

The Biblical Month of AV 5786: July 15-August 13, 2026

The LORD will Thunder and Roar.
The month when Yahweh destroys so HE can reconstruct!

Wade K. Butler

Joel 3:6 The Amplified Bible, Classic Edition

¹⁶ The Lord will thunder and roar from Zion and utter His voice from Jerusalem, and the heavens and the earth shall shake; but the Lord will be a refuge for His people and a stronghold to the children of Israel.

The Biblical Month of Av begins this year at sundown on July 15, and continues to sundown August 13, 2026.

Wade Butler: What is going on?

Many people have been asking, "What is going on and why are so many people under attack?"

There is an answer, but not everyone will be able to receive it or understand it. The war against the saints has intensified because Yahweh has struck the earth with HIS scepter and all of the demonic forces in the world have been displaced in preparation for the greatest war of eternity. Don't panic, the end is not yet near. We have to remember a day in Heaven is like 1,000 years on earth. 2 Peter 3:8-9 Nevertheless, do not let this one fact escape you, beloved, that with the Lord one day is as a thousand years and a thousand years as one day. ⁹ The Lord does not delay and is not tardy or slow about what He promises, according to some people's conception of slowness, but He is long-suffering (extraordinarily patient) toward you, not desiring that any should perish, but that all should turn to repentance.

The situation is not due to our sin but to judgement of HIS enemies, those who have occupied the earth from the time of the watchers and since Lucifer was cast down with all of his demons. They have lost their second homes, earth, and they are in a panic. Because of fear of the LORD, they are throwing everything they have at the sons and daughters of GOD. Terry and I saw in the heavens our LORD lift up HIS scepter, and He said, "Grab hold. MY GLORY is about to invade the earth. You cannot carry the weight of MY GLORY, so grab hold and watch what I am about to do. Principalities shall fall and be replaced by MY Angelic Armies. World leaders shall fall, there will be signs and wonders in the earth, earthquakes, extreme weather in places that never experience such things, and there will be signs in the heavens. Do not advance or take on the principalities until I say so."

We waited weeks holding on for the word when HE finally said; "Thrust MY scepter into the ground where I have assigned you." At that point the earth began to shake, and the powers began to fall, nations were affected. Glory!!!

Reports began to come in from around the nation and world. Babylon is falling; watch for the nations shall roar. Look around and dig deeper than ever before. It is not only our nation that is under attack but the world itself.

In July 2024 the Lord gave me a word I did not really want to hear much less receive. He said; "I'm getting you prepared to come up higher." Naturally I thought OK, this is great. Then HE said; "You are entering into a season of war that will require you to lay down everything you planned, hoped for and believe." My response was, Really? Then HE said; "What are you willing to lay down?" To be honest, I hesitated for a moment and then said, "Lord, I'm willing to lay it all down." I just did not know what "all" meant. Then HE said; "You are going to be tested in areas you never imagined."

The first thing HE said was to resign from the Chaplaincy of the Republic. I loved the position and the people, yet I turned in my resignation the next day. Then HE showed me part of the next several years. They were not pretty at all. Wars and rumors of wars: not just nations, but against powers and principalities, rulers in high places.

Next, HE said; "Form special prayer groups, 'SWAT' teams (Spiritual Warfare Attack Teams), and get ready, but do not engage the enemy until I tell you to do so." Teams were formed, with assignments specific in nature. Some were headed up by me while other teams by key prophetic voices. Each team would only have six to eight members, and we studied and prayed for as long as two years before engaging the enemy. Teams had to be screened and had to understand the nature and cost of the assignments. Many people turned down the offer or were advised by the Lord, "not at this time." I was rejected by one of those teams myself due to the physical requirements required. Little did I know what HE had not told me about the challenges that laid ahead. I broke my back and had to re-learn how to walk. In some denominations, if you get sick or have physical problems you are considered in sin and are shunned.

So often, front-line warriors are actually the intercessors, hidden away, not known or recognized. Many get wounded along the way. Don't be quick to judge people, but pray for them.

In June, Yeshua said; "By the 4th of July, 250 world-wide powers, principalities, and rulers in the spirit realm as well as the physical realm will fall, and the replacement process will begin. Expect great shaking, disclosures and turmoil." Wow, that will get your attention. I cried out, "LORD, we are only four teams of six people. How much harm can we do to such adversaries?" His response was beautiful... "In past generations the question to my prophet was very similar, and MY response was, 'Seven thousand have not bent a knee to baal.'"

But what is God's reply to him? I have kept for Myself seven thousand men who have not bowed the knee to Baal! Today Millions have not bent a knee to the enemy, pray as I have instructed you and watch what I shall do." (Romans 11:4)

Here is one example of HIS Kingdom advancing that is conformation of our assignment:

Diana Larkin | A Watchman's Journal
A DARK RULER IS DEPOSED

"The SUDDEN SHIFT you felt recently was because a MAJOR DARK RULER WAS DISLODGED AND DEPOSED by My Angelic Army and the compilation of all your WARFARE PRAYERS. The reason you felt DISORIENTED and like you were in an UNFAMILIAR PLACE was because this powerful, dark ruler has CONTROLLED the atmosphere over your nation for so long that when he fell, the FREQUENCY and ATMOSPHERE COMPLETELY SHIFTED. You've never experienced life without this DARK CONTROL, and the SHIFT was disorienting.

"This represents a MAJOR VICTORY in the spiritual realm, but it was and will be translated as GREAT VICTORIES in the natural realm. You will watch them unfold and you will witness the atmosphere getting LIGHTER and LIGHTER. More EXPOSURES, JUDGMENT, and TRUE JUSTICE will be manifested because the POWER that was holding CORRUPT judges and government leaders in place has FALLEN, and they will be EXPOSED and REMOVED. TRUTH will cease sounding like a FAIRY TALE to the DECEIVED who were under the SPELL of this dark ruler, and LIES will be EXPOSED and ROOTED OUT.

Those who continued to PARROT the LIES of the evil empire will be held ACCOUNTABLE for the DAMAGE they have done. The evil empire will continue their desperate moves, but their POWER has been GREATLY WEAKENED. Continue to pray that their evil schemes will BLOW UP in their faces—your warfare will be more EFFECTIVE against them now. CELEBRATE that this dark ruler has been DEPOSED and declare, 'We are raising up a standard of righteousness that is stemming the flood of filth the evil empire released, and we are calling in truth, righteousness, and justice to reign in the place of the DEPOSED DARK RULER.' "Rejoice!"

EPHESIANS 6:12 (NKJV) "For we do not wrestle against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this age, against spiritual hosts of wickedness in the heavenly places."

Diana reported this the week we were told to engage a certain group in the heavenlies. He replaced the enemy with HIS Angels, and the shaking is intense. The requirements of HIS Ekklesia are demanding. Look at Terry Friesen's article last month on Tammuz 1.

See Diana's word on Av 3 for more of the answers to today's turmoil.

There has been a lot of prayer concerning Terry's article. LORD, how can we carry five times YOUR Glory? His answer: "You cannot; only I can, so abide under my wings and hold on to MY promises."

I believe you can imagine that this is going to be a calendar of war plus the many victories. Holy Spirit's council to me was to put on the fullness of MY Armor daily, Abide in Psalm 91, and take communion every day.

So, to answer the question, What is going on? The enemy is being cast out of their homes and territories throughout the world, and they are attacking every person in the world to bring death, destruction, and turmoil for he sees his time is short. Our job is to decree and declare God's word and stand against the enemy of our souls.

This month's Calendar

As always, the Amplified, King James, New American Standard, and Passion versions of the WORD of GOD were used in this study. Biblical Months fall under the Law Form of YHWH (Yahweh), Father-Son-Holy Spirit, through the revelation of His Word and begin on the new moon each month.

It's been over eight years since we started publishing the Prayer Calendar based on the Hebrew Lunar Cycle, so for anyone joining us for the first time, I want to give some background. In Genesis 1:1 the very first words GOD speaks are "In the beginning," and according to Rabbinical teaching, the very first commandment given to the children of Israel while in Egypt was to sanctify the "New Moon." From that point on, the nation of GOD was to look at the moon for the setting of their days and evenings and as a means to reconcile the times and seasons. The biblical day begins at sundown and ends at sundown the following day. At sundown, it is known as the dawning of a new day.

And God called the light Day, and the darkness he called Night. And the evening and the morning were the first day (Genesis 1:5). Even history is set into motion as God said that the world may be understood as seven 1,000 days with the last, the 7th 1,000 years of days, would be the time of the Millennial Reign of Christ.

The Lunar cycle is only 29.5 days or 354 days per year, whereas the solar cycle has 365 days per year. An additional month is added every 3rd year to coordinate with the solar calendar for agricultural seasons. The reason the numerical date may not look like the previous year's is because of this shift. The Month begins with the rising of the "New Moon." The Hebrew year begins in spring every year in the Month of Nissan when Passover occurs. Every month is related to a specific tribe, feast and season.

I had an incredible word spoken over one of the prayer teams I am part of. The Lord said, "You may feel like the cards of life are stacked against you. Do not take his bluff. I am dealing you (my sons and daughters) a Royal Flush against the enemy's hand. The battle may seem great, BUT YOU WIN!"

This is the month to break curses! Israel fell to curses during this month and cursed GOD. We can get free from any curses on us or our family lines all the way back to Adam!!! Get rid of them. Even though we may have unresolved issues, we can shut the door. Look at this list and REPENT NOW!!!!

Repent, Break generational curses off yourself and your bloodline.

- Lack of Faith causing you to blame GOD for your shortfalls.
- Sin, lust of the eye, lust of the flesh, and boastful pride of life.
- Anti-Semitism.
- Racism.
- Robbing God of time or money.
- Robbing Man.
- Disrespecting Parents.
- Idle words which cause self-curses.
- Covenant Breaking.
- Idolatry.

You may not know what caused the door to be open in your life, so simply ask GOD, "What sin have I done or my family line that has allowed a curse to operate in my life?" Don't go around looking at everyone else; deal with yourself. Some people are just in warfare for breakthrough for themselves or others, while some are dealing with past family blood lines. Ask!

"LORD, forgive me for my sins, (list the sins and sins of failure to do what the LORD told you to do) and my family curses as we are guilty. Cleanse me and my family, LORD, with the BLOOD of Yeshua."

As we begin the month of AV, keep in mind that man changed the calendar, GOD didn't.

The church today misses a very important part of their history and understanding. There was never really a new church started. They worshipped and practiced Hebrew. The difference was that Christ completed the requirements of the Law and made us "New Men in Him." If you think about it, we are literally Hebrew, as we were adopted or grafted into the Kingdom.

With that in mind, by honoring the feasts or HIS Calendar we will not miss out on what God is doing. At the same time, we will honor our Lord Yeshua the Christ and we may learn something.

This is the only month which is not named in the Bible. It is a summer month of 30 days. In Hebrew, AV means, "father." Av usually occurs in July–August on the Gregorian calendar. The Babylonian Talmud, Taanit 29a, states that "when we enter the month of Av, our joy is diminished."

Tribe: Simeon – to hear; be concerned. According to the Hebrew Bible, the Tribe of Simeon was one of the twelve tribes of Israel. The Book of Judges locates its territory inside the boundaries of the Tribe of Judah. It is one of the ten lost tribes.

The Hebrew letter for the month of Av is the letter TET. The letter resembles a womb – a month when earth contracts – the secret of pregnancy moves into the earth realm. During this month, the earth begins to contract, so we must watch for earthquakes and where they are occurring.

Characteristics: The month you metamorphose or disintegrate. The month the Lion roars (Amos 3:8). The month where God destroys so He can reconstruct. Consider what you hear, and determine how to develop a new level of discernment or oppose counsel and advice. Listen carefully! You will hear key impressions this month.

The Hebrew Month of Av

Jerusalem of Gold - By Boruch Hoffinger

The name of the fifth month on the Jewish calendar (counting from Nisan), Av, literally means "father." It is customary to add the name "Menachem," which means "comforter" or "consoler"—so, Menachem Av.

In this month, both Temples were destroyed, and many other tragedies occurred. Yet our Father in heaven is there to comfort and console us.

Av includes a "low point" on the Jewish calendar—the Ninth of Av, the day of the sin of the spies, and the destruction of both the First and Second Temples in Jerusalem. But it also incorporates a "high point": the 15th of Av, a day designated for finding one's predestined soulmate, and one of the happiest days on the Jewish calendar.

Av derives from the root, which means, "to will" or "to desire." This month is also the "low point" of the Jewish calendar.

Biblical Significance of the Month

A Biblical reference to this month in the "Chumash," the Five Books of Moshe, is the one cited above under Names which speaks of the death of the great "Aharon HaKohen," Aharon, the Priest. Aharon represented all that is good in the Jewish character, and all that is thrown out when "sinat chinam," "hatred based on nothing" is brought into Jewish life. Aharon is described in Pirkei Avot, as one or better, the one who exemplified the characteristic of "loving peace and pursuing peace, loving people, and bringing them closer to the Torah."

The Talmud in Masechet Gittin (55b-56a) identifies the immediate cause of the destruction of Yerushalayim as the incident involving Kamtza and Bar-Kamtza [the Bar Kochba rebellion]. It is clear that although this specific incident may have provoked Rome to move against Yerushalayim, the attitude portrayed in the incident, hardness of heart, reflects that that attitude was deeply ingrained in the hearts of the Jewish People at that time. The story shows the destructive effect of causeless hatred, which, throughout Jewish History, has visited destruction in various forms upon the Jewish People.

Notice the following events that took place on that date:

Av 1 - 1273 BC – the death of Aaron

Av 7 - 586 BC – First Temple invaded by King Nebuchadnezzar

Av 9 - 587 BC – The armies of Babylon destroyed Solomon's Temple.

Av 9 - AD 70 – The Romans destroyed the 2nd temple.

Av 9 - AD 135 – The final defeat of Jews by Rome.

Av 9 - AD 1095 – The 1st Crusade is launched, which kills thousands of Jews.

Av 9 - AD 1290 – The Jews are expelled from England.

Av 9 - AD 1492 – The Jews are expelled from Spain.

Av 9 - AD 1942 – The Jews were deported from the Warsaw ghetto to the death camps.

Av 15 - The 15th of Av Is Known as One of the Happiest Days in Jewish History. This day, Tu B'Av, signifies rebirth after destruction, and is a day for new beginnings.

They tasted the FRUIT of the land but refused to enter.

The 10 spies held back in unbelief, and by doing that they put themselves under a curse. So, every year on the 9th of Av, Israel finds that their enemies are too strong for them, and they die. As Hebrews 4:1-2 explains (paraphrased), "they refused to mix the promise with faith." The result was that the month of Av became a month of mourning and destruction. Because of their sin on that date, Israel spent forty years in the wilderness. At the end of that time, God, in His grace, gave them a second chance to enter. (God is the God of the second chances.) But they never truly repented of the sin. So, every year the cycle comes back around, and the window of destruction opens again. When you don't repent of the sins of the past, Satan is free to bring the curse of that sin back around on you, and the door of destruction remains open. The way you know you have truly repented is that you don't repeat the sin again. That's how we know Israel never repented.

Israel repeated the sin of Kadesh Barnea all over again when Yeshua came. Hebrews tells us that when Yeshua came, they tasted the good fruit of the age to come. They heard His words, and saw His miracles, but turned back in unbelief and refused to enter or receive His promise of the Messiah. But the Word assures us that one day Israel will turn and believe in Yeshua as Messiah. Like Israel in Joshua's day, a future generation will enter in; when that happens, the 9th of Av curse will finally be broken. God still wants Av to be a month of blessing and celebration of His goodness.

Av is a month that presents us with a CHOICE!

We Can Choose to RECEIVE a Curse! We Can Choose to BREAK a Curse!

We Can Choose to BELIEVE God's PROMISE! We Can Choose to ENTER God's BLESSING! So, receive His Promise and mix it with FAITH this month! Av is the month of Simeon. He messed up, but there is redemptive power for Simeon. You are grafted into an inheritance. If you are a blood-bought Christian, you are grafted into the covenant of Abraham. In that covenant there are iniquitous patterns. Through the blood of Yeshua all things are reconciled, but the devil will try to activate these iniquitous patterns and cause them to manifest. If you have instability in your bloodline, there are times when you must have your spiritual disciplines in place so that a spirit does not come in and wipe you out. Here is how the devil's workers operate: they are not respecters of persons, and they do not play fair. If they see that you are having a bad day, they will swarm you. They do not back off just because you are struggling.

They will take opportunity to try to convince you to align with them. They understand iniquitous patterns. When Satan was kicked out of heaven, iniquity was found in him. Therefore, any time we agree with him, a root forms. This is why we must deal with the roots in our generations.

This is also why God will deal with you all year long and give you opportunities to repent and be delivered. He can always deliver you, but you must choose to walk in freedom.

A TIME TO ADVANCE

You can always look at sovereign happenings this month. What I mean by sovereign happenings is that God makes decisions to do certain things based upon what we have decided at other times. We are making decisions which will manifest sooner or later. God is not a God who just turns His head away and lets us do what we want to do. He records what we do in a book, "It is written!" Av is associated with the constellation of Leo (the lion). This is the month the Lion roars (Amos 3:8). This is one of the most incredible and prophetic months. When the lion – the people of God – roar, a prophetic covering is created.

Amos 3 is about unlocking what is above you and the sound that begins to resound in the earth realm. Av is the month for the divine will of the Father to be executed. God allows things to be destroyed so He can rebuild. There are times when God says, "Let's just tear that one up and start over." Have you ever tried to do something that is just not going to work?

One time I was designing a computer program using assembler language, and it got caught in a loop. I thought about how long tracking down the mistake would take to fix the problem and decided the best choice would be to just start the program over. That's what I did, and the next day the problem was easily fixed. I labored through the first process, but once I let that one go, the logic flowed right for the second process. That's how God works with us sometimes.

Again, be very aware of your partnerships during this month. Watch your alignments. The Hebrews associate Av with a new level of discernment. In this month you are developing a new level of discernment, or you are opposing counsel and advice. If you look back in your life, you can identify times when people gave you counsel and advice; but you thought you knew more than anyone else and did not act on the advice.

The Bible says in Psalm 32 that He takes hold of the reins of your life and guides you by His eye. In this process, if you have not allowed Him to work with you, then you are resisting His leading like a horse or mule that has to be harnessed. The Lord will give us a chance to follow Him and go through things, but sometimes resistance to His leading is going on. Use wisdom, and allow the Lord to guide you and hone your discernment for these critical days ahead.

The Month of Av

Av on the Biblical calendar corresponds to July-August on the Gregorian calendar except on leap years, which carries over into August-September. Its name was adopted during Israel's Babylonian captivity. In addition, it is customary among Jews to add the name "Menachem" (Comforter) to Av when speaking about this month. This is because the month of Av is associated with many tragic events in Jewish history. Yet, their Father God brings comfort.

Between the Straits

History has shown a pattern of terrible disasters that have befallen the Jewish people during a three-week period. This segment of time is referred to as "between the straits" (based on Lamentations 1:3). It begins on the 17th of Tammuz and ends on the 9th of Av. Ancient Jewish rabbis said: "When Av comes in, gladness must be diminished." As a result, marriages are not held during this period and all entertainment is suspended.

The 9th of Av (Tisha B'Av)

The 9th of Av commemorates the destruction of both Temples in Jerusalem along with many other tragedies throughout Jewish history. This day is the "low point" of the three-week period of mourning. As a result, the 9th of Av has become an annual fast day in the Jewish Community. The intention of the fast is to help Jewish people remember and learn from history the past moral failures of their ancestors, and thus, prevent future catastrophes.

Events in Jewish History that Occurred on the Ninth of Av

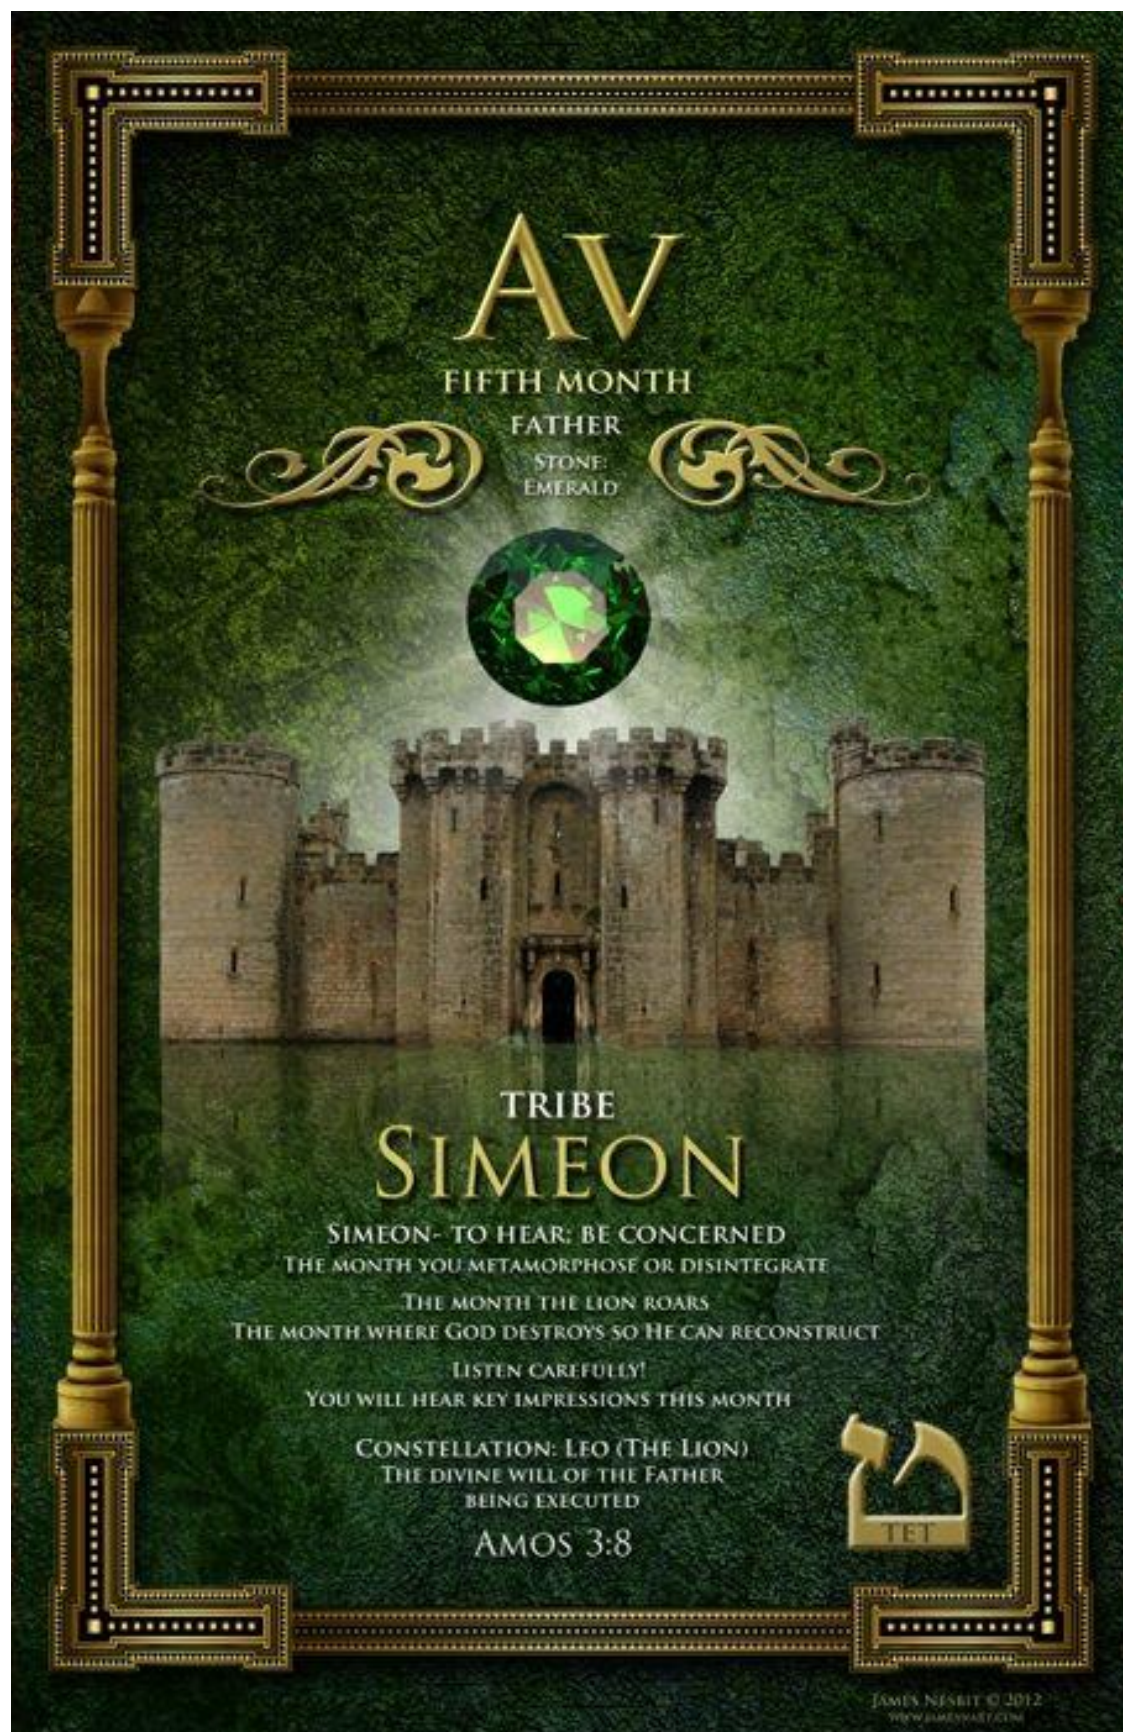

- Ten of the twelve spies came back with a negative report about the Promised Land (Numbers 14:1-10). The Israelites believed the evil report of the spies and refused to enter into the Promised Land. Consequently, this event started their 40-year wandering in the desert.
- The first Holy Temple (constructed by King Solomon) was destroyed by Nebuchadnezzar and his Babylonian army. Jerusalem was pillaged, and thousands of Jews were deported to Babylon. (587 B.C.)
- Titus destroyed the second Holy Temple (70 A.D.). In addition, the Roman army plowed into the city of Jerusalem with salt. (71 A.D.)
- The last stronghold of the Bar Kochba rebellion, the City of Betar, fell to the Romans in 135 A.D. Bar Kochba was killed along with over 100,000 Jews.
- Pope Urban II declared the first Crusade. Jerusalem fell to the invading army. Ten thousand Jews were killed in the first month of the Crusade. (1099 A.D.)
- England expelled the Jews. (1290 A.D.)
- Spain expelled the Jews. (1492 A.D.)
- World War I began when Germany declared war on Russia. This launched persecutions against the Jews in Eastern Russia. (August 1, 1914)
- The Germans began a systematic liquidation of the Jewish Ghettos in Poland. Jews were deported to extermination camps at the rate of six to ten thousand per day. (July 10, 1942)

The 15th of Av (Tu B'av)

Another important date in the month of Av is the 15th of Av (Tu B'av). It signifies the end of the three weeks of mourning. It also celebrates several favorable events in Jewish history and the reunion of God and Israel. Tu B'av is the "high point" of the month and a joyous day on the Hebrew Calendar.

Israel's Wilderness Wandering Ends

Several months after their exodus from Egypt, the Israelites were to conquer the land God had promised their forefathers (Exodus 3:8). So, Moses sent out 12 spies to survey the land of Canaan. However, when they returned, 10 of the spies gave evil reports. They convinced the people that the Canaanites were too strong for them to conquer. After this, the people became discouraged and began to grumble against Moses and Aaron (Numbers 13-14). Because they did not believe God's promises to them, God cursed the Israelites with forty years of wilderness wandering. They could not enter Canaan until the unbelieving generation died off in the desert. Instead, it would be their children who would enter the Promised Land (Numbers 13 and 14). So, after 40 years of wilderness wandering, the dying finally ended on the 15th of Av.

The Tribe of Simeon is one of the 12 tribes of Israel that in biblical times comprised the people of Israel who later became the Jewish people. The tribe was named after the second son born to Jacob and his first wife, Leah.

In time, part of the tribe of Simeon was apparently absorbed by Judah, while other members possibly relocated in the north. After the death of King Solomon (922 BC), the nation split into the northern Kingdom of Israel and the southern Kingdom of Judah. If the tribe of Simeon is counted among the tribes that formed the northern kingdom, then it too was assimilated by other peoples after the Kingdom of Israel was conquered by the Assyrians in 721 BC. One way or another, the tribe of Simeon disappeared from history and is thus numbered among the Ten Lost Tribes of Israel.

