of being shipwrecked on the shores of mediocre faith. We are safest in the deep. When we stop being blown in response to the blustering chaos of the enemy, we can move in response to the much gentler whisper of the Lord.

Don't let the storms of this season cause you to seek shallow waters. Stay the course. Wait for the whisper.

Encounter Questions:

Lord, what "blustering" lies of the enemy am I letting fill my sails and move me?

Holy Spirit, what truth do You want to speak to these lies?

Lord, could You show me how I am being tempted into shallow waters?

Jesus, what does it look like to go deep with You?

What whisper are You speaking to me through the storm?

I HEARD THE LORD SAY 'ARISE, ARISE, ARISE IN DIVINE DEFIANCE TOWARDS THAT WHICH IS TRYING TO HOLD YOU BACK'

Recently, I heard the Lord say, 'Arise, arise, arise in divine defiance towards that which is trying to hold you back.'

When the Lord spoke these words, the sense of RESISTANCE against many was SO strong. But as I leaned into the Lord and listened to His heart, I heard these words:

'There is great resistance coming against many right now that is attempting to stop you from moving into that which I am leading you into. I say unto you, that as you ARISE IN DIVINE DEFIANCE towards that which is trying to hold you back, you will see that by My Spirit, I am turning that which is trying to stop you into RESISTANCE TRAINING and that which is going to catapult you further into all I have for you.'

When the Lord spoke these words, it reminded me of when the Lord first spoke to me a number of years ago to start boxing. He said to me that when I would start boxing, and in the resistance training, He would strengthen me physically, and He would meet me deeply. In that season, He taught me MUCH about endurance and in the resistance, the STRENGTHENING that comes forth.

The sense surrounded me so strongly that there would be a temptation not to arise and push in this hour and to allow one's mind and heart to be overcome by the resistance, but the Lord is calling those in this place of facing intense resistance to arise in DIVINE DEFIANCE to this resistance.

As I continued to seek the Lord's heart, I heard:

'My people, do not entertain or align with the resistance that is pushing hard against you. I am calling you to arise in divine defiance to that which is attempting to resist you and intimidate you.

'Arise in divine defiance IN FAITH. My people, pay attention to the areas where you are facing most resistance right now, for there is a mighty inheritance and a greater partnership with My Spirit awaiting you in these areas. For many of you, you will have to overcome fear; you will have to come out of hiding; you will have to stop dancing with intimidation and allowing it to steal your voice. It's time to arise and take back that which I have promised you.

`I say unto you, that there is a great and mighty increase of the winds of change that are blowing in those areas where resistance is attempting to set up camp in your lives. I say unto you, that as you arise in ferocious faith in this hour, in divine defiance against the resistance, you will find yourselves partnering with a move of My Spirit that is greater than you realized. I am opening up the unexpected. I say unto you, that there are new spaces of occupation and inheritance that are before many of you, and there is great resistance that is attempting to hinder you from apprehending that which I have promised you.

`I say unto you, that you must stand and ferociously push against the darkness that is attempting to cause many of you to remain withdrawn and hidden. I say unto you, that this is the hour where I am causing you to arise and take back that which is yours. For there will be great strengthening, great restoration, great healing and great recompense AS YOU ARISE in this hour. I say unto you, that there are giants that are attempting to cause you to withdraw from that which I have for you right now. But I say unto you, as you ARISE, STAND and PUSH BACK IN FAITH – in divine defiance to the resistance that is attempting to take many of you out and derail you – that you will find the greatest empowerment of My strength and the strengthening of endurance and your faith, in this hour, that you have ever experienced.

`The enemy is trying to keep many of you in INACTIVITY, and I say unto you that this is the time for you to ARISE and to MOBILIZE. This is the hour for you to MOVE. This is the hour for you to MARCH FORTH and to OCCUPY. Watch, as you arise and step out, the move of My Spirit that you shall meet in your midst and the level of bold faith that I will baptize you in – as you step forth, led by My Spirit.

`I say unto you, do not be lured and soothed to sleep by the lullaby of fear and the lullaby of the enemy to keep you hidden. This is the hour where you must arise in the authority that I have given to you in Me, and you must ferociously TAKE WHAT IS YOURS. I say unto you, that in the resistance and in the TAKING in this hour, you are going to not only inherit and move into that which I have promised – on a scale that you have not even imagined or been able to comprehend – I am strengthening you for the days ahead. You MUST ARISE and you MUST MOVE.

`I say unto you, My people, that when I SPEAK, I bring CLARITY. I say unto you, move OUT of the lands of confusion. Arise in DIVINE DEFIANCE against the confusion that is attempting to keep you hidden, bound and intimidated, and arise and defy the confusion and take the bold step of faith to move on that which I have spoken to you. For I say unto you, that there have been winds of confusion that have come against so many in this hour to keep you hidden, to keep you bound and to keep you intimidated, but the winds of CLARITY and the winds of My empowerment are increasing to empower you to ARISE and STAND.

`I say unto you, that as you arise in divine defiance against the resistance that is coming against you, you will see PROVISION like you have not seen before. You will see an empowering strength, a physical provision, all that you need given to you in the increase of My grace upon what I am calling you to do and what I am calling you to apprehend by faith – to move into a greater level of partnering with Me in what I am doing in your midst and My Kingdom being extended.

`My people, there are many that are shrinking back in this hour, and I am calling you by My Spirit to arise and to stand in bold faith and deep surrender in Me, to not only see mighty restoration come into your lives, but to see a great acceleration and entering into mighty works that I have planned to do in and through your lives in this season.

`My people, you have to take it by faith. You have to apprehend it by faith. These are the days where you are going to see the greatest demonstrations of My power. These are the days of a mighty divine comeback, restoration, and recompense for many. This is the hour of great visitation, and I am calling you deeper into the place of NO TOLERANCE of anything that is opposite to My Word and that which I am speaking. I say unto you, that as you continue to draw close to Me in this hour, I am branding you with My fire in ways you have not experienced before. Cry out, cry out, cry out. I am branding you with a fresh fire that will see unbelief uprooted and new levels of faith increased as you draw close to Me and sit deeply in My Word.

`I say unto you, that there are many who have had scales over their eyes in this season and I say unto you, "HERE COMES MY FIRE! HERE COMES MY FIRE." My fire will mark your eyes afresh with heavenly vision and deeper insight that you have ever known. Cry out for My fire on your eyes.

Cry out for My fire upon your eyes, and you will see like you have never seen before. The enemy has come hard after the spiritual sight of many in this hour, and I say unto you, that as you come before Me in humility and cry out for the fire upon your eyes, WATCH as I open your eyes to see things you have never seen before.

`Watch as I increase your spiritual insight, discernment and the ability to see in the Spirit that which is really taking place. Many in this hour have been so chained by the smoke and mirrors of the enemy, and I say unto you, NO MORE. NO more shall your vision be hindered as you seek Me and sit deeply in My Word. Such battle has taken place over your sight because of the level of DIVINE INSIGHT I am bringing you into.

Arise, My people, arising in divine defiance against the resistance and watch, My empowering grace strengthen you and your faith in this hour to apprehend ALL that I have for you.'

'From the days of John the Baptist until now the kingdom of heaven has suffered violence, and the violent take it by force.' Matthew 11:12

Andrew Whalen: God Is Setting an Ambush for the Enemy

An Ambush

Dream received on March 3, 2025:

In my dream, I was staring face to face with a prophet who is only known locally by a few of us, and we always call him "The Eagle," because he actually kind of looks like one. But in the dream, even though I was looking at him, I kept thinking that I was looking at another prophet who is well known, and who publicly backed away from his support of Trump for a bit in 2020; but I will leave him unnamed. As I looked into this man's eyes, I said, "God is setting an ambush for the enemy." When I said this, I knew that the ambush was a coordinated effort of heaven's angels, prophets, and the Trump administration.

I then said, "Johnny Enlow is part of the ambush, and he needs us with him." At that statement, the man smiled, and somehow, I knew he felt like he was being restored to help America again, and it caused him to regain his hope and confidence!

End of dream.

Seeing from an Eagle's Perspective

I believe the man whom we call "The Eagle" is a prophetic nod to seeing things as an eagle. The Eagle—whose face was that of the prophet who had backed away from seeing and speaking accurately about Trump—may represent the call for all of the prophetic and the body of Christ in general to see and perceive as an eagle, from a higher and hopeful vantage point!

I also believe Johnny represents that call to see from an eagle's perspective! We need to understand that what God is doing is coming from a higher realm of perspective. He will use things that look bad to draw out the enemy, only to strike from above, where eagles soar!

In order for an ambush to be effective, the enemy has to let their guard down, think they have an advantage, and be drawn out into the open.

Biblical Ambush

Joshua 8:18–23 (BSB): "Then the LORD said to Joshua, 'Hold out your battle lance toward Ai, for into your hand I will deliver the city.' So Joshua held out his battle lance toward Ai, and as soon as he did so, the men in ambush rose quickly from their position. They rushed forward, entered the city, captured it, and immediately set it on fire. (Photo via Pixels)

"When the men of Ai turned and looked back, the smoke of the city was rising into the sky. They could not escape in any direction, and the troops who had fled to the wilderness now turned against their pursuers. When Joshua and all Israel saw that the men in ambush had captured the city and that smoke was rising from it, they turned around and struck down the men of Ai. Meanwhile, those in the ambush came out of the city against them, and the men of Ai were trapped between the Israelite forces on both sides. So Israel struck them down until no survivor or fugitive remained. But they took the king of Ai alive and brought him to Joshua."

I believe God is giving the impression that full declassification and exposure may never come. I believe God is allowing a growing frustration with the delays of the Epstein files, JFK, Diddy, and 9/11 in order to draw out the sleeping, disinterested, easily distracted, black-pilled, indifferent masses of Americans into a place where the narratives are clear enough that once the truth comes out, it will remain and bring forth awakening!

God, through Trump and the patriots, is not going to let the facts and truth go to waste. They will be used like an ambush at the time when everyone's attention is being drawn out into a place where they can come to an awakening on their own.

The power of how things are being run right now is that the narratives are being seeded into the brainwashed masses to draw them out of the strongholds of the enemy in order to ambush them with the full truth!

Elon Musk

Dream received on March 1, 2025:

In this dream, I saw the progression of Elon Musk from what he once had been (in terms of a liberal Democrat) to a now very conservative, wise, common-sense type of personality.

I saw a timeline of sorts which showed Elon Musk in different phases. I saw him in this major transition from being wildly progressive/liberal to having a slow awakening to the reality of what has been going on, to seeing Trump's importance, to becoming more conservative himself, and to reaching a place of very sturdy wisdom, with an ability to articulate intelligently to the masses.