Territory

At its height, the territory occupied by the Tribe of Simeon was in the southwest of Canaan, bordered on the east and south by the tribe of Judah; the boundaries with the tribe of Judah are vague, and it seems that Simeon may have been an enclave within the west of the territory of the tribe of Judah. Simeon was one of the less significant tribes in the Kingdom of Judah.

Attempts to reconstruct the territory of Simeon work with three biblical lists: Joshua 19:2-9, and 1 Chronicles 4:28-32, which list towns belonging to Simeon, and Joshua 15:20-30, which lists these same towns as part of the territory of Judah. Nadav Na'aman divides scholarly work on the subject into two "schools of thought," which he calls "the Alt school" (following Albrecht Alt) and the "other school." The Alt school takes the list in Joshua 15 as reflecting the historical situation during the reign of Josiah, and sees the other two as later, and less reliable, attempts by editors to work out the earlier Simeonite territory. The "other school" sees the first two lists as reflecting the actual historical situation in the time of David (compare 1 Chronicles 4:31, and Joshua 15 as reflecting the situation at a later date). According to Na'aman, Simeonites settled in a pattern which overlapped Judah: while maintaining a distinct tribal identity and organization throughout the First Temple period (until 586 BC), Simeonites and Judahites lived in some of the same areas.

Origin

According to the Hebrew Bible, the tribe consisted of descendants of Simeon, the second son of Jacob and of Leah, from whom it took its name. However, Arthur Peake (1919) suggested that the narratives about the twelve sons of Jacob in Genesis might include later tribal history "disguised as personal history," in which the later histories of these tribal groups are recast in the form of narratives about supposed ancestors. Likewise, the consensus position of contemporary scholarship is that "there is little or no historical memory of pre-Israelite events or circumstances in Genesis."

In the biblical account, following the completion of the conquest of Canaan by the Israelites, Joshua allocated the land among the twelve tribes. Kenneth Kitchen, a well-known conservative biblical scholar, dates this event to slightly after 1200 BC. However, the consensus view of modern scholars is that the conquest of Joshua as described in the Book of Joshua never occurred.

Martin Noth argued that the six tribes that the Bible traces to Leah, including Simeon, were once part of an amphictyony prior to the later coalition of twelve tribes. According to Niels Peter Lemche, "Noth's amphictyonic hypothesis determined a whole generation of Old Testament scholars' way of thinking." However, more recently, a large number of scholars have dissented from Noth's theory.

In the opening words of the Book of Judges, following the death of Joshua, the Israelites "asked the Lord" which tribe should be first to go to occupy its allotted territory, and the tribe of Judah was identified as the first tribe. According to this narrative, the tribe of Judah invited the tribe of Simeon to fight with them in alliance to secure each of their allotted territories.

However, the tribe of Simeon is not mentioned in the ancient Song of Deborah, generally considered one of the earliest-written parts of the Hebrew Bible, and the Jewish Encyclopedia (1906) claims that Simeon was probably "not always counted as a tribe."¹ According to Israel Finkelstein, the south of Canaan, in which Simeon was situated, was simply an insignificant rural backwater at the time the poem was written. Another possibility is that Simeon, along with Judah, had simply not joined the Israelite confederacy at this point, or that they had seceded.

It is The Month of the Lion

The astrological sign of Av is the lion, which represents tragedy and potential for redemption. Our sages teach, "The lion [Babylonian King Nebuchadnezzar] came, under the constellation of lion [Leo], and destroyed the Lion of G-d [Jerusalem] . . . so that the Lion [Moshiach] shall come, under the constellation of lion, and build the Lion of G-d [Jerusalem]."

The Talmud relates that Moshiach was born on the very day when the Temples were destroyed: the 9th of Av. Moshiach was born from the tribe of Judah, whose symbol is the lion. This teaches us that the tragedies and suffering associated with the 9th of Av will turn into joy with the coming of Moshiach.

This is the month the Lion roars (Amos 3:8). This is one of the most incredible and prophetic months. When the lion – the people of God – roar, a prophetic covering is created. Amos 3 is about unlocking what is above you and the sound that begins to resound in the earth realm.

A Time of Mourning

The first nine days of Av are a period of mourning. We refrain from eating meat and drinking wine, except on Shabbat and on celebrations, such as a bar mitzvah, a brit (circumcision) or the completion of a tractate of the Talmud.

We also refrain from washing clothing (except for those of a baby) and wearing freshly washed clothing, swimming and bathing for pleasure, and remodeling a home. We avoid unnecessary travel and postpone the sanctification of the moon and celebrating a couple's engagement until after Tisha B'Av.

On a spiritual level, we also take time to increase mitzvah observance and our performance of kind deeds to improve the world.

The Worst Day in the World

On the 9th of Av, we commemorate several tragedies, among them: The Jews who left Egypt with Moses were condemned to wander and die in the desert for 40 years; the destruction of both Holy Temples by the Babylonians in 423 BC and by the Romans in 69 CE; and the Jews of Betar who were killed.

Later in history, in 1290, the Jews of England were expelled by King Edward; and the Jews of Spain were expelled by King Ferdinand and Queen Isabella in 1492. In 1942, the deportation of Jews from the Warsaw ghetto to the Treblinka extermination camp began.

The day is commemorated as a day of fasting and mourning.

We Read the Book of Lamentations on the 9th of Av

In the book of Lamentations, the prophet Jeremiah recorded the imminent destruction of the First Temple and the exile of the Jewish people.

G-d instructed Jeremiah to write down the words. He spoke about Israel and Judah in order to warn the house of Judah about tragedies that would occur if they did not repent. Jeremiah, imprisoned at the time, dictated three chapters to his student, Baruch ben Neriah, who wrote down the impending tragedies in past tense, as though they had already occurred. Per Jeremiah's instruction, Baruch read the scroll to the Jewish people, who had gathered at the Temple. Rashi relates that the scroll was read before King Jehoiakim, who, after hearing just a few verses, threw the scroll into the fireplace.

As Jeremiah prophesied, on the 9th of Av, the Temples were destroyed, and the Jews were led into captivity. Ever since this tragedy, we read the book of Lamentations on the eve of the 9th of Av.

The 15th of Av Is Known as One of the Happiest Days in Jewish History

This day, Tu B'Av, signifies rebirth after destruction and is a day for new beginnings. On this day, the daughters of Jerusalem would borrow linen garments in order not to embarrass others who did not have beautiful clothing and dance in the vineyards to find prospective grooms. The Talmud considers this day the greatest festival of the year, followed by Yom Kippur, as its essence represents the future redemption.

The 9th of Av was the date of Israel's sin of unbelief at Kadish Barnea. God had brought Israel out of Egypt by His mighty power. He showed them His faithfulness in the wilderness and taught them at Sinai and revealed His glory. Finally, He brought them up to the border of the Promised Land at Kadish Barnea.

The spies went in and brought back samples of the fruit of the land. They said, "This is a wonderful, fruitful land just as God promised.

But ten of the spies added, "We don't have the strength to take the land." Two of the spies gave the minority report, "God can give the land into our hands!" As so often happens, there was a voice of faith, and a voice of unbelief. When this happens, we need to be careful to choose correctly.

We Can Choose to BELIEVE God's PROMISE! We Can Choose to ENTER God's BLESSING!

The 15th of Av

"There were no holidays as joyous for the Jewish People as the fifteenth of Av and Yom Kippur," (Mishnah, Taanit)

Nowadays, on the Fifteenth of Av, we observe a partial holiday; we don't say "Tachanun," a daily plea for Divine mercy, on the day itself, nor even in the Afternoon Service of the day preceding the fifteenth, similar to a full-scale holiday. Bride and groom also do not fast if the fifteenth is the day of their marriage.

The last Mishnah in Masechet Taanit says, "There were no holidays so joyous for the Jewish People as the Fifteenth of Av and Yom HaKippurim, for on those days, daughters of Yerushalayim would go out dressed in borrowed white clothing (so that they would all look the same).

"The King's daughters would borrow from those of the High Priest. Daughters of the High Priest would borrow from the Assistant High Priest's daughters; daughters of the Assistant would borrow from the daughters of the Priest designated to lead the People in times of War; the Kohen Anointed for War's daughters would borrow from the daughters of the Ordinary Priest. And the daughters of the rest of the Jewish People would borrow from each other, so as not to embarrass those who didn't have.

"And the daughters of Jerusalem would go out and dance in the vineyards located on the outskirts of the city. And everyone who didn't have a wife would go there." (Notice the relative lack of concern about controlling the situation when the opposite sexes are mixed, perhaps because the recent fast (in the case of Tu B'Av) and the fast on that very day in the case of Yom Kippur, have triggered a sense of self-control, which would not ordinarily necessarily be present.)

“And what would they say?”

“Young man, lift up your eyes and choose wisely. Don’t look only at physical beauty – look rather at the family – ‘For charm is false, and beauty is vanity. A G-d – fearing woman is the one to be praised, ’ (“Mishlei”/ Proverbs 31:30)”

CHAPTER 2: THE TEN WORDS ARE THE MASTER COVENANT

YHVH does not deliver the Israelites from Egypt merely to free them from bondage, but to bring them into the same intimate covenant relationship with Himself that he had established with the Patriarchs. As recorded in Exodus, He declares to Moses on Mount Khorev:¹ “I come down to deliver them out of the hand of the Egyptians and to bring them unto a good land and a large"(Ex 3:7–8; cf. 3:10–11). Several centuries after the Patriarchs had passed away, the fulfillment of the Abrahamic promise begins to take shape, leading Israel to its defining covenantal moment of revelation.

The Legal Status of the "Mixed Multitude"

In the mid–second millennium BCE, the world was markedly different from today. Most peoples were immersed in pagan practices, worshipping multiple gods who had to be bribed or continually appeased. Temple cults centered on pleasing the gods often incorporated immoral practices such as ritual prostitution and sometimes even human sacrifice. There was no broadly applied moral or ethical standard to restrain human excesses. The weak had little protection against exploitation by the strong.

In the ancient world, the protection from catastrophe or destruction of a land from famine or war was attributed to the strength or weakness of its national gods. In this context, the defeat of Egypt's powerful gods by the unseen, unknown Elohim of the Hebrew slaves was extraordinary. Taking advantage of the situation, the "mixed multitude" (erev rav) of Gentiles seize the opportunity to escape their own slavery by aligning themselves with the victorious YHVH and His people. "Now the sons of Israel journeyed from Rameses to Succot, about six hundred thousand men on foot, aside from children. And a mixed multitude went up also with them." (Ex 12:37–38). From the beginning, the unfolding covenantal framework includes not only Israel as the "first born" recipient, but also those from the nations who attach themselves to YHVH and His people.

After fleeing Egypt and joining with the Hebrew tribes, what was the legal status of these Gentiles vis-à-vis the Hebrews? They would likely have been considered similar to a ger v'toshav (a sojourner, temporary resident; Lev 25:35)—a Gentile who lives among the Israelites without becoming a proselyte. A full convert, called a ger ha-gar, is a circumcised sojourner who permanently dwells among them as part of the Israelite community (Ex 12:48). But, regardless of status, the ethical and moral standards of the covenant apply equally to Israelites and gerim (pl.)—"You shall have one manner of law for the sojourner as it is for the native-born: for I am YHVH your Elohim" (Lev 24:22). This distinction will later prove important in understanding Jewish–Gentile relations in the time of Yeshua—and consequently in our own time.

Israelites chosen, Gentiles welcomed exclusively in the book of Deuteronomy, while only Exodus repeats the name merely three times. Conversely, Deuteronomy uses Sinai only once, and only in a later third-person poetic reference (Deut 33:2). This distribution indicates that Khorev preserves the earlier or original designation; accordingly, Sinai will generally be rendered as Moses' Khorev.

After Moses leads the people to Khorev, he ascends the mountain to receive instructions from YHWH. Elohim makes an offer to covenant with Israel, Moses brings the offer to them, and all the people agree to accept His terms.

"Now therefore, if you will obey My voice indeed, and keep My covenant, then you shall be My own possession from among all peoples and you shall be unto Me a kingdom of priests, and a holy nation." And all the people answered together, "All that YHWH has spoken we will do." (Ex 19:3–8).

The covenant reflects the same structural pattern found in the Abrahamic Covenant and all other primary biblical covenants: offer; acceptance; performance.

YHWH tells the Israelite tribes that they will be His own "possession," a chosen "kingdom of priests" from among all peoples. What does it mean to be "chosen?" How would the Israelite tribes be different from all the other pagan priesthoods? To be a "kingdom of priests" and a goy kadosh—a set-apart (i.e., holy) nation—implies a defined function, responsibility, and duty. This carries the same performance requirement of continued fidelity that marked the Patriarchs Abraham, Isaac (Gen 26:2–5), and Jacob (Gen 28:10–15). As the physical seed of Abraham, Israel consents to walk in that same Patriarchal path. They agree to heed Elohim's voice, remain in covenantal relationship, and serve as a guiding light—a priesthood to the goyim (pl. non-Israelite nations) whose sacred custodial duty is to carry and share the knowledge of the only true Elohim with the pagan world (Isa 42:6; 49:6; 51:4; Matt 4:10; Jn 4:22, 17:3, 20:17).

ISRAEL IS NOT "CHOSEN" FOR PRIVILEGE BUT FOR PURPOSE—TO BRING THE TEN WORDS TO THE WORLD

Therefore, Israel is set apart not for privilege alone, but for purpose—to bear witness to the One Most High Elohim, teaching the moral and ethical framework of the covenantal torah² to the polytheistic world. Their calling is to be a continuing example of living the Way of YHWH—practicing tsedakah (righteousness) and mishpat (justice)—according to the Master Covenant.

Elohim's pronouncement at Khorev was not a private revelation that anointed a privileged few as the only ones chosen to interpret secret knowledge for everyone else. No club of privileged priests was to guard the "secret knowledge" as there were and still are in many religions. The entire assembly, including the gerim, heard and accepted the covenant for themselves and well as all their descendants (Deut 5:2–3, 29:14–15). This event is not only unique in world history—it establishes an axiom: The covenant is given through Israel, but is not intended to remain confined to Israel alone.

The covenantal inclusion of the gerim who followed the Israelite tribes into the wilderness is consistently reinforced. Just before Israel enters the Land, Moses establishes the covenant renewal procedure; he incorporates "the sojourner that is in your camp" into the Covenant itself (Deut 29:10–12). The public reading of the Torah includes "the foreigner within your gates" (Deut 31:12). The principle is stated plainly: "one law for you and for the sojourner" (Ex 12:49; Lev 24:22; Num 15:15–16).

The prophets affirm this same covenantal inclusion: those from the goyim who "keep justice (mishpat) and do righteousness (tsedaqah)" (Isa 56:1–5), including "the sons of the sojourner who join themselves to YHVH every one that keeps the Shabbat, and holds firmly to My Covenant," are welcomed into "My house of prayer" (Isa 56:6–7). And Zechariah envisions the nations declaring to Israel, "We will go with you, for we have heard that Elohim is with you" (Zech 8:23). Isaiah describes the same movement of the nations toward the covenantal torah of YHVH: "And many peoples shall go and say, Come, and let us go up to the mountain of YHVH, to the house of the Elohim of Jacob; and He will teach us of His ways, and we will walk in His paths: for out of Zion shall go forth Torah, and the word of YHVH from Jerusalem" (Isa 2:3; see also Isa 49:22; Jer 3:17; Zeph 3:9).³

The Levitical priesthood that later emerges in Exodus and Leviticus should not be confused with the original covenant event itself. That later priestly structure belongs to the expanded torah⁴ and was designed to serve the needs of a more formal religious system.

Proofs Texts: The Ten Words are the Entirety of YHVH's Master Covenant

Moses asks the assembly whether they will accept YHVH's offer to covenant—even though they have not yet heard its specific commands—and Israel agrees to obey YHVH's voice and keep His covenant (Ex 19:3–8). Elohim then tells Moses that, in three days, He will descend in a thick cloud so that all the people will be able to individually hear His voice directly (Ex 19:9, 11). On the third day thereafter, YHVH descends upon the mountain and personally proclaims "the Ten Words" to the entire assembly (Ex 20:1–14; Deut 5:6–22). As stated, these Ten Words constitute the entirety of Elohim's direct public communication of the Master Covenant at Khorev—what we have defined as the covenantal torah.⁵

³ The Hebrew text reads simply torah rather than ha-torah ("the Torah"), emphasizing the proclamation of YHVH's covenantal torah from Zion rather than merely the transmission of a legal corpus.

This section examines the Scriptural texts that identify, define and validate the Torah of YHVH as Ten Words of the Master Covenant. It is crucial to establish biblical support for this distinct identification because traditionally, the entire Pentateuch has been labeled as the “Torah of Moses” including its expanded ethical legislation, sacrificial system, and ritual law codes. The traditional implication is that the entire expanded torah was itself divinely revealed through Moses. If so, the concise covenantal torah proclaimed directly by YHVH becomes overshadowed, and its clarity, primacy, and spiritual intimacy are diminished.⁶

Because of this religious categorization of the Pentateuch as the “Mosaic Law,” Jewish communities have generally been left with three practical options: observe the entire applicable legal expansion of the Pentateuch—including the later Oral Law, as the strictly Orthodox seek to do; follow only those portions deemed relevant, as other sects do; or reject it altogether as antiquated and/or “too difficult.”

Christians, on the other hand, have gone one step further. They have been taught that the Law of Moses is no longer binding upon believers because Yeshua perfectly fulfilled its requirements. For them, atonement and forgiveness for sin come through His sacrificial death and resurrection, provided they believe in it. This doctrine is commonly expressed as salvation by grace through faith in Jesus’ redemptive death and resurrection. Consequently, eternal life is generally understood not to depend upon obedience to the Ten Words of the covenantal torah.

However, confusion often arises when they read what Yeshua says in Matthew 5:17-18 (NASB): “Do not presume that I came to abolish the Law (Torah) or the Prophets; I did not come to abolish, but to fulfill. For truly I say to you, until heaven and earth pass away, not the smallest letter or stroke of a letter shall pass from the Law, until all is ⁵ The idea that The Ten Words are the biblical foundation of a universal faith around which the world could unite originated with renowned journalist David Horowitz (1903–2002). He coined the phrase “Decalogue Faith,” starting “United Israel World Union” (UIWU) in 1944 to promote the concept. Horowitz established UIWU as “an international movement to disseminate the Decalogue Faith both within and beyond the confines of Jewry. Its primary focus is to function as an association of any and all who are drawn to the One God of Abraham and the Holy Scriptures (the Tanakh or Hebrew Bible).” For more information: About UIWU.

accomplished. "Obviously, heaven and earth have not passed away, and all prophecy has not yet been fulfilled. This raises an obvious question. Did Yeshua end "the Law" by fulfilling it, or did he uphold it as the Way to inherit eternal life? — a question examined more fully in Chapter 4.

One way to identify the Torah given directly by YHVH is to examine how it was revealed. The enormous number of people who saw the cloud descend upon the mountain and heard YHVH's voice provided an unassailable witness to a one-time historical event. Because the Master Covenant was proclaimed directly to the entire assembled community, no priesthood or human intercessors were ordained and empowered to be the gatekeepers of that direct communal revelation. There was no intermediary "lesser god" (el), no malakh (messenger, agent, angel)—human or divine—between the voice of YHVH and the people. Moses' own testimony unmistakably describes the event at Khorev: "YHVH spoke with you face to face in the mount out of the midst of the fire" (Deut 5:4, 4:12, 4:33).

Furthermore, when the people agreed to accept the Master Covenant, the Ten Words of the covenantal torah were spoken directly to the entire community (Deut 5:6–21; Ex 20:1–17). In all binding contracts, the parties must be apprised of all of the conditions to which they are agreeing. To what torah did the assembly agree? The Ten Words of the Master Covenant spoken directly to them by YHVH or the entire Pentateuch transmitted over many years? The terms of that covenant were then engraved as the testimony spoken by Elohim Himself on the first—and later the second—set of stone tablets which Moses brought down from the mountain (Ex 31:18; 34:1, 4, 29). He then placed them in a sacred chest—the wooden ark (aron; chest) he built (Deut 10:1; Ex 40:20)—and entrusted them to Israel as the enduring documentation of Elohim's authentic instructions. The tablets preserve the covenantal torah in its original physical form as a perpetual testimony to the historical reality of the Khorev revelation.

If the terms of the covenant were spoken directly by YHVH before the entire assembly and preserved on the covenant tablets, Moses' own summary of that event becomes the decisive testimony regarding its extent. "And He added no more."

In the only first-person recounting of the Khorev event, Moses records:

"These words YHVH spoke unto all your assembly in the mount out of the midst of the fire with a great voice: And He added no more. And He wrote them upon two stone tablets, and gave them unto me." (Deut 5:22)

"And He added no more." This is Moses' definitive declaration concerning the extent of the Master Covenant revelation at Khorev. Its inclusion here provides the earliest first-hand testimony regarding the limits of that covenantal revelation. This decisive statement does not appear in the parallel third-person account of Exodus 20. Moses' declaration ends with a period, defining the boundaries of the original torah as heard and witnessed by both himself and the assembled nation. What YHVH spoke was not the beginning of a longer address containing additional instructions—it was the whole of it. The covenantal torah of YHVH is therefore simple and direct, addressing only the relationship between Elohim and people, and the ethical obligations of people toward one another.

"AND HE ADDED NO MORE" DEFINITELY MARKS THE END OF THE ORIGINAL COVENANTAL TORAH

Moses establishes a clear distinction that cannot be ignored. This is verified by his further statement that YHVH "declared unto you His Covenant the Ten Words; and He wrote them upon two stone tablets" (Deut 4:13; cf. Ex 34:28). The connection is explicit: the same Words were then permanently inscribed by the "finger of Elohim" upon stone tablets—sealing and sanctifying them as the totality of the contract between YHVH and the people. Placing the tablets alone inside the ark uniquely sets them apart as "a Testimony" of the supreme Deity (Ex 40:20).⁷

Since the phrase "And He added no more" marks the completion of divine communication, the following statutes, commandments, judgments, and regulations that are recorded in the rest of the Pentateuch had to be transmitted through human mediation (Ex 20:22–23:33; 24:3, 7; Deut 5:23ff). The distinction embedded in the text is between: (1) the covenantal torah spoken directly by YHVH—foundational and universally oriented; and (2) the expanded torah presented through a mediator, developed within Israel's priestly framework over time and intended for Israelite society. As previously highlighted, the expanded torah does not redefine or subjugate the covenant. Rather, its moral and ethical code flows from and is built upon the bedrock of the Ten Words. Significantly, the sacrificial and ceremonial observances recorded in the Pentateuch are never mentioned in the Ten Words of the Master Covenant.

Approaching the text from an entirely different angle, modern biblical scholarship has examined the same structural boundary separating the giving of the Ten Words from the rest of the Pentateuch text. Following the text-critical method of the "Documentary Hypothesis," numerous biblical scholars and commentators—religious and secular, Jewish and Gentile—have identified several layers within the later regulatory materials. Using investigative techniques that examine syntax, grammar, and ideological focus, ⁷ The Hebrew Scriptures constantly emphasize it was only the two stone tablets of the Testimony / Covenant that are placed 'el (into) or ba (in) the ark (Ex 25:16, 40:20; (Deut 10:2, 5; 1 Kgs 8:9; 2 Chron 5:10, etc.). The manna and Aaron's rod are "before (lifnei) the testimony" (Ex 16:34 Num 17:10). Also "before the testimony" was the "veil" (Ex 27:21), beaten incense for smoke in the holy of holies (Ex 30:35–36), etc.

scholars have associated these textual strata with the Priestly or Holiness traditions and, in some cases, later scribal additions.⁸ These materials focus on an institutional Temple administration and a regulated ceremonial structure centered on sacrificial observance.

Prophets Confirm the Primacy of the Master Covenant

Importantly, the validity of the Ten Words as the whole of the original covenantal torah is further reflected by the broader witness of the prophets. As expressed through Jeremiah:

"For I spoke not unto your fathers, nor commanded them in the day that I brought them out of the land of Egypt, concerning burnt-offerings or sacrifices: but this thing I commanded them, saying, 'Obey unto My voice, and I will be your Elohim, and you shall be My people; and walk in all the Way that I command you, that it may be well with you'." (Jer 7:22–23)

Amos presses the same point: "Did you bring unto Me sacrifices and offerings in the wilderness forty years, O house of Israel?" (Amos 5:25)—with the negative reply implied.

Reflecting this same covenantal arc, the prophets repeatedly affirm that YHVH desires and delights in fidelity and relationship over ritual: "I desire steadfast love (mercy), and not sacrifice" (Hos 6:6); "To obey is better than sacrifice" (1 Sam 15:22); "The sacrifices Elohim desires are a humble spirit a humble and repentant heart You will not reject" (Ps 51:17). Throughout the prophetic witness, sacrifice is consistently subordinated to YHVH's desire for repentance (teshuvah) and humble heart.

In the New Testament, John the Immerser (Yochanan ha-matvil) calls for repentance followed by water immersion—"for the forgiveness of sins"—without reference to blood sacrifice (Mark 1:4). This same emphasis is echoed in the practice of Yeshua and his disciples (John 3:22; 4:1) and further reflected in his teachings such as the parables of "The Prodigal Son" and "The Pharisee and the Sinner” (Luke 15:11–32; 18:9–14). These themes align closely with the prophetic emphasis on a humble heart, faithful obedience, and khesed. Together, these witnesses establish a clear priority: the covenantal torah establishes the direct instructions of YHVH; all subsequent directives remain subordinate to it—including later requirements concerning blood atonement for the forgiveness of sin.

Moreover, evidence from the descendants of the original Jewish followers of Yeshua supports this emphasis. The Ebionites, whom the Church Fathers confirm as descendants of the Jerusalem community of James, reiterate the prophetic critique. In their "Gospel of the Ebionites," as preserved by Epiphanius and others, Yeshua declares: "I have come to abolish sacrifices; and if you do not stop sacrificing, the wrath of God will not cease from you" (Panarion 30.16.5).⁹

Elohim's desire is for a people defined by an inner commitment to the covenantal torah, expressed through a consistent pattern of ethical and moral living as exemplified by Abraham (Gen 18:19). The prophets affirm the same priority: "I am YHVH, who exercises steadfast love, justice, and righteousness on the earth— because I delight in these things," declares YHVH (Jer 9:24). His followers are likewise called to imitate the attributes in which he "delights."

The Ten Words are "the Covenant," "the Testimony" and "the Torah"

When searching for validation of any biblical thesis, one must search the words of Scripture to find a pattern of usage. A minimum of two or three scriptural witnesses is required (Deut 17:6; 19:15; Matt 18:16). The supporting texts can sometimes be rather obscure, but in this case, they are very clear. In the Tanakh, it is only the Ten Words that are consistently identified as "His Covenant," and "the words of the Covenant;" the tablets on which they were written are called "the tablets of the Covenant." Many passages further identify the Ten Words as "the Testimony," extending to "the tabernacle of the Testimony" and "the two tablets of the Testimony."

Thus, Scripture records that "He wrote on the tablets the words of the Covenant—the Ten Words" (Ex 34:28b). The Hebrew expression 'et divre ha-berit (the words of the Covenant) employs the definite article ha- ("the"), thereby identifying the Ten Words as "the Covenant." Likewise, Moses recounts that when he ascended the mountain "YHVH delivered unto me the two stone tablets, the tablets of the Covenant" (Deut 9:9–11, 4:13). These same tablets are then called "the Testimony," which Moses places into the ark (Ex 25:16; 40:20), giving rise to the "tabernacle of the Testimony" (Num 1:50, 53) and the "ark of the Testimony" (Ex

⁹ Epiphanius. Panarion, translated by Frank Williams, Leiden: Brill, 2009.

25:22; 26:33–34) that contains “the two tablets of the Testimony.” (Ex 31:18, 32:15)

These and many additional passages—well over seventy across the Pentateuch—repeatedly identify the Ten Words, and the tablets upon which they are written, as “the Covenant” and “the Testimony.”¹⁰ No other covenant is attested with comparable clarity or frequency. Furthermore, whenever we encounter the expressions “My Covenant” or “the Covenant of YHVH (the LORD)” relating to Israel, they refer to the Master Covenant inscribed on the tablets and never to the Pentateuch as a whole.¹¹ This is evident not only from the terminology itself, but from the specific transgressions associated with breaking that covenant.