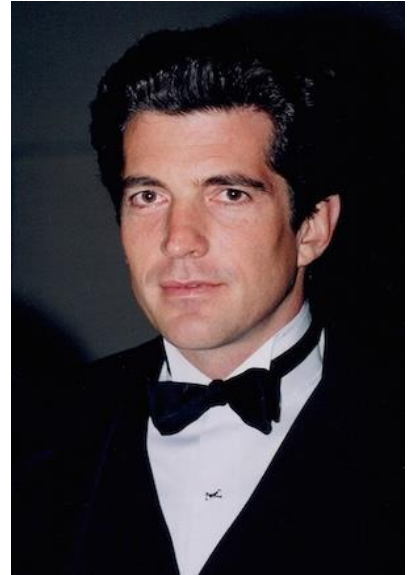

In the dream, the Lord said, "He is being used as an identifier for awakening." In other words, I knew that he was someone whom the masses could watch, connect to, and identify with, helping them to have their own awakening. Watching him has undergirded and given them a "star quality" sense of normalcy for having an awakening. I knew that Musk was a conservative ambush on the liberal insanity.

JFK Jr.

Dream received on February 27, 2021:

In my dream, I was shown that JFK Jr. is actually still alive. Why is this important you ask? In the dream, it was a surprise move by Trump and the patriots to uncover a story that would bury the deep state as we know it, once and for all.

All I can say is, I don't ever go to bed wondering if JFK Jr. is still alive, but I do go to bed asking God to reveal things to me so that I know how to pray and what to consider for the days ahead. If this is true, then I pray God would preserve and protect this chess move for ultimate effectiveness against works of darkness! (Photo of JFK Jr. via Wikimedia Commons)

Dream received on February 17, 2025:

I was walking along somewhere in my dream. I passed through an area of shadows that seemed to be created by tall buildings. As I got deeper into the shadows, I saw a man standing against the wall, watching and observing from the shadows everything that was taking place in the light.

I walked towards the man until I stood just a few feet from him. Then the light shifted just enough to push back the shadows from his face. I could see clearly the man in the shadows was JFK Jr. I was so happy to see him alive and well. End of dream.

Are we getting closer to seeing the "shadow figures" revealed in the light? Shadows haven't only protected bad men; they have also kept the good from being targeted. Maybe "dark to light" has some deeper layers of meaning?

Are we going to see an ambush of those who were once thought dead... now alive?

Deborah T Iluyemi: Voice of Hope

Prophetic Word for You

Right now, I see the Lord showing me a picture of you feeling unseen, carrying a weight that feels too heavy to bear. You're becoming more and more uncomfortable where you are—whether it's a job, a relationship, or your environment. Deep down, you know you don't fit anymore, and it's not just a feeling. Every circumstance around you is signaling that you're due for a change. You can taste the sourness of delays like sweat on your lips, and something seems to be pulling you back from stepping into the breakthrough that God has promised.

I see the Lord showing me your heart—beating fast with anxiety and confusion. The last couple of days have been hectic, filled with frustration and uncertainty. But I also see the Lord calling you to praise Him in the midst of it. He's asking you to rise in your authority as His child and speak over your health, your family, and your finances. You shall decree a thing, and it will be established.

I see the Lord consuming the demonic cobwebs that have been appearing in your dreams—those spiritual hindrances are being burned away. No enchantment or divination against you will work any longer. I see the Lord instructing you to pray against those negative dreams, to shut the doors the enemy has been trying to open.

The Lord is reminding you that His name is a strong tower—the righteous run to Him and they are safe. He’s calling you to abide in the secret place, to keep your focus above the noise and distractions surrounding you. Grace is being released to you right now. Like the sons of Issachar, you will discern the times and seasons, and you will know what to do. This is your moment of realignment. Your shift is here.

"You will also declare a thing, And it will be established for you; So light will shine on your ways." Job 22:28

"Behold, I will do a new thing, Now it shall spring forth; Shall you not know it? I will even make a road in the wilderness And rivers in the desert." Isaiah 43:19

"The name of the Lord is a strong tower;" Proverbs 18:10. "Of the sons of Issachar who had understanding of the times, to know what Israel ought to do, their chiefs were two hundred; and all their brethren were at their command." 1 Chronicles 12:32

"He who dwells in the secret place of the Most High Shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty. I will say of the Lord, 'He is my refuge and my fortress; My God, in Him I will trust.'" Psalm 91:1-2

Veronika West: Prophets Ramblings: "Beware of Fast Fires that Produce Smoke!"

So, today, I heard the Spirit say something rather strange:

"Daughter, Beware of Fast Fires."

I was then led to stop and consider the difference between dry tinder, which is the source of a 'fast fire,' vs the slow and steady burn of oil! Dry tinder ignites quickly, creating a fast fire that blazes brightly but extinguishes just as rapidly, and it produces a lot of smoke in the process. In contrast, oil fuels a fire that burns steadily and does not fizzle out or create harmful smoke.

It's essential for us to discern the source of the fire: Is it dry tinder or oil? Dry tinder lacks the substance to sustain a meaningful movement!" While it may burn brightly for a moment, it cannot support a lasting work of God.

This Word of "fast fire" resonated deeply with me when the Spirit of Revelation brought it to my attention this morning—something I had never heard before.

The prophetic emphasis for the hour and season lies in the "source, substance, and sustainability" of the fire.

I hear these words, "I Say, watch and pray and beware of STRANGE or FAST FIRES that stem from counterfeit sources, for these fires may ignite quickly and produce a lot of smoke that will distort vision and ultimately fail to sustain a genuine and lasting move of My Spirit."

As I delved deeper into this revelation, I pondered the implications of 'fast fires' in our lives—whether they manifest as fleeting relationships, quick-fix solutions, or superficial spiritual encounters and even prophetic words, that seem to promise much but deliver little.

The allure of instant gratification and recognition can easily deceive even the most discerning of hearts. Many are being drawn to the allure of fast fires sourced by 'dry tinder'—the explosive moments filled with emotion, excitement, and even spectacle. Such spiritual experiences may seem significant at first, but they often leave many feeling empty, scattered, and yearning for something more substantial that brings forth true and lasting transformation!

Contrastingly, the steady burn of oil, 'the oil of the Spirit,' will always come from being deeply rooted and intimate with the All-Consuming Fire of His Presence.

Friends, this isn't just a prophetic caution for our personal lives; it extends to our ministries, and even the relationships we seek to build.

In this hour, we are called to be discerning stewards of the fire we cultivate. Are we nurturing flames that will sustain us through trials, or are we playing with sparks that may one day fizzle out, leaving us in darkness? I hear these Words, "Seek the substance of the fires that you are drawn to. Watch! What is fueling your passions? Watch! What is igniting your Vision?"

Is it a deeper knowledge and love of the Father, or is it merely the smoke of distraction?" With that, I feel a stirring deep within—an invitation to not only guard our hearts against the allure of fast fires in this season, but an instruction, to pursue the wisdom and grace that come from a slow, deliberate burn, recognizing that the most profound transformations come through time, perseverance, and waiting on God to bring direction and strategy.

(It is) Time to be vigilant in discerning the authenticity of the fire we participate in, both in our own personal lives, and in the rising movements around us.

Come, resolve to seek the oil of the Spirit—the source of the sacred fire that sustains, empowers, and illuminates. (It is) Time to be intentional in building covenant relationships and godly pursuits that are rooted in true spiritual substance, that have lasting impact for the Kingdom Advancement!!

An Urgent Word to the Watchmen; President Trump!

So, one night recently, sleep would not come, and the little I had, I kept going into a dream of Elon Musk, where I was prophesying over him and speaking to him about the gift of salvation. With so much warfare in the atmosphere, today, I have been led to war fervently for President Trump. Then this evening, as I was preparing for a meeting, Holy Spirit suddenly spoke to me very clearly. When I heard Him speak, the Spirit of the Fear of the Lord took hold of my heart, and I suddenly felt the gravity of the hour and the weight of the spiritual accountability and responsibility that God has laid upon the Ecclesia taking its place. LIFE AND DEATH is in our Mouth!

And I heard the Holy Spirit say, "DAUGHTER, I SAY, TELL MY REMNANT THAT PRESIDENT TRUMP'S TIME IN OFFICE 'WILL BE DETERMINED' BY THE 'SENSITIVITY' OF THE WATCHMEN ON THE WALL TO PRAY AND ENSURE THERE IS NO LEGAL ENTRY!"

Rosangela Atte: Ancient Wells, New Wine, and Open Spaces!

As I sought the Lord for a fresh word for this coming season, He said, "I'm making all things new!" Then He told me to look at what He'd spoken to me during this same time in past years. It blew my mind how accurately this word speaks of the times we are in today, and it confirms what other prophetic voices are speaking right now! Heed the word of the Lord!

Word released on March 1, 2023:

All Things New: Ancient Wells, New Wine, and Open Spaces!

"As spring approaches, and as old things are made new, I am doing a new thing within and around you. Are you ready to be filled with new wine? Are you ready to uncap the ancient wells of your fathers—those wells that have been filled with dirt and debris (see Genesis 26:12–29)? Are you ready to search for them and do what it takes to uncap what is a part of your inheritance?

"As you begin to dig and empty those wells, as you begin to get rid of all that is superfluous and useless, I will fill you with new wine, new fire, new revelation, and new freedom. Just as Isaac searched and uncapped his father's wells to claim his inheritance, I will cause your thirst for fresh revelation to uncap the wells of living water within you, and your soul will be quenched, renewed, and re-energized!

"Just as tulips, though reborn from the same bulb, may change their color as years go by due to stress and changing environmental conditions, so have the waters in these wells been transformed due to being hidden, due to the change in their environment. They have been made new to conform to the new vessel and the new season ahead of you. Not only will you receive the inheritance of your fathers—devoid of any impurity—but I will cause these waters to be turned into wine, for you have been made into a new wineskin!

"I know you have suffered some of the same circumstances your ancestors have. Just as Abraham obeyed the call and left his home, you have left everything familiar to you. I know you've fallen and made mistakes, and because of My hand upon your life you have encountered envy and hostility, but through all of it you have remained obedient and humble. You have moved on, pitching your tent in the valley, re-digging your father's wells, thinking that the valley is going to be your new dwelling! (Photo via Unsplash)

"The more obstacles you encounter, the more blessings you will receive. The more steadfast you remain, the more powerful you will become! Not only will I restore what rightfully belongs to you, but I will cause you to come into a new place for which you will not have to contend—an OPEN SPACE with no limitations!

"As you move forward in your calling, I will be with you. I will bless you and multiply you, and I will even cause your enemies to extend favor towards you. I am a covenant-keeping God and will bless you for a thousand generations!"