Significantly, transgressions associated with “My Covenant” also consistently concern violations of the Instructions of the Ten Words (Ex 19:5; Deut 31:16, 20; Judg 2:2; 2 Chron 7:19; Ezek 44:7; Hos 6:7; Isa 56:4, 6). References to the “Covenant of YHVH” likewise center upon the same covenantal obligations (Num 10:33; Deut 4:23; 29:12, 25; Josh 3:3; 1 Sam 4:4; 1 Kgs 8:1; 2 Chron 6:11; Jer 22:9). Most transgressions cited concern idolatry and profaning of the Shabbat.

Early Jewish sources from the apostolic community called “The Way” reflect the same understanding—particularly that the Master Covenant is the original, authentic Torah. A section of the Pseudo-Clementine Recognitions writings (Ascents of James, 1.35.2), attributed to the descendants of that original apostolic movement called the Ebionites (Heb. evyonim) preserve one of their traditions that states plainly: “They heard with heavenly sounds of the Law of God, all ten commandments.”¹² This formulation explicitly equates “the Law”—i.e., the Torah—solely with the Ten Words.

Jewish and Gentile interpreters have consistently recognized this. Rashi, the most influential Jewish commentator (1040–1105 CE), describes the tablets as “the Torah” and “the testimony between Me and you” (cf. Ex 25:16; 40:20).¹³ Likewise, Christian scholars Keil and Delitzsch observe that the Ten Words constitute “the basis upon which the covenant was concluded.”¹⁴

Taken together, the evidence is cumulative and consistent: The Ten Words are not merely commandments within the covenantal structure—they are the Covenant itself: the original, public, and complete expression of YHWH’s will—the Master Covenant. To recognize the distinction between Khorev and Sinai is to recover the original covenantal meaning of Torah.

Textual Note: The Moses Scrolls (Shapira)

It is worth noting that this structural distinction is plainly reflected in the reconstructed biblical text fragments commonly referred to as the Shapira “Moses Scrolls.” The text presents a short narrative entirely in Moses’ first-person voice, corresponding to parts of our canonical Deuteronomy. Intriguingly, the material corresponding to the law code of Deuteronomy 12–26 is absent from the extant reconstruction. That text, written on leather strips in ancient paleo-Hebrew, also contains the conclusive declaration “And He added no more.” Reported to have been discovered in caves on the Jordanian side of the Dead Sea, the fragments exhibited a darkened, brittle condition reminiscent of some of the Dead Sea Scrolls discovered decades later. These fragments have a fascinating story that will be discussed in the following chapter.

Terry Friesen: The Father's Vision

On June 27, 2026 I received a powerful revelation of the Father's love—His heart, His vision, and His overwhelming compassion.

As I was brought into a revelatory space, I began seeing through the Father's eyes. His love and care for His children and for all of creation are immense. I saw a Father who knows exactly who He created His children to be, and because He cannot deny His own nature, He cannot reduce His vision of us. He cannot lower His expectations or settle for something less simply because we made the wrong choice. I cannot overstate the weight of the impact when I saw this perspective.

We were deceived by the counterfeit that the serpent offered—a simplified, warped, imitation of what the Father had always intended. Yet the Father has NEVER compromised His vision of original design for us.

Our journey has always been one of discovery. We are moving toward the day when our eyes are fully opened, and we see ourselves fully through the Father's vision. As we truly know our Father, we discover who we are as sons (daughters). We are progressively stepping back into the higher state for which He created us.

Of course, there is a gap between how the Father sees us and where we presently are. That gap has been completely paid for through the finished work of Jesus Christ. Because of His blood, a pathway has been established—both spiritually and practically—for us to return to proper alignment and design.

We are already reconciled to the Father because of Christ, but the full expression of who we are must still be restored. We cannot remain lesser copies simply covered by Christ's perfection forever. His righteousness covers us during this season while humanity is still becoming what it was created to be, but there is coming a time when we will fully enter our true inheritance of being. Christ's finished work was not solely designed as a covering, or an ethereal perfection in the spirit; it was ultimately for our complete transformation (physical, soul, and spirit). We are to become the New Man that has been prophesied through and through.

At that point, we will no longer need a covering for our fallen condition because we will have stepped into the complete expression of who the Father created us to be and what the Son paid for us to become. We will finally occupy the reality that has always existed in the Father's heart. To consider anything less would be to diminish the Father's vision and Christ's finished work on the cross.

Most would acknowledge that our ultimate ending will be greater than our current experience, but at the same time, we've been told this cannot happen until we go to Heaven. It is true that death and the application of the cross are required, but Christ made provision for that already, today. Shifting our understanding of how this is laid out in scripture provides a pathway and comprehension for how Christ can accomplish that work in us here and now.

We willingly recognize that we are seated with Christ in Heavenly places and we are perfect, lacking nothing in this spiritual frame. What we have not recognized is that the Father intends for us to fully realize our original physical design in this place through this Heavenly reality.

I also saw that we are approaching a time when we will step into full sonship. The glory of the Father will rest upon us in such a measure that it will become impossible for us to take any credit for it ourselves. The transformation will be so obvious that no one could conclude it originated with us. It will be unmistakably clear that it comes from our Father.

As the vision of the Father intersects the finished work of Christ in our physical bodies, the new person that we are is revealed. In fact, when the energized spirit of Christ co-mingles with the authentic original design of who we are, a completely new substance is born – the regenerated man. It is neither our old man, nor the Spirit of Christ alone, it is Him in us activating and quickening our mortal bodies to become who we are destined to be. Jesus experienced this fully as He was transfigured in His physical body before He went to the cross.

There is a deep desire within the redeemed human spirit to finally come to rest within a life that has become everything it was designed to be. Yet even then, we will always recognize that we are not the source of either our existence or the glory that comes from our lives. The further we walk down this path, the clearer it will become that both our design and the glory on our lives come from the One who created us.

The soul will finally rest because sin has been completely overcome. There is no longer merely a covering over brokenness. Instead, the old has passed away, and we have fully entered the new. We have stepped into the promise itself and experienced the complete transformational reality contained in the promise of Christ's victory. The works we are designed to perform come from this transformational reality, not to it. In fact, the transformational reality of who we are becoming will be realized in a frame of supernatural expression.

We've been designed in such a way that the spiritual reality we live is to be greater than the physical, but we are to live this out in a physical body, at least in this era on the earth.

Lest we lose perspective: the grand design of our lives and the glory that will arise on the manifested sons of God, does not elevate us; it elevates our creator and points to Him. We will experience levity because we will occupy our original design, but within ourselves we will know it is not of ourselves but from the one who created us.

During this revelation, I saw very clearly that our highest purpose is not what we do, but who we become and how this reveals the one who created us.

A significant part of our commission is to reveal what a son (daughter) truly is and to invite others into the reality of sonship.

There will certainly be supernatural demonstrations of that reality, but the demonstrations are not the goal. The demonstrations exist so that those who see them will recognize the Father's fingerprint. Something within them—the sonship DNA placed there by the Father Himself—will awaken as they see sonship on display. As they recognize what they were always created to be, they will begin reflecting that same reality because everything will point to the Father – our creator.

Humanity has been so diminished by sin, oppression, and deception that we scarcely have any concept of who we were actually created to become. How can we walk into something we cannot even imagine exists? This diminished frame exists within the church as much as it exists outside of the church. We've come to recognize our need of a savior, but do we truly comprehend who we were designed to be?

Yet while I was worshipping, some of the deepest moments came as the Father simply looked at me as His son—not according to where I presently am, but according to the highest expression of who He created me to be. He looked at me through His vision without lowering His expectation. When I experienced His eyes looking at me through His vision, my inner man became nourished, strengthened, and transformed simply by receiving His vision for my life, for all of His children.

It is not about leaving earth behind.

It is about heaven restoring earth through sons who have become fully alive.

As this awakening occurs, space is created for us to begin walking in realities that once seemed impossible. Remember, this is not something we can perform, it is His energizing work by His Spirit that quickens us to become the object of His vision.

My response is simply:

"Yes, Father. Whatever that looks like, I say yes."

I also sensed that destiny itself will become much clearer.

The Father's vision of us and our destiny is inseparable. Our highest destiny is simply becoming the person He has always seen us to be; identity and the actions a son would walk in. We will never fully walk in His glory or His authority apart from walking in that original vision.

This life is ultimately about discovering three things:

- 1) Who the Father is.

- 2) Who He created us to be.
- 3) What we are called to accomplish together with Him while we are here on the earth.

Jesus came to restore us and to reveal the Father, and Holy Spirit was sent to release the same outcome in demonstrations of power and transformation.

Let's be abundantly clear, there is something uniquely significant about this life. While eternity continues beyond this world, this present age is where destiny is forged and expressed. Perhaps in the new heavens and the new earth the Father's original vision reaches its fullest expression, but we are destined to be the living conduit of this transformational change.

We are not destined to remain bound to the diminished version of creation introduced through sin. We are destined for the Father's original design, and He has made a way for this to be fully expressed in the earth before this kingdom-advancing era closes and another opens.

Therefore, my prayer is this:

"Father, lead us into the fullest expression of Your vision for our lives. Let us refuse every lesser identity and every diminished version of who You created us to be. Give us grace to receive, as we are able, the complete revelation of Your destiny for us. I receive the full expression of grace that exists in Christ to both bring rest to my soul now, and to walk forward into a full and complete transformation."

May we walk in nothing less than the fullness of Your heart, Your design, and Your purpose.

In the name of Jesus."

Amen.

TIKVAH, THE SCARLET CORD OF HOPE IN AN HOUR OF GREATER SHAKING!

In the early hours of this morning, July 7, 2026, I had a powerful dream. In the dream, I saw President Trump carrying a Globe of the World upon his shoulders. The weight of the Globe was almost tangible. And I watched as his knees began to buckle beneath the heavy burden of the Globe. His back looked as though it was breaking, and his legs seemed to become weaker with every step he took, yet I watched as he continued to stagger forward beneath the great weight of the World.

Then suddenly, in the dream, my attention shifted, and I watched as the ground beneath his feet began to shake violently. I watched as great Earthquakes took place, Volcanoes began erupting, Flood Waters Rising and Raging Fires burned across beautiful landscapes. I could see a violent swirling of the waters of the seas, tsunamis forming, mighty whirlwinds and great tornadoes were breaking forth upon the nations. Strange Weather patterns were shifting with increasing intensity, and Nation after Nation was being violently Shaken.

The Whole Earth seemed to have entered into a Time and Season of unprecedented Turbulence. In the dream, it felt like the powerful Contractions of an Expectant Mother in Labor - wave upon wave of increasing intensity, as though all of Creation was groaning in anticipation of an imminent birth - both in the Natural and in the Supernatural!

And in the midst of all the Shaking

I saw the World Globe that sat upon President Trump's shoulders seemed to become increasingly more precarious. With every violent tremor beneath his feet, the burden became heavier. Every step he took felt more dangerous, and every movement required a greater effort and greater attention to stay standing and moving forward. But I watched in the Dream as he continued to stagger beneath the increasing weight, and I knew by the Spirit that a time of greater Global shaking was not only coming upon the very foundations of Nations, but that a greater Shaking would increase surrounding President Trump's Second term Presidency.

I knew in the dream that every remaining day of what lies ahead of his Presidency would be fiercely contended for. I saw increasing opposition, and I saw Assassination attempts becoming more brazen. The burden of the Spirit upon me in the dream was one of growing urgency. I came away from the dream with a deep conviction that this is not an hour for Complacency, but for serious Watchfulness and prevailing Prayer. I believe the Ecclesia is being summoned to stand in the gap with renewed vigilance for the President and for the Destiny of the Nation. And I knew by Revelation that unless the Body of Christ takes seriously the Call to Pray without ceasing, the increasing attempts against his life would not only intensify but eventually succeed! I have spoken in recent months about what I believe the Lord has been saying concerning "Satan Seeking a Generational Presidential REDO."

The Spirit of Revelation showed me that the days ahead will demand a Praying Remnant that will not relent in their Battle Cry for the Safe Keeping of the President and the Destiny of the Nation. The days ahead will require a Governing Ecclesia to Arise, take hold of the Horns of the Altar, and Wrestle for the Blessing of the Nations.

Like Jacob, we must declare, "I will Not Let You Go Until You Bless me!"

Then suddenly, in the dream, my eyes were drawn to what looked like a bright red tie around President Trump's neck. The Scarlet Cord reached from his neck to the very ground beneath his feet, and it was quickened to me by the Spirit that the Covenant Reached into the very place of Greatest Shaking. I knew by the Spirit that where the Shaking would become greatest, the Power of Covenant would prove Strongest. As I looked at the Long Scarlet Cord, Suddenly, I heard the Word, "TIKVAH!" But as I heard the Word "TIKVAH," I saw what looked like two figures step forward into the dream. And immediately, it was quickened to me that they were symbolic of an Aaron and Hur type. I watched as the two Figures came alongside President Trump in the midst of the great Shaking. As the weight upon his shoulders became greater and his Strength looked like it was failing, I watched as they lifted up his arms.

The Globe was still Shaking as it remained upon his shoulders. The ground beneath his feet was still shaking violently. Nothing around him had changed. The burden had not become lighter, but the Weight was Shifting. He was no longer standing alone.

And I heard these words, "NOT BY MIGHT, NOR BY POWER, BUT BY MY SPIRIT" SAYS THE LORD!

When I heard those words, I knew by the Spirit that what lay ahead will not be Carried, Sustained, or Built and Established by the Strength of Men or by Political Power or the Wisdom and Might of Man.

What lays ahead will require Divine Intervention and a Mighty Manifestation of the Spirit of God in the Earth Realm. It will require a praying Remnant. It will require those who will come alongside to continue to Stand in the gap and uphold the Weary hands and feeble knees UNTIL the Purposes of God are fulfilled and brought to Completion!

Suddenly I woke up, and as I got up and began to Pray, the Holy Spirit immediately reminded me of a powerful Word He had given me on June 23, 2020, both the Timing of the Vision and the Prophetic Word given at that time was unmistakably similar.

Please See Link; <https://www.hiskingdomprophecy.com/america-president.../>

At that time, likewise, my attention was drawn to President Trump's Red tie, and it was quickened to me then the account of Rahab and the Scarlet Cord. And now, six years later, 2026, which I do not believe is a coincidence, in the midst of another dream involving President Trump, the Nations and a Season of Great Shaking, the Holy Spirit has once again highlighted the same Hebrew word, "TIKVAH!"

I submit that this is one of the most beautiful and profound Hebrew words in all of Scripture, for Tikvah means both "cord" and "hope!" Again, this is no coincidence. The Scarlet Cord Rahab hung from her Window was Called Tikvah. Her scarlet cord became her Hope. Her Hope hung visibly from her Window as a Testimony of an Invisible yet Unshakeable Covenant!

I believe we have now entered into a Window of Time - a Kairos Time of Greater Shakings - a window of Time where everything that can be Shaken will be Shaken; a Window of Time where the Lord is exposing False Foundations, confronting False Altars and bringing every work of man into the Light. "Watch! for the Shaking will not only touch Nations, but I Will Shake Governments, Economies, Religious Systems, Political Structures!" I submit, the Scarlet Cord was not just a Rope, but it became the visible Sign of God's Covenant Mercy - a visible Sign of Covenant Preservation and Divine Intervention; a visible Sign that although Judgment may fall all around, where God finds a Covenant Remnant full of Faith and Obedient Faith, Mercy Triumphs!

When the Walls of Jericho came crashing to the ground, Rahab's house remained standing. The Walls fell, but the Covenant stood; the Judgment came, but Gods Mercy Remained. A Righteous Remnant was Protected, Preserved, and Restored! As I waited on the Lord, the Holy Spirit then quickened to me the Significance of the Prophetic timing.

This recent dream, July 2, 2026, comes on 17 Tammuz in the Hebrew year 5786. This day on the Hebrew Calendar remembers the Breaching of Jerusalem's Walls and Marks the beginning of the Three Weeks, a Solemn Season that culminates in the Remembrance of the Destruction of the Temple.

Prophetic Note; "Watch and Pray Specifically over the Next (3) Weeks of Time" the Next (3) Weeks will be a Key Time Prophetically. I submit by the unction of the Spirit that what takes place during this Three-Week Window will have implications for the next (3) Months that follow, reaching even toward the Presidential Mid-terms!"

I began to see a powerful Prophetic Parallel, and I heard these Words, "Watch! For a Simultaneous move of Divine Justice and Divine Mercy as My Governing Hand Moves to Judge what is Rebellious, and Preserve what is Mine. Watch! As False foundations Shake and Fall, My Covenant will stand. As Judgment Advances, My Mercy will mark and preserve My Faithful Remnant!"

We see that at Jericho the Walls fell, but the House marked by Tikvah remained Standing in the midst of the Great Shaking. At Jerusalem, the Walls were breached because of Covenant Unfaithfulness, ushering in National Mourning and Judgment - Two Cities, Two Walls, but Two very different outcomes.

One was marked by a Scarlet Cord; the other Remembered a Nation whose Covenant Relationship with God had been broken. Then I heard the Spirit say, "Beloved, where is your Tikvah? Where is your Hope? Where is your Confidence: in Governments? Political Leaders? Financial and Economic Systems and Structures? Religious Institutions? Or is your Hope Anchored in the Everlasting Covenant sealed by the Blood of the Lamb?"

Saints, I believe this is the Prophetic Invitation of the hour. As the Foundations and many Walls continue to Shake across the Nations - Political Walls, Economic Walls, Religious Walls, Ideological Walls and Systems built upon the Knowledge and Wisdom of Men - the Lord is Calling His People Back to Tikvah, back into Divine Alignment with His Covenant, back to the Blood, back to the only Hope that cannot be Shaken. The dream of President Trump carrying what appeared to be the Weight of the Nations upon his shoulders also reminded me that no one was ever intended to Carry such a Burden alone. Just as Aaron and Hur upheld the hands of Moses as the Battle for the Destiny of a Nation raged until Victory came, I believe the Lord is Calling forth His Righteous Remnant, His Watchmen and Intercessors, who will faithfully stand in the Gap to Strengthen Weary hands and feeble Knees and who will Refuse to relent in Prayer and Prophetic Decree UNTIL His Kingdom purposes are fully accomplished. We know that Rahab's story did not end with Divine Preservation. She was brought into Covenant Alignment. She married into Israel, became the mother of Boaz, the Great-Grandmother of King David, and is Named in the Genealogy of Jesus Christ. The Scarlet Cord pointed beyond Jericho's Walls. It pointed to the Blood of Jesus Christ. It pointed to the Power of Redemption, God's Mercy, Radical Hope, and the Everlasting Covenant!

I believe Heaven is asking us one simple, yet Heart searching question in this hour of increased Shaking, Sifting, and Separation: "Where is your Tikvah?" for when Earthly Walls and Foundations begin to Shake, Tremble and Give Way; when every false Foundation is exposed, and when every Ungodly System built by the hands of Man is Shaken.

Only ONE THING will Remain Unshaken

The Covenant of God; The Power of our Testimony; the Blood of the Lamb; the Scarlet Cord of Hope, "Tikvah!" Today, as we meditate on these powerful Truths, let our Faith and Hope never Rest in the Walls of Men but in the God whose Covenant cannot ever be Shaken or Destroyed. For when Jericho's Walls fell, Tikvah Remained. When Jerusalem's Walls were Breached, God still Preserved a Faithful Remnant.

In this hour of Greater Shakings, the Scarlet Cord still Hangs; the Blood of Jesus still Speaks a Better and Higher thing. The Covenant still Stands, and our TIKVAH Remains!

BANNER DAYS

"Hold on, because BANNER DAYS are coming - days when the darkness is REMOVED from the atmosphere and the people who are partnered with evil have been brought to JUDGMENT and JUSTICE.

"No longer will these be INFECTING the world with their LUST for POWER and WEALTH and with their diabolical DEATH AGENDAS. Instead, My OVERARCHING BANNER of LIGHT and GLORY will cover the nations, and the Kingdom Era of the Golden Age of PEACE and PLENTY will unfold. There will be individuals and nations that choose to continue to serve EVIL and SELF, but they will be ISOLATED and have little effect on the nations of Light.

"When the atmosphere is FREED from the darkness and defilement, people will be able to FEEL My LOVE as a BANNER over their lives. People will still need the Blood of My Son to have VICTORY in their hearts over SIN and DEATH. Relationship with Me will be SOUGHT AFTER and GREATLY PRIZED, and these TRANSFORMED lives will walk in Kingdom ways of RIGHTEOUSNESS, JUSTICE, and FREEDOM. As death agendas of the darkness are stopped and reversed, many BANNERS of VICTORY, HEALING, and HEALTH will be released. BANNERS DAYS will be days that you don't just LEARN about spiritual things, you LIVE OUT OF THE SPIRITUAL REALM IN UNION WITH THE EARTHLY REALM.

"These BANNERS DAYS will be days of WONDER, AWE, and DEEP SATISFACTION. You are marked for BANNER DAYS."

SEVERE SHAKINGS are coming!

"My GLORY is PROGRESSIVELY REVEALED from your life as you INVEST in our relationship—spending TIME with Me, ACKNOWLEDGING Me throughout your day, STUDYING My written Word, CELEBRATING communion, and LEARNING to hear My voice. The more you invest in our relationship, the GREATER will be the RICHES OF GLORY DISPLAYED in your life. CHRIST IN YOU IS THE HOPE OF GLORY."

"Clues that will let you know you are LISTENING TO NEGATIVE CHATTER: when you get a KNOT in your stomach, you become ANXIOUS about the future, and you begin to DOUBT those I have placed in leadership over your nation. I want you to LISTEN to what I say and BELIEVE what I have promised. The darkness is stirring up CHAOS, DOUBT, and FEAR. Send that back into their camp. Don't buy into their NEGATIVE CHATTER but, instead, PRAY for your leaders' decisions to be in ALIGNMENT with My heart and My plans. Turn off the NEGATIVE CHATTER and CALL IN the VICTORY and the TRIUMPH of the Light over the darkness. Take authority over the DARK CHATTER and SILENCE its voice to you and to the nations. Be still and know that I AM God.

"My Army of Light, I want you to call forth My GOODNESS to be released into all the areas of devastation around the world. Pray that hearts would turn to Me and receive My COMFORT, LOVE, and HOPE. Release My promise of a NEW DAY and a NEW WAY of living on the earth as people learn to live from My Kingdom and from My heart. My SEVERE SHAKINGS will turn to MULTIPLIED BLESSINGS, RESTORATION, and a NEW DAY of LIFE and LIGHT, PEACE and HOPE. Trust My POWER and My GOODNESS.

"Don't UNDERESTIMATE the POWER of My QUIET REVOLUTION of the heart. Call forth My QUIET REVOLUTION of LOVE and send forth Angels to carry this message to people's HEARTS all over your land. This QUIET REVOLUTION will help bring about an era of UNITY, PEACE, and PLENTY.

"Release Angels of JOY and CELEBRATION to stir the people up and to inspire family and community celebrations. Call forth a rising tide of love to sweep your nation, to squelch naysayers, and to welcome your nation's 250th birthday with great joy and unity of heart.

"Continue to pray that their evil schemes will BLOW UP in their faces—your warfare will be more EFFECTIVE against them now. CELEBRATE that this dark ruler has been DEPOSED and declare, 'We are raising up a standard of righteousness that is stemming the flood of filth the evil empire released, and we are calling in truth, righteousness, and justice to reign in the place of the DEPOSED DARK RULER.' Rejoice!

"Your assignment is to keep FILLING the void that was created by declaring, 'Light come and fill the void left by darkness being deposed. Righteousness and justice, flood into this emptiness. We release Your judgments against those people who were partnered with this dark entity, and we decree that they will now be dislodged and deposed from their positions of power, wealth, and influence.' Pray for an INCREASE in My PIERCING LIGHT of EXPOSURE, and I will UNCOVER ALL that has been hidden and lied about. Their PANIC and CONFUSION will push them to do and say FOOLISH things, and they will FURTHER EXPOSE themselves as CORRUPT LIARS. This is the BREAK you have been waiting for, so move into the empty territory and PLUNGE YOUR SWORD INTO THE GROUND and declare, 'This is our rightful covenant territory, and WE ARE TAKING IT BACK in the mighty name of Jesus, our Conqueror!'

"Your job, My Army of Light, is to release governmental Angels to SUPPORT those I have kept in place to STEWARD a new season of HONESTY and ACCOUNTABILITY. Pray for the hearts of these honest leaders to be STRENGTHENED and for them to have hearts that will SEEK Me for DIRECTION and GUIDANCE. Release My Warrior Hosts to CLAMP DOWN on paid rebellion and dark schemes of retaliation. Release My PEACE and the FEAR OF THE LORD to fill the atmosphere and bring needed STABILITY, HOPE, and a DETERMINATION to have RIGHTEOUS ways established in your governmental systems. Pray for your Military to be STRONG and MEASURED during this transition season, as their presence will be needed. The MASS EXODUS of the corrupt will cause some SHAKING and UNCERTAINTY, but I will be SUPPORTING your President and the trustworthy leaders, and the end result will be a CLEANING OUT of corruption and a NEW DAY for your nation. Be STRONG in the POWER of My MIGHT.

"As I TURN UP THE HEAT of EXPOSURES in JULY, I want you to TURN UP THE HEAT of your DECLARATIONS and DECREES for EXPOSURE, EXPOSURE, EXPOSURE. CALL IN My Host to DISMANTLE and DISEMPOWER the STRIKES of RETALIATION planned by the darkness who are in GREAT FEAR because I AM TURNING UP THE HEAT IN JULY.

"Partner with Me, My Army of Light, and declare that July will be THE MONTH OF EXPLOSIVE EXPOSURES. Join Me in releasing My FLAMING HOSTS to LIGHT FUSES all around your nation. Declare over the month of July, 'LET THE FIREWORKS BEGIN!'

"Declare that YOUR SEASON OF PROMISES FULFILLED IS JUST AHEAD."

NATE & CHRISTY

Word for July – The enemy has overplayed his hand

I was in worship when I heard these words: "The enemy overplayed his hand against you..."

When he sent those people to slander you and oppose you relentlessly for years. When he targeted your marriage relentlessly for years, creating division, strife, and discord. When he constantly warred against your home, attacking the peace of your home, and went after your children. When he released lies, accusers, saboteurs, and people to war against you he overplayed his hand. When he shut those doors of opportunity and tried to block you from the path and calling for your life. When he sent the betrayers, the Absaloms, that would undermine you, steal your mantle to make it their own, and usurp your assignment. When he sent Jezebel to muzzle you, shut down your voice, and send you running out of the city that He called you to. When he surrounded you with a multifaceted attack on your character and sent the identity assassination to break you down and cause you to run. When he came against your mind, triggering old insecurities and fears, and tried to bring up old dead things from the past. When he tried to kill you, take you out with sickness, problems, deplete you, exhaust you, and crash you– body, mind, and soul - he overplayed his hand.

When he tried to intimidate you and make you feel small in a place you were anointed to occupy. When he robbed you, depleted your bank accounts, stole your fruit and everything you've been working for and toward for years. When he delayed you, frustrated you by sending irritations, people to wear you down, and discourage you from building what you were called to build. When he tried to make you think that God had abandoned you, left you for dead, and that your best days were over. When he thought that all of these tactics would be the last nail in the coffin, all it did was raise up dead men. It brought you to the place of death to yourself, and your spirit man came back fighting. It pushed you into the corner and weaponized you. It revealed the enemy's agenda and caused you to clean house: to stock-take your friends, alignments, what you were putting your time and effort into, what you're sowing into, what you were partnering with, agreeing with, and vowing to. All it did was cause you to level up! It caused those seeds to fall to the ground and die, so that resurrection could come. Something has grown in the dark. Something has grown in the midnight hours.

I hear the Lord saying,

"We're in a season of divine restitution. For all the years of warfare, for all the years of assassination, you are in a season of divine restitution." For every word curse that's been spoken, every familiar spirit that's been sent, every monitoring spirit that has been sent out to chase you, to surveil you - divine restitution is here. For every word of betrayal, slander, and Absalom that's been sent to you - divine restitution. For every time you've been shut down, muzzled, robbed in every area of your life - divine restitution. In your body, in your soul, in your mind - divine restitution. Just as David came to Ziklag and saw the robbery of the enemy but chose to strengthen himself in the Lord, so have you chosen that same posture. And because of that, God said to him to go and recover all. It was a divine restitution moment after the enemy had overplayed his hand. I feel this same divine moment upon us.

So, I prophesy this over your July: This month begins the turning back of the tide of so much injustice that has been against you, in Jesus' name. God is turning it back.

I hear the Lord saying: "Watch now as I exonerate you! This is a season I'm going to settle the score. I'm going to reveal even publicly, My heart and My favor upon you where you've been slandered and wrongfully accused. I will turn back their words, and I will make them eat their words. But this is an hour that I'm going to settle the score. Divine restitution and recompense will come upon you and restore you to your post."