Claim ALL of Your Inheritance

People of God, the Lord is doing so many new things in this season! As He spoke to me, I could barely keep up! We are being called like never before to claim our inheritance as children of God! I want a// He has for me, not some but ALL!

For those of us who have a godly, generational, spiritual inheritance, we need to claim that as well. The Lord showed me a mantle on the ground that was left by my grandmother. He told me that she'd left this earth without being able to complete her assignment, so I am claiming her mantle upon my life, but I want it to conform to who God has made me to be. I want to be able to finish her assignment as well as my own! I want her ceiling to be my floor; I want to uncap new, fresh wells of revelation.

Embrace a New Wineskin

We cannot settle with how things are in this new season. We are being called to rise and obey, to transition into new places, new callings, and new assignments. New wine cannot be poured into old wineskins, as the old wineskins will not be able to expand and hold the fermentation of the new wine!

So, this new move of the Holy Spirit cannot be contained by our old ways of thinking, acting, and being! We need to lay down our lives, our dreams, our needs, and our desires, no matter how uncomfortable it is. He wants to fill us up with new wine, new fire, new freedom, and a new anointing; but in order to be filled, we need to be emptied first!

We need to completely renew our minds and be open and obedient to whatever the Lord is telling us to do! That's what it's going to take to be part of this fresh move of the Holy Spirit—dying to ourselves! He is awakening our spiritual DNA to take over our natural one. In order to see miracles, signs, and wonders, we need to live from a heavenly perspective and speak forth what Heaven declares. (Photo via Freerange Stock)

We are a peculiar people, God's own possession! We live by faith and not by sight; we are seated in heavenly places at the right hand of God! Let it be on Earth as it is in Heaven!

Confirming Scriptures:

"Abandoning that one, Isaac moved on and dug another well. This time there was no dispute over it, so Isaac named the place Rehoboth (which means 'open space'), for he said, 'At last the Lord has created enough space for us to prosper in this land.'" (Genesis 26:22, NLT)

"Understand, therefore, that the Lord your God is indeed God. He is the faithful God who keeps His covenant for a thousand generations and lavishes His unfailing love on those who love Him and obey His commands." (Deuteronomy 7:9, NLT)

"And no one puts new wine into old wineskins. For the old skins would burst from the pressure, spilling the wine and ruining the skins. New wine is stored in new wineskins so that both are preserved." (Matthew 9:17, NLT)

"Do not remember the former things, nor consider the things of old. Behold, I will do a new thing, now it shall spring forth; shall you not know it? I will even make a road in the wilderness and rivers in the desert." (Isaiah 43:18–19, NKJV)

"But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should shew forth the praises of Him who hath called you out of darkness into His marvelous light." (1 Peter 2:9, KJV)

"And the one sitting on the throne said, 'Look, I am making everything new!' And then He said to me, 'Write this down, for what I tell you is trustworthy and true.' And He also said, 'It is finished! I am the Alpha and the Omega—the Beginning and the End. To all who are thirsty I will give freely from the springs of the water of life. All who are victorious will inherit all these blessings, and I will be their God, and they will be My children.'" (Revelation 21:5–7, NLT)

Lana Vawser: "You Must Go After All That I've Promised You in This Season"

Arise and Stand in Faith

Recently, I heard the Lord say, "You MUST go after in faith ALL that I've promised you in this season."

When the Lord said this, I heard the words "must" and "all" very loudly in the spirit. I could sense all around me the temptation that many are feeling as they face Goliaths of many kinds—the temptation to run, to hide, and to give up. But the Lord is calling his people to arise and stand in faith.

"Therefore, put on the complete armor of God, so that you will be able to [successfully] resist and stand your ground in the evil day [of danger], and having done everything [that the crisis demands], to stand firm [in your place, fully prepared, immovable, victorious]." (Eph. 6:13 AMP)

As I leaned in and listened to the Lord's heart, I heard, "My people, you MUST go after in faith ALL that I've promised you in this season. I say to those of you who are feeling the pressure to withdraw, to pull back, and to shrink back, STAND! In this moment of significant transition, you must stand."

"I say unto you, feed not yourselves from the natural realm; feed not yourselves from circumstances and the words rooted in man's logic or opinion. I say unto you in this hour, it is urgent and imperative that you are feeding yourselves from MY WORD. I say unto you that you will not defeat the Goliaths in your lives and in the lands I have called you to in this season by your own strength, by your own ability, or any natural wisdom and natural means. I say unto you that it is [through] the revelation of WHO I AM, my Word, and the power of my Spirit that you will see that which seems immovable become movable by my Spirit. Watch that which taunts come down under the power of the declaration of my name and an army of my people standing in ferocious faith."

"I say unto you in this hour, move on all I have spoken and stand upon all that I am speaking. By faith—I am calling you, my people—take me at my word, and by faith stand. And where the enemy would attempt to talk you out of the bold faith that I am calling you to—to believe for all that I have promised you—resist the enemy and stand in bold faith to see all I have promised you in this season."