"You intended to harm me, but God intended it for good to accomplish what is now being done, the saving of many lives." –Genesis 50:20

A PROPHETIC PERSPECTIVE:
"SWINE, SAND, the PEARL and the ROCK!"

In light of what I submitted yesterday concerning New York, the Oyster Shell and the Pearl, and the recent News concerning Lindsey Graham, I have been waiting before the Lord concerning the many Prophetic parallels that continue to unfold. As I have waited, I found myself looking again at the two recent Words the Lord gave me. Now the Holy Spirit suddenly got my attention and quickened to me Matthew 7 (July=7th Month). As I turned to the Scriptures, I was immediately struck by something I had never noticed before. Jesus Himself brings together the very imagery the Lord has been speaking through and all in the same Chapter.

Jesus mentions; "Swine, Pearls, and Sand", And He says, "Do Not Cast your Pearls before Swine," and only a few verses later, He concludes the Chapter by speaking of the Wise Man who built upon the ROCK and the Foolish Man who built upon the SAND... "Do not cast your pearls before swine" (Matthew 7:6), and then shortly after, He speaks of the Wise man who built his House upon the Rock versus the foolish man who built upon Sand, Watch!

I do not believe these Prophetic images stand alone, but they are Speaking powerfully to an unraveling Scroll. If we are paying close attention, we will See that they Reveal a Prophetic pattern for this hour. The Lord first spoke, "Pigs will fly on the Fourth of July." A strange phrase, that I went on to Share pointed to Sudden and Unexpected things happening, greater Exposures, Impossible events becoming possible, and the Uncovering of hidden corruption on levels never seen before. I encourage you to Read the Word.

Then came another strange Word yesterday, a word God gave that Spoke to Zohran Mamdani and New York! And I heard God say, "Do Not Pray away the Sand in the Oyster Shell before the Pearl has been fully formed!" At first, I did not understand. But the Lord then began to give Revelation of His Redemptive Purposes and that we are not to Pray away the Irritant, but to Pray as God Uses it to further Expose what's been Hidden, so He can bring full Restoration and Reformation.

It was also shared that historically, New York was once known for its vast oyster beds, and Pearl Street in Lower Manhattan still bears witness to that forgotten history. This background history has brought greater Prophetic Understanding and broke open a new level of Revelation in how we can Pray. The Oyster became a picture of New York, and the Pearl became a Powerful picture of God's Redemptive purpose in the midst of the Storm and greater Shaking taking place. The Grain of Sand became a picture of the Irritation God permits in order to expose what has long remained hidden beneath the surface; this was a powerful picture of Zohran Mamdani.

But today, the Lord keeps bringing me back to Matthew 7! "Do not cast your pearls before swine" (Matthew 7:6), and then He speaks of the Wise man who built his House upon the Rock versus the foolish man who built upon Sand. This Chapter speaks Powerfully to the Hour we are now in, and it's not just about 'Pearls and Swine.' It is about Spiritual Discernment. Again, it Speaks about Exposure, but also about Testing and Foundations.

In Chapter 7, Jesus first speaks about removing the plank from our own Eye. It is Vital that Our Eyes SEE CLEARLY in this Hour and Season. Clear Vision is critical as we Advance Guard Against anything that would Seek to bring a Distortion of Vision or an Assignment that would prevent you from Seeing Clearly, which will impact your Discernment.

Then Jesus speaks of Pearls and Swine. He then warns of False Prophets - Ravenous Wolves in Sheep's Clothing that will Rise, the Spirit of Leviathan, the Twisting Serpent Spirit that brings forth the Counterfeit. And then He declares that Trees are Known by their Fruit. Then He exposes those who Cry, "Lord, Lord," while their hearts remain unchanged. And Finally, He reveals that Every Foundation will be Tested.

What we See Here in this Timely Chapter is a Powerful Prophetic Sequence. Everything hidden is being brought into the light. The Root of the Tree reveals the Fruit of the Tree (Roots determine Fruits. God is Shaking the Foundations and Exposing the deep Rot in the Root System!)

There is a Powerful Prophetic Warning. The Greater Shakings and Coming Storms will reveal the House, and what it's been built upon. I hear these Words; "WATCH! THE HOUSE OF THE REPUBLIC! The Houses of Congress and the Structures of Government will be Violently Shaken in the midst of the Coming Storm."

"I Say, Watch As the Foundations are Exposed and its Architects and Builders are revealed, and many will be Removed by the Shaking!" Notice in Matthew 7, the Storm does not create weaknesses in the Foundations, but It exposes the Foundation that was already established! I believe Prophetically this is where Nations and their Leaders are NOW Standing. The Shakings we will begin to Witness in greater ways are not creating, but exposing everything that has been Corrupted and Defiled.

I hear these Words, "UKRAINE, UKRAINE. HAVE I NOT SAID I WILL EXPOSE THE ROOTS OF CORRUPTION AND EXTORTION? Oh, ZELENSKY, YOUR DAYS ARE NUMBERED, FOR YOU SHALL BE UPROOTED LIKE THE WEED THAT YOU ARE, AND YOUR WALLS SHALL BE TORN DOWN. THE TARES SHALL BE SIFTED FROM THE WHEAT, AND THE CHAFF SHALL BE DRIVEN OUT AND TOSSED INTO THE FIRE TO BURN!"

As I Shared previously, I saw the pressure that's building is for the Purpose of Revealing and Uncovering what has existed deep beneath the surface. The thick sediment is Now being stirred up, hidden Agreements and back door deals are being uncovered. Mixture is being revealed. And I hear these Words; "WATCHMEN! PRAY, FOR THERE IS POISON IN THE POT. I SAY THE POT HAS BEEN POISONED TO CAUSE DEATH AND DESTRUCTION. WATCH THE POT AND THE WATER SYSTEMS!"

I shared: I saw the Foundations of Nations being Inspected by Heaven, and Governments and their Leaders weighed in the Balance and Found Wanting. As I write, I See an Hourglass come up before me, and I See the Grains of Sand falling Rapidly within the Hourglass. As the Grains of Sand Fall, I See the Scales of Justice come before me, and as the Grains of Sands Fall, I see the Scales of Justice begin to Move and Shift. As the Grains of Sand continue to fall, a greater weight comes upon the Scales, and I watch as the Scales begin to Shift and Tip.

And I Hear these Words, "WATCH! FOR THE WINDS OF MY SPIRIT SHALL MOVE UPON THE SANDS OF TIME. FOR I SAY, THIS IS A KAIROS TIME OF GREAT SHAKING AND JUDGEMENT THAT HAS COME UPON THE NATIONS. WATCH! As the sands fall and the hands move, TICK TOCK, TICK TOCK, nothing can stop what is about to take place with greater power and acceleration as the gavel of My Justice falls upon the block!"

Now, As I pray again today concerning Zohran Mamdani, I am shown the Prophetic parallel of a Haman Spirit Rising. God is revealing a Divine Pattern for Prayer. As I Shared with poignancy, yes, that we must keep in mind that God permitted Haman to build the gallows. He did not stop the process prematurely, but rather, allowed hidden intentions of the Heart to mature until they stood fully exposed before bringing about a great Reversal and Victory. I submit, there are times when Heaven permits an Instrument to Arise and not because God approves of it, but because He intends to Expose an Entire system that has operated in darkness!

I hear the Spirit say, "I Say Again, Watch and Pray. Look and look again. Do not become so consumed with the Instrument that you fail to discern what I am exposing through it.

"Do not Pray away the Sand and the Irritation meant to bring a Divine Disruption for the purpose of Greater Exposure, Justice and Vindication. I Tell you, Do Not Say the Shaking is only unto Destruction, For I Am Weighing and Testing Foundations. I am Separating the Precious and Sifting that which is Pure from the defiled and the profane. I am Exposing the House that has been built upon Sand, and I am revealing what has truly been Built and Established upon the Rock. So, Watch! For in this hour the Swine shall Reveal your Level of Spiritual Discernment, and the Sand shall reveal the Foundation on which you Stand, and the Storm shall Reveal the House that Remains, and the Root shall Reveal the Fruit of the Tree, and the Pearl shall Come forth to reveal My Redemptive Plan and Purpose. Watch! For I am bringing Everything hidden into the Light, and in the Midst of the Darkness a Remnant shall Rise and Shine, and Kings and Cities and Nations shall be Brought to the Altar of True Repentance, Purification, and Restoration. Watch and Discern for What I am revealing in this Hour through the Suddenlies and the Unexpected, as the Winds of Change blow forth with great Acceleration.

"Look! And Wait, for when the work of Divine Exposure is complete, what has been Built upon Sand shall surely Fall, and what has been Established upon the Rock shall Stand, and the Precious Pearl of My Redemptive purpose shall emerge for all to See!"

Jeffrey Hardwick: The Month of Restitution

What if you could position yourself to receive what the Lord is promising you this month? There are a few requirements to set you up, and the Lord is going to lay them out for you. Follow His instructions. Trust Him as if you are living from Heaven's perspective. Don't miss out on the transfer the Lord wants you to have.

July 2026 Word from the Lord: The Month of Restitution

"I know My plans I have for My children. These plans are very detailed. You want to know the details, don't you? Seek Me, and I will show you what is coming next. It is 'next' for you, but completed from My perspective. The plans I have for you were made before you were born.

"You must seek Me in order for you to see My vision that I have for you. Write the vision you see and hear. Don't try to figure out the 'how.' I already know MY 'how' for your life.

"July 2026 is the month of restitution. Do you remember My promise — the wealth of the sinner is laid up for the righteous? Since you are My righteous ones, be aware of the shift that is taking place first in the spirit. Then you will see it shift in the natural.

"I am the God of order. I like to keep things in My order. When one follows Me closely, they will understand why it's important to know My order. I am in no hurry. I have no reason to be in a hurry. I declare the end from the beginning. What you see coming next is already finished from My perspective.

"I am preparing you for the transfer that is about to happen in the world. When you are faithful with little, I trust you with more. Be faithful with what you have now, for more is on the way.

"Know ahead of time what I want you to do with My resources. It all belongs to Me. I am the Owner, and you are My managers. Manage My resources with wisdom and understanding.

"Get wisdom. Get understanding. Wisdom is the principal thing; therefore, get wisdom. And in all your getting, get understanding. If any of you lack wisdom, ask. I'll give it to you. Wisdom and understanding are required to manage My wealth, My way.

"What you thought you lost was not lost. It was hidden. It will not be hidden anymore, because of My light."

Your wise, blessed, heavenly Father

How to Position Yourself to Receive

If you knew you were about to get something you'd been waiting to receive for a long time, wouldn't it make sense to prepare yourself for it?

The Lord is giving you a hint on how to prepare. He says to get wisdom and understanding. Why? If you don't have both, then you won't know how to manage it God's way. Remember, it all belongs to Him.

He is positioning you to receive restitution, but you must seek Him to know how to position yourself. I remember years ago, when the Lord told me to stop trying to figure things out and leave the "hows" up to Him.

Honestly, I'm getting better at this and trusting Him to reveal His "hows" to me. The transfer is coming. It's not if, but when. You won't know the when, but you will know who it belongs to. Your responsibility is to seek the Lord and ask Him for His wisdom and understanding. He promises you that when you ask, you will receive.

Heaven's Perspective

Imagine seeing things from Heaven's perspective as finished, done, and complete. You would know how to receive as Jesus did. He saw what His Father was doing and would say what His Father said. How simple is that?

Speak what Heaven speaks. Your life could look completely different this month as you say what Heaven says. Have you ever thought about what conversations are like in Heaven? They are full of love, joy, excitement, and so much more.

What would happen if your words echoed Heaven's words? Now that would change your life.

One of my favorite verses is found in Matthew 6:10: "Your Kingdom come, Your will be done on earth as it is in Heaven" (AMP). I like this so much, because if there is only ONE will that I want to happen, it's God's will.

To meditate on God's promises is to become familiar with them. Does what you meditate on every day look familiar to Heaven? If not, you can change that, and it's easy to do.

Ask the Lord to show you what Scripture verses He wants you to meditate on for the day. Then start with the first one and ponder, imagine, whisper, and speak the verse again and again. When you do this, you will receive a fresh revelation from Heaven, and then you will be familiar with that verse.

Joshua 1:8 is a great place to start your meditating, because it reveals to you a secret of success when you meditate: "This Book of the Law shall not depart from your mouth, but you shall meditate in it day and night, that you may observe to do according to all that is written in it. For then you will make your way prosperous, and then you will have good success" (NKJV).

Do you know the byproduct of becoming familiar with this? You will make your way prosperous, and you will have good success. If you are not experiencing prosperity or good success yet, it's time to commit to meditating on God's promises each day so you can become familiar with Heaven.

Tales Told by Trees

In the year 1398, the Great White Oak - a remarkable natural landmark, and perhaps one of the largest trees in North America - took root in what would eventually become Basking Ridge, N.J. Known as the Holy Oak, it was 619 years old when it died in 2016. Located in the historical graveyard of the Presbyterian Church, it reached a height of 97 feet, had a trunk circumference exceeding 20 feet, and a branch spread of over 130 feet, making it one of the largest and oldest white oaks in the world. In its final years, its lower branches were supported by metal bars. While I lived in Basking Ridge, I had the privilege of experiencing this majestic giant on many occasions. A young white oak grown from an acorn of the old tree has since been planted in the churchyard.

English evangelist George Whitfield and American clergyman James Davenport preached under this tree on November 5, 1740, to a crowd of 3,000 during the First Great Awakening. George Washington's troops were drilled on the village green, within view, and it is said that Washington picnicked under the tree with Lafayette. The 5,500 French troops under General Rochambeau marched by it in 1781 en-route to Yorktown, Virginia and the decisive final battle of the American Revolutionary War.

There are many such "witness" trees with fascinating histories. The Council Oak resided in Council Grove, Kansas until it was fallen by a windstorm in 1958. Under this tree in 1825 the Santa Fe trail was born when U.S. Commissioners and chiefs of the Osage tribes signed a treaty to allow white settlers and merchants to follow the trail from the big oak to Santa Fe, and to pass peacefully through Indian territory.

Significance and Symbolism of Trees in the Bible

There are at least twenty different types of trees listed in the Bible. Jesus used common images of everyday life, including trees, to reveal spiritual messages to His followers. When we reflect on the symbolism of the trees mentioned in the Bible, it brings greater understanding of the message in the text, enriches biblical study and deepens insight into God's relationship with humanity. Scripture is clear that God speaks to man through His creation. Therefore, what we see and understand in the natural world can reveal deeper spiritual truths.

From Genesis to Revelation, from the Garden of Eden to the New Jerusalem, trees are not merely background scenery; they are powerful symbols, teaching lessons about life, obedience, faith, spiritual growth, divine provision, and God's relationship with mankind. Trees illustrate the life, blessing, and restoration that come from being rooted in God. The following brief treatment will highlight just a few significant ones of this number.

Two Trees in the Garden

Located in the Garden of Eden were two prominent trees: the Tree of Life and the Tree of the Knowledge of Good and Evil. The Tree of Life symbolizes both God's provision for humanity and the life-giving presence of God. Eating from this tree would have allowed Adam and Eve to live forever in perfect communion with God. It appears again in Revelation 22:2 as a symbol of healing of the nations and restoration in the New Jerusalem, representing unbroken communion with God. The Tree of the Knowledge of Good and Evil represents the moral choice between self-will and obedience to God. Eating from it led to the fall of man, introducing sin and death (Genesis 3:6-7). It illustrates the human responsibility to trust God rather than self-determine right and wrong.

The Tamarisk Tree

In Genesis 21:33, Abraham plants a tamarisk tree in Beersheba and calls upon the name of the Lord, signifying his commitment to God and establishing a place of worship. This act represented not only a physical planting but also a spiritual "witness" and declaration of faith and the permanence in God's promises. The tamarisk tree symbolizes resilience, faith, and divine provision. It thrives in arid environments, symbolizing the ability to endure and flourish even in challenging conditions. This resilience reflects the spiritual endurance that believers are called to exhibit in their faith.

The tree's deep root system allows it to access water from deep underground sources, symbolizing God's provision for His people. Just as the tamarisk draws sustenance from deep within the earth, believers are reminded to seek spiritual nourishment from their faith. Abraham's act of planting the tamarisk tree is a testament to his covenant relationship with God. It serves as a living memorial to God's everlasting promises and Abraham's faithfulness, highlighting the importance of worship and acknowledgment of God's presence. The tamarisk tree is also associated with shelter and protection, symbolizing strength and divine guidance. Its presence in biblical narratives illustrates the themes of blessing and prosperity.

The Oak Tree

There are many references to oak trees in the Bible, commemorating significant places. This could be an encounter with God (Judges 6:11), marking an oath (Joshua 24:23-28), or a place of burial (Genesis 35:8). Oak trees are long-lasting and symbolize strength, stability, and permanence, but they were also a place of pagan sacrifices and rituals.

In God's future kingdom, oak trees symbolize reversal, where His people will flourish abundantly, in righteousness instead of idolatry. Isaiah describes the 'year of the Lord's favor' as being where God's faithful people will be called oaks of righteousness.

The Fig Tree

The fig tree often symbolizes Israel, spiritual fruitfulness, and judgment. Jesus used it in teaching the parable of the unfruitful fig tree (Luke 13:6-9) and when cursing a barren fig tree to illustrate the consequences of spiritual unfruitfulness (Mark 11:12-14, 20-21). The description of the abundance of the promised land in Deuteronomy 8:7-9 includes the fig tree. Among the trees in the Bible, it was the fig that symbolized peace and security in a time of future restoration and prosperity in God's kingdom (Micah 4:4; Zechariah 3:10). Jesus also pointed to the fig tree as a reminder to read the signs of the end times. (Luke 21:29-31)

The Olive Tree

Frequently mentioned, olive trees can live for hundreds of years, demonstrating remarkable resilience in harsh environments. In the Bible, the olive tree symbolizes reconciliation and new beginnings. This was seen when Noah's dove returned to the ark with an olive leaf in its beak, signifying the end of the flood and hope for a new life.

The olive is also associated with God's blessing and a symbol of spiritual prosperity. Along with the fig tree, it is listed among the signs of the goodness of the Promised Land and represents a fruitful life. "a land with wheat and barley, vines and fig trees, pomegranates, olive oil and honey" (Deuteronomy 8:8). It is also associated with anointing and God's covenant. (Psalm 52:8; Romans 11:17-24)

"But I am like an olive tree flourishing in the house of God; I trust in God's unfailing love for ever and ever." (Psalm 52:8)

The oil from the fruit of the olive tree was used in anointing kings and priests in Israel. It symbolizes the Holy Spirit and is a sign of consecration to God. This was the visual prophetic image of Zechariah. He saw the combination of kingly and priestly offices, serving God, fueled by the Holy Spirit and pointing ultimately to the Messiah. (Zechariah 4:11,14)

The Apostle Paul used the image of an olive tree to represent God's chosen people, Israel. Under the new covenant in Christ Jesus, Gentiles, represented by a wild olive branch, would be grafted into the tree to be part of God's family. (Romans 11)

The Cedar Tree

Cedar trees, particularly the famed cedars of Lebanon, are frequently mentioned in Scripture as symbols of strength, resilience, longevity, majesty, and endurance, and in prophetic imagery (Psalm 92:12). Their towering height, deep roots, and durable wood made them a natural metaphor for stability and endurance. Psalm 92:12-13 compares the righteous to a cedar: "The righteous will flourish like a palm tree, and grow like a cedar in Lebanon, they will flourish in the courts of our God." The emphasis here is the spiritual vitality, steadfastness, and flourishing under God's protection. The cedar's ability to withstand harsh conditions mirrors the resilience expected of believers.

Cedar wood was highly valued in ancient Israel for its durability, resistance to decay, and aromatic qualities, making it a preferred material for sacred and royal construction. King Solomon famously used cedar to build and panel the Temple in Jerusalem, symbolizing not only physical strength but also the spiritual stability and permanence of God's dwelling among His people. (1 Kings 6:9-10) If you have ever enjoyed the aroma of a cedar closet, you can imagine the heavenly aroma present in the Temple of God.

In Scripture, the cedar tree is featured in many metaphors, representing the righteous and the glory of God's creation. Out of all the trees in the Bible, with a lifespan of over 1000 years, the cedar of Lebanon also symbolizes beauty and divine favor. But, due to its lofty stature, it also serves as a caution against pride and arrogance. (Isaiah 2:13; Ezekiel 31:3-11)

The Almond Tree

In Israel, the almond tree blooms first in the year, waking up early. The Hebrew word for "watching" means to be wakeful, and Jeremiah's vision brought him a word of encouragement from God.

"The word of the LORD came to me: "What do you see, Jeremiah?" "I see the branch of the almond tree," I replied. "Then said the LORD unto me, "Thou hast well seen for I will hasten my word to perform it." (Jeremiah 1:11-12).

In Israelite culture, the almond rod was a natural symbol of authority, as the tool used by the shepherd to correct and guide his flock. Moses initially carried his rod while tending his sheep, and later it became his symbol of authority over the Israelites.

The rods of both Moses and Aaron were endowed with miraculous power during the Plagues of Egypt. God commanded Moses to raise his rod over the Red Sea when it was to be split and in prayer over Israel in battle; at Meribah, Moses brought forth water from the rock using his rod.

During Korah's rebellion in Numbers 16-17, Aaron provides his rod to represent the tribe of Levi, and "it put forth buds, produced blossoms, and bore ripe almonds," as evidence of the exclusive right to the priesthood of the tribe of Levi. In commemoration of this miracle, it was commanded that the rod be stored "before the testimony" (in the Ark of the Covenant).

The almond tree symbolizes God's watchfulness over His people, His vigilance, His presence with His people, and readiness to act on our behalf.

The Palm Tree

Palm trees in the Bible represent goodness and victory. The palm tree's ability to stand tall, endure, and bear fruit in harsh environments represents resilience and strength. The oasis of Elim, with twelve springs of water and seventy palm trees, became the first place for Israel to camp in the desert after escaping Egypt.

The image of a palm tree was used to decorate panels in the Temple, and became a celebratory symbol of God's presence (1 Kings 6:29,35, 2 Chronicles 3:5). The use of palm branches to welcome Yeshua into Jerusalem was a symbol of victory and triumph. This is remembered on Palm Sunday, celebrating spiritual victory and the gift of eternal life.

The Willow Tree

Willow trees thrive by water and represent God's abundant provision, particularly in a desert climate. In Scripture, they symbolize the joy of worship and were part of festival celebrations.

On the first day of the Feast of Tabernacles, Israelites were instructed to take branches from luxuriant trees – from palms, willows and other leafy trees – and rejoice before the LORD for seven days. (Leviticus 23:40)

The willow also became a powerful image of sorrow and lament for Israel while in exile. When they were far from the promised land, the drooping branches of the willow tree became a symbol of weeping and mourning, thus the common name given to the tree today, "Weeping Willow."

"By the rivers of Babylon we sat down and wept when we remembered Zion. On the willows there we hung up our harps." (Psalm 137:1-2)

Isaiah brings a word of hope for Israel, with a list of seven trees symbolizing a future time of restoration and transformation, a work that only God can do. "I will put in the desert the cedar and the acacia, the myrtle and the olive. I will set junipers in the wasteland, the fir and the cypress together, so that people may see and know, may consider and understand, that the hand of the Lord has done this, that the Holy One of Israel has created it." (Isaiah 41:19-20)

Trees as Metaphors for God's People

What is God saying to us through the trees of the Bible? God's ultimate goal is that His righteous people will stand firm and reflect His glory, serving as a testimony to His power and faithfulness to all generations.

Scripture often likens righteous individuals to trees planted by streams of water, flourishing and bearing fruit, while the wicked are like barren or withering trees. (Psalm 1:3; Jeremiah 17:7-8)

Our lives are to demonstrate enduring fruitfulness: Our faith should produce consistent good works and witness, even in difficult times. "For every tree is known by his own fruit." (Luke 6:44)

Isaiah 61:3 displays God's desire that His people might be called oaks of righteousness, the planting of the LORD, that he might be glorified. Rooted in God, like an oak, we are to have deep roots in God's Word and in Christ, so we can withstand life's storms.

In short, being called "oaks of righteousness" is a promise of strength, stability, and lasting fruitfulness in God's planting, so that His glory may be displayed through us.

Ultimately, we are called to be "witnesses" of God's Glory: Our lives are meant to be a testimony of His grace and power.

My Declaration

"Holy God, I lay my life down before You, that You may perfect Your great work in and through my life. By Your grace and through the power of the Holy Spirit, I will stand firm in You and reflect Your glory throughout my earthly journey, serving as a testimony to Your power and faithfulness to all generations. I purpose is to remain planted by the river of life that flows forth from Your throne, flourishing and bearing the fruit of consistent good works and witness, in every season, even in difficult times. I purpose to remain deeply rooted in Your Word, an oak of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, able to withstand life's storms, that You might be glorified. AMEN. So be it!"

"Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful. But his delight is in the law of the LORD; and in his law doth he meditate day and night. And he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season; his leaf also shall not wither; and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper." (Psalm 1:1-3)

Greg Gerry: Prophet Russ Fathers Heart Ministry

"The Father says over you right now that the hour has come for My favor to rush over your life like a flood. Look up, for the portal of glory is opening wide above you this very day! I am activating a supernatural shift in your circumstances where money and provision for the initiatives of the Kingdom are beginning to manifest. Watch and see, for money moves by the Spirit in your life from this moment forward. Prepare your heart to receive the radical, over-the-top release of My abundance!"

"This day, I am translating you out of the economy of man and the restrictions of human limitation, and I am placing you squarely into the economy of heaven! There is no joblessness in My heaven. There is no debt, no downturn, no sickness, and no heartbreak in My presence. I designed heaven to portray My absolute highest will for you on the earth. Will it not be so on your behalf? Step into your 'As in Heaven, So on Earth' reality today!"

"It is time for you to wrap your mind around going first-class all the way in My Kingdom. There is no bargain basement here, and there are no generic brands. There is only the best of the best for My people, and your acts of faith are pulling that heavenly reality down into your earthly experience. The entire purpose of the Cross was to bring you out of the enemy's lies and translate you into this place right here by Me, where you rule and reign in the now."

"Are you ready to take NOW for an answer? The Father says, I am delivering you from debt. Debts are being paid, and the lack of funds will no longer define or typify your existence. I am the God of More Than Enough. Stop thinking in terms of limitation! My limitlessness is showering down upon you, washing away all timidity so you can boldly declare, "Everything my Daddy has is mine!"

"No more inchworm promises. You are not inching your way to a better day any longer—the breakthrough is dawning right now under this sun. You are entering an endless cycle of a non-stop, 24-hour turnaround. Get your climbing gear on, for you are mounting up on eagle's wings. My winds of favor have come to carry you directly into your blessing place. Every prophetic word over your life is coming to pass in full measure!"

"The faith it takes to give into this prophetic assignment is the very same faith that activates breakthrough in your own life. When something leaves your hand to God, something leaves His hand to you!"

A DREAM: A COVENANT NATION IN DEPENDENCE!

PLEASE TAKE TIME TO READ AND PRAYERFULLY DISCERN.

Wow! God is Speaking!

Before I Share the Dream, I ask that you bear with me as I endeavor to Share the Prophetic interpretation I received as the Dream unfolded. There are specific parts of the Dream that I feel must be shared, as it gives rise to Strategic Prayer.

In the early hours of this morning, July 4, 2026, I had a powerful Prophetic Dream. As I woke from the Dream, I immediately wrote down exactly what I Saw and heard. I was given much of the context of the Dream and how it overlaps with recent Prophetic Submissions and as it Speaks to the 4th of July. I am led to share for the main purpose of Prayer (always for Prayer) and for Prophetic Discernment as we Advance in the Days ahead.

The Dream

In this Dream, I was at a Large Gathering of People. I was Standing at what at first looked like a large Stone or Marble Table, but as I looked again at the Table, I saw that it was not a Table, but that I was actually standing before a Large Altar, an Altar made of Ancient Stone. As I looked at the Altar, a Cake was at the Center of the Altar, and as I looked at the Cake, which was absolutely huge, I saw that the Cake looked like a Birthday Cake. It had the Numbers 1776 written right across the top of the Cake in Big Red and Blue Icing. As I looked at the Birthday Cake, I saw a large Candle in the Shape of the Number a 21, and a Large Gold Key sat beside it.

At first, it reminded of a "21st Birthday Celebration Cake," Yet I knew by the Spirit that what I was seeing was connected to the 250th Anniversary of America and the 1776 Birthing of a Nation!" Now my eyes were drawn back to the Gold Key beside the 21 Candle, as it was not your typical silver key one might see on a 21st Birthday Cake. And as Looked at the Gold Key in the dream, by just looking at the Key I could feel that the Gold Key carried tremendous weight. I knew the Gold Key was a Key of Power and Authority. But then my eyes shifted, and I looked again at the 21 Candle. Immediately, I saw ($2 + 1 = 3$) and I heard, "The Gold Master Key of the Trinity: a 3-in-1 Key to the Door of the Nations' Kingdom Destiny!"

As I heard those Words, I looked again at the Gold Key. I saw the Number 777 engraved upon it, which seemed to directly correlate in the dream to the Date 1776 and the numbers as they are added together. And then I heard the Words,

"A COVENANT NATION in DEPENDENCE!"

The GOLD Key here, I submit, speaks to the Gold of His Glory - the Weight of His Glory being made manifest. The Gold also speaks to the Birthing of a New Golden Era, A Nation that stands upon the Threshold of the Birthing of a New Golden Era, a New Dispensation of the Glory of the Lord coming upon the Nations!

Then the dream shifted, and I saw 21 candles upon the Cake. They were alight and burning, and as I looked at the candles, I knew that each candle represented a day. and I heard, "21 Days," and suddenly, the Book of Daniel came before me in the dream. And I saw the pages of a Bible, and Daniel 10:11 came before me. I began to read aloud in the dream from verses 11–21. "Daniel, you who are highly esteemed, consider carefully the words I am about to speak to you, and stand up, for I have now been sent to you." And when he said this to me, I stood up trembling. 12 "Do not be afraid, Daniel. Since the first day that you set your mind to gain understanding and to humble yourself before your God, your words were heard, and I have come in response to them. 13 But the prince of the Persian kingdom resisted me twenty-one days." Then Michael, one of the chief princes, came to help me, because I was detained there with the king of Persia. 14 "Now I have come to explain to you what will happen to your people in the future, for the vision concerns a time yet to come." 15 While he was saying this to me, I bowed with my face toward the ground and was speechless. 16 Then one who looked like a man touched my lips, and I opened my mouth and began to speak. I said to the one standing before me, "I am overcome with anguish because of the vision, my lord, and I feel very weak. 17 How can I, your servant, talk with you, my lord? My strength is gone and I can hardly breathe." 18 Again the one who looked like a man touched me and gave me strength. 19 "Do not be afraid, you who are highly esteemed," he said. "Peace! Be strong now; be strong." When he spoke to me, I was strengthened and said, "Speak, my lord, since you have given me strength.” 20 So he said, “Do you know why I have come to you? Soon I will return to fight against the prince of Persia, and when I go, the prince of Greece will come; 21 but first I will tell you what is written in the Book of Truth. (No one supports me against them except Michael, your Prince.”

As soon as I finished reading those Words, suddenly, a Mighty Wind blew upon the Cake, and all 21 candles were blown out. As I looked again at the Cake, I saw the Gold Key with the number 777 engraved upon it, and I heard...

“The Master Key of the House of David!”

Immediately, Isaiah 22:22 was quickened to me in the dream. “And the key of the house of David will I lay upon his shoulder; so he shall open, and none shall shut; and he shall shut, and none shall open.”

Prophetic Note: See also Revelation 3:7, where this very passage is applied to Christ. I submit that the Gold Key therefore speaks of Governmental Authority belonging to the Lord! Then I saw what looked like the Blade of a Silver Sword come down upon the Cake, and it was cut into exactly 50 pieces.

Prophetic Note: The Silver Sword, I believe, is noteworthy, as it speaks to “A REDEMPTIVE MOVE OF GOD.” Silver speaks to Purification and Redemption. The sword I submit is the Sword of the Peacemaker. Interesting to also Note that this Dream speaks of a Silver Sword, while the Word I just Reposted concerning Mount Rushmore speaks of the Sword that Falls. This aspect of the Silver Sword leads directly into the next part of the dream, where I saw a Divine Sifting and Separation coming.

This Part echoes the Word I posted yesterday, “Pigs Will Fly on the Fourth of July.” Now, as I looked in the dream at the 50 pieces being cut with the Silver Sword, I saw the 50 States of America come up before me on the Altar of the Lord. I watched as the Cake was divided and cut into separate pieces, and as I looked at the 50 pieces being divided and separated, it was as though I was no longer looking at a Cake, but I was looking at 50 Nations upon the Altar of the Lord on the Threshing Floor. And the Winnowing Winds of the Seven Spirits of God had begun to blow forth upon the 50 Nation States, and I knew by the Spirit of Revelation that the Great Sifting and Separation of Goat and Sheep Nations had surely begun. Suddenly, I saw the Year 2027 Come before me, and then the Years 2030 and 2037 flashed before me. Suddenly, a Great and Wide Door Stood Before me, and I saw the Gold Key with the Number 777 engraved upon it go into a Keyhole in the Door, and I heard the Gold Key Turning, and I heard, "The Door of Reformation!"

I can't yet speak to what I saw as I crossed another Threshold into 2027 and what I saw beyond the Door in 2030-2037. I will Soon! I will only speak here to the "The Winnowing Winds of the Seven Spirits of God." The Winnowing Winds of the Seven Spirits are now beginning to blow forth upon Nations of the Threshing Floor. A Kairos Time of Divine Separation, Purification, and Distinction has begun at the Altar of the Lord, the RUACH Breath of God blowing upon the Nations.

I saw the Seven Spirits of God at work. See Matthew 25:32–33: "And before Him shall be gathered all nations: and He shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats: And He shall set the sheep on his right hand, but the goats on the left."

The Threshing Floor is a Place of Divine Separation

A Divine Distinction is being made between Sheep and Goat Nations. Nations have Entered into a Second Exodus! 25×10 (2026) = 250. 250th Anniversary. In this dream there were many Prophetic Layers being presented to me, far too many to share here, but I knew by the Spirit that the 50 pieces being shown to me were not just the 50 States; they also spoke to Leviticus (25:8-17) The Year of Jubilee:

8 "Count off seven sabbath years—seven times seven years—so that the seven sabbath years amount to a period of forty-nine years. 9 Then have the trumpet sounded everywhere on the tenth day of the seventh month; on the Day of Atonement sound the trumpet throughout your land. 10 Consecrate the fiftieth year and proclaim liberty throughout the land to all its inhabitants. It shall be a jubilee for you; each of you is to return to your family property and to your own clan. 11 The fiftieth year shall be a jubilee for you; do not sow and do not reap what grows of itself or harvest the untended vines. 12 For it is a jubilee and is to be holy for you; eat only what is taken directly from the fields. 13 "In this Year of Jubilee everyone is to return to their own property. 14 "If you sell land to any of your own people or buy land from them, do not take advantage of each other. 15 You are to buy from your own people on the basis of the number of years since the Jubilee. And they are to sell to you on the basis of the number of years left for harvesting crops. 16 When the years are many, you are to increase the price, and when the years are few, you are to decrease the price, because what is really being sold to you is the number of crops. 17 Do not take advantage of each other, but fear your God. I am the Lord your God.

The 250th Anniversary (JUBILEE)

Then suddenly, the dream shifted again. I was no longer looking at a Cake, but at a Chessboard. And I could see 64 squares upon the Chessboard. As I looked at the 64 squares, I saw the Year 2026, and I saw the numbers 64 (10), 2026 (10), and I heard the Words, "DIVINE ORDER!" Now as I heard the Words; "DIVINE ORDER," I literally saw each letter come before me. I counted aloud in the Dream 11 letters. Suddenly, the number 47 came before me again. I saw the number 11 ($4+7=11$)! (Now in the dream, different Prophetic patterns and parallels often come to me and can be difficult to articulate how I'm seeing it). But As I saw the number (47 and the number 11) I knew by the Spirit that God was speaking concerning the 47th President. But He was also reminding me that President Trump is, as I have prophesied many times, that President Trump is "a 9/11 President for a Nation in an 11th Hour Time of Divine Transition and Change" ($45 \rightarrow 9$) ($47 \rightarrow 11$).

Then I heard these Words:

"Watch! As Divine Order comes at the Eleventh Hour to a Covenant Nation, birthed in Dependence upon the Living God. For He alone holds the Master Key of the House of David, and He Alone can bring a Nation forth in Victory and Jubilee!" I Woke up!

Watchmen, I believe this Dream is not only about this specific point in time, but it is a Dream that speaks powerfully to a Divine Moment of Political/Governmental and Spiritual Realignment and Recalibration that is taking place in the Nation/s as Heaven connects with Earth in this Critical Window of Time. (It is no coincidence that this Dream Unfolds at an Altar). Joel 2:17 "Let the Priests, the Ministers of the LORD, weep between the porch and the altar, and let them say, 'Spare thy people, O LORD, and give not thine heritage to reproach, that the heathen should rule over them: wherefore should they say among the people, Where is their God?"

There is a Clarion Call to "Take Hold of the Horns of the Altar and Begin to Cry out as this Great Eagle Nation enters into what feels like THE TURNING OF A PAGE AND INTO A NEW CHAPTER OF THE BIRTHING AND BEGINNING OF A NEW GOLDEN ERA!"

This Dream comes as a Nation Seeks to Return to its Covenant Foundations, a Covenant In-Dependence upon the Lord, and as the Golden Master Key of the Authority and Power of the House of David is being brought forth on the Shoulders of a Governing Kingdom Ecclesia to Open what no man can Shut and to Shut what no man can Open. Then we Will see the Sword of the Peacemaker fall and the Silver Sword of Redemption coming upon the Nations.

I See All Nations shall bow before the Sword of the Lord as it falls.

We will see the Harvest Sickle fly as the Winnowing Whirlwind of the Seven Spirits comes upon the Valley of Decision, the Winnowing Winds of the Spirit - the Spirit and Power of Elijah - coming upon the Threshing Floor. Nations in the Valley of Decision are being Shaken, Sifted, Shifted, and Separated, and in the midst of the Sifting and Separation, as God makes a Divine Distinction, we shall hear the Trumpet Sound of Jubilee as the Plumb Line of Heaven falls to bring forth God's Divine Order, as His Kingdom Plans are established according to Heaven's Divine Purposes in the Earth.

NATE & CHRISTY

Are you still connected to the toxic people or situations from your past season, and is it still wreaking havoc and you don't know it? If there is constant warfare inside your home and you are wondering how it's getting in; if you have experienced constant warfare, witchcraft, chatter, constant monitoring spirits, constant drama, it's a sign there's an active threat against you, this is your answer. Christy said this phrase to me recently, and I laughed because it's true. It reveals the goodness of the Father's heart towards us all when we go through seasons that the enemy sends people to hunt, attack, slander, and secretly sabotage us with their words.

She said, "If you are a dreamer, people should be careful talking about you because God will show you their conversations in your dreams."

I realized this is what God is doing right now in this season. He is dealing with the HIDDEN THREATS we haven't been able to see in past seasons – not to shame others but to EXPOSE the enemy's plans and wise us up for this new season so we don't make the same mistakes we have made in the past.

We have been in a season where God has been revealing the demonic RELATIONAL agendas that have been against you, your family, your marriage, your voice, and your calling.

It has felt like He has been dragging everything to the surface that has been warring against you secretly and stealthily for years, and at the same time, He's leading you into a new birthing, and you've been wondering how you discern who to run with and how to birth what He's given you.

Here's the crazy thing that has happened in our house for the last two years. Every single time there's an active threat, people speaking against us, whatever it is, we'll be discussing it, and our fire alarm goes off. Happens through all kinds of situations, but always when there's a monitoring, chattering spirit at work. Then, I'll go check the batteries and they're fine.

Then, next time we're processing it, or a message or an email comes through with that same spirit, the alarm goes off again like clockwork, every single time. It's gotten to the point where we know that the alarm blaring is saying "threat, threat, threat." It's a sign of an active threat in the spirit that needs to be dealt with.

So, this word is simply this: it's time to deal with the active threats in your life. Not coddle them, not tolerate them but deal with them. Because if you don't, they will keep sabotaging you. You may have already been untangled from the people, but have you spiritually dealt with the soul ties still connecting you to them? Are you still giving them a level of access to your home and your life? That's what's setting off the alarm.

But this is the thing, God is not just untangling you, but He is doing something so much deeper and more powerful.

The word I keep hearing is UN-MESHING. God is UN-MESHING you from demonic agendas in people that keep robbing and sabotaging you in key moments.

The untangling has been where God has been UNTYING you from the many devices, agendas, and traps that were set for you, and it has worked to a degree. But to be completely free, you need your soul UN-MESHED.

The word "un-meshed" in a relationship actually means a dysfunctional dynamic where emotional boundaries dissolve, causing partners to lose their individual identities. Instead of two independent people supporting each other, their moods, thoughts, and self-worth become so tangled that it becomes difficult to tell where one person ends and the other begins.

Un-meshing is when there has been a deeper spiritual connection, a knitting together like a soul tie, where an unhealthy dependency or spiritual connection has formed with a person, one that can't simply be dealt with by removing them from your life. Un-meshing is the spiritual process of detaching your soul, your mind, from people you've been knitted to when God never called you to be.

I'd say it like this: enmeshment is an unhealthy covenant. And God, in this season, wants to bring you into healthy covenant.

Galatians 5:1 says, "It is for freedom that Christ has set us free. Stand firm, then, and do not let yourselves be burdened again by a yoke of slavery."

Enmeshment waters down the anointing in your life, leads you off track, and curses you. It literally brings a curse into your life so NOTHING WORKS.

When processing this, I thought about David who was under Saul for years serving in his court and army. So, while not technically "enmeshed," there was a soul tie there that was extremely unhealthy because of the state of Saul's heart, which is why God sent Jonathan to David to show him what healthy looked like. We see that in how they "knitted" their souls together, representing a healthy covenantal soul tie.

However, so many of us have "knitted" ourselves to the wrong people, and right now God is dealing with the threats that are still ACTIVELY BLARING IN YOUR HOME.

HERE ARE SOME SIGNS THAT YOU'RE STILL ENMESHED WITH SOMEBODY:

- You're still thinking about them all the time. You're still upset about them, still feeling bitter about them. There's not a day you don't talk about them.
- Your dreams are revealing that you're still enmeshed. You're still dreaming about them, and they're still having some level of contact.
- You can feel the monitoring, like they still have some kind of access, a back road into your home, your life.
- Their dysfunction is still active, bringing disruption into your marriage, your family, your life.
- It's still depleting you, or making you feel overly wary, cautious, or critical of any relationship.
- It's stealing energy from you where you're meant to be birthing.
- You are constantly dealing with spaghetti brain like "someone is in your head."

Any of these register?

God is so protective of your relationships right now because we're in a new birthing season, and birthing isn't just about what you're bringing forth. It's also about the environment you're in, the soil, and the people surrounding you, who are like the nutrients of planting something new. I've said for years that in birthing seasons you need to be aware of who you're letting into the birthing suite, because the wrong people in the room can actually prevent that birth. It can create stillborns and birth defects.

So, it's no surprise that in this moment the Lord is so protective of you and the relationships you're surrounding yourself with in a new season. For the last two years, the Lord has been opening your eyes to the dysfunction and unhealthy relationships you've formed and fallen into out of pure desperation and lack of community.

You've been through years where demonic assignments have tried to isolate you, cast you out, reject you, and keep you from being surrounded by kingdom people, and in that void, the enemy can send in decoys and saboteurs. Then, in painful hindsight years later you have had to walk out deep betrayal and pain.

There's been a divine reset where God has been cleaning your slate relationally. He's brought you back to the few and back to ground zero in the area of relationships.

So how do you un-mesh?

You have to allow the Holy Spirit to do some soul surgery to DETACH you from them in your soul, thoughts, emotions, and then even your voice/calling they were knitted to (which ultimately was the target).

I'm reminded of a scripture I shared months ago: Job prayed for his friends, and God restored him double (Job 42:10). There's a key here to the surgery. Like David who could have killed Saul in the cave but didn't – it wasn't just an act of mercy, it was an act of SUPERIOR spiritual warfare.

He extended mercy and REFUSED to fight fire with fire. Job did the same to his terrible friends. He prayed for them. I wonder if that's an act of war right now, to pray for the people that have persecuted you and those who cursed you.

Want to un-mesh? Pray with me:

Holy Spirit, un-mesh me. Un-mesh me from every dysfunctional relationship I entered into without Your guidance. I'm sorry, Lord where I put these relationships ahead of You. I'm sorry, Lord, where I came into them through desperation and after being isolated for so long. Lord, I'm sorry for letting down my guard and ignoring the red flags. I'm sorry, Lord, that I made covenant outside of Your design. So, I'm asking right now, God, that You would not just untangle me from these people, but that You would un-mesh me. Any areas of my soul, mind, emotions and calling that have been connected to these people, that I've allowed to be knitted to me in a covenantal way I break that covenant through the blood of Jesus, because You never ordained it.

Lord, I also break all man-made agreements I made. I break the vows; I break the words I've spoken that kept me tethered to them spiritually and their sins and dysfunctions. Now, Holy Spirit, I re-covenant with You. Heal those areas of my heart. Disconnect me from every soul tie, and wash me clean today. Now lead me to the right people I'm meant to do life within Jesus' name.

And Lord, if there's a stronghold there, I give you permission to cast it out. Everything UNCLEAN I have allowed, I renounce and ask you to remove it. Finally, I'm asking You to fill the space this assignment left with Your presence and Your glory, in Jesus' name!

God, DISARM THE ACTIVE THREATS!! SHUT DOWN THE STORMS SENT AT ME!!

Lastly, bring me my tribe - the ones YOU ORDAINED FOR ME. No more counterfeits!!

As I wrote those words, I saw storms of witchcraft, monitoring spirits, familiar spirits, and chatter being disarmed, almost like a cloud of arrows surrounding people, and it was being held back in the spirit. I believe that by praying those prayers, we're holding back the warfare that's been entering into our homes, families, and marriages once and for all!!

Prophecy with me: "THE THREATS ARE DISARMED THROUGH THE BLOOD OF JESUS!"

Av 11, 5786: Saturday-July 25, 2026

Charlie Shamp:

There is a blueprint to how God moves, and it is written into the very fabric of time. Most people live as if time is a flat line one day after another, random and unpredictable.

But the Scriptures reveal that God operates in three distinct modes of timing,

- each with its own purpose,
- its own risk,
- and its own power.

To know the difference is to walk in confidence instead of confusion.

SEASONS SHAPE YOU.

A season is not a destination; it is a container. It holds you for a specific purpose, and when that purpose is fulfilled, the season dissolves. The prophet Amos asked, "Can two walk together, unless they are agreed?" (Amos 3:3). A season is God's way of agreeing with you for a particular work. It is the soil in which your roots grow deep.

In the book of Genesis, Joseph spent thirteen years in a season of obscurity; first a pit, then a prison. That season was not a punishment. It was a forge. Every betrayal, every false accusation, every forgotten promise was hammering something into his character that could not be formed any other way.

A season is not about what you are doing; it is about what is being done in you. The length of a season is not the measure of its value. The depth is. Do not despise the season you are in, for it is the only womb that can birth what is next.

APPOINTED TIMES INVITE YOU.

An appointed time is a divine intersection. It is a moment when heaven and earth meet, and you are invited to step into your purpose. The Hebrew word moed carries the idea of a meeting; a sacred appointment. God sets these moments, but He does not force you to keep them.

Consider the parable of the ten virgins in Matthew 25. All ten had lamps. All ten knew the bridegroom was coming. But five were not ready when the appointed time arrived. The door was shut. The opportunity was lost. Not because God changed His mind, but because they did not prepare!

The tragedy of a missed appointment is not that God's plan fails. It never fails. The tragedy is that you forfeit the portion that was meant for you. In Acts 13, Paul and Barnabas turned to the Gentiles when the Jews rejected the word. The appointment was kept; just with different people.

An appointed time is a test of your alertness. God does not announce it with trumpets. He whispers it in the ordinary. The question is not whether God will show up. The question is whether you will show up ready.

SET TIMES FULFILL GOD'S PROMISES.

Now we come to the most powerful of the three: the set time. This is not a season that can shift. This is not an appointment that can be missed. This is a decree from the throne of heaven that cannot be altered by any force in creation.

Psalm 75:2 declares, "When I choose the proper time, I will judge uprightly." The word for "proper time" is moed again, but here it carries the weight of a fixed, sovereign decision. When God sets a time, it is like a stone dropped into still water; the ripples cannot be stopped.

Think of the birth of Isaac. God said, "At the appointed time I will return to you, and Sarah will have a son" (Genesis 18:14). Sarah's body was dead. Abraham's body was as good as dead. But the set time did not depend on biology. It depended on the word of the Lord. And when that time arrived, nothing could hold it back.

Think of the resurrection of Jesus. It was not a lucky break. It was a set time. Peter declared, "Him, being delivered by the determined purpose and foreknowledge of God" (Acts 2:23). The cross was not an accident. The empty tomb was not a surprise. It was a set time, and no Roman seal, no stone, no guard could unsay it.

- A set time is not affected by your readiness.
- It is not affected by your worthiness.
- It is affected only by the decree of God.

When He sets a time for your breakthrough, your healing, your promotion, all of Heaven conspires to bring it to pass. The only variable is whether you will be standing in it when it arrives.

Here is the mystery that changes everything: sometimes a season, an appointed time, and a set time converge in a single moment. That is what happened at Pentecost. The disciples were in a season of waiting. The appointed time of the feast had come. And then the set time of the Holy Spirit's arrival exploded into the upper room.

You may be in a season right now that feels like a waiting room. You may have missed an appointment and wondered if you are disqualified. But the set time is still on the calendar of heaven. It does not depend on your past. It depends on God's promise!

The prophet Habakkuk wrote, "For the vision is yet for an appointed time; but at the end it will speak, and it will not lie. Though it tarries, wait for it; because it will surely come, it will not delay" (Habakkuk 2:3).

It will not delay.

Not because you are perfect.

Not because your enemies have surrendered.

But because the set time is a decree, and a decree from heaven cannot be reversed.

Andrew Towe: Get Ready for the Overflow!

The Tide Is Turning

I heard the Spirit of the Lord say, "The tide is turning; where there has been lack or scarcity, there is coming OVERFLOW!" What has been sown in prayer, waiting, faithfulness, and obedience will now burst forth. This is your breakout season!"

Don't think for a moment that God is not aware of all the difficult and hidden seasons you have passed through. He also sees that you have prayed and remained faithful when it's seemed as if no one has noticed, including God Himself. Despite this false perception, you've continued to obey the Lord, even when the results have been delayed. Yes, there have been moments when you've despaired, wondering if the seed you planted would ever produce a harvest. Listen up! God is speaking to you, saying, "I took notice, and your labor has not been in vain!"

Galatians 6:9 declares, "And let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not" (KJV).

In Due Season

Take note that the above Scripture says, "due season." God has an appointed time for breakthrough. Heaven operates on prophetic timing, not human frustration. Many have been in a season of pruning, testing, and preparation, but the Lord says the season is changing. These summer months mark a divine shifting for many people from endurance into OVERFLOW.

The word "overflow" means more than enough. It is abundance that exceeds previous limitations. Overflow is when God causes provision, favor, influence, opportunity, blessing, and revelation to exceed natural expectation. Overflow is not merely survival; it is supernatural increase!

A perfect example of God's overflow is found in Acts 2. After the outpouring of the Holy Spirit on the day of Pentecost, the overflow could not be contained to the Upper Room. No! It overflowed onto the 120 and spilled out into the streets of Jerusalem. The fire that fell in private suddenly became a public demonstration of the power of God. What Heaven released in one room began to impact an entire city.

When God sends overflow, it is never meant to stay confined to a small space. Overflow always reaches beyond the original vessel. The anointing overflowed into boldness, preaching, and salvation. When Peter stood up with power, the Bible says that the people were "pricked in their heart," and three thousand souls were added to the Church in one day (Acts 2:37, 41). That is the result of the overflow; it affects everyone connected to it. (Photo via Pexels)

The Upper Room became the launching pad of a global move of God. Waiting turned into supernatural harvest and their prayer turned into power. The Father's promise became manifested, and the overflow was so great that it could not be stopped.

Many Will Step into Their Rejoicing Season

Moreover, I hear the Spirit of the Lord saying, "The overflow is about to spill over onto families, churches, and, yes, nations. What I am doing in you will touch all those around you." There is coming an undeniable outpouring of the Holy Spirit, where the overflow of God will break barriers, spill out into the streets, and draw multitudes back to Him. A time of harvest is here!

"They that sow in tears shall reap in joy. He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him." (Psalm 126:5–6 KJV)

Notice the divine pattern: sowing, weeping, waiting, then rejoicing. The Lord says that there are many who will step into their rejoicing season. Are you one of them? Have you sown, wept, and waited? If so, then all that awaits you is the rejoicing! The tears you cried in private are about to bring forth public fruit. You are about to have a visible breakthrough.

"Enlarge the place of thy tent, and let them stretch forth the curtains of thine habitations: spare not, lengthen thy cords, and strengthen thy stakes."

(Isaiah 54:2 KJV) Why did God tell them to enlarge first? Because overflow was coming. God requires preparation before the manifestation comes. If you are reading this right now, then God is asking you to prepare for that which you have prayed. Prepare your faith, education, finances, family, ministry, and make room for the increase.

Overflow in the Presence of Our Enemies

God's overflow is not just for personal blessing; it is for Kingdom purpose. The blessing on your life is meant to flow through you to others; it's not meant just to stop with you.

The psalmist David wrote, "Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: Thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over" (Psalm 23:5 KJV).

Notice that David declared the overflow would happen in the presence of his enemies. Those who have stood on the sidelines and rooted for your downfall will be shocked at how God will turn situations around in your favor and for your good! They are going to have a front-row seat to see how God honors you. (Photo via Unsplash)

David understood that God was not just a God of enough; He was a God of overflow. The overflowing cup represented abundance, blessing, favor, and divine provision.

I'm prophesying to you: There is coming your way an overflow of salvations, miracles, healing, restoration, and revival. Fresh oil is now being poured forth upon your head. You, who have hungered and thirsted after God, get ready for a fresh fire to fall upon you. Weary warrior, this is the time that the Faithful One is awakening and stirring up gifts within you. He's releasing fresh strength to you! Do not give up now. Do not allow discouragement to rob you at the edge of breakthrough. The enemy fought you intensely because he knew harvest was near.

I hear the Lord saying to you, "Stand still and see My salvation. The tide is turning! THE OVERFLOW IS HERE!"

Donna Rigney Sagan: Company Is Coming
Prepare for His Habitation!

A Portal Opening at Mar-a-Lago

On Friday, June 26, 2026, twenty of us gathered at a parking lot near a bridge leading to Mar-a-Lago. As soon as we started worshipping, in the spirit I saw the White House descend from Heaven and rest on top of Mar-a-Lago. They became one. I knew the Lord was saying that what we did there for Mar-a-Lago was also going to happen at the White House, because they were one.

During the second song, while we were worshipping, I saw a large, white dove inside Mar-a-Lago. It flew high and began breaking through the ceiling. I asked Father why I was seeing this. Usually, I see angels breaking through cement domes over regions; but today, from within the structure, I saw this white dove flying high and breaking through the cement dome ceiling that was covering the region from the inside out.

Father explained that we usually think of the Holy Spirit as a gentle dove. When Jesus was baptized in the Jordan River by John the Baptist, the Spirit descended upon Him like a dove. Many times, we think of the Holy Spirit as a gentle dove because of that. Father wants us to know that the Holy Spirit is His presence here on the earth, and He is mighty and strong and powerful.

This was what I was seeing in the spirit—the power of the Holy Spirit breaking through the cement ceiling that covered the region so that there would be an open Heaven over Mar-a-Lago and the White House.

Angels then assisted the Holy Spirit and began cleaning up the debris. These angels drove huge dump trucks and picked up large chunks of cement, driving them and dumping them to the abyss. Many angels blew the debris out of the area it had fallen in.

Before this open Heaven, or portal, was opened over Mar-a-Lago, there were many clouds in the sky. Above is a photo a woman was led to take when we finished opening the portal at Mar-a-Lago. (Photos via Donna Rigney Sagan)

This is a zoomed-in image of the bottom center of the photo. It's the face of an angel blowing the debris away.

As worship continued, in the spirit I saw Jesus descend from Heaven through the opening at the top of Mar-a-Lago and the White House. Holy Spirit made way for Jesus to come into the White House/Mar-a-Lago. I knew Father was saying that Jesus was going to reign and rule in the White House and over our nation, and He would be worshiped. He will be exalted as our King and God over our nation. We will see Jesus honored in the White House!