"Occupy the Inheritance I Have for You"

"I say unto you, I am calling you up higher. I am calling you up higher. For in this hour, those who are seeking me with pure hearts and in humility, I will entrust to you the secrets of my heart. I am looking for those who will linger in my presence and delight in me as their greatest reward (Gen. 15:1). I say unto you that I am INCREASING INTEL in this hour. I am increasing intel—my intel and my wisdom—for you to walk in greater realms of victory that are already yours in me, and to apprehend and occupy all that I am calling you to. (Photo via Unsplash)

"I say unto you that I am calling you to a posture of ferocious faith to apprehend what is yours in me. For I am not a man that I should lie (Num. 23:19). I am faithful to do all that I have promised you (Heb. 10:23), and I am calling you to arise and stand. The pressure of this season and this time of transition, for many, is attempting to intimidate you to withdraw and shrink back; but now is the time to STAND and PUSH FORWARD IN FAITH. I say unto you that the level of my intel and wisdom that I am releasing in this hour is to further posture and position you in victory and to see you occupy the inheritance that I have for you."

"From the days of John the Baptist until now the kingdom of heaven has suffered violence, and the violent take it by force." (Matt. 11:12 ESV)

"For I say unto you that there are new positions and assignments in this season, and I am training you on the battlefield; I am bringing you deeper into 'on the job training' in me. And as you lean into me and continue to walk by faith and not by sight (2 Cor. 5:7)—standing and refusing to move from what I have spoken—I am building endurance within you and teaching and training you for the new things I have for you that are ahead.

"Now Is the Hour to Fight"

"The enemy is trying to chase you out of the process. The enemy is attempting to intimidate you to cause you to withdraw so you that will no longer continue to come up higher into the heavenly wisdom, insight, and intel that I have for you in this hour. You must not sit back and wait for the battle to pass; you must ARISE and STAND in me and in the victory that is yours in me. Now is the hour to FIGHT. This is the hour to ARISE and FIGHT. For many of you in this hour are feeling the temptation to be lulled to sleep in complacency, to wait until the storm passes, but I say unto you, you must arise and stand. You must arise and fight.

"In this hour I am exposing areas of the heart where many have been fighting from a place of unbelief and have not found the strength to stand, as their hearts have been dealing with unbelief. I say unto you, embrace the refiners fire upon your hearts in this hour, and watch me continue to uproot deep unbelief. For I say unto you that there are many who do not even believe they are fighting from victory in me. There are many in this season that are fighting from the place of emotion and allowing their emotions to lead them. I say unto you, my people, TAKE ME AT MY WORD! (Photo via Unsplash)

"Stand upon my Word. What am I speaking? What have I spoken? My Word is the ultimate truth, and victory has been purchased for you in me. NO matter what, REMAIN! Remain upon my Word. I say unto you that as you continue to stand upon my Word and what I have spoken—where many of you have felt like confusion has almost knocked you out—you will be established in the clarity of my divine direction in ways you have not known thus far.

It's Time to Step In and Out

"There is an INCREASE IN INHERITING! There is an increase in inheriting! Intimidation is attempting to keep many of you from the increase of inheriting what I have for you right now. Arise! Arise! Arise! Stand and, by faith, go after what I have called you to. Stop allowing intimidation, confusion, and fear to chase you around and chase you out of all I have for you. You are the head and not the tail (Deut. 28:13). You are an overcomer in me (1 John 5:4), and it is time to step in; it's time to step out. It's time to step in and out into the expansion that I have for you in this hour. Shy not away in fear from that which I have promised you and am calling you to. You must arise and stand and know that I am with you and I have gone before you.

"For there are many in this hour that I am promoting [because of] their humility and their purity before me, their faithfulness and intimacy with me. I'm bringing them into promotion and greater favor for the sake of my kingdom and my glory, my works in the earth going forth, my will being accomplished. There are many [who] have faced the greatest onslaughts of their lives in the last few years, which have intensified in the last few months. I say unto you, the crossover has begun. The winter you have known. The darkness of battle to simply just "remain" is coming to an end.

"You are going forth to occupy in new ways and in new territories. Yes, there are new giants in the new lands, but I say unto you that there is a strength, endurance, refreshment, healing, clarity, and restoration that is being given unto you. You shall not move into the new lands and new territories I will have you occupy [and be] in a place of barely surviving. Watch in this hour how I supernaturally [and] suddenly restore and strengthen you to move into all the new that I have for you. That time is NOW!"

The Blessing Of God

"He will bless those who fear the Lord - small and great alike. May the Lord make you increase, both you and your children. May you be blessed by the Lord, the Maker of Heaven and Earth." Ps. 115:13-15.

When God gives you a definite promise beginning with 'I will' it means He has the power to perform whatever to whomever He promises. The promise here is that God wants to bless you and will bless you when you reverence Him and place Him in highest priority in your life. God responds to your blessing, praise, and worship. As you serve Him, He will serve you.

His blessing to you includes blessings on your family regardless of their ages and relationship. God blessed a tormented man, healed him, and said to him: "Go home to your family and tell them how much the Lord has done for you, and how He has had mercy on you" (Mark 5:19).

God blessed a jailer who was afraid of losing his job: "The jailer brought them (the disciples) into his house and set a meal before them; he was filled with joy because he had come to believe in God - he and his whole family" (Acts 16:34). God wants to bless your entire family, and His intention is that all people will be in His family. "For this reason I kneel before the Father, from whom His whole family in Heaven and on Earth derives its name" (Eph. 3:14-15).

The blessing of the LORD, The Maker of Heaven and Earth, includes His SHALOM (peace, wellness, health, prosperity, and all that is good in your life). His blessing in your life includes the grace of CHAYIL (wisdom, power, honor, virtue, favor, wealth and influence). Receive it today as a member of the family of God.