I saw many dignitaries fall on their faces before Jesus in the White House/Mar-a-Lago. They were laying their crowns at His feet. There will be many conversions; even many Jewish people will come to Jesus by the power of the Holy Spirit. There will be a move of God that will take place in the White House/Mar-a-Lago. People will be unmistakably touched by the Holy Spirit, and many will be baptized in the Holy Spirit.

When we were done, the next day, June 27, 2026, Father showed me that under this opened portal Donald Trump would hear clearly from the Holy Spirit and be easily led by Him. Strategies and great wisdom would be imparted to Donald Trump for the many decisions he would be making.

A Word for Trump: Nothing Can Stop God's Plans!

On June 24, 2026, Father declared, "If I am for Donald Trump, who or what could be against him? Watch as My children arise and quickly remove from their seats those who oppose him and his efforts to bring about worldwide peace. If I declare that he will be used to usher in peace that goes all over the world, then who can negate My words or My plans? The enemy is already defeated!"

"If My words created this world, what could stop My power-filled words from being fulfilled? Nothing is stronger than I am or My words are. Align with Me and speak My words, and you will see miracles happen. Don't let the enemy silence you. Draw close to My Holy Spirit, listen to what He says, then speak with My authority what He wants you to say. This is how miracles happen—not by power, or by might, but truly by My Spirit!"

"My Son listened to My Spirit and only did what He saw Me do. By the power of My Spirit in Him, leading Him, He fulfilled perfectly My will on earth. You do the same."

"If a bullet aimed at Donald Trump's head couldn't stop him, then can the words of men and women stop him? No, I am truly a shield about him. Believe that this nation will be restored to greatness, and you will see it come to pass. Let faith arise in your mighty God!"

Confirming Scripture: "Now arise, Yahweh-God! Crush them once and for all! Don't forget the helpless and oppressed. How dare the wicked think they'll reject God and escape judgment. They say to themselves, 'God won't hold me accountable.' Lord, I know You see all that they're doing, noting their each and every deed. You know the trouble and turmoil they've caused. Now punish them thoroughly for all that they've done! The poor and helpless ones trust in You, Lord, for You are famous for being the helper of the fatherless. I know You won't let them down. Break the power of the wicked and all their strong-arm tactics" (Psalm 10:12–15 TPT; see also verses 16–18).

God's Will Shall Be Done

On May 30, 2026, Father spoke very encouraging words to me for the world:
"Joy filled will the days ahead be for My precious children who have diligently served Us. When the heavens are opened, nothing stops My blessings from reaching each and every one who has labored with Us."

When light dawns and shines on and through My beloved children, the darkness that has covered the earth will be chased far away.

"I made this world to be a place that is filled with Our light and Our love. When you pray for My will to be done, that is My will—for Our light and Our love to cover the earth. If satan has covered the earth with his darkness by having people who follow and agree with him, imagine how much greater the light and the love will be that covers the earth, since I have an army that follows and agrees with Us."

On June 23, 2026, Father explained, "When I act suddenly—with lightning speed—to rescue Your nation and this world, know that for many years, a multitude of prayers and sacrifices were laid upon My altar by My children praying for My intervention. I heard every cry. The bowls in Heaven are full and being poured out. Suddenly will the transformation come to pass. No one will be able to stop it, because I am mighty to save." (Photo via Pixabay)

Company Is Coming!

On June 5, 2026, in a vision, I saw Jesus sweeping the world with a large broom. While I watched Him, He went to the corner of this enormous room and diligently cleaned that corner very well.

He asked me, "When do people spend time cleaning their homes?" He then answered His question to me: "When company is coming!"

He explained that His Holy Spirit is coming, and He is cleaning up the world and making it ready—not just for a visit but for habitation! The sweeping represents a move of repentance that is deep and sincere. With Jesus beside us and revealing those hidden sins, as well as the blatant corruption and perversions, we will get rid of the evil that has overtaken our land.

A clean sweep is happening of our world, too! Jesus declared, "A changing of the guard is going to be a big part of this cleanup operation!" Jesus showed me that as we pray in His full authority, led by the Holy Spirit, and use the weapons (broom) that He purchased for us, this world will get rid of the wickedness that has infiltrated it.

As we worshiped, the Lord explained that we—in this region, the USA—were getting ourselves ready for His presence. Just like a woman cooks a special meal and gets the guest room fixed up, our worship is preparing the land for His coming. We are actually cooking Him a wonderful, hearty meal by giving Him our love and full attention.

Recompense for All the Enemy Has Stolen

Great changes are coming! As a forerunner, I have entered ahead of everyone into this time of great change. The change has been as dramatic as the change that occurs when a caterpillar is changed into a butterfly. Father is declaring, "Get ready, your Bridegroom is coming. The outpouring of the Holy Spirit and the presence of Jesus are going to cover the land!"

God is launching a rescue event as a part of this change. He is going to turn our sorrow into great joy. There will be a great wealth transfer. Healings are coming and relationships will be restored. He will lead us to command the enemy to restore sevenfold what he stole.

On June 10, 2026, Father declared, "Watch and see how great your God is by what We show you, say to and through you, and do for you. Amazed will you be, because over and above what you could ever think or imagine will We be doing! Great joy is coming to Our friends!"

On June 12, 2026, the Lord took me in the spirit to the top of a very high mountain that overlooks the world, and I saw fires burning in many places. He explained, "The enemy knows that his time is short to bring as much destruction to the world as he can before the great outpouring of My Spirit. This is the time to rise up in the full strength of your calling and put the enemy to flight. Don't wait for him to attack, but pick up the rod of your authority that I have given you and destroy his works. Stop his schemes and expose wickedness for all to see. Make him give back seven times what he has stolen, and chase him far from your land. Don't allow him to put fear on you, but with great faith, make him run in fear, far from you and yours and your land!" (Photo via Pexels)

"Let the Lion of Judah roar through your mouth! Speak His words, command His commands, declare who He is and stand on it. Release His fire to ignite this world with a great love for Us and Ours! Sing, dance, worship, release Our glory, and this world will be transformed. It will become all I created it to be. Worship, obedience, and prayers—led by My Spirit—are like a giant hose that will shoot water from it to extinguish these fires.

"No fire is too great for Me to put out. The fires of war, racial prejudice, division in families and nations, poverty, sickness, premature death, weather warfare, and all strife will suddenly be extinguished as My Bride rises up in the full strength of her calling and allows the Holy Spirit to wage war against the enemy through her.

"Don't let him win any battles. He is already defeated! This is the hour that I am calling the Bride to pray and fast. Led by My Spirit, it will be a time of great effectiveness, and victory after victory will be had.

"Fight because you love Me and My people. Fight with faith and great courage. Don't let your guard down... This is the hour to fight! Rise up and fight when you don't feel like fighting, and you will see great results. Don't let your emotions dictate what you do, say, or pray, but let My Spirit inspire and use you. Let love—My love pouring in and through you—motivate all you do, and you will be very effective!"

Some of the weapons of our warfare are love, worship, the Word of God, the rhema word, tongues, prayers led by the Holy Spirit, group prayer, the blood of Jesus, the name of Jesus, the prayer of agreement of two or more people, prophetic decrees, binding demons, repentance and renouncing sins, releasing the glory, meditating on the Word day and night. This equals success!

Confirming Scriptures: 2 Corinthians 10; Ephesians 6:10.

One of my friends, retired Major William Ostan, gives us today's post, adapted from his incredible book, The Patriot's Field Manual: A Citizen's Guide to Saving America at the Local Level. The title of today's post is:

Getting Back on Course

I'll never forget being lost in the middle of the night in the Fort Benning, Georgia, swamps with only a military-issued lens-static hand-held compass (no GPS!) and a paper 8-digit grid map to guide me. I was a middle-aged soldier attempting to pass the legendary land navigation test in the Army's Pre-Ranger course so I could prove worthy of my Commander approving orders to Ranger School, despite my advanced age. Getting a shot at the elite Ranger school had been a distant dream of mine for years. That dream was in danger of being dashed as the heavens opened, pouring out an unwelcome deluge of hard rain that completely soaked me, my map, and the ground. I was knee-deep in the muck that was trying to suck my boots off with every step, surrounded by thick darkness, accompanied by strange animal sounds and suddenly starting to worry that I wouldn't find all the navigation points in the required time before sunrise.

Discouragement was beginning to cloud my mind. I could feel my heart racing, induced by the creeping, encroaching thoughts of possible failure.

Then I remembered a sound piece of advice I received from a land navigation instructor shortly after I joined the Army, "First Lieutenant Ostan, when you get lost, don't panic. Just find the biggest fixed landmark and shoot an azimuth from there. Too easy." So that's what I did. I clicked on my red-lens flashlight, trudged out of the swamp to the most obvious fixed landmark on the map, and re-shot a new azimuth to the next closest point. Over the ensuing exhausting hours, I found enough points to pass the land nav course and successfully completed Pre-Ranger school.

You might be asking yourself - What in the world is an azimuth, and why is it so important? Honestly, explaining how to do land navigation might be harder than actually doing it. So, in the simplest terms possible - shooting an azimuth essentially means climbing to a height where the horizon is visible, sighting an object on that horizon in the direction you are traveling, and adjusting your compass heading to make sure you are still moving in the right direction. You must have an accurate azimuth to reach your desired destination. If you are off in your measurements, even the tiniest variance can result in missing your targeted location by miles. In the military, being in the right place at the prescribed time is vital to mission success. So yes, azimuths are pretty important!

Believe it or not—this is similar to what the Founding generation did for us in 1776. They realized that the King and Parliament in Great Britain had become lost and were no longer honoring the principles of freedom enumerated in the azimuth known as the Magna Carta. So, they dedicated their lives, fortunes, and sacred honor to re-shoot an azimuth for humanity that has resounded through the ages and changed the course of history. It can be found in the Declaration of Independence, the U.S. Constitution, the Bill of Rights, the Federalist Papers, etc. Benjamin Franklin stated the international reach of America's quest: "It is a common observation here (Paris) that our cause is the cause of all mankind, and that we are fighting for their liberty in defending our own."

Sadly, this cause has been set back. Today, our generation has reached a critical mass point where we need to, once again, re-shoot an azimuth. For several decades now, America has slowly but steadily abandoned her unique founding principles.

Founder Thomas Jefferson warned of this:

"Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty. If a nation expects to be ignorant and free, in a state of civilization, it expects what never was and never will be."

Trusted historian Stephen McDowell stated the results of our ignorance and lack of diligence:

"America's founding principles made her unique, free, and powerful, but there are many today who would have her abandon those principles. Many leaders in education and the media have promoted a different ideology, and many government leaders have implemented policies contrary to our founding principles, which have diminished our greatness."

It's obvious that we have veered off course and desperately need to find a fixed landmark. The indifference and complacency born of these lies are leading to the collapse of our country. In combat parlance, we would say that the enemy is "danger-close." Dr. Oz Guinness's most recent book title succinctly sums up our current situation by stating we have entered "Zero Hour America."

The azimuth America currently needs is a combination of America's God-given founding purpose - a light to the nations powered by the gospel of Jesus Christ - and the principles elaborated in her founding documents. America is not perfect and never will be, but she is still the greatest country in the history of mankind. And she has the unique God-given position of being a "City on a Hill" to the nations of the world. When America is free, she remains one of the most powerful conduits for the gospel to spread across the globe.

Lincoln had it right when he described our nation as the world's "last, best hope." Let us be reminded, as we celebrate our 250th Independence Day, that we, the Ekklesia, have been given a mission. We must re-shoot an azimuth for humanity. We are in the right place at the right time to see this nation turn back to God, and the gospel flow to the ends of the earth.

Pray with me:

Father, You inspired our ancestors to re-shoot an azimuth for humanity hundreds of years ago, and we ask You to guide us to do so again in this strategic hour. Please continue to strengthen the hearts of Your Ekklesia with the same "never-give-up" commitment we saw in America's Founders. We are partnering with You to bring this nation to the right place at the right time according to Your purposes in heaven, in order to once again be a City on Hill - a light and a glory for the nations of the earth to know Jesus and live in true freedom. Benjamin Franklin was more correct than he knew: "Our cause is the cause of all mankind."

This week, as we celebrate what You have done for this nation, remind us of Jefferson's poignant words: "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty." This same vigilance is required in our prayers. "Be on the alert," You told us in Scripture (1 Corinthians 16:13, Ephesians 6:18, Colossians 4:2, 1 Thessalonians 5:6, 1 Peter 5:8). Let every celebration of every believer this week be accompanied by an "appeal to heaven" for revival and reformation. We ask these things in Jesus' name. Amen.

Our decree:

We declare that the Ekklesia is bringing a course correction to America—our nation will be in the right place at the right time to fulfill her God-given purposes!

Seek Him. Meet Him.
- Psalm 27:4

A WEEKLY DEVOTIONAL FROM SYLVIA GUNTER

The Whisper of His Ways

Life often holds hope and apprehension in the same hand. We can be grateful for what God has done and still feel uncertain about what comes next. We can believe He is faithful and still wish we understood more of what He is doing.

Scripture does not ask us to pretend we have answers we do not have. Instead, it invites us to anchor our hearts in the One we know, even when we cannot see the full picture. Job reminds us that even the most majestic glimpses of God are only "the outer fringe of his works," and Peter speaks of loving Him with "inexpressible and glorious joy," even though we do not see Him now.

There are seasons when we only hear the faint whisper of His ways. There are moments when His timing feels hidden, His purposes feel unclear, and His hand seems harder to trace. But even then, He remains faithful and true. His Word still accomplishes what He sends it to do. His love is still steady. His presence is still near.

Receive this blessing as an invitation to rest softly in the hands of your Father, especially in the places you do not understand.

Listen to this majestic picture of God in Job 26:14. "These are but the outer fringe of his works; how faint the whisper we hear of him! Who then can understand the thunder of his power?" And 1 Peter 1:8. "Though you have not seen him, you love him; and even though you do not see him now, you believe in him and are filled with an inexpressible and glorious joy."

Be blessed to rest softly in the hands of your Father when you don't understand what He's doing. Look for Him with your surrendered heart to when He's not doing what you wanted or expected. Every season has its beauty and is preparation for the next season. In this time of the hiding of His power, take faithful steps of faith and obedience, faith and obedience. Beyond obedience, even when you don't see Him, be blessed to love Him with glorious inexpressible joy.

Be blessed with eyes to see the fingerprints of His ways in your ordinary days, knowing that He says, "My thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways. As the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways and my thoughts than your thoughts" (Isa 55:8-9).

When you know you don't understand and when you think you do, the earth keeps shouting to you that He is completely faithful. He is as faithful as the rain and snow that water the earth and make it bud and flourish and yield seed for the sower and bread for the eater. That's the law of the harvest. He promises that His word to you is like that. "It will not return to me empty, but will accomplish what I desire and achieve the purpose for which I sent it" (Isa 55:10-11).

As you see seedtime and harvest yield its return every year, come into His courts with praise that you will reap a spiritual harvest as you sow in faith and joy. Worship leads you to rest and trust in His faithfulness, His sovereignty, and His love. Be blessed to see that God is there, increasing your knowledge and experience of Himself.

With each place He takes you in those sometimes not-your-first-choice circumstances, He draws you deeper into Himself. Even when you see only the edges of His ways, hear only His small whispers, and cannot understand Him, He is the best. He promises that "you will go out in joy and be led forth in peace; the mountains and hills will burst into song before you, and all the trees of the field will clap their hands" (Isa 55:12). You can celebrate Him in the growth points of your journey, even in His faintest whispers. Remember Elijah. God was not in the violent wind, or the fire, or the earthquake, but in the gentle blowing of the still small voice. Be blessed to line up with His still small voice. Be blessed with an "upgrade" of your image of God, because what you think about Him, who He is to you, is the single most important element in trusting Him (Col 1:9-13).

Be blessed in the name of the King of the kingdom He promised to those who love Him (James 2:5).

May this blessing settle deeply into the places where you have been trying to understand what only God can see. You do not have to hold the whole story in order to trust the One who does. Even when you see only the edges of His ways and hear only the faint whisper of His voice, He is still good, still faithful, and still leading you in joy and peace.

Be blessed to recognize Him in the ordinary, to trust Him in the unknown, and to receive an enlarged picture of your Father's heart.

Dutch Sheets: The Fire that Forged America

I love sharing posts that prepare and help us pray for the emerging revival. Today is one such post. It is adapted from Larry and Mercedes Sparks' new book, The Fire that Forged America. Larry and Mercedes tell us:

History has a way of humbling our cynicism. Every generation that has declared a city or a nation too far gone for God to rescue it has eventually been proven wrong by the transformational move of the Holy Spirit. America is no exception. From the colonial era to the present, the places most often written off as spiritual graveyards have become the very epicenters of revival.

Let me take you on a brief journey through American history—not as a nostalgia trip, but as a prophetic provocation. These are blueprints, not footnotes. They tell the truth about God and expose the lie about those so-called “hard places.”

When Hard Ground Became Holy Ground

The First Great Awakening (1730s–1740s). By this point in America's history, strict religious devotion had given way to the compromise of the half-way covenant, producing generations who attended church as a cultural obligation rather than a heart encounter with God. Religious form remained, but spiritual fire had waned. Into that dryness, God thundered. Through the preaching of Jonathan Edwards and George Whitefield, the Holy Spirit pierced complacent hearts, producing weeping, repentance, and radical conversions. God can rewrite the story of a people, even in an age of compromise.

The Second Great Awakening (early 1800s). Following the Revolutionary War, moral decline, drunkenness, and lawlessness swept the new nation. Many predicted Christianity's influence would fade entirely. Instead, God raised up revivalists like Charles Finney and Barton Stone. Camp meetings like Cane Ridge drew tens of thousands. What began as rural stirrings spread into cities, producing mass conversions, societal reforms, and the seeds of abolition. A nation once thought adrift was redirected by the Spirit.

The Noonday Prayer Revival (1857–1858). On the edge of Civil War, Jeremiah Lanphier's noonday prayer meeting in Manhattan seemed almost insignificant. But within months, prayer meetings multiplied across America, and thousands were being converted weekly. What started as a small group praying in New York became a nationwide prayer movement. Even commercial and cultural capitals can become houses of intercession.

Azusa Street, Los Angeles (1906). In a segregated, suspicious, and spiritually parched environment, under the humble leadership of William J. Seymour, the Holy Spirit birthed a multi-ethnic, missions-sending revival whose fire has circled the globe, ultimately producing over half a billion on-fire believers celebrating the baptizing work of the Holy Spirit. If Los Angeles could become an altar, which city today would be beyond the Spirit's reach?

The Jesus People Movement (late 1960s–1970s). In the countercultural hotbeds of Southern California hippies, addicts, and spiritual seekers were baptized by the thousands. The generation many assumed was too far gone became burning ones for Jesus.

The Brownsville Revival, Pensacola (1995–2000). On Father's Day, 1995, what began as an ordinary Sunday service ignited into one of the most significant outpourings of the last 30 years. Under Pastor John Kilpatrick and evangelist Steve Hill, the Holy Spirit fell with convicting power. Millions visited over five years, with altars filled night after night as people wept, repented, and encountered the fire of God. In an age of growing cynicism, Pensacola became proof that revival was not a relic of the past but a living reality.

The River Is Breaking Banks Right Now

These snapshots from history bring us to the present moment — because the pattern has not stopped. In February 2023, the Asbury Outpouring reminded us that revival is not exclusive to the history books. Students filled a chapel in Wilmore, Kentucky, and what began as a simple time of prayer and worship stretched into days, then weeks. Thousands came from around the globe—not because there were big-name preachers or cutting-edge production, but because God's presence was tangible, the worship was pure, and the altar was open for people to have holy encounters.

What Asbury signaled was not an isolated visitation. It was a signpost of what God is doing across America in our day. Since 2020, the ground has shifted. In the aftermath of crisis, confusion, and cultural upheaval, hunger has begun to rise again. Secularism has not delivered the utopia it promised. Atheism has not satisfied the ache for meaning. Postmodernism has only deepened the swirl of confusion. And in the middle of this disillusionment, a remnant is rising.

Across university campuses, thousands are gathering—some in arenas, some in open fields, others in lecture halls. They are not satisfied with watered-down religion. They are desperate for bold answers, unapologetic truth, and encounters with the real Jesus. Multitudes of students are filling spaces to worship, repent, and be baptized—not because of slick campaigns, but because they have tasted the emptiness of the world and are desperate for the River of Life, the Holy Spirit.

The Spirit Is Stirring in Unlikely Places

But this stirring is not limited to campuses. It is showing up in the places that once seemed least likely—among Hollywood creatives and cultural influencers. Top podcasters are asking questions about God, Scripture, and the meaning of life. Some of the most listened-to voices in the digital public square are giving airtime to conversations about Christianity—not as an irrelevant icon of the past, but as an urgent question for the present.

Could it be that God is seeding the next great awakening not only in church buildings but also in podcast studios, university stadiums, and on cultural stages? The places we are tempted to write off as too dark or too hostile are being invaded by light. Revival is erupting in a podcast. It is breaking out in a dorm room. It is whispering in the conscience of top influencers. It is stirring in the places most people thought were sealed to the Gospel.

The River is not trickling quietly just within the four walls of the church. It is breaking banks—flooding campuses, flooding culture, flooding influencers with questions and convictions they cannot shake.

You Carry the River into Dry Lands

Here is what I want you to carry with you: you are not a spectator to this story. You are part of it. Jesus' invitation still rings: "If anyone thirsts, let him come to Me and drink. out of his heart will flow rivers of living water" (John 7:37-38 NKJV). People are thirsty—and the Spirit-filled Church carries the solution. You are filled with the River of Life that dry and thirsty people are desperate for.

The River of God's Spirit flows from within you into the world around you. The dryness of your environment does not threaten your fire. It is fuel for it. The very headlines that trouble your city, state, or nation may point to the specifics of your calling. You may be assigned to bring the River of God into those places. Don't curse the ground God called you to water, Speak life.

The River of God is rising. Spiritual graveyards are turning into gardens. History prophesies to us about the future: what God did in times past through historic revival and awakening, He can and will do it again. And you—right where you are—are part of how revival history is written.

Pray with me:

Father, let Your river continue to rise. Renew the face of America by pouring out Your Spirit in a mighty way. No sphere or sector of society is beyond Your reach. And Lord, we say with the prophet Isaiah, Here I am, send me. Pour out Your Spirit through me. Use me wherever You have called and assigned me to be a voice and vessel of awakening.

And we pray that Your fire would burn once again in believers across our nation. Continue building the glorious church You spoke of until it isn't only a remnant that is on fire, but millions of believers are ablaze with Holy Spirit's burning passion. Return leaders to their first love; baptize them afresh and anew with the power and passion of Holy Spirit. All of this we pray in Jesus' name, amen.

Our decree:

We decree that the present outpouring of the Holy Spirit is turning spiritual graveyards into gardens of life!

Veronika West

I heard it's

"TIME TO GO TO WAR AGAINST THE ENEMY CALLED WORRY, FEAR, AND ANXIETY"

Someone Needs to hear this today. Listen Friend, I heard the Spirit say, "Worry, Fear, and Anxiety are the fruits of the Roots of the deceptive Lies of the enemy that have convinced many that it has the Power to Change an Outcome. But Listen! The deceptive Lie of Satan possesses no such Authority or Power unless it's given legal rights to operate through the Power of our Agreement. Worry, Fear and Anxiety cannot alter Circumstances, Change hearts, or Move the Hand of God!"

While we are consumed with Worry, we are squandering precious time that could be spent in Prayer and Praise. The Spiritual energy we invest in Fear could instead be invested in Seeking God, Trusting His Promises, and laying our burdens before Him in Faith, with Expectation. Worry only produces more Worry; it has no Eternal value. It drains our Strength, clouds our Discernment and Judgment, and steals our Peace.

It robs us of Destiny and Inheritance. It Seeks to draw our attention and our hearts away from the One who Alone has all the Authority and Power to Supernaturally Intervene and Change situations and Circumstances.

Prayer, however, Changes everything. Prayer brings us into Agreement with the Divine Purposes of God. Prayer Strengthens Faith, Renews Hope, it releases Supernatural Peace, and Aligns and positions our Hearts to receive what God desires to do. Where Worry Magnifies the Problem, Prayer Magnifies God! The Enemy would have us believe that Worry and Anxiety is accomplishing something when in Truth, it is only hindering us and keeping us from the very thing that does accomplish something, which is Faith-Filled Prayer! Therefore, let us Repent first for elevating the lie of the Enemy over the Report of the Lord, for squandering precious Time giving our attention to Fear and Anxiety.

Let us refuse the Lie that Worry has the Power to change anything. Instead, let us Turn our Hearts toward God in Prayer and Thanksgiving, choosing rather to place our Trust in His Character that He is Love, He is Faithful and Sovereign, and that He is ABLE to do Exceedingly, Abundantly and above all that we Ask or Think! Beloved, Let's Become Warriors in Prayer and no longer Worriers that have Aligned with Lies. All the Worry changes nothing!

The Power of Prayer changes Everything. Faith looks to God while Fear looks to the problem. There is a Choice before us, we can choose to squander our Time Worrying about what Might or might not happen, or we can Spend the Gift of Time Praying to the One who Holds all things and Works All things together for Good to those who Love and Trust Him!

Av 18, 5786: Saturday-August 1, 2026

Lana Vawser: "OH WEARY ONE, I AM CHANGING YOUR NAME"

I heard this today for the weary ones I pray it blesses you! "Oh weary one, I have seen your tears, I have seen your fears, and I have seen the weariness in the waiting. Know that I am drawing close to you weary one. I see how your heart and how you have been feeling that weariness has infiltrated and felt like it has defined every area of your life. I want to say to you today, that circumstances and the enemy may have labelled you the weary one, and at times, you yourself may have labelled yourself 'the weary one', but I say to you, I am CHANGING your name. I am CHANGING your name. I am CHANGING your name. WARRIOR! WARRIOR! WARRIOR! I am making a declaration over you today that your DESTINY is at hand.

You are destined to be "WEARY ONE" you are destined to be "WARRIOR, VICTORIOUS ONE". There is coming a rumbling, there is coming a rumbling, there is coming a rumbling, in the Spirit that is going to shake things up. A powerful move of My Spirit that is going to change things. You will feel it coming, you will anticipate it coming in the distance as you can smell the rain and see the dark clouds before it storms. A heavenly expectancy, excitement and stirring is about to be birthed forth from the very areas that chained you with weariness and SUDDENLY you will arise. SUDDENLY you will arise and moving in greater authority, power of My Spirit and moving to the rhythm of flow of My heartbeat like you have not known before.

The wilderness has surrounded you, but it was your very training ground to ARISE OUT as the WARRIOR that you are. Where weariness has stolen clarity, and confidence, ask of Me, partner with Me, and you will see a MANIFESTATION of My heavenly wisdom over your life. You will arise not only with boldness that you have not had before, a fearlessness you have not experienced before, and a fierceness in how you love Me and others, you will arise with a greater conviction of the weapons of warfare in your hands and fighting FROM victory. Not only will you move forward carrying a breaker anointing to see things shift and shake and break more suddenly, but you will carry the WISDOM to know HOW to move forward and which ground to take.

Weary one, no longer! My WARRIOR STRENGTHENED WISE ONE, ARISE. You have been in the valley, and have found Me, we have connected more deeply in the sighs and the pool of tears, and you know Me now like you have not known Me before. We have forged new ground and uphill battles together, and it's time to go to the MOUNTAIN TOP. It's time to move to the MOUNTAIN TOP where you shall find encounters with Me and My power that are going to pour over you like a waterfall and bring life, strength, energy and your heavenly ROAR BACK to the surface. In the valley you learned DEEP intimacy, you were being birthed. Now you shall learn what takes place FROM the place of deeper intimacy with Me. Where there has been sighs, you will see signs and wonders. Where there has been fear, you are going to move in radical love. Where there has been the feeling and pressure to give up, you are now moving forward into intentionally taking ground and going after injustice and seeing heavenly justice established on the earth THROUGH YOU as you partner with Me and move in My flow.

Weariness in this season has attempted to threaten and abort your destiny, but oh my beautiful warrior, you are arising now to TAKE YOUR DESTINY. To slay the giants that stood before you and have authority over them. Land that was stolen from you, you are now claiming back and ownership over with greater interest.