Kingdom Declaration:

I am blessed to be in the family of God with God as my Heavenly Father.

Craig Cooney: It's Slow, but the Shift Is Coming! It's here!

Intro: So many people have told me that they're finding life difficult right now. Sometimes it's hard to discern what's going on, but it feels as if life is on pause.

You feel stuck in some area. You're not making any progress or advancing. You're still showing up faithfully, doing what you always do, but everything feels dreary and a bit stagnant. You expected things to shift this year, but so far very little has changed.

A few weeks ago, we had a week of prayer and fasting in church. On the last day, I had a short vision. I share it below as a word of encouragement for you today.

I pray that you experience God's peace, provision, and power as you begin to see a shift.

A Vision of Mechanical Gears

Recently, I had a vision of large, interlocking, mechanical gears, like you might see on an old steam train or piece of machinery. The gears were rusted and stuck. It looked like they hadn't moved in some time.

Then I heard a loud noise. The gears were beginning to grind together. It seemed like they were locked, jammed, static. There was a strain, a tension, a friction, but very slowly they started to turn.

At the beginning, it was very difficult to see any significant change. The movement was almost imperceptible. However, after a few minutes, they began to move more freely and quickly gained momentum. Before long, there was an ease and speed to their movement. (Photo via Pexels)

I believe this is a picture of life for many of you. You have been feeling stuck for a long time. You've struggled to see any movement or momentum. You're going through the motions, doing what you know to do. There's activity, but no advancement; there's busyness, but no progression.

Your energy and motivation for life, work, relationships, and ministry have flatlined. Even your walk with God has felt bland, blah, and boring. You've struggled to find any direction or clarity. It's been unusually difficult to hear God's voice. You love Him; deep down you know He's with you, but life has been a struggle. Everything has felt harder than normal. It's been this way for much too long.

You've become weary and frustrated. You've lost some of your passion and fire, and at times you're not sure if you're ever going to get it back.

Change Is at Hand!

I want to tell you this: It's slow, but the shift is coming! It's already started. Little signs are there before you, like green shoots emerging through barren soil. I know it's hard to see them through the lens of persistent disappointment and delay. You don't want more false hope. You need something to change!

Change is at hand. It will be almost unnoticeable at the beginning, but over the following months you will gradually experience an increase in God's manifest presence, prophetic words, dreams, visions, and divine direction.

Things will begin to look different. You will start to feel different. There will be movement and momentum. By springtime, I believe you will begin to walk in a time of acceleration. Things will change, progress, and advance very quickly. There will be a fresh sense of freedom and renewed joy, hope, and vision.

Of course, there will be resistance and warfare, but you will be so focused on what God is doing that the enemy's schemes will feel almost inconsequential.

Like a train conductor, I hear the Lord declaring with a loud voice, "All change!" I see new assignments, relocation, repositioning, and realignment. This will all be accompanied by increasing disruption in many places.

The shaking and turbulence will intensify. There will be a redrawing of borders and boundaries. But amidst the unsettlement and upheaval, a fresh wind of the Spirit will blow upon the people of God. (Photo via GetArchive)

We're entering a time of refreshment and restoration. Awakening is stirring. The sound of salvation will be heard across the nations.

The Long Winter Is Over! You Will Reap Your Harvest

Don't lose heart now. You have remained faithful in the waiting of the wilderness season, and you will be rewarded for that faithfulness.

You haven't given up, and so you will reap a harvest. You have kept your heart pure, and you will see God move.

The long winter is almost over. The barrenness is breaking. The heaviness is lifting. Things are turning. IT'S BEEN SLOW... BUT A SHIFT IS COMING.

"Let us not become weary in doing good, for at the proper time we will reap a harvest if we do not give up." (Galatians 6:9)

"See, I am doing a new thing! Now it springs up; do you not perceive it? I am making a way in the wilderness and streams in the wasteland." (Isaiah 43:19)

"Blessed are the pure in heart, for they will see God." (Matthew 5:8)

"...blessed are those who have not seen and yet have believed." (John 20:29)

"See! The winter is past; the rains are over and gone. Flowers appear on the earth; the season of singing has come; the cooing of doves is heard in our land. The fig tree forms its early fruit; the blossoming vines spread their fragrance. Arise, come, my darling; my beautiful one, come with me." (Song of Songs 2:11–13)

Dutch Sheets

Introduction

A couple of weeks ago, my friend, Jay Comiskey, sent me a post regarding the building of an Iron Dome Shield of Intercession over our nation. Jay has sent a follow-up post giving further, and very practical, information to aid us in doing so. The title of the post is:

Building the Iron Dome of Prayer

Several years ago, a friend and former U.S. Senator shared with Dutch that He could tell by the spiritual “atmosphere” of Washington, D.C., when believers were praying and when they weren’t. He said, as best as Dutch can remember: “The church becomes engaged in prayer during elections and at other significant times. They pray us into office, then slack off and leave us on our own, with little to no prayer support.”

Very sobering, and totally correct. However, I am encouraged and hopeful that the prayer army has gone to a new level of intentionality and perseverance, and will follow through on our prayer assignments after the recent election of November 5th, 2024.

Israel’s Iron Dome

I recently shared about Israel’s remarkable Missile Defense System, the Iron Dome. During a surprise attack on Israel last year, Iran fired over 300 missiles on the Jewish people. However, the Iron Dome Missile Systems shot down over 99% of Iran’s rockets before they hit the ground!

Since October 7th, 2023, when Hamas conducted a brutal surprise attack against the Jewish people, Israel has shot down the vast majority of missiles, rockets, and drones fired at them. Let me read a summary of Israel's defensive missile system once again. I quote Guy Cohen, a Messianic Jewish leader from Israel, who describes this amazing system.

"Israel now has a multi-layered defense array. Our current system is surprisingly effective against almost all attacks from missiles, rockets, and UAVs. The IDF armor consists of the following defensive weapons: 1) The Iron Dome, 2) David's Sling, and 3) The Arrow defense system.

"They each cover various distances, from close-range missiles all the way up to threats at the edge of the atmosphere. Currently, yet another level is being developed—laser technology."

Interesting note: One of the original names considered for their missile defense system was called the Golden Dome. They settled on Iron Dome instead.

This Iron Dome can be a parallel model or picture of what Holy Spirit wants to help us build through prayer. God's prayer army can create an Iron Dome Shield of intercession to protect President Trump, his agenda, and our great country.

Back to Basics

Here are some of the basics of prayer that will help bring forth this strong DEFENSE for the USA and our leaders:

1. Intentionality: We must daily give ourselves in intercession to protect the things God has called us to steward. I appreciate the comments of two Give Him 15 listeners and their efforts to be consistent in praying for President Trump:
 - One listener states: "I have been praying a 'dome of protection' over my USA for a couple months now, as I drive Monday through Friday – look at what the Lord has done, AND ALL I DID WAS PRAY!"
 - Another listener writes: "From another ministry, I learned to set my alarm clock to 12:00 noon and make that a time to pray for President Trump each day."
 - Daily, simple habits are what make the difference. Though the election is over, these prayer warriors carry on daily to cover our President and protect him by prayer.

2. Think Higher, Not Harder

1. Ephesians 2:6: "... and raised us up together, and made us sit together in heavenly places in Christ Jesus."

2. "Together" is mentioned twice in verse 6. We need the involvement, prayers, and revelation God is giving all His Ekklesia around the world. "Together" Holy Spirit wants to develop and implement principles of intercession that will help protect every nation!
3. "Heavenly Places" – We can access the wisdom of God's throne room daily for any assignment Holy Spirit gives us. He knows exactly how to build "Iron Dome Shields" of intercession, and wants to share the insights. After all, America and the nations are His Inheritance (Psalm 2).

3. Prophetic Prayer, Enabled by God's Gifts, Will Hit the Target

1. 2 Timothy 1:6: "Therefore, I remind you to stir up the gift of God which is in you through the laying on of my hands."

2. Let's stir up the gifts Holy Spirit has given us for building an Iron Dome of prayer for the USA (1 Corinthians 12:4-11). They include:

- Word of wisdom
- Word of knowledge
- Gift of faith
- Working of miracles (and healing)
- Gift of prophecy
- Discerning of spirits
- Different kinds of tongues
- Interpretation of tongues

3. Leadership Gifts (1 Corinthians 12:28)

- Prophetic words, dreams, etc., help us "hit the target" and pray effectively.

4. Keep It Simple (Not weird)

1. KISS – "Keep It Simple, Saint" – Sometimes we can overly complicate a prayer assignment until we create spiritual gridlock in our souls or in prayer meetings.
2. Simple Kingdom prayers can release God's will on earth.

Here is one example of a simple prayer we can declare over our President (and over all leadership). This will be the prayer for today's post. Notice that the primary aspect of this prayer is decreeing powerful Scriptures in faith:

"Heavenly Father,

1. I pray and decree Your 'Iron Dome Shield' of divine protection over President Trump and his administration. Holy Spirit, we are asking for Your wisdom & revelation to pray this shield over him and over America. Lord, You are our shield of protection! (Genesis 15:1)
2. I declare that all Your authority, in heaven and earth (Matthew 28:18), be released over our President, his cabinet, and their families. May Trump's agenda for America be empowered by Your grace and wisdom.
3. Let Your Kingdom come and Your will be done (Matthew 6:9-10) through our President.
4. We, the Ekklesia, declare that 'no weapon formed against him shall prosper, and every tongue which rises against him in judgment is NOW condemned' (Isaiah 54:17).
5. May Your angels carry out Your plans for America. May Your angel armies (Psalm 103:20-21) protect our President and do Your will throughout our country.
6. We pray this in Jesus' mighty name, He who is able to accomplish more than we can ask, think, or pray for President Trump and the USA, and who does so according to His power working in us (Ephesians 3:20)."

It is time to build and operate our own Iron Dome Shield of Intercession over our country!

America Will Be Saved!

“Study to show yourself approved.”

I want to encourage everyone to read the WORD of GOD daily and set a goal to read through the Bible every year, “Study to show yourself approved”.

2 Timothy 2:15 Study and be eager and do your utmost to present yourself to God approved (tested by trial), a workman who has no cause to be ashamed, correctly analyzing and accurately dividing [rightly handling and skillfully teaching] the Word of Truth.

Additionally, pay attention to 2 Chronicles 20:20. Amplified Bible, Classic Edition

²⁰ And they rose early in the morning and went out into the Wilderness of Tekoa; and as they went out, Jehoshaphat stood and said, Hear me, O Judah, and you inhabitants of Jerusalem! Believe in the Lord your God and you shall be established; believe and remain steadfast to His prophets and you shall prosper.