I am changing your name, I am changing your name, I am changing your name and through you and the sudden turnaround and breaking of weariness, you shall spread My love and goodness and my fame and name be known all across the earth. What you learnt in the valley has prepared you for the mountaintop. Thank you for not rushing the process. Thank you that you continued to stand. Thank you for not giving up. Thank you for continually giving me your YES. Partner with Me now in faith, take My hand, WARRIOR, we are moving into a new adventure where your destiny will be greatly displayed and the ROAR of VICTORY shall burst through you and the ripple effects of that ROAR, MY ROAR through you, are going to break chains and shake nations with My love bringing some of the greatest atmospheric shifts you have EVER seen and powerful demonstrations of heaven coming to earth.

You have contended and contended and now many shall see that you have ascended into higher realms of encounters with Me, revelation of My Word and FIERCE RADICAL LAYING DOWN YOUR LIFE FOR ME AND OTHER TYPES OF LOVE that you have not seen before.

Stand with Me, look out to what is before you. The mountain awaits and look at the name of the trail leading up to the mountain "YOUR BEST DAYS!!!!!!". Your best days are just ahead!!!!

"LET YOUR ROOTS GO DEEPER, FOR FALSE FOUNDATIONS ARE BEING SHIFTED AND SHAKEN!"

In the last few days, I have been feeling what I can only describe as deep Tremors in the Spirit realm, as though a massive Spiritual Earthquake is about to break forth I keep hearing, "A Greater Shaking is on the Horizon." And yes, I believe this may even speak of physical events, such as a great Earthquake, even a Volcano.

It will Speak to Political and Economic Earthquakes

But beyond that, as I was in Prayer, I saw another Global Event similar in scale and intensity to COVID, a Global Pandemic (or "Plandemic") that will once again impact and shift Nations, bringing Governments, Economies, Global Leaders, Systems and Structures to their knees. We know throughout Scripture that God often Warns before He Acts and before the Enemy Attacks, and many times Spiritual realities are revealed through physical happenings that serve as Prophetic Signs and Supernatural Reflections of what is taking place on the Prophetic Timeline of God. As I have been praying, I keep hearing these words;

"TAKE ROOT. TAKE DEEPER ROOT, FOR FALSE FOUNDATIONS ARE CRACKING, SHIFTING AND COLLAPSING."

Immediately, I was reminded that Roots Not only determine Fruits, but Roots will determine Stability. Jeremiah 17:7–8 declares. “Blessed is the man who Trusts in the Lord, whose Hope is the Lord. For he shall be like a Tree planted by the waters, which spreads out its Roots by the river, and will not fear when heat comes; but its leaf will be green, and will not be Anxious in the year of drought nor will cease from yielding fruit.”

Shallow Roots are easily exposed in the Hour of Shaking, in the midst of the Winds, Storms and Rising Flood Waters. In the natural, Shallow Roots give way to catastrophic Mud slides and destructive Rock Falls. Shallow Roots Crumble under Pain, Pressure and Persecution, and are Uprooted and carried away by the Wind. But Deep Roots Grip the Bedrock of Christ. They Remain Steadfast when the ground beneath them is Trembling, Shifting and Shaking.

They continue to bear Much Fruit even in Times of scarcity and drought. They Stand firm and Immovable in the Storm and thrive in the midst of Uncertainty, chaos and upheaval! I believe the Spirit is calling His Remnant in this hour to go Deeper than ever before. Keep in Mind, Depth determines Height! We must Go Deeper, and not into more Ministry Activity or striving and noise or even greater performance, but into Deeper Intimacy, Ascension, Consecration, and in unwavering Trust and Obedience to Him.

In Colossians 2:6–7 it says, “Be Rooted and Built up in Him, and Established in the Faith!” Notice that Roots grow in dark and hidden places. The Deepest work of God is often accomplished where no one sees it. It is a Sacred and Holy Work. It’s in late-night Prayer and in Fasting when the flesh cries out to Sleep and to Eat. It’s in hidden acts of Surrender and Obedience, often In Seasons of intense financial pressure, in deep and painful Relational pruning, in unrelenting and stressful times, even an unexpected health Battle where the Spirit of Death tries to rise to lay claim to Life and Destiny. In delayed Promises and Vision being made manifest, in Dry Wilderness places, this is where God is Strategically Moving to Build and Establish Lordship of our lives at the deepest levels within us!!

Listen Remnant!

The Lordship of Christ is first revealed in Private Surrender in the darkness of the Womb of the Upper Room before it is ever revealed in Pulpits and public Platforms. Remember, before God can truly entrust His Servant with the greater weight, influence, and the responsibility of a Kingship, he must first develop Deeper Roots that can carry the weight of Kingdom Produce. Going Deeper will come at a great Cost!! Be of Good Courage!

The Greater Shaking that is coming is not only designed to expose what is weak, it is also designed to Reveal what is truly and deeply Rooted. For when the ground begins to Move - when False Foundations are being shifted - only that which is deeply rooted and firmly planted on the Bedrock of Christ will Remain Standing in the midst of the Shaking. I hear the Spirit saying,

"TAKE ROOT. TAKE DEEPER ROOT. DRAW NEAR TO ME, THAT YOU MAY BE BUILT AND ESTABLISHED IN MY WORD THAT IS UNSHAKEABLE AND UNCHANGING. STRENGTHEN YOUR COVENANT FOUNDATIONS, FOR THE DAYS AHEAD WILL TEST EVERY STRUCTURE AND MEASURE THE WEIGHT AND SUBSTANCE OF EVERY WORK AND EVERY HEART!"

The Hour is Critical and Calls not for Spectators, but for deeply Rooted Sons and Daughters who cannot be Moved when everything around them is Shaking! For the deeper the Roots, the greater the Stability. And the greater the Stability, the greater the Capacity to Carry the weight of Glory that is Coming!

Are Being Rolled Out!

The Red Sea Superhighway

Vision and word from the Lord received on June 15, 2026:

As I was spending time praying and being with the Lord, I was taken into the spirit over a superhighway. This was brand new; it had never been traveled. It was state of the art. I have never seen such a clean, efficient, and well-built road. It was twelve lanes wide in each direction. It had been designed and engineered for travelling at great speeds. There had never been anything built like it ever before. This far exceeded anything even the Autobahn could offer.

My attention was then drawn to the grand opening of this major superhighway, where the initial run was made by teams that were leading it, and what was to come, and what it was built for. There was a motorcade of limousines; they were like "The Beast" that the president drives, but they were not his, and they were not wholly American. This motorcade was surrounded by military and police coverage and security like I'd never seen before. There were twelve limos, and I knew that the people in them were those in authority who had collaborated in building this superhighway.

As they traveled along, there was an intersecting highway that, in itself, was also quite large, with an on-ramp for those who were coming in from that area.

There was another small motorcade with four limos, and they were actually parked on the on-ramp, waiting for the first group to pass by. I saw them seamlessly, at the exact right moment, pull onto the superhighway behind the ones who were leading. This was perfectly planned and executed. The timing was perfect as the two motorcades merged together. As they got up to speed, they came upon another on-ramp where there was another motorcade parked in the same manner, waiting to pull onto the superhighway to join them. This was a large contingency that was now joining in. There were fifty limos or so in the entourage, and the stakeholders had been waiting a long time for this moment. (Photo via Pexels)

It's Go Time!

It was now "go time." They all pulled onto the superhighway, got up to speed, and sped down it.

There were other on-ramps and off-ramps that had temporary military and police roadblocks. This superhighway was still closed and on controlled lockdown until they were given the go-ahead.

They were close and waiting until everything was ready and in place. They were waiting for the call and the green light to open up the superhighway to its full capacity. The switchover from the old highways to the new superhighway had been meticulously planned. It is no small thing to shut down old infrastructures and rip them out as new infrastructures are introduced and commissioned.

As I watched the motorcade flying down the new superhighway, my eyes were drawn to an angelic host that was standing on the shoulders of this highway, guarding what the motorcade was doing and where they were going. As the motorcade passed by, the angelic host took to flight, going with and before them, to give them all the support and resources they would need for the assignment they had been given.

Chosen by God and Given Destiny Plans for a Kingdom Global Reset

I knew by the Spirit that this motorcade included leaders from around the world. They each had been given destiny plans by the Father to steward what they had been given. Each and every person who was in this motorcade was a stakeholder in one way, shape or form in relationship to a Kingdom global reset that had been put in place by the Lord God Almighty. They had been called and chosen to rebuild ruined cities and nations. These were the "big guns" that the enemy had tried to take out and repress with all he had. They had been hidden away, working diligently behind the scenes on infrastructure that was complex and the most secure the world had ever seen. And it was all given by the grace of God in every part of its design.

This was the culmination of all the individual efforts of those who were now being deployed in real time. There were stakeholders who had been held captive by tyrants, evil cabal globalist leaders, and bankers who had been executing the vilest globalist plans and agendas upon mankind.

It was now clear that the balance of power had changed. By the Spirit, I recognized some of the ones who were leading this charge. They had the highest levels of integrity, were full of wisdom, Kingdom-minded and Kingdom-driven, and led by the hand of God every step of the way. The evil ones had nothing in comparison to what this hand-chosen group was bringing forward.

Great Works for Freedom Are Being Rolled Out!

I knew by the Spirit that things were about to go live in the new system. And this new infrastructure was only the start. There were great works that were about to be rolled out to bring liberty and freedom to the sovereign people throughout the earth. This was indeed what felt like a Red Sea moment. Freedom, deliverance, healing, restoration, and true justice were at hand.

As I was over the superhighway, taking it all in, the vision opened up, and I saw that it was intertwined and overlaid with golden optic lines! There would soon be a release of systems and technologies that had been withheld in order to oppress God's people. There were humanitarian projects being released on a scale that no one had imagined possible. There was a taking down of big pharma, a taking out of tyrannical governments, a taking out of cartels running human and shuttle trafficking; a taking out of drug lords, environmental warfare, weather control and warfare; a taking out of weaponized food systems through agriculture, water, and air, to name a few. The time to tear down to rebuild was at hand. Every resource would be made available to make this happen.

God Is Hitting the Afterburners: Acceleration to Fulfill Kingdom Purpose!

The enormity of this and what I saw is not at all easy to articulate. As I was journaling this out, the Lord spoke to me:

"Barry, tell My people, for those to whom I have entrusted, the kingdoms of a man come and go, but My Kingdom is everlasting. I have shed My blood for you, and I've overcome death and the grave so that you can have everlasting life with Me. (Photo via Pexels)

"That everlasting life is not something that is going to show up one day as you might think. For I've made a way for you to walk, even today, in a fullness with Me that you may not fully understand. My manifest sons and daughters have been released throughout the nations to walk in My Kingdom ways, to bring forth My Kingdom purposes throughout the earth.

"You have been called and commissioned to disciple the nations. You have been called on, commissioned, to bring Heaven to earth. There have been many whom I've had in hidden places, who have been called by My name, working and preparing behind the scenes for these very days and the things to come. For those who have been responsible with 'the little,' I will entrust much more, and for those who have not been responsible with what I have entrusted to them, even that shall be taken away.

"For what I'm releasing now is not for your own aggrandizement, but it is for My Kingdom purposes throughout the earth to restore their own cities and nations. It is being released to set the captives free. For I'm about to remove the wealth of the wicked and place it in the hands of the righteous. For whom can I trust but those who have clean hands and a pure heart, who have laid down their lives for others, even unto death.

"I implore you on this day, once again, to examine your hearts and to lay down every encumbrance upon which you hold that would inhibit you from being your best and carrying out My Kingdom purposes with Me throughout the earth.

"Get ready, get ready, get ready! It is time. For I am going to accelerate, as I am hitting the afterburners! We are going to go higher, faster, and farther together than you could have ever hoped, dreamed, or imagined. You are going to see signs, wonders, and miracles, just as in days of old!"

Holy is the word of the Lord.

Lana Vawser: I HEARD THE LORD SAY 'AS YOU COME OUT OF HIDING, I AM REDEFINING'

Recently, I heard the Lord say, 'As you come out of hiding, I am redefining.'

As the Lord spoke these words, I saw many in the Body of Christ that were still in hiding because of what they have walked, because of hurts, pains, grief and ongoing warfare they have encountered. I saw the temptation was so strong to remain in hiding because of fear of stepping out again or coming out into a new season, because of what it could mean. I could see so clearly that the enemy has been using lies, false comforts and lies about 'what coming out of hiding would look like.' Many are feeling the lure into temptation to remain in hiding, feeling the pressure of the fear that is shouting, 'It is safer to remain in hiding.'

It was so clear to me as I watched, that the enemy was terrified of these ones coming out of hiding, leaving behind past seasons, leaving behind the grave clothes, leaving behind 'what was' and choosing to step up and out and trust Him in what feels like a great 'unknown.'

As I leaned into the Lord and listened to His heart, I heard:
'My people, these are your greatest days of transformation. These are the days that you have been waiting for. These are the days you have been longing for to step up and out of so many places that have held you captive, contained and afraid. I say unto you, these are the days of encountering My mighty breath of life, My resurrection power and My mighty restoration that will cause you to be full of joy and strength in Me again. I say unto you that My Spirit is calling you UP and OUT. My Spirit is wooing you into a new day and the enemy is terrified of you stepping UP and OUT into what I have for you in this season.'

'I say unto you, that you must let go of yesterday. You must not remain in what was. You must not be firmly focused on what has been, but you must look to Me and look to what is ahead – for I have greater things planned than you have imagined.'

'I say unto you, that as you come up and out of hiding, I am REDEFINING. I say unto you, that through much of what you have walked and endured, the enemy, lies, accusations, circumstances and pain have attempted to redefine who you are, what you carry and where I am leading you. There has been much that many of you have taken on and aligned with that is not My heart for you, and as you come UP and OUT of hiding in this season, you will see that I am REDEFINING.

Where the enemy has attempted to redefine you and keep you in hiding, where you are carrying things that are not in line with what I have said and My heart for you, I AM BRINGING FORTH A MIGHTY REDEFINITION. I say unto you, that I am DEFINING again who you are in Me and I am bringing you into a place of great freedom, healing, deliverance and strength.

'Where others have attempted to box you in, I am bringing forth a redefining where you shall see with greater clarity who you are in Me, what you carry and what I am leading you into. I am STRIPPING YOU of what others have spoken over you that has attempted to define you. I am stripping you of the places where you have allowed the past and past seasons to define you. I am stripping you of places where there has been great temptation to be defined by what you have walked, the pain you have carried, and the words spoken over you. I am bringing forth a MIGHTY UNTETHERING. I am bringing forth a MIGHTY DELIVERANCE in your lives as you keep your eyes on Me.

'I say unto you, that I am bringing you UP and OUT of the graves that you have been lying in. I say unto you, that I am leading you deeper into the places of breaking agreements with a spirit of death. I am leading you deeper into the places of breaking agreement with small-mindedness and unbelief. I am leading you deeper into the places of breaking agreement with the power of words that have been spoken over you that have hindered you from moving into all that I have for you in this season. I am leading you deeper into believing what I have spoken over you about who you are and what you are being led into.

'I say unto you, that I am lighting a FIRE WITHIN YOU. A fire of passion and hunger for Me and for all that I have for you in this season that is causing you to AWAKE and begin to see many of the areas where you have been hiding. I say unto you, that the fire of My Spirit is causing a mighty discontentment within you to REMAIN where you have been and a deep restlessness to remain in the grave clothes and the things that have contained you. It is My fire that I am releasing within you to hunger and thirst for Me in greater ways and to not be satisfied in living lower than what I have paid for you at the Cross. I am bringing you into a deeper understanding of your life and inheritance in Me and that IN ME you LIVE and MOVE and have your being. (Acts 17:28)

'I am causing you to wake up and shake off the chains. I am causing you to wake up and take off the grave clothes. I am causing you to wake up and to lock eyes with the things that have attempted to keep you in hiding, the things that have attempted to lock you into a box of containment, and I am bringing you into a deeper place of faith and freedom in Me.

'I say unto you, that I am WAKING YOU UP by My Spirit. I say unto you, that I am speaking to you, "COME OUT OF HIDING." I say unto you, I am causing you to step into realms of My resurrection power that you have not known, and I am bringing you into a greater place of commissioning in the new season that I have for you.

'I say unto you, that not only will you walk in mighty recompense and restoration, but I am causing you to ARISE and AWAKEN to My Mighty power and to walk in boldness and confidence in who I have created you to be and WHO I AM for you. I am the God who is FOR YOU and NOT AGAINST YOU. (Rom 8:31)

'I say unto you, that the enemy has worked so hard to lure you into agreement with lies about who I am and who I am for you. The enemy has been working hard to sow seeds of doubt within you of what I have said, who I have created you to be and what you carry. But I say unto you that I am causing you to SEE where you have aligned and given agreement to these lies, and I am bringing you deeper into a great awakening of WHO I AM FOR YOU! I am untethering you from the lies that have held you captive about My nature. I am the GOD who is for you and My goodness is INCOMPREHENSIBLE.

'I say unto you, My people, say GOODBYE to yesterday. Yesterday is containing many of you. Say GOODBYE to yesterday, for a new day is before you. Look back at yesterday ONLY to celebrate what I have done. But I say unto you, I am causing you to awaken and see where you have been connected to yesterday in unhealthy ways; and to repent for being tethered to yesterday, for longing for yesterday. And I am bringing you into deeper places of breaking agreement with yesterday.

I say unto you, that where many of you have been tethered to yesterday – tethered to the familiar, tethered to people of yesterday that you walked with in past seasons, those seasons of walking together are over – I am causing you to awaken and to let go. I say unto you, My people, do not continue to attempt to RESURRECT WHAT WAS – it is bringing you into delay and dismay. I say unto you, repent for attempting to resurrect what was.

'Look to Me and KNOW that I am bringing you into some of your greatest moments of seeing My resurrection power come upon you and move you into all things new. I say unto you, do not look at the new season with fear and foreboding. I say unto you, ask Me what I am speaking over this new season and PROPHECY IT. Align with MY WORDS over your new season. Many of you have been stuck and delayed because of what you have spoken over your season. Repent for careless words and speaking words over your season and the season upon you that is not in line with what I have said. PROPHECY to your new season what I am speaking and REFUSE to move from it.

'Prophecy over the dead things that I have promised you will see come to life, walk in, receive and apprehend. Prophecy to them. Prophecy to the dry bones. Prophecy to your heart that has felt dry and dead. Prophecy to the places where all you see is death. For these are the places where you are moving into the greatest demonstrations of My resurrection power, and what you will see Me do by the power of My Spirit will announce My Glory and goodness to all around.'

Victoria Boyson: You Will See It!

Trust in My Liberty!

The Lord says, "Open up your heart and let your soul sing. Gone are the days of your captivity! You have been afraid of too many things. Rejoice in Me now, and trust in My liberty!"

"I've prepared untold treasures for you, My dear. Let the worry go and to Me draw near! I will liberate your heart, as you know I am able, when you run to Me and sit at My table."

"It's time for an evacuation of sorts, to rid yourself of unbelief and doubts. Tell them to go! Give them a shout! I will draw near to you! Watch My glory pour out!"

Victory Is on the Way

"It's an awakening that's coming, so let it have its way. Let go of fear, and I will make a way! Am I not the Way Maker you sing of in your song? Drop everything; rejoice in Me all day long!"

"My heart is brimming with GREAT JOY over you, because I see your future, and what I see is true! Oh, it is true, dear one. The darkness looks bleak, but MY light's increasing, and you'll not see defeat!"

"Just like Martha, you're worried for many things, but rejoice in Me and the victory I bring! 'Keep your chin up,' so they say. But I say, It's time! My victory is on the way!"

"No more castles made of sand; I will draw near and heal your land! I've heard your prayers and I've watched your fight, so I will bring you a victory with all of My might!" (Photo via Unsplash)

"The forces of darkness will crumble before you as you stand to your feet and give Me the glory! I've mustered an army of victorious warriors, and I'm more sure of them than your enemies, surely!"

The Days of More than Enough!

"Gone are the days of just enough; I'm delivering a train load of more than enough! It's been a tough season, of that there's no doubt; I'm breaking through, and I'm about to pour out!"

"Beloved, I love you; trust only in Me. Restoration is coming, of that you will see! Your Future Is Bright. 'Step by step, line by line,' I'm working things out for you just in time. Be patient with Me; it's all for your good. For the plans that I have for you won't be misunderstood."

"Be patient, My child; I'm right by your side. I won't rush ahead nor leave you behind. Your future is bright, and what you leave in My hands, I will bless and increase as the season demands."

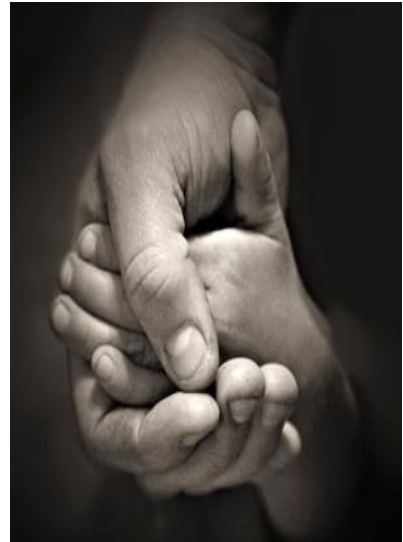

"All you have entrusted into My care, with patience and trust, will turn out for your good. Do not pull back your faith in this final hour, because good things are coming for those who trust in My power!"

"Watch and My hand will reveal a great treasure; I've kept it secure for you, without measure. Skip past doubt, run away from fear; hold tight to My promise and all will become clear."

Not a Fragile God

"Didn't I tell you; I'm not a fragile God? Indeed, I have routed your enemies out of your way; all demons have to bow at the mention of My name.

"Don't worry about your future, precious child of Mine; it's time for your life to match step with Mine. What I said I would do for you, I have secured; no one will take it from you, of that be assured. (Photo via Rawpixel)

"When I call you, beloved, come running to Me; because this is your hour, you'll finally be free. I've promised you wings, and they are on their way. You will soon be flying free from doubt and dismay!

"'I'm waiting, I'm waiting,' the eager are saying. Tell them, 'Don't doubt,' for I am on the way! I see how your enemies are pressing in on every side, but I've called them in to witness an explosion of My fire!

Wait till You See the Big Surprise!

"My child, it's time to take out the trash—every single bit of pain and darkness from the past. Gone are the days of lack and defeat; I'm moving you to a place of victory in Me!

"Your enemies will watch as I unveil My prize, for what I've nurtured in secret will be a big surprise! It's just what is needed for these dark days, of that I am certain, and they'll be no more delays!

"Run to your neighbor, run to your friend! Encourage them with this: I'm coming again!

"Won't it be fun? Won't it be great! I'm bursting with happiness, and I won't be late!"

A TIME OF GREATER REVELATION IS UPON US
VERONIKA WEST, IRELAND

Recently, in my prayer hut, something strange happened. The only way to describe it was that it was as if I was sitting in a nest, but also like a womb, which was high, high, high above the nations of the earth. But at the same time, it was deep, deep, deep in the realm of the spirit. And suddenly, I could feel a tangible brooding of the Spirit over me, like the Spirit was hovering over me as in Genesis. There was what felt like a brooding of the Spirit and power of Elijah over me.

I also then became aware of what felt like a divine stirring of the nest, like the start of the deep contractions of a womb at a time of birthing—a strange and deep stirring in the spirit, just like when an eagle will stir and move her eggs into right position for the hatching and the time of birthing! But then suddenly, I saw what appeared like a great eagle that was hovering over me, and then I saw the wings of the eagle come up and spread out before me in the encounter. And I saw that its wings were covered in multi-colored feathers that literally glistened with radiant light. And within the light, I could hear what sounded like ancient sounds rising up from deep within the spirit realm. Now both the colors of the great eagle's wings and feathers are very hard to articulate, and the sounds I heard, I can't really explain in words—but the radiant colors of the feathers I saw and could tangibly feel were living, vibrating, and pulsing with life and power. The vibrations of the colors gave way to ancient sound frequencies, and I knew by the Spirit of Revelation that what I was seeing spoke to the seven spirits of God that we see in the book of Revelation.

Then I saw the eyes of the great eagle come up before me, and I saw that there were many eyes—seven eyes. Again, I knew that this spoke to the seven eyes of the seven spirits—seven eyes bringing greater vision, illumination, and revelation.

Then suddenly, the four faces of Ezekiel came up before me—the face of the eagle, the man, the ox, and the lion (Ezekiel 1). And again, I knew by revelation that this spoke to the four living creatures in Ezekiel, and I knew that the four faces spoke to the coming Kingdom reformation of the five-fold. And I suddenly saw that a divine convergence of the four faces is now coming upon the nations. And I knew by the Spirit of Understanding that I/the prophets of God are now receiving by divine exchange and impartation—in the secret place of deeper consecration—greater clarity, supernatural vision, greater illumination, and revelation knowledge for the days to come. There is a hovering, brooding, and overshadowing that's taking place in the secret place and on the great mountain of the Lord. I believe and submit this is why many have been hearing the call to greater ascension and deeper consecration. There is an invitation to "Come up here!"

I heard, "Get ready, for you have now entered into a season of divine incubation, birthing, and a spiritual awakening, where in the secret and hidden place, in the womb of the Upper Room, I the Lord am forming and preparing the hearts of My end-time remnant army to bring forth deeper levels of glory through divine revelation and wisdom for such a time as this."

I/the prophets are being taken higher and deeper into the secret and hidden realms of His glory and into virgin dimensions of His glory that have never been seen before and for the purpose of a greater manifestation and demonstration of His Kingdom, in order to take full dominion.

I heard the Spirit say, "Watch! For many are incubating revelation that will bring to birth greater manifestations of My Kingdom in the nations of the earth!"

Dutch Sheets
The Pillar of Fire

I've said quite a bit lately about our Helper, the Holy Spirit. He aids us in many ways, not the least of which is guidance. He led the Israelites in a very unique way in the Exodus from Egypt, through a literal "pillar of a cloud" by day, and a "pillar of fire" by night (Exodus 13:21-22): "And the Lord was going before them in a pillar of cloud by day to lead them on the way, and in a pillar of fire by night to give them light, so that they might travel by day and by night. He did not take away the pillar of cloud by day, nor the pillar of fire by night, from the presence of the people." (NASB)

Interestingly, in a passionate speech to Patriot leaders in America's War of Independence, Founding Father Sam Adams referenced these two pillars. In September 1777, the war was not going well. The British were in control of New York, and Washington's troops were suffering from deprivation and fatigue. "The number of delegates present at Congress had dwindled to a mere twenty from the fifty-six members who had signed the Declaration of Independence in 1776. Those remaining gathered for a private meeting in York to question whether there was any hope of success.”

Firebrand Adams, known by Bostonians as the Father of the American Revolution, rose to speak—actually “preach” would be a better description of his exhortation—comparing the American revolutionaries to the Israelites who had left the slavery of Egypt. He first referenced appealing to heaven, along with God’s providence and faithfulness - leaving no doubt where his faith lay - then mentioned these two pillars:

“Let us awaken then, and evince a different spirit, a spirit that shall inspire the people with confidence in themselves and in us, a spirit that will encourage them to persevere in this glorious struggle, until their rights and liberties shall be established on a rock. We have proclaimed to the world our determination ‘to die freemen, rather than to live slaves.’ We have appealed to heaven for the justice of our cause, and in heaven we have placed our trust. Numerous have been the manifestations of God’s providence in sustaining us. In the gloomy period of adversity, we have had ‘our cloud by day and pillar of fire by night.’ We have been reduced to distress, and the arm of Omnipotence has raised us up. Let us still rely in humble confidence on Him who is mighty to save. Good tidings will soon arrive. Heaven shall never abandon us while we act worthy of its aid and protection.” Preach it, Adams!

I have always been fascinated by these pillars of cloud and fire in Israel’s Exodus, finding God’s choice to manifest His presence in this way intriguing. The cloud and fire were no doubt manifestations of Holy Spirit. But did they picture something more? I believe they did. Psalm 29 speaks of the power of God’s voice releasing clouds and fire. Verses 3-6 speak of His voice releasing storms - clouds, thunder, lightning, etc., and verse 7 tells us it releases fire. According to TPT, this psalm was read on the first day of the Feast of Pentecost, which pointed ahead to Holy Spirit being poured out on the church in Acts 2. They state in their footnote that “The Christian church was born on Pentecost two thousand years ago when the mighty ‘storm’ of the Spirit came into the upper room.”

Acts 2 tells us: “Suddenly they heard the sound of a violent blast of wind rushing into the house from out of the heavenly realm. The roar of the wind was so overpowering it was all anyone could bear! Then all at once a pillar of fire appeared before their eyes. It separated into tongues of fire that engulfed each one of them.” (Acts 2:2-3 TPT)

In a footnote regarding these verses, the Passion translators state: "This was the pillar of fire that led Israel from bondage into the promised land. The same pillar of fire manifested here to initiate a new beginning from dead religious structures into the powerful life of the Spirit. Each believer received an overpowering flame of fire, signified by the shaft of light that engulfed them. It was as though each one received his own personal pillar of fire that would empower him and lead him throughout his life. This was the promise Jesus gave to His disciples of 'the one like me' (John 14:26), who would be sent by the Father and never leave them. Today, every believer is indwelt by the Spirit of Christ."

If that doesn't make you wanna shout some hallelujahs, I don't know what would. Israel's supernatural "guidance pillars" now indwell us in the person of the Holy Spirit. Patriot Adams knew Holy Spirit was assisting America in her quest for freedom, and He is helping us today regain our true freedom and purpose. Keep praying, church; we have Scripture - and history - on our side. "Heaven shall never abandon us."

Pray with me:

Father, sin and rebellion often lead to depravity and insanity. Some of America's leaders want to ban Your influence in our government. We also have depraved leaders who don't know the difference between men and women, want to see babies killed, children mutilated, Your Word mocked, Your marriage covenant defiled, and common sense outlawed. Many "became vain in their imaginations, and their foolish hearts were darkened. Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools" (Romans 1:21-22). Our nation has sown the wind and is reaping the whirlwind (Hosea 8:7). And yet, You are rich in mercy (Ephesians 2:4), and love to redeem. We approach You now based on the redemptive power of the blood of Jesus. In the greatest story ever told, our Creator has become our Redeemer. We ask that His blood continue to cleanse our nation from sin, its resulting depravity, and the curse of insanity. Cleanse our hearts and heal our minds. Restore us to You, and thereby to truth and life.

And as Founding Father Samuel Adams referenced, we ask You for the cloud by day and pillar of fire by night (Exodus 13:21). We need Holy Spirit's guidance in our personal lives, and our nation needs them. Bring His glory and fire to our government, releasing these guiding forces into the White House, the halls of Congress, and the Supreme Court. Flow down from these "heads" of our government to every facet of the executive, legislative, and judicial branches.

"We have appealed to heaven for the justice of our cause, and in heaven we have placed our trust." We will not doubt, and we will not stop doing so until our nation is ablaze with revival and being reformed by truth. And in Jesus' name we seal this. Amen.

Our decree:

We decree that the appeals to heaven will not stop, and they will not fail.

Donna Rigney: Have Faith!

While sitting in prayer on June 18, 2026, Father asked me, "What do you think is more difficult for Me to do, to create the world or to recreate it?"

I thought for a few minutes and wondered which would be more difficult for God to do. He responded, "Neither! Both are easy."

He continued, "What is harder for Me to do, to create a man in My image or to recreate him into the image of My Son?"

Again, He answered His question, "Neither! Once a man submits his will to Mine, then the sky is the limit. I can do whatsoever I want to do. Nothing is too hard for Me to do. All things are possible if you just believe. Unbelief in the hearts of My children ties My hands. Faith is needed for Me to act on behalf of My beloved children. Faith in Me brings Me great pleasure. When faith is present, I am unstoppable."

Father declared, "I am trustworthy!" He repeated that over and over. Faith is having complete trust, confidence, or a strong belief in something or someone! Our God is trustworthy! We can give Him everything that concerns us and know that He will take care of it. Because He loves us, He will always do what's best for us!

Father continued to encourage our faith in Him: "I am not just with you; I am within you, closer than a brother. Tell Me what concerns you, ask Me for what you need, and watch your God answer your prayers and respond to your concerns. If you need wisdom, ask, and it will be given to you freely!" (Photo via Unsplash)

"Faith in Me is what is essential to live a happy, fruitful life. You receive what you believe; so, believe that every good and perfect gift that We have for you is coming to you and to yours—quickly! Build your faith by meditating on My Word and My words to you, and not on what the enemy is declaring or threatening to do to you, to yours, and to this world."

Father wants us to enjoy the benefits of believing in Him and trusting Him. He told me, "Enjoy the full happy lives that My Son purchased for you without guilt. Enjoy, to the fullest, all and everyone and everything that your good deeds have brought forth. Because it is harvest time, you are reaping the benefits of all the sacrifices you laid down upon Our altar."

Father encouraged us in this hour to not be afraid of the changes that are coming: "I will lead you step by step as I have always done in the past. You listened and obeyed what I asked of you; do the same now! Just listen to My voice within you and you will know the way to go."

"I am an unconventional God and will be doing things that neither you nor anyone has ever done. Let Me be free to do things My way, and you will enjoy your lives fully. Yes, it will bring you great joy when I act on your behalf!"

Confirming Scriptures: Joshua 1; Hebrews 11.

Warning for the Church

On May 31, 2026, Father gave me a word that was a warning for the Church:

"When evil appears and attempts to present itself as goodness and truth, the fruit will always reveal that evil was really manifesting. The fruit of My words and My work is always peace and goodness, never confusion or chaos."

"Gossip, slander, and accusations, disguised as truth, must be addressed and stopped! Witchcraft tries to imitate Me and My ways, and often pretends to speak for Me. The fruit will always be putrid, so watch out for those who present themselves as hearing from Me but are listening to another spirit, not My Spirit!"

Confirming Scripture: "By their fruit you will know them" (Matthew 7:20 ISV).

A POWERFUL TESTIMONY OF THE WEIGHT OF HIS PRESENCE AT THE LORD'S TABLE

I don't usually ever share personal Family details, but I felt such a powerful unction of the Spirit to Share the following; Today, my 22-year-old son, Caleb, shared a deeply personal experience with me that profoundly impacted my own heart. Before sharing this, I asked Caleb for permission, as I believe his testimony has the power and potential to encourage others to approach the Lord's Table with a renewed Reverence and Awe and with an Expectation of God's Divine Intervention.

Yesterday, as Caleb prepared to take Communion in his own personal time with the Lord, as he is often inclined to do, he dipped the small wafer into the Cup of Wine, and he closed his eyes to Pray. He shared that as he lingered before the Lord, just reflecting upon the price Jesus paid through His Broken Body and shed Blood, as he Stopped Praying and opened his eyes to take the Communion, he suddenly noticed what appeared to be the outline of a face that had appeared upon the Wine-soaked wafer.

He described how incredible it was in that moment to see what looked like a face which appeared in the deep Red of the Communion Wine. As he looked at the Face, it immediately reminded him of the bloodied Face of Christ. He shared that the moment was unbelievably powerful. And as he looked at the Face, in that moment, Caleb said he became deeply aware of a tangible and weighty Presence of the Lord coming into the Room.

The atmosphere around him seemed to Change, and he felt overwhelmed in his heart in a new and powerful way. He told me that he was so deeply moved by what he saw and sensed, that he found himself reluctant to even eat the wafer. But Before receiving Communion, he said he felt led to take a photograph so that he could remember the deep significance of the moment! It was only later that he then showed me the photograph, and he shared what had happened in his quiet time with the Lord!

When I looked at the image, I too could clearly see what appeared to be the outline of a face, and it actually reminded me of the familiar profile often associated with the Shroud of Turin. Now, whether others simply see an unusual pattern, or whether the Lord can use this moment to arrest our attention and draw us into a deeper awareness of Christ's sacrifice, I leave to each person to prayerfully discern! But this I know: Caleb's Encounter is a powerful and timely reminder that Communion is never ordinary.

The Lord's Table is not a religious ritual to be hurried through

Rather, it is a Holy Invitation to remember the Lamb who was slain, to proclaim His death until He comes, and to Commune with the One who gave everything so that we might have Life and Life in full Abundance! I was reminded of How often we have become so familiar with Communion that we have lost the wonder of what it truly represents! The Apostle Paul exhorts us: "For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do shew the Lord's death till He come." (1 Corinthians 11:26)
And again,

"The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ?" (1 Corinthians 10:16)

I Share the above testimony simply as a reminder that there is an invitation for all who need a fresh touch from the Lord, whether in Body, Soul or Spirit, a powerful encouragement to us All to slow down, to linger longer, too often and intentionally Behold the Power of the Cross, and to remember the immeasurable cost of our redemption; to approach His table with reverence, with eternal gratitude and with a radical expectancy, and not to seek signs, but to seek Him, to seek a face-to-face encounter with Him!

If Caleb's testimony encourages even one person to treasure the Lord's Supper more deeply, to fix their eyes again upon Jesus, and to become more aware of His Presence, then it has served a beautiful purpose! Friends, may we never lose the Wonder of the Cross, the Power of the Blood, or the sacred privilege of meeting with Christ at His Table!

THE HIDDEN ONES ARE STEPPING FORWARD
DANA JARVIS, HONAKER, VA

During my time of prayer and intercession tonight, I saw a people arising from the valleys, from seasons of obscurity, and from places where they were misunderstood and overlooked. They are carrying oil in their lamps and fresh fire in their spirits. They are not marching to the sound of man's applause, but to the voice of the Captain of the Lord's hosts.

The Lord says, "I am calling forth those who have remained faithful in the hidden place. I am breathing courage into the weary and placing a fresh sword in the hands of those who thought the battle had passed them by."

What I saw was such a beautiful vision, for the dry bones have become an army. The hidden ones are stepping forward, and the fire upon the altar is burning again. This is not the hour of retreat but of advancement.

Lift up your head, mighty warrior, for the King is riding before His army, and every giant, every stronghold, and every assignment of darkness shall bow before the glory of the Lord. Arise and shine, for the battle belongs to Him, and victory is already written by the hand of the Almighty!

"Thou therefore endure hardness, as a good soldier of Jesus Christ." (2

Timothy 2:3 KJV)

"The people that do know their God shall be strong, and do exploits." (Daniel 11:32 KJV)

Hear that cry of the heavens, "Who will go for us?" "Here I am, Lord, send me!" (see Isaiah 6:8)

Terry Friesen: Transformation in Abiding Glory

I feel such a hunger in the spirit this morning for the vital engaging presence of the Lord - to be in the middle of His intention and what He is doing in this hour. The more I lean into this intention, the more I feel His weighty glory start to fill my inner man and encircle around me.

How do you see His glory? What are your expectations? Often, I think we believe the glory of God is somehow elusive and comes on the scene in public gatherings, only once in a while. When it comes, it does so like a cloud or a dramatic manifestation and everyone hits the deck out of fear of what may take place. Or it is revealed in a cloud of ecstatic worship. I agree and believe it can come in this fashion, and I would expect these accounts to become more frequent.

Often, when I experience the Father's glory in a corporate way, it is more gentle, more inclusive of what is happening in the room. No doubt, He is there to release His will and ways into the room, but often the experience is one of grace and comfort.

I also believe we will individually experience increasing glory in our personal walk with the Lord. His intent is that we live in the realm of His glory – abiding in this realm is a return to the garden and should not surprise us, as it is part of our destiny. When this glory shows up one-on-one, it can remain grace-filled and can carry His comfort, but more often than not, it is also present to confront things that are not in right alignment.

Recently, I was given a bold prophetic word of wisdom, "Terry don't let my people treat the glory as if it is a common thing, a lesser thing." Even though we will start to experience it more often, and for many it will become the place that they abide, it should not become as a "common" thing. When the glory of God starts to surround our lives, we really have two choices.

- 1) We can embrace it and consider it a normal part of our lives, incorporating our experience with the glory as part of our daily walk. So, in other words, the glory fits into our lives according to the pattern of our lives.
- 2) We can embrace the glory, recognizing it as the manifest presence of the most holy God of all creation, and have the fabric of our lives yield to and adjust to the weight of glory that we abide in. In other words, the inner and outer pattern of our lives adjust to the weight of the glory we are walking in.

What is subject to change, the pattern of glory, or the pattern of our lives?

I released a word on May 23, 2026, that speaks to this more fully. Five times the glory accompanied by an abundance of grace for the purpose of accelerating our transformation in this hour - in us, around us, and in the world in general.

Back to my experience in this moment: At the same time, I am experiencing a greater weight of His glory, I can feel a dissonance around my mind. This is showing itself as an unfriendly demonic type of oppression – the answer could be to draw on biblical truth and stand firm in that truth – command these pestering demons to leave. At the same time, I am feeling an increased weight upon my back, revealing unreconciled things from my past, or current state of occupation – the answer could be to pray and activate some form of healing, repentance, or deliverance. I can also feel within my inner person some dissonance of soul, in other words, the hunger for His glory is not 100% pure in its intentionality – I have some fleshly desire mixed with holy intent – the answer could be to repent and ask for the Lord to purify my heart.

So, what should I do? When the glory of God comes on the scene it is expected that we would feel contrary things. His manifest presence in and around us will reveal things that would be hidden in a lesser frame. Do I deny the dissonance or the things within me that are incongruent with His increasing glory – it's foolish I think to deny them if I discern their existence.

But how do I proceed in this moment?

I would suggest our inner man and outer man spiritual environments are transitioning towards our Lord's kingdom design, but we have not yet arrived in full. The evidence is in our experience when the glory shows up. In fact, the invasion of the Father's glory will result in increasingly greater reveals of everything that is out of alignment with His glory and His nature. As we've discussed before, His glory, His presence manifesting His very nature, also carries the DNA of what is becoming the new glorified reality we've been invited into.

The question remains, what do we do, how do we proceed? I would suggest, that unless the Lord directs us otherwise, we always gravitate to the greatest expression of our Lord in the moment. If we earnestly desire His glory, and as our hunger expresses itself, His glory starts to increase. I suggest we continue focusing on His glory. To lock onto His glory when everything around us is slowly shaking in different directions is to elevate His glory in our lives and at the same time diminish every other thing.

This becomes our great expression of worship and indeed is a vital part of our journey into oneness with Him. By focusing on His increasing glory rather than the pressures I mentioned, we are saying His glory, His nature, His presence, His way, are greater than my thoughts, the oppression of the enemy, and my inadequate soul experience.

This is the truth: His glory is greater, and by walking in this way in the midst of this circumstance, we are actively engaging in it becoming real for us. To further frame our expectation, our encounter with His glory is to be in times of quiet contemplation, corporate gatherings, and in the midst of our daily work or home life. It is not intended to be only a static, eyes-closed, prayer closet kind of thing, but rather a living breathing daily abiding.

The way of the world and the enemy is to elevate the lesser and downplay the greater. Both want us to operate out of alignment with the Lord. We can verbalize "Jesus is Lord," and we should, but how do we act, how do we operate? The enemy is far more concerned about the operation of our soul than the words we speak, as powerful as they are. Our Lord teaches us to speak truth, and ultimately our soul's expression will line up with those words. When that happens, we can demonstrate our freedom and our alignment by how we walk. The fabric of our lives SPEAKS, not just our words.

When we elevate the greater, and in this case, it is demonstrated as abiding focus with His glory, then every other piece present becomes subjected to the greater.

By locking focus and intention on His glory when it appears, we are saying to our souls and the world around us that the manifested presence of almighty God supersedes every other thing. In fact, this has always been true, but now we are aligning with this highest of truths, everything else coming into its rightful order.

For example, within our minds we carry doctrines of the Christian faith through our interaction with teaching, tradition, and with scripture – this is good. I wholeheartedly encourage the study of scripture, and we should spend time rightly discerning it. I would suggest that even in the best of my effort to do this with Holy Spirit I am not 100% perfect in how this is categorized in my mind. I embrace what I know to be true, I have to, but I hold it open-handed before the Lord because He is perfect theology, not the construct in my mind.

What happens when perfect theology arrives on the scene? The glory of the Father is Jesus Christ, His presence and nature made manifest. When the glory of the Father arrives, the thoughts in my mind have the opportunity to become subject to the one who is perfect theology, and by posturing in this way, my mind has the opportunity to align more fully to the one who is present in the room. The scripture I know comes alive more fully and in greater alignment with the living person of Christ.

I can't recount a time when I experienced the glory of God in a significant way in which my understanding of scriptural truth and my vision of Christ was not influenced. In recent months, when the glory of God shows up, I am seeing more clearly through the Father's eyes and recognizing more clearly what Christ has done for us. My theological understanding is expanding in His glory presence – as it should.

By prioritizing His glory presence in the face of all other options, we hold ourselves before the Lord, exposed to who He is, and now we are subject to transformation at an accelerated rate.

I would suggest in this process to seek the Lord's guidance for theological understanding of what is taking place, but don't let it distract you from the presence of the Lord Himself. It isn't that we abandon our Christian tradition, but in the midst of His glory we recognized Christ is perfect theology and we simply have more to learn. In recent years, the Father has said very clearly; to progress fully into what He has planned next we must be willing to consume every part of His Son, and that selective feasting will stunt our growth and our participation.

There are parts of Christ that we gravitate towards, and other parts we consciously or unconsciously gravitate away from – that is why He must come on the scene in His glory to expose the obscurity that remains and release the new DNA building blocks that need to be introduced.

Seeing Him more clearly results in us becoming more like Him. When we journey past the pressures we feel, the thoughts we have, and learn to abide in His glory, the Christ we see, and experience becomes greater than the thoughts and feelings of the soul. The soul then comes into alignment with the spirit as it is transformed by the one it sees and experiences.

His glory is preparing us for His glory. The Father's desire is that we walk with Him, that we abide with Him in a way our hearts long for. Since He is not able to compromise the holy vision of His intention, by the grace of Christ's finished work operating in us, He is transforming us into the ones who align with Him and can remain in an abiding place.

GOD IS GIVING YOU A SECOND WIND
APOSTLE JOHN ECKHARDT

"Do not mistake your weariness for the end of your journey. What you are experiencing is not the finish line; it is the place where I release a second wind. You have carried burdens, endured battles, and walked through seasons that seemed longer than you expected, yet I have not brought you this far to leave you. I am breathing upon you again."

Just as the prophet Elijah sat under the juniper tree exhausted from the battle, God sent strength for the next phase of his assignment. Your weariness is not a sign of defeat; it is a signal that Heaven is preparing fresh strength. The Lord is releasing renewed energy, renewed vision, renewed passion, and renewed faith.

The winds of discouragement will not have the final word. The winds of disappointment will not have the final word. The winds of delay will not have the final word. A greater wind is coming—the wind of the Spirit.

"They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles." (Isaiah 40:31)

This second wind will cause you to rise above what once weighed you down. What seemed impossible in your own strength will become possible through His grace. Doors that appeared shut will begin to open. Opportunities that seemed delayed will begin to emerge. The strength you need for the next assignment is being released now. The Lord says, "Do not look at your present weakness. Look at My power. Do not focus on what has drained you. Focus on what I am pouring into you. I am restoring years, restoring confidence, restoring joy, and restoring momentum. I am putting fresh fire on the altar of your heart."

You will not quit in this season. You will not faint in this season. You will not abandon the vision. You will run and not be weary. You will walk and not faint. What was slowing you down is giving way to supernatural acceleration.

Receive your second wind. Receive fresh oil. Receive renewed strength. Receive renewed hope. Receive renewed vision. The breath of God is coming upon dry places, weary places, and forgotten places. The same Spirit that raised Christ from the dead is quickening you for the journey ahead. This is your season of renewed strength, renewed purpose, and renewed momentum. A SECOND WIND IS BLOWING.

A Quick Note: MOVE ON AND GO WHERE YOU GROW!

There seems to be a misconception that every time I reshare a prophetic word or a past prophetic submission, it is because I am somehow trying to prove myself or gain some type of recognition. I believe that assumption says far more about the heart of the accuser than it does about my true heart motive before God. I do not reshare prophetic words because I need some type of validation from people. I reshare them because fulfilled prophecy matters.

When a prophetic word has stood the test of time and begins to unfold as the Lord revealed it, it becomes a powerful testimony to the faithfulness of God.

Throughout Scripture, God repeatedly pointed His people back to what He had spoken, so that when it came to pass, they would know that He alone is God. Fulfilled prophecy reveals God's redemptive heart. It reveals His character, builds faith and expectation, strengthens and grows Discernment, and it establishes confidence that the Lord still speaks today. It also awakens the Body of Christ to pray with greater understanding of the times and seasons. Many who criticize the resharing of fulfilled words fail to understand that prophecy is not merely about prediction; it is about preparation through prayer.

Looking back at what God has already fulfilled, and what He is beginning to fulfil, helps us rightly discern what still lies ahead. One fulfilled word will often become the foundation for understanding the next Word God may Speak or reveal through another vessel. I also refuse to apologize for keeping a public record of what God has spoken.

In a time and certainly on this specific timeline when God is shaking the prophetic, many have become quick to dismiss it. They have become critical, cynical and judgmental. When prophetic words are being fulfilled, they provide an opportunity for people to stop, seriously weigh, test, examine and judge whether what was spoken has proved true over time. That is not self-promotion! That is me being willing to remain biblically accountable before the Body of Christ. If and when a prophetic word has not come to pass, it should be examined, but equally, when it has come to pass, it should not be ignored!

In spite of what many of my accusers say, I really have no interest in building a platform around my name. My only passion is to bear witness to the voice of God, who declares the end from the beginning, and to be found faithfully stewarding what He entrusts to me while watching His word unfold as He performs!

My Page is not for the purpose of exalting a messenger, but to magnify the One who still speaks, who still warns, who still reveals His heart, and who still confirms His word before the eyes of those who are willing to watch and pray.

And finally, I will say this: If you don't like my style; if you can't stand my reshares, and if you have already concluded that everything I post is driven by a desire for popularity or recognition, then I say this respectfully.

MOVE ON, BLOCK ME, AND FIND ANOTHER WELL TO DRAW FROM!

There are many incredibly gifted and faithful prophetic voices that you can follow. Some may be more entertaining. Some may communicate in a style you prefer. Some may be easier for you to understand. Go and follow those who you believe genuinely help you grow in Christ and encourage you to step out in obedience. God has never called me to reach everyone. But please don't send me emails, messages or comments that project your own heart motives onto me, motives that are simply not true!

I will answer to the Lord for how I steward what He has entrusted to me, and not to the opinions of those who have already decided my motives without ever taking the time to know me or my heart. Let it be clearly said.

This Page is not a testimony that a prophetic voice was right or even accurate. This page exists to testify that God still speaks today, and that He calls for co-laborers to see His Kingdom built and established, and that as the Body of Christ, we can bear witness to His voice so that we might watch, discern, and pray as He desires!

PS. I am amazed at how many people behave like we are in some sort of beauty pageant or popularity contest trying to win awards and accolades that have no impact on our true destiny or on eternity. We are frontline soldiers in an army, called to war and contend for the true identity, destiny, salvation, and Kingdom inheritance of nations. Here there are no names, faces or voices that seek a platform to be seen or heard, only yielded vessels that have responded in faith and obedience to the call to go as the Commander of Heaven wills it.

IN CONCLUSION

I encourage everyone to go to the Elijah List website as well as each author to see a complete list of the works of each contributor. The Prayer Guide is just that, a daily devotional consisting of the WORD OF GOD as well as prophetic insight from multiple contributors reposted for HIS Glory. The Republic and Chaplain Wade Butler do not make or receive any compensation for this publication, as this work is just passing on the great insight of so many contributors. I highly recommend that you follow most of the prophetic voices available today by signing up for ELIJAH LIST email! Subscribe at this link: elijahlist.com/subscribe.

Again, I want to give special thanks to all who contributed to this devotional prayer guide: The Amplified, King James, and Passion versions of the WORD of GOD were used in this study. Words of Prophecy from: Chuck Pierce with Robert and Linda Heidler, Inspiration Ministries, Judaism 101, The Elijah List, Rabbi Tziporeh Heller, Rabbi Dov Ber Pinson, Rabbi Bob & Remy Koch, Boruch Hoffinger, Nate & Christy Johnston, Veronika West, Terry Freisen, James Nesbit, Bruce and Linda Dietler, Bible Gateway, Barry Wunsch, Diana Larkin, Jeffery Hardwick, Greg Gerry with Prophet Russ, Andrew Towe, Sylvia Gunter, Victoria Boyson, Dana Jarvis, John Eckhard, Lana Vawser, John Rockwell, Wade & Frances Butler, Dutch Sheets, Tim Sheets, with additional quotes from sermons and the book, "A Time To Advance" by Chuck Pierce with Robert and Linda Heidler.

"Study to show yourself approved."

I want to encourage everyone to read the WORD of GOD daily and set a goal to read through the Bible every year, "Study to show yourself approved."

2 Timothy 2:15 Study and be eager and do your utmost to present yourself to God approved (tested by trial), a workman who has no cause to be ashamed, correctly analyzing and accurately dividing [rightly handling and skillfully teaching] the Word of Truth. Additionally, pay attention to 2 Chronicles 20:20 (Amplified Bible, Classic Edition) ²⁰ And they rose early in the morning and went out into the Wilderness of Tekoa; and as they went out, Jehoshaphat stood and said, Hear me, O Judah, and you inhabitants of Jerusalem! Believe in the Lord your God and you shall be established; believe and remain steadfast to His prophets and you shall prosper.

Blessings and enjoy, Wade K. Butler, Pastor, Chaplin

Bruce Dietler has written two incredible books:

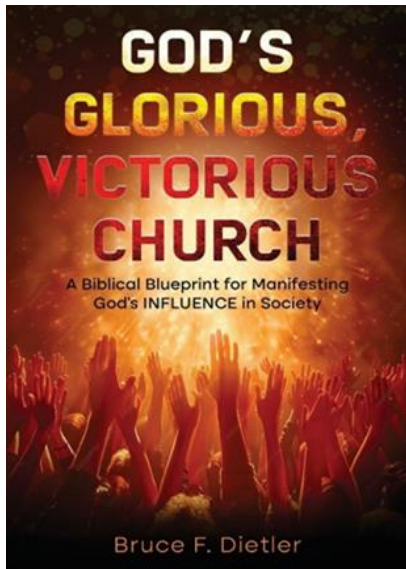

When Stars begin to Fall: A Compilation of Prophetic Dreams, Little-known Historical Anecdotes, and Spiritual Insights from the Heart of God

It would appear that everything in our world that can be shaken is either currently being shaken or soon will be. The foundations of security for many will surely crumble in the immediate future; those who have trusted in them and not in the Lord will be desperate for escape. Yet the Lord is calling us, His Ekklesia, to be as the sons of Issachar, understanding the times and seasons and exercising great biblical discernment in every area of life. There is great hope for the future when we view life from God's perspective; when we see how He has intervened in days past and project that into our future. This book does that. When the stars begin to fall will be the worst of times or the best of times depending on one's perspective and where we place our trust and confidence. Look up, get excited, and expect great things in the days ahead. Purpose to flow in God's plan, and all will unfold in awe and wonder. The best is yet to come!"

God's Glorious, Victorious Church

God's Glorious, Victorious Church is a compelling, Scripture-anchored call for believers to rediscover the Church as the Ekklesia - Christ's governing body on earth, empowered to manifest the Kingdom of God in real and tangible ways. This book moves beyond theory into practical, Spirit-led application, equipping readers to live with confidence, authority, and purpose in an increasingly unstable world.

Bruce F. Dietler walks primarily in the ministry gift of teacher. Ordained into Christian ministry by the late Wilford Wright, son-in-law of John G. Lake, and later by Dr. Lester Sumrall of LESEA Ministries, he has been involved in ministry for over 45 years.

I recommend everyone to get a copy as soon as you can!

Terry Friesens' first edition was outstanding and Volume two is even better.

Revelations of the Kingdom Vol I and II: Transforming Your World

If you are looking to embark on a journey of discovery into what the Spirit of God is saying in this day and hour, you have come to the right place. The Revelations of the Kingdom in this book are designed to help you transform your world. Day by day, over the last couple of years, the author has been ushered into supernatural encounters for the purpose of seeing what is to come and to be transformed through those same encounters.

If you join the journey, you will experience:

- Personal Transformation
- Prophetic Revelation
- Glory Encounters
- The New Era of the Church
- The Advance of God's Kingdom in and Around You

Discover the risen Christ in the fullness of His glory and how overcoming victory can be yours as well. Within these pages, you will encounter revelations of the Kingdom of God, which will bring about your transformative process as you see Christ formed in you. This transformational process can extend into your world, affecting everything you come in contact with.

We have entered a season in time where we need to know the fullness of who Christ is and what He accomplished for us. Remaining within the comfort of past experience will serve to separate you from the new that God is birthing in the church. Say yes to the new wine skin of His coming glory and partner with the Lord in releasing Heaven on Earth in this season.

"I saw Yeshua standing as a man with hair and the face of a lion- His hair waved and flowed as liquid gold, and appeared like God's Glory. In His right hand was a tall gold scepter-Yeshua walked into the world and through the earthly and worldly systems and structures, as if they didn't exist. He thrust His scepter into the ground to stake the land and His Kingdom. The ground in the spirit was leveled and prepared for Kingdom structures to be built. He didn't wrestle with earthly structures; He simply moved through them as if they weren't there. By doing this, He pronounced and carried out judgment on the world...
